Amsterdam, Oct. 22 (Central News Cable). The Telegraaf reports that 40,000 Germans have occupied Roulers, whence they set out last week for Nieuport and Dixmude, leaving one hundred men behind as a guard. Two hundred French dragoons arrived last Sunday and drove out the Germans. Then a few thousand French troops followed and occupied the town, barricading it. The Germans returned Monday, bombarded the town and forced an entry. A furious fight in the streets ensued and many citizens were killed. The French retired in good order, saving all their guns. The Germans burned all the buildings along an entire street in order that their guns might have free play. Many people who had taken refuge in their cellars were burned in this way. The battle was renewed Tuesday and it is rumored that the Allies have successfully retaken the town.

Berlin, Oct. 22 (Via Wireless).—Svin Herin, Swedish geographer and explorer, relates that as a result of conversations with German officers he found them all fair-minded concerning France in the present war and expresses the conviction that Germany would never have had attacked France, had she not been forced to do so against her will. He declares further that French prisoners in Germany are grateful for the humane treatment extended to them.

New York, Oct. 22—A wireless message from Berlin says that German industries are again in full activity. Some of the plants are working overtime, according to the message.

Petrograd, Oct. 22.—By Imperial instruction orders were issued today calling out students of the Russian universities who are ordinarily exempt from military service.

Rome, Oct. 22.—The bombardment of Cattaro, Dalmatia, is reported to have been continued, according to late advices received today, with great violence.

Bordeaux, Oct. 22.—France, it is said, has already arranged for the military training of youths, including those who will be eligible for the army in 1916.

The Hague, Oct. 22.—It is reported that Namur has been reoccupied by the Allies. This report has not been confirmed and is not believed to be authentic here.

The Heroines.

Deep in my heart lies peace,
Deep in the sky the stars,
While the whole wide world is ringing
With the bloody din of the wars.

But anguish is in her heart
Who was mother and wife today
And stood in her cottage garden
Bidding her men away.

Around me the winds will throng,
Singing the livelong night,
But over the sea their song
Is drowned in the roar of the fight.

And tears shall be in her eyes
Who is mother no more tomorrow,
And the brides of men shall rise
At dawn the brides of sorrow.

O ye strong daughters of grief,
The stars for me have waned,
And the peace that lay in my heart
With the blood of your sons is stained.

EDISON ON HOW TO KEEP SUBMARINE SUBMERGED

Process For Making Fresh Air Under Sea—Takes Oxygen From Water.

After studying the intricate mechanism, especially the electrical parts, of a submarine at the New York navy yard, Thomas A. Edison surprised his companions, Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Rear Admiral Fletcher, commander of the Atlantic fleet, with this prediction:

"It will not be long till you can keep your submarines under water almost indefinitely without coming up for air.

"Several years ago," continued the inventor, "it occurred to me that if a fish could extract enough oxygen from water to live on man could do the same thing. I have thought much over the subject since then and am sure it would not be difficult. All that is needed is a device with potash batteries as the principal part. Such apparatus could be installed in a submarine, for it would not take up much space and would break water up into its elements of hydrogen and oxygen."

Although Mr. Edison has not designed any of his inventions particularly for use on ships, one of his devices has been tested by the government with a view to installing it in submarines. It is an electric battery which Mr. Edison invented for use in cold climates. The batteries now in use in submarines have lead and rubber in their cells. It is impossible to keep salt water from reaching the cells at times, and it produces chlorine gas on coming into contact with the acid in the cell, thereby endangering the lives of the crew.

The Edison battery has iron for the anode or negative end and nickel and carbonate of silver for the cathode or positive end, and when salt water comes into contact with the acid in the cells the chlorine is precipitated to the bottom instead of being sent off in the form of gas.

LEADER OF THE BOER REVOLT

Facts About Colonel Maritz's Former Activities—His Dream a Century Old.

Colonel Solomon G. Maritz, the Boer leader who has rebelled against England and taken his command over to Germany, fought in the Boer war with the rank of commandant.

In the summer of 1904 the administration of German Southwest Africa was confronted with a rebellion of the native Hereros, and in the early part of July Germany admitted her inability to cope with the movement. She asked aid of Great Britain.

In response the British government granted Germany permission to engage Maritz, who then had the title of general, as a military adviser to General Trotha, commander of the German troops in Southwest Africa. Two steamships conveyed General Maritz, ten Boer officers and 500 Boer marksmen from Cape Town to Swakopmund, from which place they advanced to join the German forces.

News dispatches from Berlin in July of 1904 related that General Trotha had intrusted General Maritz with the conduct of his main division against the Hereros.

Hope was expressed at this time in German circles in Cape Town that these Boers would remain in German Southwest Africa as colonists.

The dream of Colonel Maritz is a dream nearly a century old that has cost South Africa thousands of lives and millions of money. From all the myriad causes of the Boer war of 1899-1902 it stands out as the most potent—the dream of the establishment of a free republic under the Dutch flag. Racial animosities and political differences have kept alive this dream.

GERMANY'S TWILIGHT BABIES.

Number 8,000, and Method Is Hailed as a Success, Says Returned Nurse.

Miss Margaret E. Tracey, a trained nurse, who has spent four years at Freiburg, Germany, experimenting with specialists in the use of the "twilight sleep" in childbirth cases, has returned to New York.

She says that the "twilight sleep" method is a success in Germany and that 8,000 children have been born thus far under that semianaesthetic. "I hope to promulgate the good work in this country," she said, "in the hope that special hospitals for its administration will be estalished here. This method minimizes greatly the nervous tax imposed upon the systems of prospective mothers, and the mortality of those who submit to the 'twilight sleep' method is greatly minimized compared with the births under ordinary conditions."

"LESSONS OF THE WAR"

The speech of Dr. William L. Saunders at the dinner of the Business Men's Association Monday evening brought home some "lessons" that are of particular interest to every person in Plainfield.

The need of mutual co-operation and helpfulness in local business was never more needed than at the present time when business is feeling the depressing effects of the European war.

Plainfield has long needed the manifestation by our people of a more general interest in our local industries and business enterprises, and a more altruistic business spirit—and it needs these now more than ever.

There are comparatively few people in the city of Plainfield whose incomes are not directly affected by business conditions in general in our city. It therefore becomes a matter of direct personal interest to each one of these to look beyond the immediate source of his own income and do what he can to insure the prosperity of his neighbors and thus insure the prosperity of his city and his own.

Plainfield has excellent stores ready to supply practically all the needs of our people. These stores are too often passed by our local people merely because of the want of a proper pride in our city and her enterprises and because they seem to find an indefinable satisfaction in possessing goods that were purchased at a distance from home.

To some the fact that an article was purchased in one of the larger cities seems to be a certificate of superior quality or evidence of discriminating buying.

Nothing could be further from the real facts. Our PLAINFIELD merchants are ready to furnish to the people of PLAINFIELD at fair prices the best qualities of goods in the markets of the world, in some cases not as promptly as can be done by the larger stores in the big cities, but the wants of the most fastidious can be supplied, if they will but give our merchants a fair chance and manifest a little patience.

A spirit of local patriotism and loyalty to their own city and neighbors, and even their own personal interests, should move the people of Plainfield to experience more satisfaction in saying, "THIS WAS BOUGHT IN PLAINFIELD." "After visiting the stores in other cities I came home and bought in our Plainfield stores just what I wanted." Than in saying "I bought this in——"

Whenever we say or do anything that helps our PLAINFIELD manufacturers, merchants,, businessmen, craftsmen or mechanics we are helping our city and incidentally ourselves.

A proper spirit of loyalty to our city should move every citizen of PLAINFIELD to give our local merchants at least a fair chance before buying elsewhere, and to help to create a public sentiment more favorable to goods purchased in Plainfield.

Menace of the Nickel Novel in Disguise.

By Franklin K. Mathiews.
Chief Scout Librarian, Boy Scouts of America.

Careful inquiry discloses the fact that the nickel novel has not been banished quite so completely as at first appears. It still persists, but in another form. You will find it now more often and more widely distributed in the disguise of the bound book. And sometimes so attractively bound that it takes its place on the retail shelf alongside the best juvenile publications. Sometimes, too, it happens that the very stories that sell on newsstands for five cents in the paper covers, bound most attractively, sell in the book stores for fifty cents. In Atlanta, for instance, I found in one of the book stores, the famous Frank Merriwell nickel novel series, selling in bound form for fifty cents.

However, I do not think that the bookseller is altogether at fault, "a sinner above all others." The fault lies just as largely on the other side of the counter. There is such an insatiable demand for cheap books—books selling at from twenty-five to fifty cents—that the average book seller, in order to hold his business, feels the imperative need of handling these cheap publications, particularly the twenty-five cent ones. On these his profits is so small he would gladly eliminate them if the trade would let him. But the trade demand is so great he just must carry them or go out of business.

Of course the people who purchase these cheap books little know what they are buying. To them they are just story books, little realizing that it is "just a story book" that rightly used makes one of the most valuable contributions to a boy's education, especially the boy in his early teens. Because these cheap books do not develop criminals or lead boys, except occasionally, to seek the "Wild West," parents who buy such books think they do their boys no harm. The fact is, however, the harm done is simply incalculable.

One of the most valuable assets a boy has is his imagination. In proportion as it is developed a boy develops initiative and resourcefulness. The greatest possible service that education can render is to train the boy to grasp and master new situations as they constantly present themselves; and what helps more to make such adjustment than a lively imagination? Story books of the right sort stimulate and conserve this noble faculty, while those of the viler and cheaper sort by over stimulation debauch and vitiate it as brain and body are debauched and destroyed by strong drink.

If you take gasoline and feed it to an automobile a drop at a time, you get splendid results, because you have confined and directed it with intelligent care and caution. Take the same quantity of gasoline and just pour it out and you either don't get anywhere or you get somewhere you don't care to go. Here is an apt illustration of the proper use of the elements that must enter in to make the good book for boys. For let it be understood that the good book for the average boy must be one that, as the Century magazine says, is 'wholesomely perilous." And what it meant is this: the red-blooded boy, the boy in his early teens, must have his thrills; he craves excitement, has a passion for action, "something must be doing" all the time, and in nothing is this more true than in his reading. The man who writes books for boys that really "get them coming," must always work with combustible explosive materials.

The difference between a "Treasure Island" and a "Nick Carter" is not a difference in the elements, but the use each author makes of them. Stevenson works with combustibles but, as in the case of using the gasoline, he confines them, directs them with care and caution, always thinking of how he may use them in such a way as will be most good to the boy. In the case of "Nick Carter," the author works with the same materials, but with no moral purpose, with no intelligence. No effort is made to confine or direct or control these highly explosive elements. For all the author of this type of reading desires is to write something that will "get by" his publisher with another "thriller," sure to interest the boy.

The result is, as boys read these books their imaginations are literally "blown out," "shot to pieces," and they go into life more terribly crippled than by some material explosion by which they have lost a hand or foot. For, having had his imagination "burned out," not only will the boy be greatly handicapped in business, but the whole world of art in its every form almost is closed to him. Why are there so few men readers of the really great books or even of the passing novels of real worth? Largely, I think, because the imagination of so many men have received such brutal treatment at the hands of certain authors and publishers and book sellers, who have no concern as to what they write or publish or sell so long as it returns constantly the expected financial gain.

You will be interested, I am sure, in knowing something about those who write and how these nickel novels, in the disguise of the bound book, are written. Recently a man came into my office in New York. He said he had been chosen by a certain publishing house to complete a series of story books. I asked him who had been writing the series before he undertook the work. He replied that that man was now in Bloomingdale, the asylum for the insane in New York city. I happened to know that, yet another man, a reporter in Texas, had also been the author of some of the books in the series, who, with the original author and the lunatic, made three men who had tried their hand on this popular series of books, for they had been selling by the tens of thousands.

I know of one such author who writes under twelve names. Still another employs a staff of writers. He furnishes the plot, etc., they for the most part do the writing, the particular work of this literary genius being to edit, add a few more thrills, then find a title that will be "up to the minute" in its power of appeal to the boy. By such methods last year, I have been told, this author manufactured fifty-four books, which are now selling at prices ranging from 25 to 60 cents, all over the country.

To help parents and educators to meet the grave peril of the nickel novel in the disguise of the cheap bound book, the Library Commission of our movement was organized with the following members: George F. Bowerman, librarian, Public Library of the District of Columbia, Washington, D. C.; Harrison W. Craver, librarian, superintendent, Bureau of Libraries, Board of Education, New York city; Edward F. Stevens, librarian, Pratt Institute Free Library, Brooklyn, N. Y.; together with the editorial board of our movement, William D. Murray, George D. Pratt, and Frank Presbrey, with Franklin K. Mathiews, chief scout librarian, as secretary. Under their direction there has been chosen a series of books known as Everybody's Library, Boy Scout edition The library contains only such books as are of interest to boys, the first twenty-five being either works of fiction or stirring stories of adventurous experiences. In later lists books of a more serious sort wil be included.

All the books of Everybody's Library are by the authors of the very best books for boys, the original editions having been sold at prices ranging from $1 to $1.50, but now, through the hearty co-operation of the several publishers, are being sold through our Everybody's Library at fifty cents a volume. The merchandising of the books is in the hands of Grosset & Dunlap, the largest reprint publishing house in the United States. Through their salesmen, the books have been so widely distributed that they may be found wherever books are sold.

Boys between 12 and 16 years have three big reading interests. First and foremost the boy is passionately fond of stories of adventure; and (2) almost of like concern to him are the "What and How to Do" books; and (3) the books of information appeal almost equally strong for the average boy is keen to know something about everything and everything about something.

In his "Gossip on Romance," Robert Louis Stevenson says, speaking of his boyhood books; "Give me a highwayman, and I was full to the brim; A Jacobite would do, but the highwayman was my favorite dish. I can still hear the merry clatter of hoofs along the moonlit lane; night and the coming of day are still related in my mind with the doings of John Rann or Jerry Abershaw; and the words 'postchase,' the 'great North road,' 'ostler' and 'nag,' still sound in my ears like poetry. One and all, at least, and each with his particular fancy, we read story books in childhood, not for eloquence or character or thought, but for some quality of the brute incident."

In a letter recently, a boy writes: "The books I like are most adventurous. They certainly do make your blood tingle." Another boy tells me of a "beautiful book." I asked what interested him so much. He replied: "There was an old trapper and an Indian and the old trapper killed the Indian. And there was an old bear and an old buffalo and they fought and fought until they killed each other. But it was a 'beautiful book'."

Such is the heart of the boy, loving a fight or the story of it, feeding on excitement, passionately fond of any scene or situation that will make your "blood tingle." Our problem is to find out how to make that kind of book, the book the boy reads, count for character culture. What now is needed is not that the boy's taste should be thwarted but trained. He must be given a story he will read, but of the better sort.

Some Cookery Suggestions

EGGS WITH VEGETABLES.

LUNCHEON MENU.
Baked Eggs in Tomato Sauce.
Graham Popovers.
Souffle of Young Onions.
Currants and Sugar.
Wafers.
Iced Chocolate.

WHEN tired of serving eggs alone try combining them with a vegetable. It is surprising how different they will taste. This is one secret of variety in egg cooking.

Eggs With Sauce.

Baked Eggs In Tomato Sauce.—Take one cupful strained tomato sauce, three eggs, one teaspoonful butter, a pinch of salt and a dash of pepper. Brush a pan with butter, pour in the tomato sauce. Break the eggs separately in a small dish and pour into the tomato sauce, dust with the salt and pepper and put just a tiny piece of butter on each egg. Bake in a moderate oven or until the eggs set. Serve in the dish.

Eggs With Mushroom Sauce.—Take a cupful of mushrooms, four eggs, two tablespoonfuls butter, two tablespoonfuls flour, two cupfuls milk, two teaspoonfuls salt, a quarter teaspoonful white pepper, four rounds toast, one tablespoonful caramel. Place the toast on a dish, pour the mushroom sauce around and on each piece of toast break one egg. Put in hot oven six minutes before serving, dust with paprika and garnish with watercress.

Mushroom Sauce.—Put the butter into saucepan; when melted add the flour, mix well, add the cold milk slowly, chop the mushrooms and add to the sauce. Boil slowly five minutes and add the salt, pepper and caramel. If fresh mushrooms are used smother them in one tablespoonful butter before adding to the sauce.

Stuffed With Eggs.

Stuffed Peppers au Gratin.—Take five hard boiled eggs and cut into small pieces. Make a thick and highly seasoned white sauce and stir the eggs into this. Fill green pepper shells with this and sprinkle grated cheese and bits of butter on top and brown in the oven. Serve garnished with strips of toast which have been fried quickly in deep fat, seasoned, drained and kept hot.

Egg Salad.—Take six hard boiled eggs, one bunch watercress, a few lettuce leaves and one cupful boiled dressing. Remove the shells and separate whites and yolks of the eggs. Line a salad bowl with lettuce leaves, wash the watercress and make a bed of it on the lettuce; slice the whites of eggs very fine and place on top of the cress. Press the yolks of the eggs through a potato ricer or fruit press over the top. If you do not have either a potato ricer or a fruit press grate the yolks. Serve with French dressing, mayonnaise or boiled dressing.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Boy And the Mud Turtles.

He Kept the Turtles In His Mother's Washtub.

"ONCE there was a boy who was queer," began daddy, starting to tell Jack and Evelyn the evening story, but before he could go on Jack interrupted him with a question.

"What do you mean by 'queer,' daddy?"

"Oh, I mean that this boy was different from the average lot of boys. He took his pleasures differently; he studied differently; he was what even his mamma had to admit was as odd stick, and for play in summer vacation, which you children have just enjoyed so much, I suppose he had the oddest sport you ever thought of."

"What was that, daddy?" asked both children.

"Well," continued daddy, smiling, "when this boy was about ten years old his papa bought him a flat bottomed boat with oars and a paddle. I don't suppose any little boy ever had so much fun.

"This boy had what they used to call a 'stint' to do every summer vacation. This boy's father used to buy a load of what they called 'scantlings' for the boy to chop up for kindling during the vacation. He used to plan on spending certain hours a day on the kindling.

"Well, as soon as he had finished his chopping this boy would go to a pond near his home where he kept his boat tied. He would have his lunch with him and a great big straw hat to keep the sun off his freckles. Now, this pond was just full of mud turtles of all sizes, from the baby ones as big as a ten cent piece to great big fellows bigger than a soup plate. They used to sun themselves on logs and little bits of grassy islands scattered all over the pond, and they were very wary.

"But this boy had conceived a plan to catch them, and to do it he had to be as quiet as a mouse. He learned from an old boatman around there how to paddle quietly like an Indian, and he would steal up on those turtles just as still, and when he had nearly reached them he would creep into the stern seat, never making a noise, for he was always barefooted, and he'd reach out to grab the turtle before the turtle knew it. Sometimes he got the turtle, and sometimes he didn't, but it was loads of fun.

"He used to take his lunch and keep at it all day. Then he would put the captured turtles in his mother's washtub and keep them there till the washing had to be done. Then he would put them all back in the pond and start gathering a new supply of turtles. What do you think of that?"

"Well," said Jack, "I can't see that it did him much good, but it must have been lots of fun."

Weiss says

If you only knew what a tremendous advantage our connection with the more than 5,000 other Rexall stores in America gives us over any other store in this community in the purchase of rubber goods, you would no sooner think of buying such goods at any other than the Rexall store than you would of buying steaks at a blacksmith shop.

Such lines of quality rubber goods as

Maximum
Monogram
American Beauty
First Aid, etc.

these are the kind that give lasting satisfaction; and we sell them almost as cheaply as our competitors can buy a similar grade for.

Buy better rubber goods—the guaranteed kind—at our drug store—The Rexall Store—and save money.

3COOP, THE CUB REPORTER — The Boss Knows in Just What Column to Put Scoop — BY "HOP"

WAR AND WINE IMPORTS.

New York, Oct. 22—Figures compiled at this port show that champagne has fallen from 12,928 cases to six cases in the period of one year. The figures are for September, 1913, and September, 1914. Rhine and Moselle wines have dropped off sharply, only 25 cases being received last month as compared with 5,000 a year ago. Bordeaux and Bergundy fell off some 2,000 cases. On the other hand wines from Holland increased, as did sherry, port, British gin, brandy and cordials. Sharp gains were recorded in Italian wines and Scotch and Irish whiskies. And most noticeable of all, no German beer came in, although we received here 26,056 packages last September.

DARK DAYS FOR ARMY OFFICERS

Washington, Oct. 22.—Gloom prevails among the drawing-room heroes, who, by order of the War Department, must needs mount their steeds and undertake the obstacle ride annually prescribed for cavalry and field artillery officers. Disability is the only excuse and those who fail to mount and ride will be reported to the retiring board.

The exceptions are the special taxes in section 3 on bankers, brokers and proprietors of theatres and circuses and the tax on tobacco dealers and manufacturers, which will go into effect by special provision on November 1 and stamp taxes in schedules A and B. The stamp taxes are the ones that will affect the average man on the street. They will not go into effect until December 1.

Adhesive Stamp Taxes Effective December 1.

The Government will collect the sleeping car ticket tax from the companies.

The tax imposed under the new law shall not be levied after December 31, 1915.

The principal feature of the law is the tax on beer, which will be $1.50 a barrel, or 50 cents more than is imposed under the law that existed up to today. The tax is a stamp revenue, and is to be imposed on "all beer, lager beer, ale, porter and other similar fermented liquor, brewed, manufactured, sold or stored in warehouse, or removed for consumption of sale, within the United States, by whatever name such liquors shall be called."

WOOD-CHOPPER HAD FOOT BADLY INJURED

Removed to Hospital After Heavy Tree Fell on Him in Berkeley Heights.

While engaged in felling trees at Berkeley Heights, this morning, Thomas Smith, of that place, sustained injuries that necessitated his removel to Muhlenberg Hospital. Smith and Max Houck, also of that place, had succeeded in chopping down one big tree and when it fell it hit a large stump rebounding against Smith's foot.

The member was badly crushed and the man suffered intense pain. He was hurried to the local institution where the injury was examined. The extent of the hurt cannot be determined as yet, but an X-Ray examination will be conducted this afternoon to ascertain whether or not any bones are broken.

AN ILL WIND BLEW YORKE SOME GOOD

Sergeant at Arms Escaped Manley's Fate When Woman Sat Him on Stove.

Constable John Manley was treated to a harrowing experience in the West End, this morning, when he made an attempt to serve a notice on one Mary Flower, of 558 West Fourth street, ordering her to vacate the premises under penalty of dispossession. Manley's entrance into the woman's home and the tale of his mission was a signal for her to "go up in the air."

She pounced on the luckless constable, and picking him up by the shoulders, set him down full force on top of a red-hot stove. The rear of Manley's trousers were burned through and his agony was further increased when the woman hit him across the head with some hard instrument. The knock opened a gash in his head and the gore was flowing freely when he made his way to police headquarters to swear out a complaint against his assailant.

Mrs. Flower was arrested and lodged in a cell. She will be arraigned before Judge DeMeza in the city court tomorrow morning, to answer to a complaint of atrocious assault and battery. Battered and torn, Manley resembled a total wreck when he appeared at headquarters after the incident and it was some time before the man on duty could ascertain the circumstances surrounding his downfall. The woman in the case is strong and husky and evidently was not what Manley looked for in the way of an opponent. The summons was one which Constable Yorke was supposed to have served today but owing to his accident the matter was entrusted to the care of Mr. Manley.

REV. AND MRS. J. O. M'KELVEY GIVE AN "AT HOME"

The first of the "at homes" of Rev. and Mrs. J. O. McKelvey, of Warren chapel, was held last evening at the parlors of the chapel, at which time a large number of the members of the congregation were in attendance. These gatherings have proved to be quite popular features of the social side of the church during the past two or three winters, and gives the pastor ample opportunity of meeting many of the parishioners, and having them become better acquainted.

An informal program of music featured the evening, after which refreshments were served by the refreshment committe of the Women's Missionary and Aid Society of the chapel. A number of these occasions will be planned for the winter season.

G. O. P. SPEAKERS.

The speakers who are to address the Republican rally at Saengerbund Hall, the borough, next Monday evening, include former Governor Edward C. Stokes, A. D. Leavitt, State Senator from Mercer county; Elijah Hutchinson, Congressional candidate from the Fourth district; W. W. Smalley, of Bound Brook, candidate for re-election as State Senator for Somerset county, and Ogden Hammond, candidate for the Assembly. Charles W. McCutchen, of Rockview avenue, will preside.

CARMAN WOMAN WAS SUSPICIOUS

Admitted on Stand Today That Husband's Actions Displeased Her.

GRILLED BY ATTY SMITH

Sensational Testimony Brought Out in Trial of Woman Accused of Mrs. Bailey's Murder—Tells of Dictograph Installation.

Mineola, L. I., Oct. 23.—Mrs. Florence Carman, on trial here charged with the killing of Mrs. Louise Bailey, was given a severe grilling on the stand this morning by District Attorney Smith.

An hour before the court room doors were opened for the session, the stairway leading into the courthouse was crowded with men and women, all eager to gain admission. A solemn silence crept through the courtroom as Mrs. Carman was called to the witness stand for cross-examination by District Attorney Smith. She took the stand at 10:10 o'clock.

The first question that Mr. Smith hurled at her was to find out when she first became suspicious of her husband's alleged misconduct. She could not tell when her suspicions were first aroused. Waving her little white gloved hands across her face, she said she could not state whether it was last winter or last summer.

"Did you ask Dr. Carman about it?" she was asked.

"No, I did not," she replied. She mentioned having visited the home of several friends in Freeport with her husband on social calls, and while there they asked him jokingly or seriously how his "girls" were. The men remarked that Dr. Carman "was some devil when it came to the ladies."

The cross examination brought out the fact that Mrs. Carman's suspicions of her husband's relations with his women patients were the cause of all her unhappiness, and ultimately led to the installation of the dictograph from her room to the doctor's office. She declared she suspected him of immorality, and thought he was susceptible to such misconduct but that she did not have any particular woman in mind.

Mrs. Carman's cross examination was completed at 11:30. On re-direct examination she was asked why she had not gone to Mrs. Bailey's home after the shooting and in reply she said she did not do so because she felt that it was no place for her, because she heard her name connected with the case. She repeated her reasons to Mr. Smith and then was excused.

Elizabeth Carman, the ten-year-old daughter of the prisoner, was next called. The girl said her mother, father, grandmother, grandfather, and aunt had dinner together on the evening of the killing. She heard a shot, and went to her mother's room, and found her mother in bed. The witness supported her mother's testimony that the child was playing the piano, and was asked to stop playing when Mrs. Carman went downstairs. "You are very fond of your mother?" was the only question asked on cross-examination. The girl was excused when she answered in the affirmative.

Mrs. Sarah A. Conklin, aged mother of the defendant, took the stand after Elizabeth had been excused. For the first time since the trial, Mrs. Carman gave way to her emotions, and began to cry as her mother was helped to the witness chair, but quickly recovered her composure. Mrs. Conklin said that the members of the family mentioned by Elizabeth dined together on the night of the tragedy. She denied that Mrs. Carman left the dining room that night, and as far as the witness knew she could not have committed the crime.

Mrs. Powell, a sister of Mrs. Carman, was the next witness. She testified that she saw no one on the lawn, not even Frank Farrell, the tramp witness called by the prosecution. She declared she heard the noise, and rushed to the private office and saw Mrs. Bailey lying on the floor. Then the witness dashed upstairs to Mrs. Carman's bedroom, where Mrs. Carman was with Elizabeth. The bed looked as if it had just been occupied. The witness explained, "Mrs. Carman asked me what was the matter. I told her that a woman had been shot in the doctor's office." To Mr. Smith, Mrs. Powell declared she did not pass into the dining room ten minutes before the shooting. The object of the question was to test the witness's memory as to the evidence given by Celia Coleman, Mrs. Carman's negro maid, that the prisoner confessed to her in the dining room that Mrs. Carman had fired the shot.

There was a hush in the courtroom as Mrs. Carman first stepped to the stand late yesterday. She said she married Dr. Carman in 1892. She told the jury she was in New York on the morning of the murder with her mother to do some shopping and

ONE HURT WHEN TAXI HITS TREE

Sergeant-at-arms George A. Yorke Thrown From Wreck to Roadbed.

REMOVED TO HOSPITAL

Chauffeur Blinded by Glare of Approaching Searchlight Swerves to One Side of Thoroughfare—Has Lucky Escape from Death.

Becoming confused over the glare of powerful searchlights on an automobile that loomed up on the crest of Cole's Hill, in Scotch Plains, shortly after 7 o'clock last night, Joseph Parsons, a local taxicab driver, ditched his machine at the side of the road in an effort to prevent a head-on collision and in doing so placed the lives of himself and passenger in jeopardy. In the taxicab was George Yorke, sergeant-at-arms in the District Court, and the machine was heading in the direction of Scotch Plains. As the approach to the steep incline was reached a big seven-passenger touring car appeared less than a hundred yards away and Parsons swerved his car sharply to the left side to avoid the inevitable crash.

As he did so the wheels on the left side of the machine slid into a ditch at the side of the thoroughfare and the vehicle crashed into a tree. Yorke was hurled from his seat to the ground sustaining a number of cuts and bruises about the head and body. Parsons, who was driving, was jammed up against the steering gear, the wheel of the latter part of the auto breaking completely in two. Parsons was injured about the chest, the exact extent of his hurts not yet being determined.

According to a boy, the only witness of the affair, the occupants of the mysterious touring car were at fault. Just as the taxicab slid into the opening at the side of the road the big car whizzed by at a speed estimated to have been between fifty-five and sixty miles an hour. The rear of the local man's machine was grazed by the flying automobile, the slight jar aiding its fall in the tree. Yorke was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital bleeding profusely about the head, but it is thought that his injuries are not of a serious nature. The quick action on the part of Parsons prevented a catastrophe at this bad spot in the thoroughfare that leads to Scotch Plains. Parsons' quick turn gave the speeders a clear road and had it not been for this action the two vehicles would probably have met head-on and all of the occupants would have been killed.

Yorke, a passenger in Parsons' car, had directed the chauffeur to proceed to Scotch Plains and the machine was headed in that direction when the crash came. This is not the first accident of the kind that has been recorded at the base of this steep incline, several fatalities having been narrowly averted.

A hurry call was sent in for the ambulance and Chief of Police Kiely appeared on the scene a few minutes after the incident occurred. The taxicab was reduced to a heap of tangled iron and steel. The iron base of the engine was split in two, the radiator completely demolished and the lights on the front ares mashed to bits. The steering wheel was torn from its moorings and the iron frame is all that remains of the windshield and this is twisted and bent. Parsons' escape from death is considered little short of miraculous as he was on the side of the vehicle that was hit the hardest. The automobile which was destroyed belonged to the firm of Harris & Whitted and was uninsured.

At Muhlenberg Hospital this morning, it was said that Yorke had sustained injuries to his head and one leg has been placed in a plaster cast. It is not known whether or not his leg is broken.

DESPERATE FIGHTING ALONG ENTIRE FRONT BETWEEN NORTH SEA AND THE LE BASSEE CANAL

FRENCH REPORT SAYS GERMANS HAVE BROUGHT VERY YOUNG AND OLD MEN TO THE FRONT IN EFFORT TO DRIVE ALLIES BACK.

GERMANS STILL HOLD THE VISTULA IN RUSSIA

Reports That Russians Have Taken Przemysl Cannot Be Confirmed, Although Statement is Persistently Made—Eng—Kaiser's Warships Said to Be Steaming Northward in Kaiser's Warships Said to Be Steaming Northward in Cattegat, Bound for North Sea.

Paris, Oct. 23.—That the Germans are making a desperate effort to force back the Allies is claimed by the French war office in the official statement which was issued at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The statement is as follows:

"On our left wing forces of the Germans in great numbers, whose presence was notable yesterday, have continued their attack most violently in the whole region included between the sea and the LaBassee canal. As a whole the situation of the Allies' forces is maintained. If they have been compelled to yield at certain points, they have advanced at others.

"The enemy has shown equal activity on the rest of the line, more particularly in the region of Arras, and on the Somme to the north and south of this river. We have made progress, especially in the region of Rosiered and in Saniro. In the region of Verdun, and in that of Pont a Mosson, we have had some partial success. Along the rest of the front nothing of importance has occurred.

"To sum up, the enemy appears to be making a new effort along the greater part of the front, and notably between the North Sea and the River Oise, utilizing new corps, formations of men only freshly trained, some of them very young, and others quite old. These new troops are mixed here and there with veterans.

"In Russia, to the south of the Plica the Germans still hold the Vistula, except on the line from Ivangorod to Ozielide, which they abandoned, pursued by the Russians. All the attempts of the Austrians to cross the River San, to the north of Jaroslav, have been repulsed and the Russians have taken the offensive in this region."

London, Oct. 23.—The report that the Russians have taken Przemysl which has been current for several days will not down. A despatch to the Central News from Petrograd says that the capture of the Galician fortress is persistently reported but not confirmed.

In the rout of the Germans at Warsaw the newspapers of Great Britain profess to see the turning point along the Vistula. While the Germans apparently are holding their positions along the Vistula between Pilica and Sandohir, it is asserted that the time is nearing for Russia to carry the war into Germany.

A despatch to the Daily Mail from Teneriffe, Canary Islands, under date of Thursday, reports that the German cruiser Karlsruhe has sunk thirteen British merchantmen in the Atlantic.

A despatch from Peking says that the Allies' warships have captured a German destroyer which escaped from Kiau Chau Bay.

The king and queen of Belgium are still with the Belgium army on the Franco-Belgian border, according to a despatch from Amsterdam to a news agency here.

The Allies have destroyed several miles of railroad track in Belgium. This delays the Germans in bringing up their great siege guns to Ostend.

A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Flushing says that Wednesday night and today the Germans made a violent attack on the environs of Ostend, which was repulsed by an energetic counter attack by the Belgians. Eleven British warships fired on the Germans again this morning. General Von Trip and his staff, who were together in Leffinghe, near Middel Kerke, were killed by the fire of the British naval guns.

Copenhagen, Oct. 23.—An unconfirmed rumor reaches here to the effect that a squadron of German war vessels is reported steaming northward in the Cattegat, apparently bound for the north Sea.

New York, Oct. 23.—A wireless message received from Berlin this morning says: "Information received here from Vienna states that it has been announced officially in the Austrian capital that the Austrian troops are still gaining ground. They attacked the Russian fortified position near Felszytn and stormed the heights to the north of Magiera on Tuesday. They have occupied the last pass across the Carpathian mountains in Russian hands, called the Jaonica Pass, and Hungarian territory is now completely clear of Russians. In the crown land of Bukowina the Austrians are advancing toward Sereth.

London, Oct. 23.—A despatch from Amsterdam gives the following official report issued at Vienna yesterday at noon: "In the battle on both banks of the River Strwiaz, south of Przemysl, we succeeded in pushing forward our attack south of the river. On the heights southeast of Svant and Sambor two fortified positions of the Russians, which run in parallel directions, have been occupied by us. Northwest of Svant and Sambor our fighting line came nearer the road to Starisol. Our troops have entered Czernowitz, Rukowina."

A despatch from Amsterdam says that the Netherlands minister of marine asked the chamber for a credit of $450,000 as the first payment for four torpedo boats which will be built in Holland to replace four ordered in Germany, and seized by the German government.

Another Amsterdam despatch says that a newspaper of that city reports that experiments are proceeding at the Krupp works at Meppen, near

BIBLE CLASSES GUESTS AT DINNER

Delightful Affair Given at the First Baptist Church Last Evening.

Mrs. Lewis Matlack's Bible class of young women, and Dr. Norman H. Tobasco's Bible class of young men, of the First Baptist church, were guests at a dinner given in their honor in the church parlors, last night. Arthur M. Harris, superintendent of the school. There were about 167 guests, including many of the officers of the school. Mr. Harris was toastmaster, and after an excellent dinner served, there was speech-making and an attractive program of music by New York talent, comprising selections on the piano and mandolin and solo numbers.

The room was attractively decorated with autumn leaves and the chandeliers were covered with crepe paper and leaves which was very effective. This was the work of a committee from Mrs. Matlack's class. Before the speech-making, Mr. Harris was presented with a beautiful basket of chrysanthemums of all colors. Mr. Harris expressed his appreciation of the gift and was given three loud cheers by all present. Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the church, was the first speaker to respond. Others who spoke were O. B. Leonard, L. W. Randolph, superintendent of the Sunday-school at Temple Baptist church; former Superintendent Charles W. McCutchen, Dr. Norman H. Tobasco, former Superintendent George H. Batchelor, William C. Hubbard, president of the local Sunday-school Superintendents' Association and head of the Seventh-Day Baptist Sunday-school; Mrs. Lewis Matlack, James E. Mr. Batchelor spoke on the subject of [illegible], and gave some excellent [illegible]. Mr. Hubbard read a very pleasing poem, "Help, Lighten the Load." George E. Hall, in his speech, paid a tribute to Mr. Harris, who he said that he had done more for Plainfield along religious lines than any other one man and the other guests fully agreed with him as was shown by the response they made to the sentiment. During Mr. McCutchen's remarks, in which he spoke of religious conditions in Europe, he proposed a toast to this country and its Christian President and there was a unanimous response.

Before the guests parted Mr. Harris presented a plan by which the two classes could be united for better work and also for social functions. This was discussed but nothing was decided. The affair was considered one of the most successful social functions ever given in the church.

ONE-ACT DRAMA SHOWN AT PROCTOR'S THEATRE

Motion pictures showing the floats in the Labor Day parade held in this city are the feature of Proctor's "movie" program this afternoon and evening. The film is an unusually good one and affords those who did not have the chance to see the big demonstration on the street an opportunity to gain some idea of the size of the parade and the nature of the floats.

Ben Lewin.

Ben Lewin and Company presents a one act drama entitled "The Devil's Mate." The Van and Ward Sisters are the hit of the week-end show with their catchy songs and dances illustrating speed in footwork. The remainder of the program is made up of the following acts: William Siston, a comedian; Tip Top Four, singing and dancing quartet, and the Iremenas, tight wire artists.

GETS A VERDICT FOR $75 IN ELIZABETH COURT

Elizabeth, Oct. 23—John Albert, of Scotch Plains, was plaintiff in the District Court, yesterday, in a suit against Frank Mobus, of North Plainfield, to recover damages for injuries sustained January 20 when a carriage and horse which Albert was driving from the railroad station in New Providence to Bonnie Burn Sanitorium fell into an excavation being made by Mobus.

The horse was injured also and the wagon damaged. Albert was conveying a nurse to the sanitorium at the time. Albert got a verdict for $75. Mobus is a former sheriff of Somerset county.

POLITICAL NOTES.

October 23—Meetings at Springfield, Kenilworth and Garwood, to be addressed by Republican candidates.

October 27—Secretary of Commerce William F. Redfield, personal representative of President Wilson, addresses mass meeting, probably in Gordon Hippodrome, Elizabeth.

October 27—Final registration day in municipalities of less than 5,000 inhabitants.

October 29—United States District Attorney J. Warren Davis and Senator Hennessy, of Bergen county, address Democratic rally in Gordon Hippodrome Hall, Elizabeth.

October 30—Congressman Kinkead and Prosecutor Stein speak at Democratic meetings in St. Patrick's and Sacred Heart parish halls, Elizabeth.

October 31—Prosecutor Martin P. Devlin addresses Democratic open-air rally in South Park street, Elizabeth, outside Americus Club. Another county tour tentatively arranged.

November 3—Election Day.

Much interest has been expressed in political circles following the reports that the registration Tuesday was large, and that the total for the year is unexpectedly above last year's figures. "What does it mean?" prominent politicians are asking, and there has been a delving into past records to ascertain the exact increase and where it comes from mainly.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will motor through Elizabeth today, it is expected, on his way from New York to Princeton. He is due at the latter point about 3 o'clock. His speech scheduled for Newark has been canceled, much to the disappointment of many voters who had planned to hear him. He will talk in Princeton on the university grounds, and will then go to Trenton.

The increased registration this year over 1913 is taken by members of all parties as being a splendid omen for the Republican Congressional and county tickets. The big increase in Republican wards was encouraging in itself, but word comes that even in most of the Democratic wards, the increases noted there were due mainly to Republican activity. The increase in the Plainfield registration and also in other Republican territory, is likewise viewed as a Republican boon. The Progressives are also hopeful that the increased registration is good for them, their contention being that many 1912 Progressives who did not vote last year, are again taking an active interest in affairs with national issues to the fore.

BARBER SUES THE GOVERNOR.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 23.—Six thousand dollars is wanted from Governor Samuel V. Stewart by a Butte barber who refused to cut the hair of a member of the National Guard and was sent to jail. Edward F. Swaidner, who wields the shears and razor with more or less discrimination, was jailed into court after refusing to trim the flowing locks of a soldier from the rural districts. He was given sixty days in jail, but was liberated within a few days. The barber claims his feelings are hurt, his profession has suffered an indignity and his business injured.

80% OF FIRES PREVENTABLE.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 23—From figures compiled carefully since 1910, covering 31,000 fires of all sorts, the Texas State Insurance Board, an official body, declares that 80 per cent. of fires can be prevented. This is the largest mass of data ever collected on this subject. Of dwelling house fires, the Texans declared that 86.7 per cent. were preventable. Eighteen per cent. they found were chargable to defective flues, 11 per cent. to unsafe placing of stoves and 5 per cent. to sparks on roofs.

COLORADO ROADS UNDER FIRE.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 23.—The railroads of Colorado were today notified to send representatives to a public hearing next Monday before the Public Utility Commission at which time an investigation will begin of passenger charges. Petitions and complaints filed with the commission state that an excess fare is collected from passengers who pay on the trains over the price of tickets bought in advance. The railroads will be given an opportunity to explain the extra charges.

ABOLISH THE PASSES.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has started a suit against Gardner Colby, secretary of the State Civil Service Commission, which will be watched with much interest by a large group of office-holders in this State. Colby has been riding back and forth from Newark to Trenton on a pass which he procured by virtue of the act of the Legislature designating the officials who must be transported free. The railroad has maintained that no constitutional right rested in the State to compel it to give such free transportation, except to a few officials whose names were included in the charters of some of the roads, as being entitled to free transportation.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has several times unofficially protested against the use of passes, and of late has been accepting them, and having the conductors take the names of those who use them. Now in order to determine whether the privilege is a legitimate one, they have picked Mr. Colby as the "horrible example" for a friendly suit, and have brought action against him for the amount which he would have been compelled to pay, had he been traveling in any other capacity than as one of the privileged class. If they win the verdict, and it is sustained through all of the courts of the State, they will be able to make similar collections from numerous other officials. The decision will be watched with much interest, and if favorable to the railroads will be received with great pleasure by the common citizens who have to pay their fares.

The pass abuse is one which many Legislatures have atempted to correct in the past. Some years ago a new law was passed, giving the use of passes to a very few State officials, most of whom were entitled to them under the charters of most of the roads. Then the officials who were left off started lobbying year after year, and soon the list was swelled until over 300 again enjoyed the rights. The abolition of the pass system cannot come too soon. As the Trenton State Gazette says, "In most cases they (the pass holders) are men enjoying high salaries and better able, financially, to pay railroad fare than are others who work for the State for comparatively small compensation." Passes should be taken away from all who carry them.

THE ARMY OF THE PEWS.

New York city's go-to-church committee announced that nearly two million people attended church services in the metropolis last Sunday. This is a very notable record.

About the time this announcement was being made the police commissioner reported that for the three months ended with September there were 54420 arrests in the city. These figures show an increase of 10,198 over the record for the corresponding period of 1913. They are impressive statistics.

All of this leads the Pittsburgh Leader to note that New York city seems to be much in need of a go-to-church movement.

A majority of the offenders during the September quarter were, of course, held on petty charges. There were, however, 89 homicides and 176 robbery and assault cases.

Both the police and the preachers seem to be very busy. What is the army of two million churchgoers doing? Merely sitting in the pews for a short time on Sunday morning or evening?

In Europe's titanic struggle an army of two million might swing the tide of battle either way. But it would not accomplish anything if it left its arms in the training camp when it started out to meet the enemy. Now will New York's two million churchgoers accomplish much if they do not put into practice during the week what they hear preached from the pulpit on Sunday.

If that army of two million was active, instead of passive, we would hear less about New York's police records and great waste way and more about civic and community betterment.

William A. Leonard, Democratic candidate for county clerk, says that if elected he will only take $5,000 of the salary, and will give the other $1,500 to charity. The Elizabeth Journal suggests that now that the bargain sale idea has been started, it is up to some candidate to offer to do the work for $4,999. Wouldn't that be almost a strong enough argument for some politician to use in starting an independent campaign? Incidentally, we wonder whether Mr. Leonard will go before the Legislature and ask that the salary be reduced, in case he gets the job.

The New York Telephone Review says that at 2:30 in the morning following the primary in September, one of the operators in the Elizabeth exchange received a call in an unsteady voice, which gave the number of a prominent undertaker, but was accompanied with the request, "Please hurry, I want the doctor quick." The operator took the liberty of changing the number requested, putting a doctor on the wire. Wonder which one of the defeated candidates that was?

The thousands of friends of County Clerk James C. Calvert will be delighted to know that the injuries received in an automobile accident on Tuesday night were not serious, and that he will soon be able to be around again. Some idea of the personal popularity of the man may be gained from the fact that over one hundred telephone calls were received at the hospital, inquiring about his condition, within a few hours on Wednesday morning.

The most gratifying piece of news that has been made public from a purely local point of view in many years, is the statement that the Pond Machine Tool Works will resume full time on Monday next. Everybody hopes that they will never have to go to part time again.

William Newcorn, chairman of the Republican county committee, has written the contributed editorial for tomorrow night's Press. He will present the Republican side in the present campaign.

It's a shame that Presidents with whiskers have gone out of style. Otherwise someone might take the proposed candidacy of Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, seriously.

The way to have neigbors is to be one.

THE FORUM

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

You were good enough to publish a letter from me protesting against the acts of certain party leaders and trustees in their efforts to force the nomination of their favorites in the recent primary. To my surprise I find that some have construed that protest as meaning that I am opposed to the election of Mayor Stewart to the State Senate. Since I happen to be chairman of the Democratic City Committee, the theory that I am opposed to the party's candidate for Senator not only puts me in an equivocal position, but discredits the Committee. For it should go without saying that no man has a right to membership on that Committee who is not heart and soul for the election of every candidate of the party, that by virtue of this membership he pledges himself to that end, that membership is a commission to go out and secure the election of those candidates.

It seems strange to me that anyone should construe my letter as opposing the election of Mayor Stewart, for every one knows that he is a sensitive man and an honorable one, and the theory that he was active in procuring the elimination of his opponents at the primaries is an impossible one. I have never for one moment thought him guilty of such impropriety.

The Democratic party in Plainfield was never more united, in my opinion, than at present and Mayor Stewart will get one of the largest votes ever polled in Plainfield by a Democrat, and few if any desire that more than I.

FAVOR OLD-TIME SPELLING BEES

Boro Parent-Teacher Ass'n May Hold Contests for Prizes.

Miss Mabelle C. Phillips, of the Charity Organization Society, addressed the members of the North Plainfield Parent-Teacher Association on Thursday, and in an interesting way told the association what the society is doing for the poor and needy people of the city and borough, seeking the co-operation of its members in looking after children especially, so that they may have suitable clothing and shoes, thereby making it possible for them to attend school.

Supervising Principal D. Fred Aungst, of the borough schools, conducted a question box. One of the questions discussed was "why should all the children in a class be compelled to write words in spelling lessons?" Mr. Aungst explained that this is considered advisable, especially in the case of children who are naturally good spellers. The writing of the words helps to impress them on the children's minds. He also favored the old-fashioned "spelling-bee," which brought out the suggestion that it might be well for the association to conduct a public spelling contest and give prizes to the winners.

Principal Early and Miss Laura Sydenham, supervisor in drawing, also took part in the afternoon' discussion. The association decided to change the name of the sanitation committee to that of hygiene committee. Committees on literature, economics and Legislature were also named. The association will send eleven delegates to the Mothers' Congress to be held at Atlantic City, November 13-14. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

CARMAN WOMAN SUSPICIOUS

returned at 1 o'clock with several persons she knew.

"I went directly home, after leaving the train and took supper with my family. I was very tired and had a headache at supper, and I went promptly to bed after the meal. I left the rest at the table. After going upstairs I went directly to my room. After putting my clothes away, I retired I was still suffering from a headache," she said.

Mrs. Carman in answering the questions spoke in a perfectly clear and calm voice. She maintained the same remarkable self-possession that has been noted since the trial began.

She continued. "I heard Elizabeth practicing and asked her to stop. I heard a crash shortly thereafter. My mother and sister went downstairs. I went down to the clothes closet to put on a pair of slippers and a kimono. I went down to the front room and stood by the mantle where I could hear the doctor's voice, and then went upstairs. My sister followed me and told me that a woman had been shot. The conversation took place in my room. Elizabeth was there. Mrs. Cordy, my niece, came in and she was very excited. My father came up too, to discuss the case. I retired about 1 o'clock.

"After having seen the district attorney, I never left the house after having returned from the city." When asked why she did not go into the office, she said, "I had several reasons for not going into the office. First, there was the affair of the nurse, after which the doctor warned me never to go into the office when he had a patient." She told of the affair of the nurse in which Dr. Carman had been involved. In a firm voice, she told of how her jealousies had been aroused.

DEAN ATKINSON TO PREACH HERE

All Saints' Day to Be Observed at Grace Church, November 1.

Previous to his departure for Atlanta, Ga., the Very Reverend J. R. Atkinson will preach at the morning service on Sunday next at Grace church. Dr. Atkinson is about to take up a very broad work as Dean of the Cathedral of S. Philip in the city of Atlanta, for which he is said to be peculiarly fitted. His friends will be glad of the opportunity to hear him before his leaving.

A week from Sunday is All Saints' Day, the annual parochial festival day in the parish. It is a day in which is commemorated by the parishioners the cherished memories of departed soldiers and servants of Jesus Christ, and a time when the living dedicate themselves afresh to the service of God. The rector is anxious to have every single member of the parish attend at least one of the services on that day. Appropriate sermons will be preached both morning and afternoon. Services at 7:30 a. m., 10:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m.

The church is anxious to make it known that it stands for the spiritual interests of the community and the whole community, and that strangers and visitors are at all times most cordially welcomed.

Y. W. C. A. BIBLE CLASS NOW NUMBERS EIGHTEEN

The attendance at the first Tuesday Bible class of the Y. W. C. A., was held this week and numbered eighteen. There is much interest taken in this work. Miss Aller, leader of the class, hopes to make a general class out of it and would like not less than fifty members. It is not necessary to be a member of the association to be a member of this class or to enjoy the use of the rooms of the Y. W. C. A. Any girl in this city may join the class and attend the suppers that are held ever Tuesday and Saturday for fifteen cents if they so desire.

Many of the store girls and clerks of this city have taken advantage of the open rooms at noon and go there for their lunch hour instead of restaurants and enjoy their meal and a rest. All such girls will be welcomed at the association any day and the parlor and piano can be used.

"NEVER TO BED," EDISON'S SLOGAN

Future Man Will Sleep Less, Declares Inventor.

AND FINALLY NOT AT ALL.

It May Be a Million Years Before This New "Advance In Civilization," He Admits, but Believes Time Will Come and Also That Humanity Will Live In Double Shifts.

Humanity will have to live in double shifts by and by because the world will be so crowded that it will have to sleep less.

By sleeping less it will enormously increase its productive power, for sleep is an absurdity—a bad habit.

Nothing in the world is more dangerous to the efficiency of humanity than too much sleep, except, perhaps, stimulation.

It will have to eat less because the world's population will be so great that its productiveness will not keep pace with a per capita consumption as great as that of the present time.

By eating less it will enormously increase its efficiency and happiness and do away with poverty.

These statements by Thomas A. Edison, the great inventor, were drawn out in the course of a long talk occasioned by the thirty-fifth anniversary of his invention of the electric lighting system, says Edward Marshall in an article in the New York Times. Mr. Edison is quoted further on these interesting subjects:

"As a matter of fact a very simple bit of arithmetical figuring will show that by and by humanity will have to live in double shifts, so that there may be room upon the earth for all the people. We are conquering the enemies of life at a great rate. Our increase of the life rate more than makes up for the decrease in the birth rate.

Calls Sleep a Bad Habit.

"I think this matter of sleeping is one of the serious things which humanity must begin to study. I never yet have come across the case of a man who had been hurt by want of sleep.

"There really is no reason why men should go to bed at all, and the man of the future will spend far less time in bed than the man of the present does, just as the man of the present spends far less time in bed than the man of the past did.

"As we have advanced in civilization the amount of sleep which we have taken has decreased, and as we further advance it further will decrease.

"In the old days man went up and down with the sun. A million years from now he won't go to bed at all. Really, sleep is an absurdity, a bad habit. We can't suddenly throw off the thralldom of the habit, but we shall throw it off.

An Incident to Bear Out Theory.

"Humanity can adjust itself to almost any circumstances. Not so very long ago we had a good deal of trouble in the factory while we were trying to perfect the disk record for our phonographs, and it was plain enough to me that one reason for it was that our work was too much interrupted by the daily routine of our lives.

"Eight of us then started upon the work with very definite intentions of wasting just as little time as possible.

"For five weeks we put in from 145 to 150 hours a week each at the job. One hundred and fifty hours a week means more than twenty-one hours a day."

"And none of you suffered any ill effects?"

Mr. Edison chuckled. "Ill effects? No. We all gained weight.

"Suppose a crusade which would educate the people might be started which would keep the 90,000,000 people of the United States out of bed one hour each night.

"That would add 365 hours a year to each individual's life, or much more than a month of working days of ten hours each. To the 90,000,000 it would give about 3,500,000,000 hours every year."

DIVIDING BASEBALL PROFITS.

Smaller Sum to Go Around Than In Previous World's Series.

Due to the shortness of the world's series baseball club owners and national commission this year divide a smaller sum of money than in any world's series since 1910. The attendance at the fourth game, which clinched the championship for the Boston Braves, was 34,365 and the receipts $62,633. Of this sum the players received $33,832.02, the club owners $22,555.08 and the national commission $6,265.30.

Of the Boston club twenty-six players are eligible to share in the prize money, giving each man $2,813 should the money be divided evenly. On the Athletics twenty-four players are entitled to divide the loser's end, which would give each Mackman $2,031.08 on a share and share alike basis. The players of neither club have as yet notified the national commission just how the money will be divided. The players receive less money than has fallen to their lot since the series of 1910.

Each of the four umpires receives $1,000, the money coming from the national commission's percentage of the profits.

WAR NEWS

the Dutch frontier, with a 52 centimetre gun, which is said to have a range of twenty-five miles.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Charges that the Indian troops employed in the Allies' ranks are guilty of murdering prisoners were made indirectly today through the German embassy here, in a despatch from the Foreign Office in Berlin. The following is set forth: "The Roman newspaper, Tribuna, publishes an interview with an Italian deputy just returned from France, in which he expressed his admiration for the Indian troops. The Senegal troops made the best impression, though they are so bloodthirsty that the French commanders often prevent them from going to the front. These negro forces often killed German prisoners without their officer's knowledge. They say that these Senegalese have murdered all German war prisoners in railway transports."

A British torpedo boat destroyer has been crippled by German artillers in the combined naval and land battle now under way on the coast of Belgium. This information was contained in a despatch to the German embassy today, which added that in the fighting, which is apparently continuing, the Germans captured British prisoners and many light guns.

Berlin, Oct. 23 (By wireless).—It is officially declared here that the mysterious shots fired recently on a Danish submarine boat did not come from any German warship.

Norfolk, Virginia, Oct. 23—Although representatives of both the British and German governments protested against the Dutch steamship Noorddijks clearing from this port for Bahia, Brazil, United States customs authorities refused to withhold the necessary papers and the vessel left here today for her announced destination. She carried a cargo of coal.

ELIZABETH FANS EXPECTED TO ENTERTAIN PLAINFIELDERS

Plainfield fandom is coming down to Elizabeth strong Sunday afternoon to see their smiling champion, Jack Martin, pastime with the Brooklyn National League players against the local All Leaguers.

Martin played a bang-up game for the Philadelphia Nationals since purchased by the Quakers from the Boston Braves early in the season and as baseball conditions at Plainfield have not warranted the bringing of any star attractions to that city this fall the Queen City folks are going to grasp this opportunity of seeing "Smiling Jack" stepping in his own class.—Elizabeth Journal.

PLAINFIELD MEETS RAHWAY TOMORROW

Great Game Expected on Parker Field Against State Champs.

Plainfield High School football players will probably face their hardest rivals of the season tomorrow. The Rahway High School eleven will appear at Parker Field and one of the best schoolboy battles of the year is expected to take place here. The visitors do not under-rate the local team and they have been practicing exceptionally hard this past week with the expectation of meeting one of their most stubborn opponents. The game will mean a good deal to the Plainfield boys if they win and if they put up the same kind of ball they have for the past few weeks Rahway will have to extend itself.

Both teams are very fast this season and Rahway has great hopes of retaining the State scholastic title and is therefore coming with its greatest strength to meet the local eleven. Plainfield's fine showing of the past three games has greatly surprised many football fans in this city. The Ninth street team has not as yet been scored upon and it will have accomplished a great feat tomorrow if it succeeds in holding its opponents scoreless.

Both teams have been out all week and are in their finest form with their finest men ready to defend the records. The game will start at 3:30.

WESTFIELD ELEVEN MAY BE REINSTATED

Matter Will Probably Be Settled Favorably After October Exams.

Official information from the Westfield High School, this morning, stated that the High School football team, that was prohibited from representing that institution recently because of a violation of the scholarship rules, had not yet been reinstated and will not be until after the monthly tests which take place next week. Yesterday morning it was stated that the team was told to disband as a player who was out by order of the Board, had taken part in the game the Westfield team played in his city on Columbus Day. The team went up in arms, it was said, and refused to do this.

In an interview with one of the teachers, this morning, it was learned that the orders given out recently still hold good, but there was a chance of the team being reinstated after the October examinations. After all sides had been heard the members of the squad took the situation in good spirit and in order not to disappoint their opponents who have booked games, they will play independently until they are reinstated as High School representatives.

This will mean one or possibly two games under another name, and the team is booked to appear in Dover tomorrow afternoon, against the High School team of that place. Yesterday afternoon a telegram was received by the manager of the local team that the Westfield team had been reinstated, but there is no foundation for this. The team is practising hard for the coming games and will undoubtedly have one of the best seasons in the history of the school. The local team will meet this eleven on election day at Westfield.

RUTHERFORD TOOK ODD GAME FROM SILK CITYITES

ELKS' LEAGUE RECORD.

Rutherford	2	4	.904

Two Elks' League bowling matches were decided last night, the Hoboken bowlers, at home, taking three games in a row from the Rahway contingent, while the Rutherfords, also at home, got the odd game from the Paterson Elks. There is now a five-cornered tie, on a percentage basis, for first place, the Jersey City, Paterson, New York, Hoboken and Newark teams each having won two-thirds of their games. The Newarkers will bowl on the Jersey City Elks' alleys tonight, thus completing the second round of the competition.

At Rutherford last night the home team missed a clean sweep by dropping the first game by a one-pin margin, the Paterson five turning in 824, while Rutherford stopped at 823. In the next game the home five improved in its work, turning in 904, while a total of 903 in the last game was again ample for victory. A. Walters rolled in fine style, with scores of 243 and 224 and an average of 207-1. Harry Taylor rolled 219 and 210 for the visitors and averaged 209.

PARK CLUB BOWLERS PLAN FOR TOURNEYS

Boro Alleys Will Be Kept Busy During the Winter Months.

The Park Club will conduct its annual bowling tournaments this year for men and women and the five back event will be started Thursday, November 5, and will continue every Thursday thereafter, three matches being played a week. The maximum handicap has been set at forty points. A prize will be offered for the highest number of points for the season and monthly awards will be made for high averages.

The ten-pin handicap tournament, open to all club members, will take place every Friday and starts November 6. The same kind of prizes will be given as in the five back tournament. The alleys will be reserved on Friday afternoons for a ladies' tournament. Open games may be played on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday nights.

SAILORS WILL DOCK AT CRICKET FIELD

Nearly One Hundred Laddies Will Forsake Their "Sea Legs" to See Game.

After a hard practice last night on Marshall Field, the Holy Cross football players will lay off till tomorrow afternoon, when they will take on the eleven representing the Battleship Wyoming on Cricket Field in the regular week-end game. The sailors are the champions of the navy and will undoubtedly put up a strong game against the boroughites, as they did once before when they played here. The local team has had two good practices this week and Coach Martin has been drilling them hard.

Several changes have been made in the borough lineup for this game and the coach thinks they will be for the best interests of the team. Bill Coyle, who has played quarterback for several years, will start at right half, Ricketts playing quarter. Two other candidates also appeared for the quarterback position. "Ginger" Lindsey, who has played centre on the Plainfield High School and Holy Cross teams in past seasons, and Gleason. Clarence Woodman, of P. H. S., was out at the practice last night, and assisted Coach Martin in his work.

Manager Doyle expects the largest crowd that ever visited Cricket Field tomorrow and the number of local rooters will be swelled by about seventy-five sailors, who will accompany their team here. The game will start promptly at 3:15.

The teams will lineup as follows:

Holy Cross.	S. S. Wyoming.
Caulfield, L. Manning	Brough left end
Mair, Rutledge	Burdette

Glover, Howarth	Harris

HIGHLANDERS WILL PLAY TWO GAMES THIS WEEK

Although the football season is now at its height, the Highlanders, of Netherwood, still stage week-end games for the lovers of baseball and will be in action Saturday and Sunday afternoons. Tomorrow, on the Netherwood grounds, they will hook up with McCarthy's Colts and a good game is expected. Denny and Mullin will be in the points for the home team.

On the following day Denny and Mullin will work against the All Stars on the same grounds. These teams met once before and the verdict went to the Highlanders.

ELKS MATCH OFF.

The Elizabeth team in the Senior Elks' Bowling League will be idle until Thursday, November 5, when they will roll the local "Bills" at Elizabeth. The match scheduled for next Thursday between the Paterson antlers and the Betsytowners has been postponed by the Passaic county delegation.

GROSS PRIZE GOES TO MRS. STOCKTON

Local Woman Golfer Again Annexes Honors in One-day Event.

More than seventy women competed for a varied list of prizes in the one day tournament on the links of the Westfield Golf Club, yesterday, and when the last card had been posted it was found that Mrs. F. B. Ryan, of the Cranford club, had won the first net award with a card of 91, 7-84.

The struggle for the gross prize was practically narrowed down to two contenders, Mrs. H. R. Stockton, of Plainfield, who won there a year ago, and Mrs. W. J. Faith, of Wykagyl, a frequent winner around the circuit. On this occasion Mrs. Stockton carried off the honors with an 88, a stroke better than her rival.

While competing in the handicap the women also had a chance to take part in a "birdie" competition. Mrs. Stockton and Mrs. Ryan were the real leaders in this with 8 and 7 ringers respectively, but as they had already won their scores could not count. That left Mrs. Faith and Mrs. Charles L. Greenhall, of Hollywood, tied for the prize, with five birdies each.

In the driving competition Mrs. L. L. Blake, of Cranford, won with a total of 550 yards for three balls. Mrs. C. F. Uebelacker, of Hackensack, and Mrs. H. E. Manvel, of the home club, tied for second, with 510 yards, but on the play-off Mrs. Uebelacker won. Mrs. Stockton's card read as follows:

Out ..5 5 4 4 7 6 4 4 5—44

In ...6 7 5 4 4 455 3 6—44—88

The scores of the Plainfield and Westfield entries follow: Mrs. R. L. McIntosh, Westfield, 113, 25-88; Mrs. C. B. Tyler, Plainfield, 110, 22-88; Miss Beatrice Hedges, Plainfield, 103, 15-88; Mrs. W. R. Davis, Westfield, 108, 18-90; Mrs. B. C. Arnold, Westfield, 98, 7-91; Miss Hazel Gardner, Plainfield, 113, 22-91; Mrs. C. B. Lawrence, Plainfield, 116, 25-91; Mrs. A. M. Perkins, Westfield, 140, 25-115.

MAKE YOURS A PUBLIC SERVICE STORE

This is the age of service. The rewards of today go to the men who give the most in return.

Translated for you, Mr. Merchant, this means that the customers are certain to patronize the store that will give them what they want when they want it.

Cut prices may bring some trade, but better service will bring more.

This is the age when people are reading the advertising in their daily ewspapers because they are finding it a distinct part of the service they expect their newspapers to give.

When a nationally distributed article of merit is advertised in the newspapers a demand for it sets in right away.

People want to see it and, if satisfied, want to buy it.

They are going to turn to the store that lets them know it has the article. That store will be giving them the service they want at that particular moment.

If it is a good article they are going to remember the store where they got it and will come back to that store again.

Co-operate with the manufacturers who come into the newspapers of your town to exploit their goods and you will be building business for yourself.

BATTLE LINES SO CLOSE THAT SOLDIERS OFTEN TALK WITH FOES

British Cook Lost His Way Between Trenches; Nearly Fed the Germans.

Little Stories of Interest From the Scene of War In Europe.

THROUGHOUT much of the warfare in Belgium and France, the intrenched lines of the German and the allied armies approach each other so closely that the soldiers on each side, when not firing can observe quietly the movements of the men opposing them. Sometimes the trenches are only a few hundred yards apart.

In regard to this a lieutenant of an English regiment of infantry, holding Champfleury, told a war correspondent that a cook of his company had only finished cooking dinner late at night. The regimental wagons had gone astray and only joined the column after 8 o'clock. When the meat had been prepared the cook started off, carrying it on a large grill a yard square. The cook lost his way in the darkness and after wandering about came across a trench. "Is this the Sixth company?" he asked. To his astonishment the soldier he addressed rose to his feet, and the cook saw that he wore a spiked helmet. The cook turned and ran for his life, followed by a storm of bullets. Strange to say, out of 100 shots fired only one hit him, inflicting a slight wound on the left arm, but the cook brought back his grilled beef dinner intact, although cold.

The hostile trenches in some places are so close that the soldiers occasionally throw hand granades across. Wherever a head shows above the ground it receives a volley. At this short range the rifle bullets make fearful wounds. The men on both sides amuse themselves by raising caps on the points of their bayonets, with the result that the head coverings are instantly riddled with bullets.

Loud voiced dialogues also occur somewhat in this fashion:

"Hello, Frenchies!"

"How are you, Boches (Germans)?"

"How many men are there in your trench?"

"Two army corps."

Crack, crack! The bullets are nipping low across the turf close to the men taking part in the conversation. Sometimes the smallest incident precipitates a battle. In one case a cow wandered close to a French trench, and a soldier leaped out to milk it. The Germans opened fire, and the French responded until the milking was done and the dairyman descended unscathed into the trench with his pail.

A shell burst near the cow, which walked calmly toward the spot where the projectile exploded to inspect the hole in the ground. However, a moment later she was killed by a bullet and fell with her four legs sticking stiffly in the air like a Noah's ark animal.

City's Ransom Cured Prince.

One of the highest doctor's fees on record has been paid, according to the Paris Matin, in German gold at Epernay, France.

When the Germans occupied Epernay on their southward march they demanded an indemnity of 50,000 bottles of champagne, worth about $35,000. These the mayor duly produced.

Soon afterward in their retreat from the Marne they brought to Epernay a dangerously wounded imperial prince on whom an immediate operation was necessary.

As no German surgeons were present who were competent to handle the case, they appealed on humanitarian grounds to the French doctor, Veron, who successfully performed the operation.

The Germans offered him a "princely honorarium," telling him to name his own fee.

Dr. Veron promptly asked $35,000, which was at once paid in gold.

Praise For Our Consul at Ghent.

Belgian refugees in London are loud in their praise of Henry A. Johnson, the American consul at Ghent. They say they owe their lives to his firmness. When aboard one of the last steamboats leaving Ostend for Folkestone an officer of gendarmes ordered all civilians ashore, saying the vessel had been commandeered for army uses.

"It has not," said Mr. Johnson. "Come aboard, folks."

The officer made a motion to draw a revolver, but did not.

"Come on, folks," said Mr. Johnson again. They did, and the officer of gendarmes disappeared.

Germans' Advantage In Language.

"One of the greatest needs of the allies is interpreters for both the French and British troops," says a London Standard correspondent. "When I have been in ordinary and armored motorcars this last week we have had to make peasants go in front as guides and have been absolutely at their mercy, with only the fear of our rifles to deter them from leading us straight to the Germans. When we invade Germany it will be still worse, for we won't be able to trust anybody. For English troops an interpreter who is English and can understand the Scotch, Welsh, Yorkshire and White-chapel dialects is worth far more than any Frenchman or Fleming who may speak a local language better, but can seldom understand properly what the average British 'Tommy' says to him.

"I regard this inexhaustible supply of men who know local languages as one of the chief factors of German efficiency in the war. The allies need absolutely all the interpreters they can get and are suffering for lack of them. Very few British officers and hardly any soldiers speak even serviceable French. Over and over again I have myself been deliberately misled by apparent peasants who, I felt sure, were German spies."

Queer Dress at the Front.

The Morning Post has received a letter from an officer at the front containing an amusing description of the weird headdress and clothing that the troops have adopted, having lost their own.

He says he saw men wearing all sorts of civilian caps, soft felt hats and straw hats, such as Mexicans wear, while there were quaint makeshifts—for instance, a khaki cover for a cap.

An orderly was wearing a woman's bodice, and a lot of members of one company were wearing women's underclothing, their own being worn out.

How a British General Met Death.

A letter received in London from an officer friend of Major General Hubert I. W. Hamilton, whose body has been brought to England, tells how the general met his end on the French battlefield.

"He was standing with a group in a covered place," the officer writes, "when a shrapnel shell burst 100 yards away. A bullet pierced General Hamilton's temple, and he was killed on the spot. No other member of the group was scratched.

"It was a fine death, but I know how the general would have felt to be taken before his work was done."

The funeral service, the officer adds, was held while shells were bursting all around. The din was so great that the chaplain's voice was drowned.

Animals In the War News.

To save her horses from the German army Denmark passed a law that no horse under five years old could be exported, so German dealers pull the teeth of young horses to make them appear old and eligible for export.

One hundred prize beef cattle objected to dying for their country while being taken to the slaughter house in Bordeaux and escaped into the country, where they are foraging in small bands and making the peasants think the uhlans are upon them.

Heavy fighting in Galicia has brought out in wild alarm all the beasts and birds of the forests. The scent of blood from battlefields has made the wolves so fierce they even pursue the victors after a battle into camp.

Swimming Collars For Britons.

That the British admiralty is fully alive to the necessity of providing a means for the crews of warships that strike mines or are blown up by submarines to escape drowning, since other warships are not allowed to go to their assistance, is shown by the announcement that the admiralty is arranging for a general supply of swimming collars to be distributed to the officers and men of the fleet.

The men are ordered to carry the collar when they are awake, and the device is to be kept inflated and near each individual when he is asleep.

WAR CASUALTY FIGURES.

On Basis of British Computation Nearly 1,300,000 Men Are Lost Already.

Estimating the casualties among the eight hostile nations on the proportionate basis of British losses, the total number of killed, wounded and captured during the first ten weeks of the war is nearly 1,300,000.

The following table gives, as nearly as possible, the number of men actually engaged on the firing line:

Germans	2,500,000	Belgians	300,000
Russians	2,000,000	British	200,000
French	1,500,000	Montenegrins	50,000
Austrians	1,000,000
Servians	400,000
		Total	7,950,000

The total British losses are the only ones that have an official basis. The 16 per cent of casualties among the British, therefore, may be said to represent an official estimate. If this prevails among all the combatants the following is the distribution of casualties:

Germans	400,000	Belgians	48,000
Russians	320,000	British	32,000
French	240,000	Montenegrins	8,000
Austrians	160,000
Servians	64,000
		Total	1,272,000

So far as the total official figures can be used as a basis for estimating, the average proportion of casualties among all the countries is one killed, three wounded, ten captured. On this basis the casualties have been:

Killed	90,858	Wounded	272,572
Captured	408,570
		Total	1,272,000

At every meeting Mr. Moy has been well received.

The City Progressive Committee, comprising Frank L. Holt, chairman; O. S. Rogers, vice chairman; Elmer A. Hunting, secretary, and Dr. Marcus L. Clawson, treasurer, will hold a meeting this evening at Progressive headquarters on North avenue.

VIOLATED TRAFFIC LAWS AND LICENSE IS REVOKED

John Lacey, a local hackman, had his license revoked by Judge DeMeza in the city court, this morning, following his arraignment on a charge of disorderly conduct and reckless driving preferred against him by William A. Walk. According to the complainant he was crossing North avenue at Park shortly after 9 o'clock Wednesday night, when Lacey hove in sight driving his horse at a fast clip along the avenue. According to Walk, the hackman failed to respect the traffic regulations and took the corner on the left hand side of the traffic post, the rear wheel of the carriage running over Walk's heel.

He was slightly injured as a result and when he went to the depot to remonstrate with Lacey he alleges that the latter was abusive to him. Lacey has been arraigned a number of times before on similar charges and in consideration of the trouble he has caused the authorities and the menace he makes of himself around the depot stand, the court revoked his right to do business at that point.

AUTOMOBILE VICTIM ISSUES STATEMENT AT THE HOSPITAL

County Clerk James C. Calvert, who, with Henry Schoppe, county court crier, was injured in an automobile accident, Tuesday night, issued the following statement today:

"Since our recent accident, Mr. Schoppe and I have received many calls, letters, telegrams and other messages from friends throughout the county, so many that it is impossible to acknowledge them all in any short space of time, and I desire by this means to express to our many friends, who were so thoughtful to remember us, our thanks for their interest. We trust this note will be sufficient until such time as we are able to personally acknowledge these many greetings and kind expressions."

Both are still confined in Muhlenberg Hospital where they were taken immediately after the automobile accident and at that institution, this morning, it was said that both are resting easily. Callers continue to flock to the hospital to see the victims and many of their friends from Elizabeth have visited them.

"LESSONS OF THE WAR"

The speech of Dr. William L. Saunders at the dinner of the Business Men's Association Monday evening brought home some "lessons" that are of particular interest to every person in Plainfield.

The need of mutual co-operation and helpfulness in local business was never more needed than at the present time when business is feeling the depressing effects of the European war.

Plainfield has long needed the manifestation by our people of a more general interest in our local industries and business enterprises, and a more altruistic business spirit —and it needs these now more than ever.

There are comparatively few people in the city of Plainfield whose incomes are not directly affected by business conditions in general in our city. It therefore becomes a matter of direct personal interest to each one of these to look beyond the immediate source of his own income and do what he can to insure the prosperity of his neighbors and thus insure the prosperity of his city and his own.

Plainfield has excellent stores ready to supply practically all the needs of our people. These stores are too often passed by our local people merely because of the want of a proper pride in our city and her enterprises and because they seem to find an indefinable satisfaction in possessing goods that were purchased at a distance from home.

To some the fact that an article was purchased in one of the larger cities seems to be a certificate of superior quality or evidence of discriminating buying.

Nothing could be further from the real facts. Our PLAINFIELD merchants are ready to furnish to the people of PLAINFIELD at fair prices the best qualities of goods in the markets of the world, in some cases not as promptly as can be done by the larger stores in the big cities, but the wants of the most fastidious can be supplied, if they will but give our merchants a fair chance and manifest a little patience.

A spirit of local patriotism and loyalty to their own city and neighbors, and even their own personal interests, should move the people of Plainfield to experience more satisfaction in saying, "THIS WAS BOUGHT IN PLAINFIELD." "After visiting the stores in other cities I came home and bought in our Plainfield stores just what I wanted." Than in saying "I bought this in— —."

Whenever we say or do anything that helps our PLAINFIELD manufacturers, merchants,, businessmen, craftsmen or mechanics we are helping our city and incidentally ourselves.

A proper spirit of loyalty to our city should move every citizen of PLAINFIELD to give our local merchants at least a fair chance before buying elsewhere, and to help to create a public sentiment more favorable to goods purchased in Plainfield.

FRATERNITY ORGANIZED AMONG LOCAL STUDENTS

An initial meeting of the body of students of the International Correspondence Schools, of this city, to organize a chapter of the fraternity of the schools, was held last night at the local office. The large number of students present being gratifying and the movement shows every possibility of proving popular.

Gwilym Lewis, the local representative, made several appropriate remarks and told of the progress of other chapters of the fraternity in other cities. The object of the chapter is to unite fraternally and to establish a personal relationship between I. C. S. students of this vicinity of which there are 3,000.

Resolutions were adopted last night and the following officers were elected: President, A. V. Searing; vice-president, F. Robert Shaw; secretary, A. Doig; assistant secretary, W. Le Poidivin; treasurer, W. S. Buxton.

The following committees were elected: Publicity committee, Harry W. Swivel, A. Doig; reception committee, A. Doig, Ray W. Aldrich, E. Curl; entertainment committee, C. Tilly, W. Le Poidivin; membership committee, E. Curl, W. S. Buxton.

After the meeting refreshments were served. The next meeting of the chapter will be held on Thursday night.

CLEARING HOUSE FOR THE COUNTY

Calvert's Office a Center for Political Work in That Unit.

INCUMBENT EFFICIENT

Present Holder Has Exercised a Courteous Policy and Has Served the Welfare and Convenience of Taxpayers and Residents.

Few realize the responsibilities attached to the office of county clerk, the clearing house of the county for all of the business done in that political unit. Under the painstaking methods of James C. Calvert that office in this county has been conducted with the thought ever uppermost in the minds of the officials that the welfare and convenience of the taxpayers and residents must be served.

From the office of the county clerk must be furnished the acting clerks of the courts of the county. These are six in number, including the Supreme Court, Court of Common Pleas, Circuit Court, Oyer and Terminer and Court of Quarter and Special Sessions. These are the common law courts and recent legislation has added to these the official associations with the Juvenile Court and has also placed upon the Court of Common Pleas the increased labors that followed the establishment of the Employers' Liability Law and the Widows' Pension Act. The mass of work that precedes the naturalization of citizens must be done in the office of the county clerk, making of the county department a formal branch of the Federal Government. Under the recently passed Mechanics' Lien Law all contracts for buildings must be filed in the county clerk's office and these too must be accurately and carefully indexed for the convenience of those who may wish at any time to refer to them. The Geran law has also served to increase the duties incumbent upon the office of the county clerk. The work in connection with the administration of the election law begins in August and is not completed until ten days after the November election.

All returns of unpaid taxes on all municipalities of the county except Elizabeth, Rahway and Summit, are filed and on record in the county clerk's office. The judgments of the higher courts as well as the District Courts of Elizabeth and Plainfield, and the courts of the Justices of the Peace throughout the county, both civil and criminal, form part of the voluminous mass of records that are carefully indexed and preserved in this office. All indictments and allegations when returned by Grand Juries become public records and may be turned to with little effort and time among the records that are accessible to all alike. All the details incident to the granting of licenses for inns and taverns, bottlers and club managements are attended by the county clerk.

Something of what is being accomplished at the Union county clerk's office will be better understood when a few figures are cited showing the enormity of the tasks for which the department is responsible. During the year just ended the amount of the receipts of the office returnable to the State or Federal Government totalled more than $20,000. Under the fee system that was in vogue prior to 1906 more than $15,000 additional would have been paid into the office of the county clerk from sources which have now been abolished. Add to this an increased expenditure made necessary by the operations of the Geran Election Law amounting to $3,000 and you have another item that helps swell the total amount of business that is annually transacted by County Clerk Calvert. The receipts from inn and tavern licenses furnish an item of $12,000 a year and brings the grand total to more than $50,000 as representative of the year's business. And this is only a small part of the real work which must be done in this important office. There is without question several times as much additional work upon which no valuation can be placed and upon which no fees or charges can be figured. The indexing and the compilation of records for the convenience of the public cannot be figured upon the basis of its worth to the residents of Union county. It is impossible to estimate the value of such work and its importance to the hundreds who daily visit the office of the county clerk for personal information. Three assistants are kept busy all day and often into the night working on the compilation of these records for the use of the public.

The fact is, the average voter and resident of Union county has come to think for himself and to reason out problems of government. His easy access to the office of the county clerk and the records of the department, his personal knowledge of what is being done, furnish him with the best data as to what the aims and objects of the office must do. There are few business men of the county who have not had occasion to either visit or send their representative to the office of Union county's clerk during the administration of Mr. Calvert. There are few who do not know about the business methods that form a part of that administration and the voluntary willingness of practically everyone to attest to the quality of service rendered by County Clerk Calvert speaks volumes for the efficiency and deserved popularity of Mr. Calvert.

ESCAPE TO WAR.

Montreal, P. Q., Oct. 32.—Although three of a band of six alleged counterfeiters who have been making American and Canadian bills have enlisted and gone to the European war, the police have rounded up the balance of the gang, and Edward Painchaud will go on trial next Monday at Jolliette, P. Q. Painchaud and five others were caught in a raid by the provincial police at Lanoraie, near Jollfette. They had their headquarters in a shed, and here the officers found a complete engraving outfit and a quantity of unfinished United States ten dollar bills. After the gang was released, Painchaud and Alphonse Moury, another member, were caught passing counterfeit five-dollar Canadian bills, and were arrested on the new charge.

NEWEST CHURCH BOOSTER.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 23.—No more will babies cry at the services of the McCausland Avenue Presbyterian church, nor, on the other hand, will mothers feel obliged to stay away from church because they have no one with whom to leave their babies. For the new pastor's wife, Mrs. David Reiter, is to open a church nursery next Sunday. She will care personally for all the babies the mothers choose to bring. The idea has made a hit with the parishioners, for Mrs. Reiter has two children of her own and knows how to care for the kiddies.

MEN'S CLUB BANQUET.

A banquet is to be given under the auspices of the Men's Club and Women's Association, of the Congregational church, this evening, at the Parish House of the church. A reception will precede the banquet at 6:30.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sore or inflamed and begin to ache when your kidneys get sluggish and you feel you must relieve them, free you have your bowels removing all the bad urinous waste else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is [illegible] full of sediment, channels often get sore, water burns and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

Miss Marie Dressler, the funniest woman in the world, in a new comedy entitled "A Mix-up," written especially for her by Parker A. Hord, comes to the Plainfield theatre Thursday night, October 29. Miss Dressler is said to have the funniest role in her entire career as a comedienne, in this new offering. She appears as a queen of burlesque who gets into the wrong apartment by mistake. Those who remember Miss Dressler for her humorous work in "Tillie's Nightmare" and in the screamingly funny burlesques of the Weber and Fields' shows, will find that in the new comedy Miss Dressler not only has retained all of her remarkable ability as a comedienne, but exhibits further versatility by a consistent farcical creation which is marked by talent of the highest order. The Messrs. Shubert, under whose direction Miss Dressler is now appearing, have surrounded her with a strong comedy company.

Some Cookery Suggestions

POPULAR OYSTER RECIPES.

WITH oysters available the housewife has an opportunity to vary the fare in many delicious ways. Oysters are as useful as they are palatable, for in an emergency they may be quickly prepared and are a really satisfactory food for the guest table.

When the real oysters are not to be obtained mock oyster may be prepared as follows:

With the Oyster Flavor.

Mock Oyster—Take ears of corn. Score down the center of each row of grains and press out pulp with dull knife. To a dozen ears add a level teaspoonful salt, a saltspoonful pepper and three eggs beaten light. Rub griddle with suet or drippings. When very hot drop in the corn mixture from the point of a tablespoon in oyster shape. Brown one side, turn, brown the other side. Serve immediately on hot platter. Tomato ketchup or tomato sauce is good with corn oysters.

Panned Oysters.—Toast thin slices of stale bread, butter them and place in an earthenware pan, moisten with oyster juice and cover with raw oysters. Season with salt, pepper and small bits of butter. Cover with a tight lid and cook in a hot oven for seven or eight minutes or until they swell and the edges curl.

For Delicate Appetites.

Curried Oysters.—To the liquor drained from a quart of oysters add a mixture of one-half teaspoonful of butter, two tablespoonfuls of flour and one tablespoonful of curry powder. Boil, add oysters and cook until they ruffle.

A still more popular curry is made by frying one medium sized onion (cut in bits) in a tablespoonful of butter; add one teaspoonful of curry and one of flour and finally the oysters in their liquor. Stir until the sauce is thick.

Oyster Patties.—Make shells of a very rich pastee or buy them from the confectioner and fill with oysters prepared in the following way: Make a white sauce by bringing half a pint of cream or rich milk to the boiling point and thickening with a tablespoonful of flour made smooth with butter and cold milk. Season with salt, paprika, lemon juice and a bit of powdered mace or grated nutmeg. Beat in an egg, add oysters, which have meanwhile come to a boil in their own liquor and been drained. Fill patty shells and serve.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—How Cunning Mrs. Fox Had Revenge.

They Climbed the Cliff, Underneath Which Was the Bear's Den.

"FOXES are very crafty, kiddies, and I am going to tell you tonight about a fox that got even with some other animals."

Daddy snuggled up the children and began the evening story.

"Once upon a time all the animals that dwell in the land of the midnight sun gathered together to sing praises to the sun, which had given them light. That is, they all gathered together with the exception of Mr. and Mrs. Fox and the wee foxes.

"Now, the reason for the fox family not having an invitation to the praise meeting may have been that all the other animals had white coats, and possibly they thought themselves better than the fox with a coat of blue.

"Anyhow, they had not been invited, and so they started out to have a little party of their own. Their party, however, was not entirely a praise party. No, indeed! Those foxes had something quite different in their minds.

"They stole over to the den of Mrs. Bear, where the praise party was being held, and they sat outside in a ring and heard the noise within, and as they sat there they heard Mrs. Bear say:

"'Dear me, no; I couldn't think of asking those plebeian foxes to my house! Why, their coats are a horrid blue! There is no "class about them."'

"'Their coats are not even blue,' piped up Mrs. Wolf, whose own coat was a beautiful white. 'They are a terrible mottled gray.'

"Did Mrs. Fox get cross when she heard all this? Indeed, no! She only looked around at her family and grinned, then whispered to them to follow.

"They climbed the cliff underneath which was the bears' den. 'Now,' said Mrs. Fox, 'look down below and see all those duck eggs that Mrs. Bear has collected for her guests. We are going to get 'em. Now, you must do just what I tell you.

"'First let each one of you catch hold of the other's tail. I will stand on the cliff and swing you over. Bernie is the strongest, so he can be the last on the line, and he can get an egg in his mouth and climb up over the others. I think our family line is just about long enough to deprive Mrs. Bear and her guests of their dinner, even if our coats are not good enough to be worn in their company.'

"Bernie worked hard, and very soon the eggs that Mrs. Bear had placed so carefully outside her window overlooking the sea, so that she thought that no animal could get to them without first passing through her den, were transferred to the top of the cliff.

"Then the foxes ran away home with their booty."

LEHIGH TO CARRY SANTA'S PACK FREE

Part of Nation Wide Plan to Help Innocent Sufferers in European War.

To do its share in bringing Christmas joy to the orphaned children of stricken Europe through the medium of the Santa Claus ship, the Lehigh Valley Railroad will transport free of charge all shipments for Santa's pack now being gathered in New York. This is part of the nation-wide plan to help the innocent sufferers in the great European war.

All so disposed have been invited to help in this great charity. Gifts of all sorts for children are welcome. If so desired you can specify the country to which you wish your gift to go and every effort will be made to carry out your wishes. In every case all of the gifts received will be turned over to proper authorities in each country and distributed only among those known to be worthy.

The United States government will furnish a warship to act as Santa Claus for the children of Europe, and the Interstate Commerce Commission has decided the railroads may transport freight intended for this ship free of charge.

All of the 650 agents of the Lehigh Valley Railroad from New York to Buffalo and Niagara Falls have been constituted active helpers for the cause. They will gladly receive anything you can give and send it to New York for transfer to the warship which is to carry Christmas to the little ones who are the greatest sufferers in the great war.

That means that anyone residing along the line of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, extending as it does through the States of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and western New York, —who wishes to help in the work of bringing Christmas cheer to the children of Europe, may do so at a minimum of trouble. All it is necessary to do is to take your package—properly marked and packed—to the nearest Lehigh Valley freight station and it will be started promptly on its mission. All packages shipped this way should be addressed to the New York World Santa Claus Ship Depot, Pier 2, North River, New York city.

The announcement of the Lehigh Valley Railroad also means that this railroad is willing to do its part towards bringing the Santa Claus pack gathered in the West to New York for loading on the warship.

COST OF WARS COMPARED.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The other day it was stated that the war in Europe is costing Germany at the rate of $5,000,000 per day, France $7,000,000 per day and Great Britain $7,000,000 per day. From records compiled a half century ago of the cost of our Civil War, we learn that during 39 months, from July, 1861, our expense as a nation was $1,500,000 per day.

MOTHERS' DAY IN CALIFORNIA. San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 23.—California women will have the biggest day in their history tomorrow, when the monument to the pioneer mother will be shown for the first time and Pioneer Mothers' Day will be observed throughout the State. Governor Johnson by proclamation named October 24 as Pioneer Mothers' Day and in honor of the event, the Native Daughters of the Golden West conducted a State-wide campaign to raise funds for the memorial statue. The California women raised $25,000 for the statue, which will later be presented to the city of San Francisco, with appropriate dedication. The California women of the present generation are determined that those of the early period of the State's history shall be properly remembered and honored. Governor Johnson will be one of the speakers at the exercises in honor of the pioneer women.

MISS SAUNDERS A CHARMING BRIDE

Weds Marson Innes Buttfield at Ceremony Performed at Noon Today.

REV. KUES OFFICIATES

Miss Emily Saunders, Cousin of Bride, and the Misses Elizabeth McGee and Margaret Buttfield Attendants.

Miss Jean Morton Saunders, daughter of Dr. William L. Saunders, of North Plainfield, and Marson Innes Buttfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Buttfield, formerly of the borough, but now of this city, were married at noon today, at the home of the bride's father on Rockview avenue. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles H. Kues, rector of Holy Cross Episcopal church, the borough, in the presence of about fifty relatives and intimate friends. A reception which followed was attended by 250 guests.

The bride was gowned in white satin, trimmed with lace and orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and orchids. She was attended by Miss Emily Saunders, of Philadelphia, a cousin, as maid of honor, who wore a gown of apricot chiffon, trimmed with dark brown velvet, and carried chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth McGee, of the borough, and Miss Margaret Buttfield, the latter a sister of the bridegroom. They wore gowns of yellow chiffon, trimmed with golden brown velvet. They carried yellow chrysanthemums. The best man was Harlan Pratt, of East Orange, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and the ushers were Charles MacMullen, of Passaic, and Prescott Wiske, of New York city.

The wedding march was played by an orchestra, as the bridal party entered the library, where the ceremony was performed. The bride was given in marriage by her father. An attractive feature of the elaborate decorations comprising Southern smilax, white chrysanthemums and autumn foliage, was an aisle of ribbons, extending from the hall to the library and leading up to small white posts, through which the bridal party walked. The decorative scheme throughout the hall, library and dining-room and other rooms was greatly admired. They were in charge of Stanley, the florist.

During the reception which followed later, the bride and bridegroom received congratulations, and the orchestra gave a program of popular selections. Mrs. Buttfield was the recipient of a large collection of gifts of almost every description. Later in the afternoon they will leave on a ten days' wedding trip. Upon their return they will reside at the home of the bride's father for the present.

The bride is popular in the younger society set and is fond of outdoor sports. She has a large acquaintance, both in the borough and city. Mr. Buttfield is a graduate of Stevens Institute, where for three years he was captain of the football team. He now holds a position as engineer salesman for the Platt Iron Works, of New York.

REV. DR. JUDSON DIES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Rev. Dr. Edward Judson, pastor of the Judson Memorial church in Washington Square, New York, and well-known to many Plainfielders, died yesterday afternoon, at Roosevelt Hospital after a brief illness. He was sixty years old. Dr. Judson was the son of Adoniram Judson, widely-known as a missionary. He had preached at the First Baptist church, here, on numerous occasions.

Co-incident with Dr. Judson's death, was the announcement today of the filing of the will of his wife, Antoinette B. Judson, who died on September 20, last. She left an estate valued at $60,000.

INCORRIGIBLES ARRAIGNED.

Bennie Starr, colored, and Edward Conger, two small boys were arraigned before Judge DeMeza in the city court, this morning, charged with playing truant, stealing bicycles and committing a number of other minor depredations. Conger will be brought before Judge Connolly in the Juvenile Court, next Friday, when an effort will be made to have him placed in an institution. The Starr boy's mother promised to send him South and on this condition he was released from custody.

DR. TOMLINSON TO PREACH.

Rev. Dr. Everett T. Tomlinson, of Elizabeth, the well-known author of boys' stories, will occupy the pulpit of the Park Avenue Baptist church, tomorrow morning and evening.

M. G. C. FAGELY WEDS MISS FENNER

Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring Performs the Ceremony at His Home Last Evening.

Miss Alice Fenner, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Fenner, of Somerset street, the borough, and Merwin Grover Cleveland Fageley, of Dunellen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Pierce Fageley, of Mauch Chunk, Pa., were quietly married at 7:30 o'clock last evening, by Rev. Dr. C. E. Harring, of the First Presbyterian church. The ceremony was performed at the home of the officiating minister.

The bride was gowned in a traveling suit. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Max Snyder, of Nicholson, Pa., as matron of honor, while John Fenner, a brother of the bride, was the best man. The couple left on a wedding trip after the ceremony and later they will reside on 144th street, the Bronx. Mrs. Fageley received a large collection of gifts. Both the bride and bridegroom are well-known here and in Dunellen.

WILL HOLD NOON DAY MEETINGS

Republicans Announce Their Itinerary for County, Beginning Monday.

It was announced at Republican headquarters today that noon-day meetings will be held at the factories throughout the county every day, starting Monday, October 26, until election day.

A great number of factories where noon-day meetings have been held with success in past campaigns are either on half time or closed, and for these reasons the itinerary does not call for meetings at many factories as in past campaigns where noon-day meetings were held. Candidates and former Congressman Charles N. Fowler and William Torrence Stuchell, both defeated candidates for the Republican Congressional nomination, will be the speakers at these meetings.

Large placards have been posted near the factories bearing in good-sized type the following:

"The Slogan party for 54 years has been 'Made in America.'

"Abraham Lincoln said: 'I do not know much about the tariff, but I do know this much, when we buy goods from abroad, we get the goods and the foreigner gets the money. When we buy goods at home, we get both the goods and the money.'

"Republican Noon-day meetings at this factory today.

"Candidates and prominent speakers will address you.

"The success of Republican party means the restoration of business confidence and prosperity."

The itinerary is as follows:

Monday, Oct. 26, American Felt Co., Clark township; Tuesday, Oct. 27, The Aeolian Co., Garwood; also smaller factories in the vicinity; Wednesday, Oct. 28 Watson Stillman Co., Aldene; Thursday, Oct. 29, The Diehl Manufacturing Co., Aldene; Friday, Oct. 30, Standard Oil Co., Linden township; Monday, Nov. 2, Singer Manufacturing Co., Elizabethport.

MRS. PAUL SYMONS DIES FROM HEART TROUBLE

Mrs. Elizabeth P. Symons, wife of Paul Symons, of East Third street, died suddenly this morning, following an attack of heart trouble. Although Mrs. Symons had been ill for several years, her death was unexpected.

Mrs. Symons was a native of Cornwall, England, and had been a resident of this city for many years. She was one of the twenty-seven charter members of the Hope chapel Sunday-school organized January, 1888. Mrs. Symons is survived, beside her husband, by one brother, who lives in the West, and a number of nephews and nieces in Belleville, this State.

The funeral services will be held from her late home, 406 East Third street, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment will be made at Hillside cemetery.

WORD FROM CHIEF DOANE.

Friends in this city have received illustrated postals from Fire Chief T. O. Doane, who is attending the annual international convention of fire chiefs in New Orleas. The chief describes the country he is visiting as being quaint and beautiful, but adds that "Plainfield is good enough for him." He will return home about the first of November.

COST OF SCHOOLS INCREASED 66 P. C.

Leighton Calkins, G. O. P. Candidate for Mayor, Presents Interesting Facts.

SUGGESTED REFORMS

Presents Plan for Use of School Buildings to Meet Increasing Demand—Comparative Statement of Expenses Here and Elsewhere.

Strict economy in the expenditure of city funds, especially for the maintenance of public schools, was the chief point discussed by Leighton Calkins, Republican candidate for Mayor, at the meeting held at the party's headquarters on Park avenue, last night. He gave a clear and concise statement of present conditions, what it costs for schools and other city departments, and suggested reforms, which he said, would be urged by him if elected Mayor. Mr. Calkins spoke in part as follows:

I am sorry to have kept you waiting an hour, but I have been attending an important meeting of the council fire committee to consider the form of a new ordinance, and if I were to neglect the city business during a campaign I would not be in a very strong position to ask you to trust me with the duties of Mayor. Let me say in beginning that I am here not only to state my views on city matters, but also to answer questions. I want you to ask your questions freely, because I think the people of Plainfield have a right to see their candidates and hear their publicly expressed opinions. I do not expect everybody to agree with me on everything; but there is one thing I always intend to do, and that is to say what I think. I know I shall not always be right, and when I am shown that I am wrong I shall admit it.

"The reason candidates should give public expression to their views is that there is no other way for the people really to know where they stand. If I were to ring every doorbell in town and make a little campaign speech, the public as such would never know what my opinions are.

"When a candidates discusses questions in public he has got to show he is informed. Anybody can say he believes in cutting out unnecessary expense, and in keeping down the tax rate. But people want to know how you are going to do it, and you can't discuss our city problems without people finding out whether you have really studied them and know anything about them.

"Take the schools. The cost has increased sixty-six per cent. in the last six or seven years against an increase of about fifty-one per cent. in all other departments of the city. The school authorities estimate that a new $100,000 grammar school will be needed every two or three years to keep up with the increase of school population. Our city bonded debt is rapidly increasing, over one hundred and fifty per cent. since 1906—so that it is a very practical question with us. The most rigid economy must be practised in running our schools. But we have got to be fair about this question, and I assert that half the people who criticise schools and school expenditures, have never taken the trouble to make a serious study of the question. How many people know that of the $225,000 estimate of expense to run the schools next year, $170,000 is for salaries, and this expense can't be avoided. About $26,000 more goes for things which the State law requires, such as free books and supplies, an attendance officer, hygiene and sanitation classes for retarded children, etc. When you consider all the necessary expenses especially the cost of keeping all the buildings in good repair, and that the current expenses alone for water, fuel, gas, electricity and telephones, etc., amounts to $11,300, it is perfectly apparent that the people who howl about gross extravagance are going off half-cocked. They have never looked the matter up or tried to go to the bottom of things. It is true that thirty-eight per cent. of our tax money goes for schools, and it is a lot of money. But why not look about and see what it costs in other places? In Westfield it is thirty-nine per cent.; in Bayonne it is forty per cent. On the other hand it is only twenty-nine per cent. in New Brunswick. I am collecting information from twenty-five cities in this State, and if elected Mayor, I intend to find out where we stand as compared with other places.

"My own view is that while the State owes every child a good common school education, in fact the very best, it is nevertheless going beyond the function of the State to tax the people generally for things which may be very fine for all boys and girls to know, but are not really necessary. Only fourteen per cent. of the school enrollment attends the High School. Good grammar schools are of the first importance. The constitution and laws of the State require us

PARTY CANDIDATES APPEAL FOR VOTES

Democratic and Progressive Nominees Address Large Gatherings Here.

A large number of voters gathered, last evening, at the campaign headquarters of the Democratic party, and listened to discussions on the issues of the hour in the political world. All of the county candidates were present, and briefly referred to the questions arising from the adminstration of national and county business.

Congressman William E. Tuttle, Jr., of Westfield, candidate for re-election, was the speaker of the evening, and discussed the national questions which are interesting the voters at large. In referring to the present conditions in the industrial world, Mr. Tuttle explained, these conditions were not due to the reduction of the tariff. He pointed out, that while the duty on printing presses had been reduced from thirty to fifteen per cent., the condition of the printing press industry of this country was not due to that fact, as the importation of these machines had never turned in a cent of revenue into the country. Mayor Percy H. Stewart, candidate for State Senator from Union county, also spoke, using the State problems as a basis for his remarks.

While the Republicans and Democrats were holding meetings at their respective headquarters within a stone's throw of each other, in the vicinity of Park and North avenues, an open air meeting was conducted but a few feet away from the entrance of the Republican headquarters under the auspices of the Progressive party.

The speakers at the open air meeting included Mayor Harwood Fish, of Roselle; G. W. V. Moy, candidate for Congress; R. C. Calhoun and W. Lincoln Phillips, of Elizabeth. They held the close attention of the large crowd as they made strong appeals to the voters to break away from old party lines and support the nominees of their party. A curious co-incidence was that later in the evening Mayor Fish took former Congressman Charles N. Fowler home in his automobile.

NON-UNION MUSIC UNDER THE BAN

Building Trades Council Protests Against Practice by Political Parties.

Many matters of importance and of interest to the various crafts were discussed at length, last evening, at the meeting of the Building Trades Council. The political parties using non-union music in street parades came in for "raps," and communications were ordered sent to the county committees of both Republican and Democratic parties in Union and Somerset counties. It appears that both of these parties, during the present campaign, have hired non-union music, and for that reason the committees were informed of the stand of the local labor body.

It was noted during the discussion of the evening, that while the bulk of the campaign literature bore the union label, some of it does not. This matter was also brought to the attention of the political committees. The question of unemployment of a large number of the local craftsmen was again a subject of discussion. In order that the committee appointed to solve this problem during the course of the winter might work in an intelligent manner, all craftsmen unemployed at the present time are requested to file their names and addresses with William Lunger, business agent of the organization.

CARMAN CASE READY FOR JURY

Expected That Judge Kelby Will Charge Them Late This Afternoon.

WOMAN IS CONFIDENT

Thinks Jury Will Acquit—Close Observers Expect Mrs. Carman Will be Freed or a Mis-Trial Will Result—Woman Greeted by Husband.

Mineola, L. I. Oct. 24.—When court reconvened this morning for the trial of Mrs. Florence Carman, charged with murdering Mrs. Louise Bailey, it was confidently expected that the defense would conclude its case, and the summing up be completed in time for Judge Kelby to turn it over to the jury by 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Basing her belief on the assumption that the prosecution has failed to prove corroboration of Celia Coleman's story of an alleged confession of Mrs. Carman having fired the shot that killed Mrs. Bailey last June, Mrs. Carman is confident that she will be acquitted. The impression is that the prosecution has not shown as strong a case as has had been expected. Many close observers at the trial look for either an acquittal or mis-trial.

Wearing the same attractive and well-fitting tailor-made suit she wore yesterday, Mrs. Carman took her seat in the court-room at 10 o'clock. She was greeted most affectionately by her husband, but she did not kiss either member of her family as she did yesterday.

Rudolph Loewenbeck, a baker, with defective hearing, was the first witness called. He declared that he was passing the Carman house at the time of the shooting, when he heard the shot fired. The witness corroborated the evidence given by the two negro witnesses yesterday, Adams and Smith, that they saw a man running from the grounds who jumped over the fence of the Carman property after Mrs. Bailey had been killed.

Stephen Pettit, sheriff of Nassau county, was recalled. He further weakened the bloodhound incident by saying he placed his hands on the window-sill before the dogs got there, and supposed other persons had done the same.

P. H. Seaman, a Nassau county detective, testified that he also touched the window-sill before the dogs arrived. Justice Kelby asked Mrs. Carman's counsel if they wanted to prove the credibility of the hounds by cross-examination of the State's rebuttal witnesses.

John C. Quinn, a hat manufacturer of Brooklyn, was asked whether Dr. Carman had told him that he saw a woman's hand sticking through the broken window pane. A long discussion followed as to the admissibility of the testimony, and before the Judge passed on the defense's objection, Dr. Carman's evidence was read, and authorities cited. The physician had testified that it was a man's hand, although he swore at the coroner's inquest to the contrary. Justice Kelby reserved decision on the point until the afternoon session, after which the court adjourned for dinner.

Dr. Edwin Carman, husband of the prisoner, was called to the stand for the defense, late yesterday. He described the breaking of the glass of the window, followed by the appearance of a revolver through the shattered pane and the firing of a shot. The physician explained that he jumped behind an operating chair for protection just before the report was heard. He testified he looked through the window to see who had fired the shot, but saw no one there. He denied with emphasis that his wife was downstairs as asserted by the prosecution.

Charles Corby, an engineer, testified that the negro maid told him that people at the coroner's inquest tried to get her to lie but that she had said she knew nothing of the crime.

Ferdinand Q. Morton, a negro lawyer, swore that he questioned Celia Coleman for three hours before a negro stenographer and that several pages of the notes were sent to Charles O. Weeks, of the District Attorney's office, but Mr. Weeks refused them as being valueless. In reply to Justice Kelby's question the witnes said he sent the transcript of the Coleman girl's story to Judge Graham, but that he had not been paid for it as yet.

MOST VIOLENT BATTLE SINCE WAR BEGAN HAS RESULTED IN ADMITTED GAINS BY GERMANS

FRENCH WAR OFFICE SAYS THAT KAISER'S TROOPS HAVE MOVED FORWARD NORTH OF DIXMUDE AND AROUND LE BASSEE.

RUSSIANS REPORT FURTHER RETREAT OF ENEMY

French Claim Victory Along Some Parts of the Battle Front, After Numerous German Attacks Made Both by Day and Night—Zeppelins Reported to Have Aided Germans in Yesterday's Battle.

Paris, Oct. 24.—Admission that the Germans have moved forward in the battle north of Dixmude and around LaBassee, was made in the official statement issued by the French war office at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The statement says, however, that the Allies had made appreciable progress to the east of Nieuport and between Armentieres and Lille. The text of the statement was as follows:

"On our left wing the battle continues. The enemy has progressed north of Dixmude and around LaBassee. We have advanced very appreciably to the east of Nieuport, in the region of Langemarck and in the region between Armentieres and Lille. These are fluctuations inevitable on the line of battle, which is maintained in general.

"On the rest of the front numerous German attacks both by night and by day have been repulsed. At many points we have advanced slightly. In the Woevre region our advance has continued in the direction of the Bois de Mortmare, south of Thiaucourt, in the Bois le Prepre, and north of Pont a Mousson.

"In Russia the Germans are retreating south of Warsaw, as well as to the west of Ivangord, and from Nova Alexandria. Sanguinary conflicts continue in Galicia on the front of Sandomierz, Przemysl. The Russians have taken 2,000 Austrian prisoners."

London, Oct. 24.—Fresh troops have been brought up by the Germans which have enabled them to renew with great vigor their attack against the Allies' right wing.

A despatch from Copenhagen says that a private message recorded there from Berlin states that the battle raging between Nieuport and Dixmude is the most violent and the most important engagement of the war. The despatch adds that Zeppelins are said to have given the Germans considerable support.

The German ring around Verdun, according to the Cologne Gazette, is becoming closer daily, the message continues. All the French attacks are declared to have been in vain.

Colonel Grey, a brother of the British foreign secretary, who was captured near Peronne, France, when a British aeroplane was brought down by the Germans, has been sent to the prisoners' camp at Darmstadt.

The Daily Chronicle says that practically all the Germans have evacuated Antwerp and marched south.

Yves Guyot, the noted French economist, estimates the losses of the countries at war through the suspension of industrial production for six months as follows: France, 600,000,000 pounds; Germany, 880,000,000 pounds; Great Britain, 71,500,000 pounds; Russia, 160,000,000 pounds.

Lloyds station on the Isle of Wight reports that the French ship Marie Henriette, with wounded soldiers on board, is ashore off Cape Barfeur, 16 miles east of Cherbourg. It is understood that the wounded were in process of transfer to the Isle of Wight. Whether the ship is in a dangerous position is not yet known.

London, Oct. 24.—An unconfirmed report says that several of the smaller forts south of Bellonte have fallen. The Germans are using heavy siege guns and the fall of the main fortress is said to be eminent.

A despatch from Amsterdam states that the Norwegian steamer Heimland, from Amsterdam to England, has been sunk, presumably by a mine. The crew was saved.

A Reuter despatch from Aarchangel, Russia, says the ice breaker Earl Grey, acquired from the Canadian government, has arrived and the Russian government hopes the vessel will be able to keep the port of Archangel open until the beginning of December or later.

All classes of reservists have been called out by the Austro-Hungary government. Only those physically and mentally incompetent are exempt.

According to a despatch to the Times from Rotterdam, two thousand Germans are reported to have crossed into the Dutch territory, off Zeeland, and are being conveyed to North Holland for internment.

Berlin, Oct. 24.—The general in command of the German seventh army corps, it was officially stated in Berlin today, has declared that the calling out of the Landstrum is unnecessary as enormous numbers of the Landwehr are still available. Nor has it yet been necessary to call out volunteers.

British warships off the Bergian coast have bombarded the open town of Ostend today, wrecking many buildings.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Japan has sent all of its Red Cross and hospital supplies to the assistance of Russia, it was announced today at the Japanese embassy. The shipment has been made over the Trans-Siberian Railroad to Petrograd, and will be sent from there to the front for the use of the Czar's fighting forces. The Tokio cablegram did not indicate the extent of the shipment, nor whether Japanese surgeons and nurses accompanied the stores

Paris, Oct. 24.—The official communication issued last night, says: "On our left wing the action continues with great violence, notably around La Bassee, Arras and Armenitres. North of the Ainse our artillery has destroyed three batteries. We have lost some ground around La Bassee, but have made gains to the east of Armenitres."

Madrid, Oct. 24 (Central News Cable).—Although pain is almost as far away from the war as one can get in Europe, yet the effects of the conflict are being felt here with serevity. The trade of Spanish ports is paralyzed. Hundreds of businesses in which German interests are involved have come to a standstill, and many thousands of men are out of work. The Government is doing everything in its power to provide extra work. Distressing stories come from the Canary Islands, where the war has hit the inhabitants particularly hard. Since the beginning of the war the trade of Las Palmas has been completely upset.

FIELD FIRE.

The fire department was called out shortly after noon yesterday by a field fire raging in the vicinity of Walnut street and Washington avenue. Herman Pfister and John Woods, who were snapped off of the rear end of the fire truck; by the speed in which it was swung from Prospect avenue into Grove street, however, had considerable to say, and what is more, they are still saying it. Woods, who is thin, first struck the dusty roadway and Pfister, who is very heavy, landed on top of him and the two rolled over and over into stagnant water standing in an ungraded ditch. It is understood that Pfister and Woods have hired Special Marshal Shugars to do some detective work for them in a way of unearthing the identity of the person who sent in the telephone call to the Park Hotel, which resulted in Peter Schneiderwind dusting across the street and ringing the fire bell long and furiously. It is believed that the fire was started by some prospective hunter who wanted to find out how many rabbits this particular field harboured. The fire was put out by some school children.

COST OF SCHOOLS INCREASED

to provide accommodations for all our children. But in the building of our schools we should aim at utility and utility only. They should stand the test of wear and tear, but high priced special materials are not necessary. I think instead of building a new schoolhouse every three years, we might try to use our buildings afternoons as well as mornings, thus accommodating twice as many pupils, and making a new schoolhouse necessary once in six years instead of three.

I have a practical suggestion to make. If elected Mayor, I shall urge that the Board of Education and Council finance committee voluntarily confer together when the school budget is being prepared and the budget covering the other city departments, so that the relative requirements of all departments can be talked over together, and economies made where possible. The trouble is largely with our laws and State system. The Council makes up a budget covering fifty-two per cent. of the city expenses, and the School Board all by itself makes up a budget of its own covering the rest. There should be closer co-operation between these departments.

I urge the election of Mr. Edgar to the Council from the First ward and Mr. Blatz from the Fourth. They have had two years experience and experience counts in running the city. National and State issues are not involved. It is a business matter. You taxpayers put up $600,000 to pay the expenses. In electing your officials you want men who have had the most experience in the Council, the men who have done the work, and who have studied our problems and have practical suggestions to make. I stand on my record for the past two years of things actually done. The fact that the tax rate this year is only four points higher than last is largely due to the work of my committee, the finance committee, and the systematic way we worked with all committee chairmen cutting out all unnecessary expense, meeting night after night, each time shaving the budget down, until we finally reached low water mark. I commend all our Council committee chairmen for their help in that work.

The Republican party asks your support of its candidates for city officers not just because we are Republicans but only if you approve of the work we have done for our city, and if you have confidence in our knowledge of affairs and purpose to cut out partisanship and politics, and so far as able men willing to work can be found, to give all sections of the city representation on our important Boards of Health, Education and Recreation."

CURTAIN HAS BEEN LOWERED ON GREAT AQUATIC SEASON

The final open water meet of the year lowered the curtain on the most remarkable outdoor swimming season this country ever enjoyed—a season in which aquatic history was written by the Americans with many new records and brilliant performances.

Sprinting races are hardly a regular feature of summer competition, the championship contests being held in pools during the winter months. Nevertheless, the few short distance features [illegible] several new marks. [illegible] Salt Lake City, Arthur Raithel [illegible] Illinois A. C., of Chicago, swam sixty yards straight away in the world's record time of 30 seconds, and in San Francisco he and Duke Kahanamoku, now a member of the Los Angeles A. C., covered 100 yards shoulder to shoulder in 54 4-5 seconds over a 75-yard course, the fastest performance ever made under similar conditions.

At the latter meet Kahanamoku also [illegible] 13 2-5 seconds and 220 yards in 2 minutes 26 4-5 seconds, both international standards under the rules of the swimming federation, and an Illinois A. C. quartet, made up of Hebner, McGillivray, Mott and Raithel traveled 200 yards in 75-yard relays, completing the distance in the world's record time of 2 minutes 44 3-5 seconds.

The same team, competing at Indianapolis, placed to its credit a 400-yard world's relay mark of 3 minutes 57 1-5 seconds, each man swimming 100 yards straightaway.

The astonishing improvement shown by the middle distance swimmers was particularly gratifying, because in this branch of natation our men have been woefully weak hitherto. The average times were unexpectedly good and the work of youngsters especially promising. Ludy Langer, of the Los Angeles A. C., proved the find of the year and established a 440-yard world's record of 5 minutes 22 1-5 seconds (5 turns) as well as a national 880-yard mark of 11 minutes 46 2-5 seconds (11 turns). Second only to Langer, however, was Herbert Vollmer, of the New York A. C., an eighteen-year-old lad, who swam the quarter in 5 minutes 27 seconds (17 turns), and created an American 1,000-yard standard of 14 minutes 19 1-5 seconds (12 turns) on the way to the mile in the national championship.

One of the noticeable features of the season was the success of the juvenile recruits in [illegible] and ten miles. The Barding Cup, competed for in [illegible] a five-mile course, was won by Thomas Hoorocks, an [illegible] candidate from the Carnegie A. C., of Pittsburgh, who clipped twenty-six seconds from the course record.

The ten-mile national championship, held as usual in the Mississippi River, was captured by the nineteen-year-old Herman Laubis, of the Missouri A. C., of St. Louis, who beat by two minutes McDermott's time of the previous year, and third place went to Davie Jones, a Memphis boy of fourteen, after he had defeated twenty-four rivals, including Heath, the former title holder.

In tests of out-and-out endurance things almost unbelievable were accomplished, thanks to the Marathon swim of July 19, which enabled the best long distance swimmers in the country to meet over the twenty-two mile Battery to Sandy Hook route in official contest.

It may be remembered that when Samuel Richards, of Boston, reached Sandy Hook in 8 hours, 12 minutes, in 1913, reports of the feat found the aquatic fraternity skeptical, many expressing the opinion that it was impossible to make the trip in such time.

In this race, however, although Richards repeated the performance almost to the minute, his record was cracked to pieces by George Meehan, another Bostonian, who finished in [illegible] and 18 minutes. Alex Wood [illegible] of Boston, and Charles Durnell, of Philadelphia, succeeded in [illegible] close upon Richard's heels.

It is worthy of note, too, that in the Marathon, James J. Kennedy, of the American Life Saving Society, covered fourteen miles with the back stroke, the greatest distance ever traveled on the back, and that Fred Lane, of New York, a veteran of fifty, swam twenty-one and one-half miles, while Eddie Snyder, of Brooklyn, an immature lad of fourteen, negotiated nineteen miles in a little over seven hours. Never before have so many remarkable feats been crowded into a single event.

Deserving of mention are the performances of Harry Hebner and Michael McDermott, of the [illegible] Athletic Club, in San Francisco. Hebner swam 150 yards on the back (one turn) in the world's record time of 1 minute 51 1-5 seconds, and McDermott created new breast stroke national figures at 200 yards, covering the distance with two turns in 2 minutes 49 4-5 seconds.

A review of the season would not be complete without a word about Paul Goodwin, of the New York Athletic Club, winner of the national half and [illegible] are truly [illegible] considered [illegible] contestor for [illegible] national champion for [illegible] Hall, [illegible] longevity [illegible] work leaves [illegible] sports.

A HEAVY BURDEN.

A Backache Makes Life Miserable for Many Plainfield People.

A bad back is a heavy burden.

A burden at night when bedtime comes.

Just as bothersome in the morning.

Ever try Doan's Kidney Pills for it?

Know they are for kidney backache—and for other kidney ills?

If you don't, some Plainfield people do.

Read a case of it:

Mrs. Anthony Wahl, R. F. D. No 1, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I had such distressing pains in my back that I could hardly stand and it was out of the question for me to stoop. I was all crippled up and I knew perfectly well that my kidneys were the cause of the trouble. A neighbor recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me and on her suggestion, I used them. They gave me almost immediate relief and three boxes changed me from a chronic sufferer to a healthy woman. I still take Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally, when a cold settles on my kidneys and they act as a preventive of any serious trouble. You may publish this account of my experience for the benefit of other kidney sufferers."

The Drum Song

Corporal, what will you have today—
The funeral march or the reveille?
Corporal, what will you have us sing,
The gates of death or the gates of spring?
Rat-a-tat-tat, we are ready, sir,
With a ripple and a roll
To play you the tune of the merry fight
Or the dirge of the dying soul!

Corporal, what will you choose today
For the tune that the army drums shall play?
March, retreat or a quickstep thrum?
Corporal, what of the army drum?
Rat-a-tat-tat, we are taut and fine,
With a throb at every beat,
For a dead march under the drooping pine
Or a fanfare brisk and sweet!

Corporal, tell us your wish and will,
The slow retreat or the charge to kill?
Corporal, whetting our sticks with glee,
What shall the song of the war drum be?
Rat-a-tat-tat, and horses and men
Shall thrill and dash away
And never to march to the tune again
That the drums of the army play!

Corporal, morning is fresh and fine.
What shall we play for the ranks in line?
Corporal, ready, and greet you, dear,
With a serenade for the cannoneer!
A serenade for the cannoneer,
And one for the major, too,
And when they have silenced the army drums
Good night, dear sir, to you!

Good night, dear sir. Shall taps be played?
And, ah, for the hearts that are unafraid
And the drummer men and the drummer boy
And the drums that sing out of very joy!
Rat-a-tat-tat, we are ready, sir,
Whatever the tune you say,
The funeral march or the double quick
Or the call of the reveille!

THIS WINTER'S FASHIONS WON'T SHOW SO MUCH.

Style Pendulum Swings Back to Modest Ways of Dressing.

Woman's form is again to become a mystery.

Fashion has decreed that to be fashionable one must be modest.

Silhouette gown and flimsy petticoat, which left little to the imagination of the casual observer, are to be cast into the discard. For the washable petticoat—cotton and three or four yards around the hem at that—is to be restored as a sacred institution this winter in milady's wardrobe.

With the petticoat enters the wider skirt.

This is the decree contained in a bulletin of 1915 styles issued from the headquarters of the Fashion Art League of America in Chicago and sent to thousands of club and society women in the United States by Mme. Alla Ripley, whose motto is "American gowns for American women." The bulletin reads:

"Encouragement is given to wearing cotton petticoats as a means of vastly increasing the cotton consumption owing to the European war, and will go a long way toward solving the problem of finding an immediate market for the south's oversupply of cotton.

"How wide shall the skirt be? Four yards around the bottom would not be an extreme style for a woman five feet five or six inches tall and weighing 150 pounds, but it would be extreme for a woman four feet six inches and much lighter in weight.

"A circular skirt is more beautiful when it falls full and has an air of smartness when worn by the right type, but beware of the pitfalls of blindly accepting a circular cut in your new fall suit.

"To be in vogue this winter there must be a smooth, flat hip look with a decided flare at the hem, and if the figure permits the fullness should be accentuated at sides and flattened at front and back."

FILM TO TEACH SAFETY.

Railroad Systems Employ Moving Pictures to Educate Employees.

"Steve Hill's Awakening," a railroad safety story in two parts, by Marcus A. Dow, general safety agent of the New York Central lines, is a moving picture play, produced under the direction of Mr. Dow.

This play was written and produced for the New York Central lines for use in educating employees in connection with the safety work being conducted by that company. It is the intention to equip a car to be used as a theater, which will be taken over the entire system, stopping at all points where employees congregate.

The pictures will also be used in connection with large safety meetings conducted at halls or theaters in cities along the line for the benefit of both the employees and their families. The Santa Fe, Burlington and Lackawanna roads also have made arrangements to use this film.

This is the first attempt of any railroad to use a moving picture play telling a story of human interest with the principal parts played by professional actors and actresses in connection with safety work.

Eighteen Girl Babies to One Boy.

Whether it is a sign woman suffrage will carry in South Dakota this fall or there is some other physiological cause, it is a fact that for nearly two years not a single boy baby was born in Bath township, in Brown county, S. D. In that time eighteen girl babies made their appearance in as many homes. Finally in September a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. Keller, and there was great rejoicing not only in the Keller family, but all through the township.

LONDON AWAITS AERIAL INVASION

Takes Precautions to Repel Attack by Zeppelins.

GERMANS READY FEBRUARY.

Will Need Four Months' Time For Preparation of Fleet of Dirigibles. "Wait and See," Says Inventor—"Zeppelin Neck," Due to Peering Upward, Prevalent In British Capital.

Information received in Amsterdam from an authoritative source regarding Germany's aerial plans throws a new light on the action of the London authorities in doing away with all brilliant illumination, sweeping the skies at night with many searchlights and mounting guns to assail balloons and aeroplanes. These precautions are thoroughly justified, though a bit premature, says the New York Times correspondent in Amsterdam.

While occasional minor raids may be made on London sooner, if Germany gets a firm foothold on the channel, the grand aerial armada will not be launched against England until February at the earliest, for Germany will not be ready till then.

"We are building 200 aeroplanes especially for the attack on London. These are of a new and extra large type, capable of carrying 1000 pounds of explosives in addition to the weight of the pilot and bomb thrower," the correspondent was informed.

"These new aeroplanes will not be in commission before February. The flyers are being trained now at special aviation camps, and at least one of the instructors was flying in London as recently as last spring."

Germany's Aerial Equipment.

An American refugee from Roumania, who reached London six weeks ago via Austria, Germany and Holland, told the correspondent at the time that at the flying field in Berlin he had seen at least 500 aeroplanes and fifty Zeppelins in their sheds.

When the German officer interviewed was asked if there was any truth in the statement that Germany had only Zeppelins six weeks ago he replied frankly:

"That is nonsense. But we are working on new Zeppelins night and day and by February we shall have forty-six."

Confirmation of a sort of the planned aerial attack on London came from Count Zeppelin himself, who returned to his home in Stuttgart, Wurttemberg, after a three days' stay in Berlin.

"Give Us Time," Says Zeppelin.

An American woman saw the count in Berlin and, rushing up to him, exclaimed, "Tell me, when are the Zeppelins going to London?"

Count Zeppelin bowed politely, replying:

"Wait and see. Only give us time, madam."

"Zeppelin neck" is the form of malady now prevalent in London, according to one report.

This is the popular term for stiff necks, which are commoner than ever at this season because so many Londoners are craning their necks, scanning the heavens as the government searchlights relentlessly examine the sky for the enemy.

WATCH BRINDILLA CASE.

Washington and London Deeply Interested In Seizure of Oil Ship.

If in the capture of the Brindilla, the oil tank ship formerly the Washington, the British government wishes to test neutral ownership, not alleged contraband cargo or an innocent destination, it will be appealing to a principle of international law which Great Britain has never formally ratified. There are precedents for such a course, as when both Spain and the United States in 1898 adhered to the declaration of Paris, though neither had ratified it. The case is attracting much attention in Washington and London.

The Brindilla was a ship of the Deutsch-Amerika Petroleum company, caught in New York by the war. She was bought by the Standard Oil company under the American registry act and sent out under the American flag. Outside the three mile limit she was taken and towed to Halifax and the jurisdiction of a prize court.

The declaration of London, article 56, declares void the transfer of an enemy's ship to a neutral in war "unless it is proved that such transfer is not made in order to avoid the consequences to which an enemy's vessel, as such, is exposed." The burden of proof of good faith is put upon the owners of the Brindilla by this article.

The British commons, December 1911, passed a naval prize act accepting the declaration of London. The lords rejected it. Yet it has passed by usage into the common law of nations, was embodied in declarations by Russia and Italy during the Tripoli war and is admitted in principle by the present belligerents. If an appeal is taken from the prize court to The Hague that tribunal is bound by the convention establishing it to decide in accord with international law, or, if no "recognized rule" exists, to follow "the general principles of justice and equity."

—Your "furnished rooms to rent" ad will probably afford "opportunity news" to some dissatisfied—yet not over-critical—roomer.

"LESSONS OF THE WAR"

The speech of Dr. William L. Saunders at the dinner of the Business Men's Association Monday evening brought home some "lessons" that are of particular interest to every person in Plainfield.

The need of mutual co-operation and helpfulness in local business was never more needed than at the present time when business is feeling the depressing effects of the European war.

Plainfield has long needed the manifestation by our people of a more general interest in our local industries and business enterprises, and a more altruistic business spirit—and it needs these now more than ever.

There are comparatively few people in the city of Plainfield whose incomes are not directly affected by business conditions in general in our city. It therefore becomes a matter of direct personal interest to each one of these to look beyond the immediate source of his own income and do what he can to insure the prosperity of his neighbors and thus insure the prosperity of his city and his own.

Plainfield has excellent stores ready to supply practically all the needs of our people. These stores are too often passed by our local people merely because of the want of a proper pride in our city and her enterprises and because they seem to find an indefinable satisfaction in possessing goods that were purchased at a distance from home.

To some the fact that an article was purchased in one of the larger cities seems to be a certificate of superior quality or evidence of discriminating buying.

Nothing could be further from the real facts. Our PLAINFIELD merchants are ready to furnish to the people of PLAINFIELD at fair prices the best qualities of goods in the markets of the world, in some cases not as promptly as can be done by the larger stores in the big cities, but the wants of the most fastidious can be supplied, if they will but give our merchants a fair chance and manifest a little patience.

A spirit of local patriotism and loyalty to their own city and neighbors, and even their own personal interests, should move the people of Plainfield to experience more satisfaction in saying, "THIS WAS BOUGHT IN PLAINFIELD." "After visiting the stores in other cities I came home and bought in our Plainfield stores just what I wanted." Than in saying "I bought this in—"

Whenever we say or do anything that helps our PLAINFIELD manufacturers, merchants,, businessmen, craftsmen or [illegible] our city and incidentally ourselves.

A proper spirit of loyalty to our city should move every citizen of PLAINFIELD to give our local merchants at least a fair chance before buying elsewhere, and to help to create a public sentiment more favorable to goods purchased in Plainfield.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, OCTOBER 24, 1914.

On Saturdays the editorial columns of the Daily Press are conducted by citizens who are free to express their own views. The contributing editor for today is William Newcorn, chairman of the Republican County Committee. The Democratic viewpoint was published in these columns last Saturday, as the Press wishes to maintain an independent attitude politically, and the sentiments expressed represent the arguments of the writers and not the position of this newspaper.

REPUBLICAN VICTORY MEANS RESTORATION OF BUSINESS CONFIDENCE AND PROSPERITY.

The question of prime importance to the American people of today and more particularly the voters of the Fifth Congressional District, is, how to restore business confidence and prosperity and start the wheels of industry.

New Jersey is one of the greatest manufacturing states of the Union and within the confines of the Fifth Congressional District numerous industries are represented; that their interests have suffered from the enactment of the Underwood tariff law is manifested by the number of plants in the District that are not operated and the increase in the unemployed.

The Republican party, ever since its conception, has always stood for a Protective Tariff; a Protective Tariff does not imply a high tariff or a low tariff, but means as its name signifies, a tariff that is placed upon the importation of goods with a view of protecting the industries engaged in the manufacture of the same class of commodities by equalizing the difference between the cost of producing the same goods abroad and the cost at home.

Experience in the past has demonstrated that whenever protection was afforded an industry it prospered. Work was plentiful and wages were good, and when the tariff was reduced upon a revenue basis, that the industry suffered thereby, resulting in a corresponding reduction of work and wages.

Abraham Lincoln summarized the entire principle of a Protective Tariff in a few words when he said: "I do not know much about the Tariff, but I know this much—when we buy manufactured goods abroad we get the goods and the foreigner gets the money. When we buy the manufactured goods at home we get both the goods and the money."

Immediately after the enactment of the Underwood Tariff Law its detrimental effect was felt at once and the importations into this country began to exceed the exportations, causing a balance of trade to be against us, which balance continued to increase from month to month and were it not for the beginning of the European war, which changed the nations of Europe from producers into consumers, the figures would astound us.

For the first seven months of the operation of the law, the balance of trade had been changed from one hundred and twenty-one million dollars in our favor, to one hundred and twenty-seven hundred million dollars against us, a difference of two hundred and forty-eight million dollars. Factories began to reduce their forces, curtailing expenses and in many instances have shut down completely, causing a loss of work and wages and depriving the working man and those dependent upon them, in many instances, of the necessities of life.

The loss of revenue caused by the law results in the imposition of a war tax in time of peace to make up the deficiency; the imposition of an income tax upon the people of the United States in order to furnish additional funds for the running expenses of the departments of the government. And while we were being burdened with taxes to make up the shortage, the manufacturers abroad were profiting thereby by taking advantage and advancing the cost of those commodities that had been placed upon the free list and pocketing the difference at the expense of the American mechanic and laborer. In some instances the Government of other countries have placed an export tax upon the goods to be exported to this country and by that means they have profited and raised a revenue for defraying the running expenses of their government, instead of the money coming into our own treasury.

The Democratic Representative of the Fifth Congressional District voted for the enactment of this law and prides himself upon having been on the job. No special credit is due to him for having been on the job, because the people have paid him the sum of $7,500 per annum for staying on the job; while on the job he assisted in putting out of a job, thousands of mechanics and laborers of this District by voting to place certain classes of machinery, including sewing machines, manufactured in this district, on the Free list, hence is not entitled to the support of his constituents whose interests he voted against.

The loss of the job has meant an empty dinner pail: the expenditure of the fruits of economy and thrift under Republican prosperity, and caused an appeal to public charity for employment in order to provide the necessities of life to the unemployed and those dependent upon them.

The Republican party stands for Protection.

Protection means "Made in America;" "Made in America" means steady employment; steady employment benefits business in every department of commercial and industrial life.

The Republican candidate for Congress, John H. Capstick, believes in Protection and has declared himself in favor of the elimination of the tariff as a political issue, by the creation of a non-partisan tariff commission, who, after mature deliberation shall revise the tariff according to the need and requirement of each particular industry.

The Democratic party in order to befog the minds of the voters of the United States and have them overlook their mistakes, are conducting the national campaign upon the line that the election of a Democratic Congress is essential as a vote of confidence to the President in his peace policy, and they are endeavoring to make political capital out of the situation for the purpose of retaining their hold upon the government.

The imputation that the Republican party is now, and will not be as patriotic and loyal to the President of the United States, is one that should be repudiated by every American citizen. From the days of Fremont and Lincoln to those of McKinley and Taft, they have demonstrated that they are inspired by patriotic instincts and can be depended upon to sustain the President of the United States, no matter who he may be, in a policy of neutrality and the promotion of the progress and civilization of the world in a concerted effort for the maintenance of peace.

The Democratic Party was pledged to reduce the high cost of living. Ask any house wife whether she has noticed any difference in the cost of living between July 1st, 1913, and July 1st, 1914, before the war, even though commodities such as corn meal, meat, coffee, sugar beet seed, cream, drugs, extracts, fowls, fruits and berries, potatoes, rye flour, wheat and other commodities, used daily in the ordinary house hold, were placed on the Free List, and you will be informed that a comparison of prices between the two periods discloses the fact that there has been no material change and in some instances the cost is higher even though large quantities of these commodities have been imported into the countries.

The Democratic Party pledged itself in its platform in favor of free tolls for American ships, using the Panama Canal, which had been constructed by American money, American labor, and American engineering skill, and repudiated its plank in the platform by repealing the free toll clause in the Canal Bill, which was inserted by Republican legislators for the express purpose of encouraging and fostering American shipping. This legislation is on a par with asking a man to pay rent, for a building which was constructed with his capital.

The presentation of twenty-five millions of American dollars to the Government of Columbia is along the lines of Democratic legislation, for the benefit of the other fellow and deserves consideration.

The placing of the banks of the State of New Jersey under the Federal Reserve Act in the Philadelphia District, necessitating the keeping of a deposit by the banking institutions of this State in the Federal Reserve Bank at Philadelphia, which is to be counted as reserve, and by reason of their business interests with the banks in New York, compelled to maintain deposits in those institutions, which are not counted as a part of the reserve, demonstrates the inefficiency of the Democratic party in the enactment of progressive legislation.

In the State of New Jersey we are confronted with financial embarrassment, brought about by the extravagance in appropriations, mainly due to the creation of new offices, increase in salaries and other expenditures, contrary to the pledges contained in their State platform, in which they placed themselves upon record, as in favor of economy and efficiency; and have succeeded in converting a free balance accumulated during sixteen years of Republican rule in the State, from two and a half million dollars to a deficit of almost two and a half million dollars at the close of the fiscal year, October 31, 1914. This in spite of the increased revenue derived by the State from increased valuations of the railroads and private properties, and are compelled to devise ways and means to replenish the treasury in order to avoid the necessity of enacting a direct State tax upon the inhabitants of the State, or the issuance of State Bonds.

In order to provide for the deficiency that was imminent, an attempt was made to transfer items aggregating the sum of seven hundred and sixty-eight thousand dollars against the school fund, which had heretofore been paid out of the general fund of the State, which effort however, was frustrated by the champions of the sacredness of this fund.

A collateral inheritance tax was levied upon the widows and orphans for the purpose of raising revenue, and incidentally the greater portion of the amount of the estimated returns, appropriated to pay the salaries for the new offices created to administer the provisions of the act.

The efficiency bills, the enactment of which would have meant a saving of one hundred forty thousand dollars to the State and which were prepared and recommended by the Commission appointed to devise ways and means of making the governmental departments of the State efficient and economic, were defeated.

The development of a State ship canal, which had been advocated for years and which would have proved of incalculable value to the various industries of the State, received a set back by the abolition of the commission fostering it.

Therefore the issue presented to the voters of Union county in relation to the affairs of the State, is whether the representatives of the Democratic party, which has proven itself insincere in its pledges, extravagant in its administration and predatory in its raid on the State's treasury, by the creation of offices and sinecures and increase of salaries, is to be returned to power, or whether the representatives of the Republican party, that stands for progress, efficiency and economy, shall again be trusted with the administration of the State government.

The Republican party, in this campaign, present for the consideration of the voters of this district and county, the strongest ticket collectively without reflecting on their predecessors, in many years and one that is worthy of the support of every voter, be he Republican, Democrat or Progressive.

John H. Capstick, candidate for Congress, of rugged honesty and with a wide business experience, is splendidly equipped to represent this important manufacturing constituency; he favors a protective tariff; a merchant marine, constructed by American mechanics, manned by American seamen and carrying American goods to all parts of the world; a Federal eight hour law and the enactment of such legislation as will restore business confidence and prosperity.

Carlton B. Pierce, candidate for the State Senate, in the six years that he has represented Union county in the lower and upper house, has established a record on equal taxation as applied to the railroads, banks and other properties of the State, conserving the interests of all the taxpayers, entitling him to re-election and while his opponent is a gentlemen who merits the respect and esteem of his fellowmen, he stands for what his party represents and should be judged according to the record of his party. Incidentally too much stress cannot be laid upon the importance of the Senatorial contest as it is essential for the furtherance of the Republican principles to re-elect all the Republican senators, who now serve in the Senate to ensure progressive legislation.

In William N. Runyon, Charles L. Morgan and Arthur N. Pierson, the Republicans have selected able and competent men who stand upon a platform for the enactment of all laws that will favor progressive legislation, efficiency, and economy in the administration of the various departments of the government.

The discharge of the duties of the County Clerk, County Registrar and Sheriff is a business proposition and the Republican party present as their standard bearers for these positions James C. Calvert, County Clerk, Frank H. Smith, Registrar, and George C. Otto, Sheriff, business men who will give these offices a business administration.

The lamp of experience is a guide for the future. Upon the record of the Republican party in the past and the record of the Democratic party while in power, the Republican party appeals to the voters of Union County, requesting their support for its candidates and will abide by their judgment, feeling confident that a calm and mature deliberation will result in an overwhelming victory for its candidates on November third.

THE FORUM

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

In view of the hysterical efforts being made by the anti-suffragists in disclaiming co-operation with the saloon interests against the adoption of woman suffrage in the Western States, the testimony of Colonel Roosevelt at this time as to the relation between the liquor interests and anti-suffrage is interesting. The Colonel uses his usual vigorous language and appears to speak of things he knows:

Speaking at Toledo recently, he said: "I wish to speak of the issues before you in this State. The brewers and distillers have taken the field against woman suffrage because they regard the entry of women into the rights of citizenship as a danger to the dominance in politics which they have been trying more and more to establish.

"I saw this in Michigan, where every saloon was headquarters for the fight against woman suffrage.

"When you see crooked politics and whiskey interests, which have a natural affinity, fighting a thing, it is a pretty safe thing for decent men to support.

"I ask you to give the women the right to vote, not only as a matter of right to them, but as a matter of justice to the men who are striving to do what is right in the public interest."

Speaking at Columbus, he further said: "The real strength of the opposition to woman suffrage is the influences which represent the commercialized side of the liquor traffic. That is pretty good proof that decent men will do well to support equal suffrage."

MEN'S CLUB HOLDS ELABORATE AFFAIR

Dr. Charles A. Eaton Speaks at Gathering in Congregational Church.

Fully two hundred persons enjoyed a banquet and social time in the parish house of the Congregational church, last night, under the auspices of the Men's Club and Women's Association of the church. It was the most successful affair that has ever been conducted under the auspices of the organizations. Before the banquet there was a general reception, the guests afterwards being invited to the banquet room.

During the banquet, music was furnished by a victrola. The rooms and tables were decorated with autumn leaves and flowers with bouquets placed on each table. After the last course, Andrew N. Nielson, president of the Men's Club and toastmaster of the evening, welcomed the large gathering and thanked the members of the banquet committee for their work. In introducing the pastor, who spoke a few words, Mr. Neilson stated that he has been at the head of the Congregational church of this city for thirty years and reviewed his fine record. Rev. Mr. Goodrich expressed his appreciation of the great interest that had been taken and said that the affair was the largest get-together time they had ever had. Rev. Dr. Charles A. Eaton, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist church, New York, was the speaker of the evening.

Dr. Eaton took for his subject, "The Call to Colors." He sighted instances prevalent in Europe today in regarding the call to colors and impressed the fact that such a response was an amazing phenomenon. The speakers said in part:

"This world of ours is getting too fat and prosperous and we in America have learned to become luxurious. There are two vital and tremendous forces that have gone to sea. One of them is civilization. We claim to believe the civilization of the present, but it has swept over the modern world fast and has killed all enthusiasm. I am thoroughly convinced that the greatest curse of the world today is being very rich. Those who are in this circumstance are so proud of their religion that they do not practice it, but simply bottle it up. In the last twenty-five years over forty Protestant churches in New York city have died and the population has been increased by thousands of people." The speaker gave this as an illustration to show how an increase in persons decrease the power of the church in some instances.

"If the church cannot get the people into the church," said Dr. Eaton, "that institution does not believe what it claims to believe. To the young people present I can only ask you to face reality. These are real times and it is just a beginning. When the present war on the other side of the water is over the present civilization will be gone forever."

Dr. Eaton said that denominational feeling among the churches is all wrong. No one is better than anyone else and some day the church will be united.

In closing Dr. Eaton spoke of the Baptist convention several years ago in Philadelphia where Baptists of all nations gathered as brothers and of those of Germany and Russia, who were here a short time ago, and are fighting each other on the other side.

Those who had charge of the banquet were: Executive committee of the Women's Association: Mrs. Chas. Goodrich, president; Mrs. H. V. Hubbard, vice-president; Mrs. Philip Suffern, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas F. Hylan, secretary; Mrs. Charles A. Rice, corresponding secretary. Executive committee of the Men's Club: Andrew A. Neilson, president; William L. Marshall, vice-president, Charles E. Steiner, treasurer; John C. Evans, secretary; Frank A. Weeks, and Charles A. Rice; banquet committee, Mrs. Joseph F. T. Fuller, chairman; Mrs. Mary J. Harold, Miss Jessie McIntosh, Mrs. Clarence Tapscott, Mrs. Frank A. Weeks, Dr. Frank T. Clawson, Dr. H. V. Hubbard, William L. Marshall, Charles E. Steiner, Philip S. Suffern. The waitresses were young women of the church.

WOMEN ENTHUSIASTIC OVER WORK FOR BRITISH SOLDIERS

Members of the New Jersey Branch of the Prince of Wales Fund, recently organized, met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Clifton Wharton, Jr., on Belvidere avenue, and planned additional work for the coming winter, or while the European War continues. The women are now engaged in making socks, abdominal bandages, wristlets, etc., for the British soldiers and sailors engaged in war.

It was decided to have a meeting every two weeks at the home of some member to discuss plans of work. Already a large number of useful articles have been made and sent abroad. At yesterday's meeting a letter from a general in the German army was read showing the need especially of bandages for the soldiers, owing to the prevalence of stomach trouble. The women in the organization are very enthusiastic over the work and hope to largely increase the membership feeling that many people can do a little toward the relief work.

MONSTER EXHIBIT BY SCOUT PATROLS

Parker Field the Mecca of State Troops in Demonstration Today.

Active workers and members of the Boy Scout patrols of this and other New Jersey cities took part in a monster demonstration on Parker Field, this morning, several hundred participants being present. The occasion was the annual field day of the Plainfield troops and they had as their guests delegations from Newark, Trenton, Somerville, Bound Brook, Westfield, Bayonne, Jersey City and elsewhere.

Scoutcraft was portrayed on a large and efficient scale, the work of the respective troops being of high merit. The various events were all of a novel variety and the spectators were treated to some excellent entertainment. Preceding the Parker Field exhibit the boys paraded through town, headed by a scout band and assembled at the playground shortly after 10 o'clock.

A delegation from New York headed by Dr. Holm attracted particular atention and a majority of the paraders were in regulation scout regalia. The committee in charge consisted of J. W. Aughiltree, chairman; Dr. T. A. Davis, A. D. Beers, and Paul R. Collier. The judges were William D. Murray, of the executive committee of the National Headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America; Dr. Fritts V. Holm, and William N. Runyon with Dr. H. D. Corbusier, as special judge in awarding the first aid trophy.

The Red Cross flag was awarded to Thomas Fitch, of Red Cross patrol, the Collier trophy was won by Charles Rice, of the Wolf Patrol; the Unanimous Cup was annexed by the Wolf Patrol and the scoutcraft championship banner was given to the Engineer Patrol.

BUILDING A LIGHTHOUSE.

Rearing the Bell Rock Tower Was a Perilous Piece of Work.

Right down to the time of John Smeaton, who invented the stone tower, lighthouses were built of wood. It was Smeaton's success in placing a stone edifice on the dreaded Eddystone rocks in the eighteenth century which really gave an impetus to lighthouse building, and since then the sea builder has achieved many notable conquests in all parts of the globe.

The next erected was that built by R. Stevenson on the Bell rock, on the famous Inch cape reef, off the coast of Scotland. The construction of this lighthouse was one long, terrible battle with the angry sea. The securing of the foundations, naturally the most hazardous part of the whole undertaking, proved exceedingly difficult.

It is recorded that the men worked with desperation. Only two could remain on the rock at a time, but they stuck there with the tenacity of leeches, the cold waters of the North sea tearing down every few minutes and sweeping entirely over them. When the first stone was at last swung into position the men, ragged, chilled and worn with the awful struggle, clung to the iron rods which they had erected upon the reef and cheered madly, like soldiers just over the ramparts of an enemy's fort.

Again and again they were absolutely driven from the rock. When the tower began to appear well above the sea terrible storms arose and swamped the works. On several occasions blocks weighing as much as two tons were ruthlessly torn out of their places and swept into the sea despite dovetailed joints and portland cement. In the end the sea builder proved victorious, as he always does, but it cost four years' labor and the expenditure of 60,000 before the lighthouse stood complete.—Wide World Magazine.

COMPLAINT DISMISSED.

Owing to a technical error the complaint in the case against Samuel Mann, charged with reckless driving and violating the motor speed laws, was dismissed in the city court this morning, by Judge DeMeza. The charge was illegally drawn and a new complaint will probably be taken in the case. William Newcorn represented the defendant.

M., the members of which will gather at their hall on East Front street at 7 o'clock, and march from there to the church. Arthur M. Harris, of the First Baptist church, will address the gathering. Rev. Edward S. Ralston, pastor of the Netherwood Reformed church, has announced his sermon-subjects for tomorrow as follows: Morning, "Memory and Vision;" evening, "Jesus in Plainfield." The music at the Sunday school and evening services will be supplemented by an enlarged orchestra.

The regular gospel service at Rescue Mission will be held tomorrow evening. Mrs. H. E. Parker, of the borough, will be the soloist.

Miss Mabelle Cronce, corresponding secretary of the Tomlinson "Y," will have charge of the W. C. T. U. meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Louis Eaton, formerly of this city, but now of New York, is spending a few days with Mrs. Lorenzo Townley, of Watchung avenue.

Salmagundi

By George I. Sill.

In glancing over our exchanges we have thus far seen 673 pictures of Mrs. Carman and by this time we are convinced that she's a fairly good-looker. In our opinion, however, reports concerning her trial for murder can never, either for interest or importance, take the place of the European war news.

After his long experience as head of Tammany Hall, the story that Dick Croker, now on a visit to this country, has been buncoed, sounds well nigh incredible. But you never can tell—all along we may have been doing the institution of Tammany Hall a gross injustice. Instead of being a school of graft and general rascality, it may instill in its members freedom from guile and an innocent habit of thought, and Tammanyite be but another name for "comeon." At any rate we publish this for the benefit of bunco-steerers and we'd be pleased if you'd tell all your friends following that profession.

We learn from the New York Times that the American taste for champagne is almost gone. It says nowadays no American business man is ashamed to order plain Scotch and soda and would make a lot of trouble if a waiter or restaurant manager told him what he should drink. We have noticed these changes ourselves. Whereas, formerly almost everybody drank champagne, even the mechanic's careful housewife invariably putting a pint of Mumm or Piper Heidsieck in his well filled dinner pail, today people don't seem to care whether they have it or not. How distinctly we remember the time, not so many years ago neither, when the waiter or restaurant manager would always insist on our ordering champagne with a meal, often a brand we disliked or were unaccustomed to. And we had to drink it!

Mayor J. G. Harvey, of Hazleton, Pa., recently killed a dog with a blow of his fist, no revolver being handy—size of dog unfortunately not stated. Mr. Harvey, at the age of nineteen, defeated John Longtellow Sullivan in a calf lifting contest. We remember reading of it at the time. Harvey was the calf who lifted the most.

Last night members of the Rev. C. S. Fisher's class gave a peanut social in the lecture room of the West Grove M. E. church, Asbury Park. The peanuts were of the large, old-fashioned, double jointed "goober" variety grown especially for the occasion in the famous peanut belt of Virginia, and as many of the "nuts" were also present a most enjoyable time was had. Much interest was manifested in the peanut eating contest, won by little Flossie Saxon, who while the pastor held a stop watch, consumed nearly two quarts of the delicious fruit in fifteen minutes. After deducting doctor's bill for Flossie, it was found that $3.43 had been raised towards the piano fund.

The cheese game is said to be quite popular among the Italians in Camden. They set a large round cheese and roll it toward a certain mark and the one who succeeds in having it stop nearest that point takes the cheese. A pretty and harmless game we think and if they never do anything worse their morals will not be corrupted. In this however we may be mistaken for we read in the Camden Post-Telegram that a party indulging in this sport recently was raided by the police. The cheese was not secured being a strong and minty cheese it slippered out in time to save itself. Next!

The Newark Call very truly says: "It is well when the civilization of Europe is going to destruction for the gratification of the lust of tyrants that Americans should turn their minds to the days when they sought the freedom which when gained released them from the bondage which is now driving millions to slaughter abroad. Never has our heritage seemed more precious, never has the need of maintaining its ideals demanded more of conscientious devotion than at present. We may lack a thousand things, but murder and the wiping out of the best and noblest is not our present occupation, at least."

The writer of the following letter evidently one of the "unterrified," takes exception to the story we published a few days since about Thomas Jefferson. While we do not propose to enter into any controversy and at the time mentioned, emphatically disclaimed any belief in the alleged occurrence, the spirit of fair play by which we are always animated impels us to give a place to his communication. Here is the letter:

Salmagundi:

Sir—Recently my attention has been called to a column conducted by you in the Press of this city. Along with other slush and rubbish, I see you have printed a story about Thomas Jefferson, which on the face of it easily constitutes the finest specimen of meretricious mendacity it has ever been my ill fortune to encounter. Are you purblind or your vision so distorted by partisanship that you cannot see the villainous falsity of the narrative from beginning to end, and even allowing its truth, have you no respect or veneration for the sacred resting place of the dead? Or must you wallow in every mud-puddle on the road, heedless of the spectacle presented and of the passing automobile as well? Gross ignorance is the only excuse for its publication and if you plead this in justification, I recommend a studious perusal of almost any history of our country written in words of one syllable. On the other hand, if you think you're funny (and in your case this would presuppose a marked tendency toward dementia), I earnestly advise that soon as possible you visit some competent specialist and have your head examined. You also had (in the loathsome article mentioned) the effrontery to lug in another illustrious name. He who bears it is alive today and one of the leaders in the borough of Democracy's unbroken and undaunted ranks. If you meet him, look out—the grave has not yet claimed and withered that good right hand of his.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the loss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—Adv.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney troubles, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

Jack Martin the Attraction for Plainfielders at Elizabeth Park Tomorrow.

"Smiling Jack" Martin, the local favorite and the only Union county boy to win his spurs in the big leagues, will be in the line-up for the Brooklyn Nationals when they take the field against the All Leaguers at T. A. B. S. Park, Elizabeth, tomorrow afternoon. As Sunday baseball is tabooed in the major cities throughout the East, many Plainfield fans unable to get away from their business on week days have never seen "Our Jack" perform in his own company and the game tomorrow will give them just this opportunity.

Steele and Bill Fischer will be in the points for the Brooklynites against the All-Leaguers, while other prominent Superbas in the line-up will be Miller, Gus Getz and Jack Dalton. It is also likely that two more Brooklyn regulars will be in the game. The All-Leaguers will present a strong team, one fully capable of making the big timers go the route.

Harry Thompson, who led the New England League pitchers with eighteen victories out of twenty-two starts, will peg his port-side shoots at Jack Martin and Co., while Frank Bruggy, the big Elizabeth boy, under contract for next season with the Boston Nationals, will catch. Ralph Shaw, sought by Jersey City Internationals, first base; Joe Peplocki, Haverhill, N. E. League, second base; Frank O'Rourke, Wilkes-Barre, N. Y. State League, shortstop; Albin Carlstrom, Buffalo, International League, third base; Fred Lied, Asbury Park, Atlantic League, left field; "Flick" Luyster, Lawrence, N. E. League, right field, and Joe Harter, no league, but as good as they come, center field.

JERSEY CITY ELKS HAD SOME NIGHT

Took All Three From Newark and Made Great Average of 1003.1.

ELKS' LEAGUE RECORD.

Jersey City bowlers simply "went mad" in an Elks' League match on their own alleys last night, averaging 1003-1 against the Newark quintet and taking three games in a row. They are now first in the league race with five victories and but one defeat. The Jersey City pin knights accounted for 1003 in their first game, 1051 in the second and wound up with 956. The Newark champions rolled 1016 in the second game, but were thirty-five pins to the bad, despite this towering total. In the first game Newark was there for 981 and lost by twenty-two pins. A total of 900 in the last game for the visitors was again insufficient, Jersey City being fifty-six pins ahead. Billy Russell, for Jersey City, had counts of 225, 224 and 221, the consistent pinning resulting in an average of 223-1. Andrew Wright had a count of 232 and his average was 205. Mahlenbrock was there for 222. Dick Erler was a star performer for the Newarks, scoring 234, 213 and 203. His average was 216-2. Connie Lieck had scores of 208 and 201 and Howard Williams was there for 257 and 201. With a score of 176 in the last game he had an average of 211-1. Here are all the scores:

OUTLAW LEAGUE MEETS AND ELECTS OFFICERS

Chicago, Oct. 24—President Gilmore, of the Federal League, has announced that the total paid attendance at all games during the season was 1,600,000 persons. Gilmore and Charles H. Weeghman, president of the Chicago club, were in New York yesterday to attend a conference of the Federal League.

At a meting of the Federal League magnates, held at the Biltmore, New York, yesterday afternoon, James A. Gilmore was elected president and treasurer for a period of five years. This act would indicate that the "Fed" authorities intend to stick and their cry is "No surrender." Robert B. Ward, of Brooklyn, was elected vice-president for one year. No peace proposition had been discussed and the president said that the first move must come from the big leagues.

BRUGGY'S PLAYING WON.

By the fast playing of Frank Bruggy at right guard Thursday night, the Gloversville five managed to open its home season by defeating the Troy basketballers in a New York State Basketball League battle by the score of 26 to 22. "Leo" tossed in a pair of goals from the field and one from the free throw station.

JERSEY CITY CAPTURES ALL HONORS FOR THE WEEK IN ELKS' PIN LEAGUE

Official Records Show That the Skeetertown Crew Leads in Standing, High Team Score and Team Average—Taylor, of the Silk City Quintet, Displaces Larry Westphal as Individual Leader—Captain Nash Takes a Drop to Fifteenth Place—Phenomenal Pinning Last Night Causes a Big Shake-up.

Records compiled from the official scores in the Elks' Senior Bowling League for the week ending today show that Jersey City has displaced New York and Paterson on the top rung with an average score of 951.7. Phenomenal bowling in a series on their home alleys, last night, against the Newarkers was responsible for the rise in the team record column, the Skeetertown crew setting a wonderful pace and copping 3 in a row. From a tie for first place the Paterson and New York pinners have sunk to a tie for second, sharing this rung in a triple maner with Hoboken. Plainfield is perched on the fourth step in company with New Brunswick, Newark, Rahway and Rutherford.

Captain Bill Nash's high individual score was smashed to smithereens last night by Williams, of the Newark quintet, when he shifted the tally from the previous 247 to 257, bettering it by ten pins. In the individual records Nash slumped from fourth to fifteenth position, but is still leading the Plainfield pack with an average of 186.5 instead of 196 of last week. Each member of the Brunswick team profited in the series with Plainfield this week in the individual average column. Seldom does the Brunswick outfit have to taste defeat on its home chutes and the one contest annexed by Plainfield, Tuesday night came as a surprise. During the entire schedule last year the Brunswickers lost but four contests on their home lanes and the Queen Cityites took a pair of these reverses. It is little wonder then that the New Brunswick players should raise their average in a series on the alleys along the Raritan.

Besides being in possession of first place, Jersey City covets the high team record with a mark of 1051, Elizabeth being second and Newark third in this department. Jersey City also has the best average. Blatz follows Nash in the Plainfield standings, occupying the twenty-second place in the ladder, while Campbell comes in twenty-fourth. Kiely is thirty-second in the list, Waldorf is forty-third and Vail is forty-fifth. The complete records follow:

BASKETBALL CALL FOR P. H. S. TEAM

Longest and Stiffest Schedule in History of Red and Blue Has Been Arranged.

Manager Nicholas Zelmes, of the Plainfield High School basketball team, has arranged one of the longest schedules that the quintet has ever had to buck up against. Although twelve of the games are still pending, Manager Zelmes feels sure of booking each of these. The annual trip to Yonkers will be taken by the local boys on December 18, and Yonkers will play the return game on February 27.

Several new teams will be met by Plainfield this year. Prominent among them is Battin High School. For years Plainfield has had no athletic relations with the Elizabeth School, but the two games scheduled by Manager Zelmas will probably bring the two schools together once more. Another new school to be met by the locals this year is Easton High School. This will be the first game the locals have ever played with a team from Pennsylvania. Two games have also been arranged with the East Orange High School basketball quintet. East Orange has usually been one of the strong teams of the local league but Plainfield High School expects to cover up on the basketball floor this year.

From present indications [illegible] basketball season [illegible] Captain Dan McNamee has issued the call for the first practice to be held on Monday, November 9, and all except the fellows on the football squad will be on hand.

The schedule for the season of 1914-15 as arranged by Manager Zelmes is as follows:

Dec. 9, Somerville, at Plainfield; Dec. 12, East Orange (pending), at East Orange; Dec. 16, Roselle, at Plainfield; Dec. 18, Yonkers (pending), at Yonkers; Dec. 23, Battin, at Elizabeth; Dec. 25, Alumni, at Plainfield; Jan. 6, Rahway, at Rahway; Jan. 8, East Orange (pending), at Plainfield; Jan. 12, Woodbridge, at Plainfield; Jan. 16, Easton, at Easton; Jan. 19, Westfield, at Plainfield; Jan. 23, N. P. H. S., at North Plainfield; Jan. 27, Leal's, at Plainfield; Jan. 29, Morristown (pending), at Morristown; Feb. 3, Princeton H. S. (pending), at Plainfield; Feb. 6, South Orange (pending), at South Orange; Feb. 8, Leal's, at Y. M. C. A.; Feb. 12, N. P. H. S., at Plainfield; Feb. 15, Battin, at Plainfield; Feb. 17, Rahway, at Plainfield; Feb. 24, Roselle (pending), at Roselle; Feb. 27, Yonkers, at Plainfield; Mar. 3, Morristown (pending), at Plainfield; Mar. 6, N. P. H. S., a neutral court; Mar. 12, Westfield, at Westfield; Mar. 13, Easton, at Plainfield; Mar. 17, New Brunswick, at New Brunswick; Mar. 20, South Orange, at Plainfield.

IMPORTANT PRACTICE FOR Y. M. C. A. SQUAD TONIGHT

Captain Al Brynairski, of the Y. M. C. A. team, wants all those who reported to practice last Wednesday night to be present at the short drill which will be held at 7:30 tonight. Several codes of signals will be discussed and a short last practice will be held.

The Deal Mule team, of Trenton, under the name of Silent Workers, have been scheduled for the early part of next year and the Summit Chapel game, which was cancelled for the first game on November 7, has offered other dates and will appear here some time next month. The team played its first game last night and lost by a small margin. Several other good teams are pending and the schedule will be issued in a short time so that all Y. M. C. A. supporters will know when the games are to be played. The first game will be on November 14, when the Newark P. S. A. A. will bring their strongest line-up to this city.

SULLIVAN ALMOST MADE CLEAN SWEEP

George Howe Took the Only Game He Dropped After a Hard Fight.

"Bill" Sullivan came out ahead in last night's play in the Knights of Columbus bowling tournament with five games to his credit and one defeat. Although he made only two scores over the two hundred mark, Sullivan hit the pins at the right time and managed to finish ahead of his opponent in all games but one. George Howe was the pinner who kept Sullivan from making it six straight. In the first game between these two Howe bowled 195 and his opponent was off and made only 183. The second contest of this match was very close and Sullivan had only four points to spare at the end, the scores being 195 to 191.

In the last game Sullivan made high score of the night, which was 235, and his rival only hit for 169. Caulfield and Sullivan played in the first match and the latter had no mercy on his opponent, taking three games in succession. The winner's best score was 215, while Caulfield registered 189. Howe and Duffy then met and the former took two out of three, the last one going to him with a mark of 192. Howe's first score was 175 and in the second he went up to 202. Caulfield won his only game against Duffy, when he scored 198 against Duffy's 182. The latter had an easy time topping the next two.

The score of last night's play:

Caulfield	189	[illegible]	140
Sullivan	193	215	199
Howe	175	202	173
Duffy	143	184	192
Caulfield	198	135	160
Duffy	182	164	187
Howe	195	191	169
Sullivan	183	195	235

Those who will play next Monday night are Kiely and Shannon, Caulfield and E. Taylor, Caulfield and Kiely and Shannon and Taylor.

AQUATIC AND GYM CLASSES AT P. H. S.

New Pool and Gymnasium Cause for Introduction of New Classes.

Physical Director Ralph S. Patch, of the Plainfield High School, has completed the arrangements for the boys' gym classes. These classes meet each period on Tuesday and Thursday and are instructed in calisthenics and light games. Gym work is compulsory in the three lower classes of the High School and optional with the boys of the senior class. If a boy is a member of a gym class at the Y. M. C. A. he is excused from taking the course at the High School.

The following numbers are enrolled in the six classes: First period, 28; second period, 39; third period, 36; fourth period, 49; fifth period, 14; sixth period, 62; total, 228. Arrangements have also been made for the instruction of swimming. The beginners' classes will meet in the six periods on Monday and Wednesday. Mr. Patch will have charge of these classes.

On Monday and Wednesday the swimming pool will be open for all boys in the High School from 2:00 to 4:30 o'clock.

HEAVENLY REST WILL HAVE FAST BASKETBALL TEAM

George Leighs, coach of the Heavenly Rest basketball team, is fast rounding out a good team and will put the best quintet that has ever represented that church on the floor this year. There are about ten boys trying for places and practice is held every Friday night in the parish house. Last night all of the men reported and a good workout was held, which consisted of shooting, passing signal work and scrimmages.

Arthur Force has been elected manager of the team and would like to hear from any team in this city averaging from 110 to 120 pounds. Games may also be arranged through the coach. No captain has yet been chosen but one will be elected before the team plays its first game, on November 14. On this day the team will meet the Boys' Club, of Hope Chapel, on the chapel court, in a preliminary to the Hope first team game.

Those who have reported for practice are Bus Dealaman, Russell Dunham, Elmer Bleim, Warren Babcock, Roy Mills, Arthur Force, Charles Corlin, Hutchcroft, Ralph Jacobs and Benjamin Kriney.

WALTER AND EDDIE COPPED FOUR GAMES

Still Leaders by Good Margin in Gates' Bowling League.

By winning four out of six games played on Gates' alleys last night, Walter Conover and Eddie Conover succeeded in maintaining their hold on first place in the tournament. In the first match of the night Bimble and Lutz took the leaders into camp by taking two out of three games, Conover and Conshay taking the last one with a 334 against 319. In the first game the winners went up to 340 and in the second hit for a 310.

Conshay and Conover, out for revenge, took on Hansen and Winters and also took three games straight, which gave them more than an even break. A trio of three hundred scores did the trick and in the second game when the Hansen-Winters combination went up to 319 their opponents soared to 344, which was high team score for the night. Lutz made the highest individual score, being credited with a 187.

The scores and standings:

LIFE SAVING EXAMS PROVING POPULAR

Great Interest Taken in Indian League at Y. M. C. A. and Several Pass Tests.

Six boys of the Indian League of the Y. M. C. A. took the life saving exams in the two lowest classes this morning, under the direction of Physical Director Mermans. Four passed the Class G tests with credit, those boys being Henry Windham, Arthur Krausse, Chester Alpaugh and C. Poling. Two of the boys who passed this test two weeks ago have gone ahead of the rest and passed the Class F exams. They are James Brownlee and Harold Wilson.

Both of these boys passed with credit and in two weeks more will be ready for the next higher class. After passing a test the boy must stay in that class for at least two weeks before he can try for higher honors. Yellow, red and blue ribbons are presented to those who pass the classes. The yellow is for G and F grades and as they pass these letters are stamped on the ribbon. Red signifies that the classes D and E have been successfully passed after they are stamped on and the blue has places for A, B and C to be placed. After the last named examination has been accomplished junior life saving examinations are given and when passed the person receives a solid gold medal.

To pass the first class the boy must get sixty per cent. on a basis of a hundred in three dives for form, swim 25 feet on the back and 50 feet on the breast. The class F tests are a little harder and a mark of 70 must be made in the dives for form swim on the back and 35 feet, on the breast 75 feet and plunge 10 feet.

ELIZABETH Y. M. H. A. READY.

After practising for several weeks, the Elizabeth Y. M. H. A. basketball team is about ready for Plainfield in the opening game of the season at that place. The Betsytown captain has picked his men to play against the locals and expects an easy victory at the start.

ANTI-SURFFAGE

Conducted by Plainfield Branch New Jersey Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

Mrs. A. M. Dodge, chairman of the Anti-Suffrage Committee of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs, in her report to the convention last November in Buffalo, said:

"The constitution of our State Federation of Women's Clubs declares that the object of the federation is 'to bring into relations of mutual helpfulness the various clubs of women throughout the State, and to make combined action possible when deemed expedient.' This 'mutual helpfulness' and 'combined action' have been powerful factors in crystallizing public opinion because we have not been divided into political camps, but have sought to promote the public good and have taken no heed for political expediency.

"Therefore it was a wise provision in the constitution of many clubs that the discussion of religious and political subjects should be barred from those clubs. On these questions there is room for reasonable difference of opinion, and club discussion of the same sows the seeds of dissension and of discord. On matters of true Progress and reform there can be no difference of opinion save possibly as to the means of securing the results which all good women are agreed, are desirable to obtain.

"The solidarity of Women's Clubs has been their distinguishing feature. That solidarity is now attacked by the politics of woman suffrage. The discussion of that subject tends to array women in opposite camps and to hinder their co-operation in work ready at their hand today, because of the division into party lines.

"The question of Woman Suffrage will doubtless go to the voters of New York at the near future. Meantime the women of the State have ample opportunity to inform themselves on both sides of the question through the educational work undertaken by the Suffragists and Anti-Suffragists, without bringing this discussion to the clubs and jeopardizing our solidarity as women working together for the common good. To the solution of the question each woman is in honor bound to bring a clear mind, a tolerant heart and a serene temper. Let her take these to assemblies which are called for the expresss purpose of discussion of the suffrage question, but let clubs carefully consider the consequences before they introduce the subject into their program. If either side of the question, however, is given a hearing, it is urged that, in the spirit of fair play, both sides shall be heard, though preferably not in the form of a debate, since that form of address tends to give much heat and little light.

"We realize that success has come to the club women because they were not in politics, and that if all women are to go into politics the State must lose that quality which today gives women's work its distinction, the quality of disinterested service for the public good untained by personal political ambition."

Women Fail to Vote Teachers' Salaries.

(California Correspondence)

"Man's inhumanity to man" has found expression even in this Woman Suffrage State of California. Strangely enough, it is "woman's inhumanity to woman" which the newly enfranchised voters themselves have demonstrated. I send a clipping from the Los Angeles Times of September 12:

"Pasadena, Sept. 12.—Public school teachers of this city are worried. The special bond election for $12,000, calculated to pay their June warrants, was defeated yesterday by forty-one votes, through the apathy of citizens who wouldn't take the trouble to go to the polls. There is no way of paying the salaries except by a bond issue.

"The vote was 938 for and 539 against. As a two-thirds majority was necessary to carry the bonds, the election was lost by forty-one votes. Little interest was shown in the election.

"Many of the teachers were compelled to forego their usual vacations this year because of the failure of the city to pay the salaries for June, owing to a lack of funds. When the Board of Education called the election it issued a statement showing the especial need of voting the bonds and appealed to the voters to compensate the teachers for their work."

If even a scant 9 per cent of the women of Pasadena had gone to the polls, the necessary money to pay the school teachers would have been voted. There were (in 1910) 11,950 women in Pasadena over voting age, which is 2,688 more women than men of voting age. The actual fact seems to be that our women are not interested in the essential details of politics.

And All Accomplished Without Woman's Vote.

(From the New York Evening Sun)

Richmond, Va., Sept. 23.—Virginia votes "dry." State-wide prohibition goes into effect November 1, 1916, according to practically complete returns today of yesterday's special election on the liquor question.

The "white ribboners" have a majority of from 32,000 to 35,000.

Richmond, Alexandria and Norfolk were the only large cities voting "wet."

Temperance forces were jubilant today. Plans were started for a day of celebration and thanksgiving in all churches next Monday.

The surprises of the election were "dry" majorities in Petersburg, Newport News, Roanoke, Portsmouth and Lynchburg.

The new temperance law will prohibit the sale of liquor even in clubs and also prohibits the manufacture of spiritous liquors.

Wine, cider and beer many be manufactured, but must be shipped out of the State. The loss of $700,000 annually in liquor revenues to the State is estimated.

Virginia is the tenth man-suffrage State to vote itself dry—an example which no woman-suffrage State has copied! Kansas, the only State which has both prohibition and Suffrage, went dry before the women got the vote.

A Remarkable Man

Bill Dean was not a learned man,
And neither was he rich,
In this big world he occupied,
A most peculiar niche.
He owned no concert phonograph,
Or talked of motor cars,
And though he liked Havana smoke,
He seldom bought cigars,
His corn-cob pipe was good enough,
And, too his last year's hat.
"When folks keep up-to-date," he'd say,
"Their pocketbooks keep flat."
His friends had many things he lacked,
Still Bill had no regrets,
For this the merchants said of him:
"He always pays his debts."

Bill Dean could buy a bill of goods,
From any store in town,
And if he said he'd like it charged,
They'd gladly marked it down.
Full well they knew when pay day came,
And Bill received his wage,
He'd lose no time in dropping round,
To clear the debit page.
His shop-mates often called at him,
With just the slightest sneer:
"You'd think those store folks couldn't wait,
Come in and have a beer."
In answer back he'd always quote:
"Each one of you forgets
That social drinks and wait awhiles
Don't pay a fellow's debts."

How true these words of William Dean's,
And yet how soon forgot,
By those who live in mansions grand,
Or dwell within a cot.
Though obligations press them hard,
And every mail brings bills,
They spend the money others own,
For foolishness and frills.
They mean to pay, but hell's main road
Is paved with good intent,
Mixed in with gold and silver coin,
By mortal man misspent,
So doff your caps to wise Bill Dean,
For him hold no regrets
While this the merchants say of him:
"He always pays his debts."

Some Cookery Suggestions

HALLOWEEN CANDIES.

CANDIES for the Halloween feast or party should be very simple. Those in which there are nuts are the most appropriate. Most of them can be made by the veriest amateur. To insure the purity of the sweets and set an example of thrift they should be prepared at home and a day or so in advance of Hallowe'en.

Easy to Prepare.

Peanut Brittle.—Melt four cupfuls of sugar over a hot fire, stirring constantly until light brown. Then add three cupfuls of roasted peanuts and pour the taffy quickly on a big tin sheet. Spread it as thin as possible. This taffy must be made quickly to be good.

Glace Nuts.—Boil two cupfuls of sugar and one of water until a drop of it hardens in cold water. Then dip the nuts. About two cupfuls of them, which have been previously shelled, will be sufficient. Dip one at a time, stuck on the end of a long pointed wire or a new hatpin. Work quickly and spread the nuts on a sheet of waxed paper to dry.

Sweets With Walnuts.

Walnut Taffy.—Boil two cupfuls of molasses for fifteen minutes, stirring constantly, over a brisk fire. Then add a fourth of a teaspoonful of soda and boil with a drop of the molasses becomes brittle when it is dropped in cold water. Next add half a teaspoonful of lemon juice or vinegar and remove from the fire. Stir in as much chopped walnuts as the taffy will take. Spread on a pan about half an inch thick, and break in irregular pieces when cold.

Walnut Nougat.—Take half a cupful of water and boil with two cupfuls of granulated sugar for twenty minutes without stirring. Then take from the fire and pour the candy out upon a platter. Let it stand until the finger can be dipped into it without burning. Then beat until it is cool enough to hold in the hand. Beat hickory nuts into it, as many as desired; knead it well and form into a long roll about as thick through as the diameter of a fifty cent piece. Cut the roll across into pieces about one-third of an inch in thickness.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

A True Account Of the Babes In the Woods.

He Left Them to Play With the Hips and Haws and the Blackberries.

"OH, the 'Babes In the Woods?' I like that story. I'm glad you are going to tell it to us again, daddy," said Jack.

Well, daddy just has to repeat himself occasionally when he is expected to tell a story every day," said daddy laughingly.

"That is a heap, isn't it?" commented Evelyn as she cuddled close.

"These babes, Jean and John," continued daddy, "were orphans left by their father and mother to the care of an uncle.

"When the children's parents died they left these babes quite a lot of money.

"Now, the old uncle apparently was a very kind old man and loved his two charges dearly. He told the neighbors that in order to do his duty by them he thought they should each be sent to good schools.

"John was to be sent to an expensive boys' school and Jean to an equally good girls' school.

"But the crafty old chap had arranged beforehand with two terrible men to meet the coach that was to convey the two children to school and to kill the little girl and boy so that the naughty uncle could have their money.

"This program was carried out in every respect save that one of the wicked men was charmed by the beauty and playfulness of the kiddies and tried to persuade the other one not to kill them, and when the man said he would, since that was part of the bargain, he gave him such a beating that the naughty one was glad to run away.

"The wicked man with the kind heart disliked leaving the babes alone, but he didn't know what else to do, for he had no place to take them; so, telling them he was going to get them some hot buttered rolls and some nice cakes, he left them to play with the hips and the haws and the blackberries.

"Then began a dreary time for the two poor babes in the woods. They wandered about and cried and cried. Then when they were hungry they would pick berries and eat them, and so they got along for a while.

"But at last the weather turned cool, and the babes suffered cruelly with the cold, and the berries disappeared, and they had nothing to eat, and then one night a terrible frost came, and in the morning John and Jean lay under a great oak frozen to death.

"Then such a twittering of the little sparrows when they saw the babes! They gathered about and held a meeting, and then each one began busily to collect leaves and drop them one by one over the poor babes until they were entirely hidden from view."

News of Interest in Building World

SUGGEST WAYS TO BOOM PLAINFIELD

The Location of Factories Here Should Be Encouraged to a Greater Extent.

MANY OPPORTUNITIES

The Natural Advantages of the City Are Such That Much Can Be Done Toward Bringing New Industries Here.

While there are citizens in Plainfield who would prefer to see the number of factories and shops in our city limited, a few facts should be taken into consideration by these citizens, as well as the civic organizations who are desirous of developing the city.

It must be noted that this city has a large frontage on the railroad which is unimproved. Health specialists will tell us that such properties, backing against the railroad itself, are far from being ideal as home sites. It is, therefore, essential that the industrial world be appealed to, in order that this land may be properly developed. Should the majority of the vacant lots along the railroad contain factory buildings it would mean the addition of a large amount of taxable property, without expense, such as street lighting or macadamizing, as these sections have already been cared for in that direction.

Another fact of importance to be noted is that building operations in this city have practically reached their heighth and conditions will remain so as long as the city is without more factories. There are already enough dwellings of moderate cost to care for the present workingmen, and also a portion of those who may be attracted to the city by the anticipated additions to the Bosch Magneto Company's pay roll. Additional factories would also create work for a large number of our building craftsmen, not to mention the work made necessary by the possibility of erecting a large number of moderate priced dwellings in which to house the additional men who will come and live in Plainfield after having found employment in the shops.

The third point which would naturally be considered in this connection is that with an additional number of men in the shops, as well as the building trades being kept busy, the business section of the city is bound to be developed in such ways and to such proportions that Plainfield would reap unprecedented results, as yet undreamed of, in prosperity and progress. Thus it is noticed, that the vacant lots along the railroads are built upon and improved, the residential sections are developed, and the business section of the city becomes a centre of enterprise and business activity, and taxable property increased.

After these points have been reviewed, it would be well to consider how factories and shops of various nature may be induced to consider this city as a possible location. Before this is discussed, however, it should be noticed that there are two central civic bodies in our city, the Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Trade. In speaking with a prominent citizen a few days ago, the writer was told that the first named was the proper body to look into these matters, but he feared that it was not living up to its possibilities, while the other, not so much honor-bound to look after such problems, but probably would, should they be advised of any concern looking for sites, but probably would not take the first step.

"This, however, is not the initiative which, as a general rule, brings home the bacon," said the citizen. "The city of Plainfield must be a city of initiative should it expect to solve the problem which will overwhelm it in the next two or three years should no action be forthcoming within the near future, is the general opinion.

"What is to be done? First of all, let the two organizations already referred to compile a list of available properties within the city's borders which may be adaptable for factory uses. In this connection, let them remember that one building at Madison avenue and Third street, and another on North avenue, east of Richmond street, could be rented or bought at almost a minute's notice, as both are at present unoccupied. After securing full information and the details of these available properties, let the organizations jointly advertise in a number of trade journals that Plainfield is on the map, and that we are doing business at 'the old stand,' where we have stood for prosperity and progress the year round. These organizations would make no great mistake should they interest men connected with factories already in our city, secure their help and their knowledge of industrial movements, and work together for the common interests of all concerned.

"And what have we to offer a manufacturing concern? Good sites on a railroad which gives the best shipping facilities to local concerns, as fine a set of mechanics as one would want, streets which are already macadamized and well lighted in front of the sites which we offer, a fine city in which the heads of the concern may live and enjoy life, and a tax rate which is not above normal, a city of progress and steady advancement, and where we now lack, we are willing to provide except where the laws of Divine nature will not permit. Plainfield is the city ideal for the manufacturing plant as well as for the home of the individual stockholder who makes the manufacturing plant possible. Let not civic pride fail in this work, as it is essential for the proper development of Plainfield, the Queen City of the East."

BUILDING ACTIVITIES ARE AT EBB TIDE HERE

Building reports from various parts of the State show that the season for construction work has practically come to a close. Comparatively few cities for which reports have been compiled for the month of September show an increase of operations over the same month of last year, among these being Bayonne and Paterson.

The former shows an increase of 225 per cent., while the latter show a gain of thirty-four per cent. Other cities making reports show the following decreases: Hoboken, thirty-seven per cent.; Passaic, fifty per cent.; Newark, fifty-eight per cent.; Elizabeth, sixty per cent. North Jersey has had an exceptionally fine year considering the money market, and the conditions as found in other sections.

BUILDING SLUMP REPORTED IN COUNTY

Past Season Has Not Been Normal in Many Respects.

The county has experienced a building slump during the past two weeks, after having a fairly busy season. The season, as a whole, has been a fair one, although not normal in many ways, the money market being the one feature that has had a tendency to retard considerable operations. The school buildings which have been already started in various parts of the county will keep many of the craftsmen busy, however, after the cold weather starts in.

During the week ending last Saturday, eleven building contracts were filed at the office of the county clerk at Elizabeth, the documents calling for the expenditure of $16,268. This is, by far, the lowest total to be turned into the county office for several months past, and reflects the downward movement of building operations throughout the entire county, no one section bearing the entire burden. Contracts filed from this end of the county are as noted below:

Henry H. Apgar with Robert W. Wright, carpenter work, new building, Jackson avenue, Plainfield, $3,050.

George W. Cole with Joseph Nathanson, entire work new building, East Front street, Plainfield, $2,200.

Francesca Viventese with William Burgmiller, carpenter work new building, Berkeley Heights, $1,100.

Francesco Vicenta with George Wahl & Son, mason work new building, Springfield avenue, Berkeley Heights, $900.

LITTLE FARMS COMPANY LEASES THREE DWELLINGS

The Little Farms Company, of which William Jeffery is president, reports that three of its five dwellings on the tract on the south side of the city have been leased during the course of the past week. These dwellings are of the bungalow type, and are exceptionally well built, and have plenty of ground surrounding the houses. The company holds to the opinion that the small, well built dwelling brings the depreciation in value down to a minimum, while the large plot of ground adds to the appreciation.

H. W. Johns, of New York, a member of the H. W. Johns-Manville Company, manufacturers of asbestos; Reid Holliday, of Fanwood, and C. B. Schweppe, of Philadelphia, are the lessees of the dwellings.

IN THE SUBURBS

Dunellen.

The house located on the corner of Whittier avenue and Walnut street, owned by Winfield R. Hetfield, has been sold to Contractor Henry Wrage, who buys for investment. Mr Wrage thus comes again into possession of property which he once owned previously.

The large house at the junction of Prospect avenue and Walnut street, known as the old Titsworth house, and tenanted by F. Amos Johnson, has been purchased by the Watchung Investment Company from the Dunellen Realty Company, through the agency of John P. Fenner.

A plot of land fronting on Whittier avenue and a part of the old Grenelle property has been sold this week by States R. Titsworth to Postmaster Henry S. Garretson.

Mark Hipp is having a dwelling erected on Front street near Jefferson avenue, for which George Felmley is the contractor. Mr. Hipp recently sold his dwelling on Front street to John Cushing, of South avenue. The purchase price was not made public.

A lot on Columbia street has been sold by the Dunellen Home and Investment Company to Edward Monroe Pyatt, who expects to build a home.

A new house to be erected by Contractor J. Newton Apgar for Real Estate Operator John P. Fenner, on Third street, adjoining the Miss Sarah Curry property, was staked out this week. Firman H. Gise has been awarded the mason contract of this house.

South Plainfield.

Peter Ritter has purchased a lot on Brookside avenue, and has started the erection of a modern dwelling which is expected to be completed by December 15.

Over thirty dwellings have been erected in the village during the past season and others are being planned for the fall. Plans for further building operations, as well as real estate movements, are already being planned by local men.

Middlesex Borough.

Dr. Hart is having a six-room cottage erected on New Market road, the contract for which has been awarded to O. A. LaPointe.

—It pays to use the advertising columns of The Press.

SEASON FOR CONSTRUCTION WORK PRACTICALLY CLOSED

Permits for further building operations in this city were again among the missing during the past week, during which time no permits were issued from the office of Inspector T. O. Doane with but one or two permits awaiting the return to this city for the inspector. Construction operations for the remainder of the fall and winter will undoubtedly be slack, judging from present indications. The building world, in both city and borough, as well as the surrounding towns, are now at ebb, with little encouragement being held out for further operations until early spring.

Gleanings from all parts of the city appear to indicate that another season will bring forth unprecedented prosperity along these lines, should the money market ease up to any great extent during the winter months. Approximately $300,000 worth of buildings, if not more, have been held up owing to the tightness of the money market.

APARTMENT HOUSES CONTINUE TO BE POPULAR

Apartment houses throughout the State appear to continue popular in various parts of the State, and the State Board of Tenement House Supervision is continually being called upon to approve plans. During the week ending last Saturday, seven plans for new apartment houses were approved by the State Board, the plans calling for the expenditure of $53,000, while the three plans for alterations to apartment houses approved call for the outlay of $2,500.

NEARLY 30,000 DWELLINGS EXCLUSIVELY FOR RESIDENCE

Some interesting figures concerning realty holdings in Union county are given in a recent bulletin of the United States Department of the Census, at Washington. The bulletin relates that there are 29,961 dwelling houses in the county, used exclusively for residence purposes, of this total 29,354 being urban homes.

The significance of this statement is obvious, indicating as it does the rapid development of the county and the ever increasing demand for lands formerly used for agricultural purposes for development as suburban residential sections.

The percentage of city homes owned by the occupants is comparatively small, 18,122 of the urban homes being rented. Renters occupy 154 of the total of 607 farm homes. Of the farm homes 249 are owned by their occupants and are entirely free of mortgage incumbrances.

City and suburban homes are owned and occupied by 10,797 residents of the county, and of the total number of urban homes 4,045 are free of mortgage incumbrances. The census enumerators were unable to obtain data pertaining to the ownership of a small percentage of the urban and rural homes in this county.

JUST NOTES

When one appreciates the fact that building operations in this city have been held up during the past season to the extent of close to $300,000 or more, by the tightness of the money market, it may also be appreciated what may be expected in the construction lines in this city when prosperity rolls around. The above figures do not include the new Evergreen Avenue School, the postoffice building to be erected by the government, the new shops of the Bosch Magneto Company on North avenue, or yet the numberless dwellings which would have been erected during the past summer had our shops been busy.

With the Levgar Structural Company, of Dunellen, working with a night force, the Hall Printing Press Company putting a small force of men back to work, and the possibility of the Pond Machine Tool Company adding to its force in a short time, prosperity should be here in the immediate future, and the times again ripe for construction work to go forward with a steady movement.

Several favorable comments have been heard on the special articles appearing in these columns during the past two weeks, one on the effects of consolidation of city and borough on the building trades, and the reasons put forward concerning the vacant houses in the city. Another appears today on the needs of several medium sized factories in the city. Articles of this nature will continue to appear during the off season for building and construction work, in which local building questions will be discussed in an unbiased way.

It may be well for the proper committee in the Common Council to consider the advisability of having a few copies of the local building code put into printed form. For some time it has been necessary for those desiring to learn of the phraseology of this document to pay a visit to the office of the city clerk upon each occasion. It should not be necessary for a candidate to make this a campaign issue.

They had their every-season accumulations.

—plus the surplus following upon a too warm Fall and certain unusual trade conditions.

Result—vast accumulations of merchandise which these manufacturers wanted to turn quickly into cash.

At Lower Prices Than Ever

This was a rare opportunity. So, in one gigantic purchase, we swept the market clean of all its choicest merchandise.

Selling Space

Women's—Main floor, Old Bldg.
Men's—Burlington Arcade floor, New Building.
Men's, Women's and Children's, Subway floor, Old Building and Subway Entrance, New Bldg.

The entire lot includes hosiery and underwear to suit every purse and every need of men, women and children—Fall and Winter weights.

From 8c to $2.75

It is impossible to give here in detail the wide range of prices; we limit ourselves to the statement that—

The prices begin at 8c for a pair of men's cotton half hose (12½c quality) to $2.75 for women's Italian silk vests ($3.50 and $4 quality).

And the quantity is so vast and varied that every price between these two extremes are represented in the lot.

Monday Will Be New York's Great Hosiery and Underwear Day

Women's Fashions for the Height of the Season

Women's Gray Salons have just received smart, belted Norfolk suits of corduroy with skunk-edged opossum collar and cuffs and a glowing rose at the throat. Black, navy, green or brown. This model looks far more expensive than its low price of $25.

Youthful-looking suits of gabardine with the highly favored medium length coat pleated below the waistline, also $25.

Adapting a recent sketch from our Paris office has resulted in an extremely distinguished model. Because we imported only the sketch and not the actual gown, the price of the copy covers only the cost of making and material. Built of fine gabardine, the coat is slender and close-fitting and entirely different from earlier models. Collar and cuffs are of fur. Priced only $38.50.

IN ADDITION

New Suits at $16.75

Broadcloth, serge and gabardine with coats of every length to suit all figures. Velvet or fur collars.

Mostly black or blue—exceptional in material, tailoring and style—suits of far more excellence and dignity than one would imagine could be had for such moderate prices.

Special Purchase of 150 Long Coats at $16.75

Silk plush and broadcloth coats lined throughout with satin.

Plain and well cut. Black and some in blue.

Second floor, Old Building

1,000 Potted Chrysanthemums 50c a pot

Similarly fine plants usually cost $1.

Plant of 8 to 12 blooms. Two varieties—Pacific Supreme (pinkish lavender in color), and Yellow Ivory (light yellow in color).

Main Entrance, Burlington Arcade floor, and Subway Entrance, New Building.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

Miss Marie Dressler in a new farce comedy offering with songs, entitled "A Mix Up," will be the attraction at the Plainfield Theatre, Thursday night, October 29. Miss Dressler is now under the direction of the Messrs. Shubert, who have surrounded her with a strong company of well-known players, and have provided a comedy offering which is said to give Miss Dressler the best role she has had in years. Even the laughing memories of "Tillie's Nightmare" are likely to be effaced when local theatre-goers see merry Marie in "A Mix Up." She impersonates a queen of a burlesque company who gets in the wrong home by mistake, and nearly wrecks the marital happiness of a young husband whose wife has been called away from home. Miss Dressler will have the assistance of a strong company which includes Bertram Lytell, Miss Evelyn Vaughan, Miss Sarah McVicker, Miss Julia Blanc, and others.

If you only knew what a tremendous advantage our connection with the more than 5,000 other Rexall Stores in America gives us over any other store in this community in the purchase of rubber goods, you would no sooner think of buying such goods at any other than the Rexall store than you would of buying steaks at a blacksmith shop.

Such lines of quality rubber goods as

Maximum
Monogram
American Beauty
First Aid, etc.

—these are the kind that give lasting satisfaction, and we sell them almost as cheaply as our competitors can buy a similar grade for.

FAMILIARITY WITH LAWS NECESSARY

Republican Mayoralty Candidate Discusses the Duties of An Executive.

Must Have Knowledge of Matters of Finance in a Large Sense and be Able to Advise the Council in Regard to Important Legislation.

Addressing a crowd of fully five hundred people at West Front street and Madison avenue, Saturday night, Leighton Calkins, the Republican candidate for Mayor, discussed in an interesting and intelligent way the duties of the city executive, showing that it is the duty of such official to have some knowledge of the city charter and the laws of the State as well as the city ordinances so that he can enforce the same. Mr. Calkins said:

"I understand that it has been said in some quarters that the Mayor has nothing to do except to make a few nominations to the Common Council; and that if any important matter nominations to the Common Council, and that if any important matter does comes along which requires experience, a thorough knowledge of our financial affairs, and of the powers and duties of the office, the Mayor can turn the whole thing over to the corporation counsel, or to the city treasurer, or to some head of department. But the city charter makes it the duty of the Mayor to see that the laws of the State and the city ordinances are observed. Therefore he has got to know something about them. The Mayor has the authority of justices of the peace, and therefore must know how to administer the law. He must have a knowledge of matters of finance, in a large sense, in order to know when he should validate the bonds and obligations of the city. Most important of all, the city charter contemplates that he shall advise the Council at all times as to what action it should take for the general welfare of the city. If this does not mean that the Mayor should be an

RECOGNIZE VALUE OF HIS SERVICES

Hospital Governors Adopt Resolutions on Death of Henry A. McGee.

The board of governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, at a special meeting held in the rooms of the Caarity Organization Society, on Friday evening, expressed personal sorrow and the loss to Muhlenberg Hospital occasoned by the death of Henry A. McGee, for many years identified with that institution. George P. Mellick, president of the board, in speaking of this loss to the board, said:

"Every member of this board has recognized the value of Mr. McGee's service in his keen interest in the welfare of the hospital. Many will recall his large sacrifice of time and means in his efficient leadership during the hospital campaign of 1912, when he served as chairman of the citizens' committee. We who were intimately associated with him know that there was never a kinder heart, a more sympathetic nature, or a man more loyal to all his associations.

"I am sure you will wish to make some record of your appreciation of his service to the hospital. I therefore appoint Mr. Baker and Mr. Stevens a committee to prepare and report suitable resolutions."

Thereupon, the committee reported the following resolutions, which, on motion, were unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That the board of governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, at a special meeting held on October 23, 1914, with deep sorrow records the death of Mr. Henry A. McGee.

"He was a man of broad sympathies, wide experience and sound judgment and ever ready to contribute his time and energy to the work of this institution. His opinions commanded the attention and respect of all members of this board, and we deeply mourn his loss as a personal friend and as a governor of the hospital.

"Be it further resolved that these resolutions be spread in full upon the minutes, and a copy be sent to the family of Mr. McGee to which the board tenders its deep sympathy in their great sorrow."

ANNUAL CEREMONY AT THE CEMETERY

Catholics Pay Tribute to Departed Dead at St. Mary's Burying Ground.

Five hundred people visited the Catholic cemetery in Netherwood yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the annual observance of All Soul's Day, when persons of that faith assemble at the burying ground to offer up prayers for souls of departed relatives and friends. Threatening weather conditions kept the attendance figures from reaching the usual number yesterday, over a thousand having been recorded at the similar event last year.

Father B. M. Bogan, of St. Mary's church, was the master of ceremonies at the cemetery and addressed the gathering from a large mound. The pastor explained the meaning of the annual visit and urged all presen to enter into the spirit of the ceremony. Preceding Father Bogan's address a procession was conducted around the cemetery, members of the vested boys' choir of the church rendering hymns.

The affair was a most impressive one and the ceremony conducted yesterday was similar to that of other years. Following the service those present paid individual visits to the graves of friends and relatives.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE.

Albertus Pernell, eighteen years old, another one of the culprits who got away from the police in the raid on the disorderly house at 617 South Second street a week ago, was arrested in Dunellen, Saturday night, following the swearing out of a warrant by the police police. He was alleged to have been in the house conducted by Stella Green, when the place was "pulled" but proved to the court that he had no part in the disorderly allegations. He was given a suspended sentence when arraigned before Judge DeMeza this morning.

SUSTAINED BAD CUT.

During the last quarter of the Holy Cross-Wyoming football game, Saturday, Kenneth Mair, guard on the borough team, received a cut on the chin, but thinking it a mere scratch he played until the timer's whistle blew. He then went to a drug store to get patched up and was sent to the office of Dr. Albert Pittis, who found it necessary to take three stitches to close up the wound. He will probably be able to play next week.

SEEK WORK FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

Meeting Held at Mayor Stewart's House to Try to Solve Problem.

REGISTRATION BUREAU

Mayor's Office to be Opened to Take Names of Men Out of Work—Will Try to Have Sewers and New School Started—Those Interested.

In an effort to find ways and means to solve the problem brought about by the presence of so many unemployed men in the city, a meeting was held last night at the home of Mayor Percy H. Stewart, on West Eighth street. The gathering was first proposed by the Building Trades Council a week ago Friday night, at which time members of the Common Council and representatives of the Business Men's Association were asked to meet a committee from the Trades Council.

As a result of careful deliberation at last night's meeting, it has been decided to try to learn approximately how many men are out of work, in all lines of endeavor, whether or not they belong to organized labor bodies. In order to accomplish this Mayor Stewart has arranged to have his office opened every day, with some one in charge, and blanks will be provided which those who are out of work will be requested to fill in and leave at the office. All of the information thus received will be kept strictly confidential, and efforts will be made to get at least part time work for everyone who registers. They will be asked to give their names, addresses, what their trade is, who their last employer was, how long they have been idle, the number of persons dependent upon them, and whether they will be willing to work at manual labor, in case they cannot be placed at their trade.

The meeting was productive of much good, and will undoubtedly result in the great problem of unemployment being solved to a certain degrees in this city. Discussion of

HAS THRILLING EXPERIENCE ABROAD

Miss Agnes Brown Relates Pathetic Story of War Conditions.

Following a three months' sojourn in Europe, during which, at times, she was within the shadow of the theatre of war where the world's greatest and bloodiest martial drama is being enacted, Miss Agnes Brown, daughter of Mrs. William Brown, of Watchung avenue, arrived home last week. The ocean trip was made aboard the Anchor Line boat "Cameronia," which brought many American tourists and refugees. Beyond a very rough passage and one halt by a British gunboat, the voyage was uneventful.

Miss Brown and her mother sailed on July 21, being on the high sea when war was declared. They were in Amsterdam at the time actual hostilities drew close and returned to London, Mrs. Brown sailing for home in September. Every woman in England who can ply the needles is knitting socks for the soldiers and during her stay with relatives, Miss Brown was pressed into this service She saw many Belgian refugees among them two children, aged three and seven, who had both hands severed at the wrists. The little victims declared it had been done by German soldiers enraged by covert attacks in villages. The children were adopted by friends of Miss Brown's aunt. The Plainfield young woman also witnessed the return of thousands of wounded British soldiers, the scene being one of the many harrowing pictures occurring in and about London every day. Scores of the infantrymen had gaping wounds which they say are caused by the enemy's use of saw-edged bayonets. These men also claim the newspaper stories by German atrocities are but slightly overdrawn.

Miss Brown added that her entire stay abroad was one of continued turmoil and sadness and it was a great relief to be away from the martial zone.

EVENING SCHOOL MEETING.

The evening High School pupils will assemble in the auditorium at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening, for the first time and it is urged that all pupils be present as matter of interest will be presented. The enrollment now numbers 462. The Parent-Teacher Association of the High School will meet at the High School at 8 o'clock, so that there will be no conflict between the two meetings.

$25,000 BAIL FIXED FOR CARMAN WOMAN

Judge Kelby Let Her Go On That Amount Today—Smith Unopposed.

Mineola, L. I., Oct. 26.—Mrs. Florence Carman, who was on trial here last week for killing Mrs. Louise Bailey, and in whose case the jury yesterday disagreed, standing ten for acquittal and two for conviction, was today admitted to $25,000 bail by Supreme Court Justice Kelby in Brooklyn.

District Attorney Smith announced shortly before Mrs. Carman was taken to Brooklyn, to appear before Judge Kelby, that he would not oppose the application to admit Mrs. Carman to bail.

Upon his return from Judge Kelby's court at Brooklyn, after the bail proceedings took place, District Attorney Smith said that it is his intention to go before the Appellate division of the Supreme Court and request that a Justice be assigned to come here for the purpose of trying Mrs. Carman a second time. "I am ready to go to trial as soon as the necessary details can be arraigned," he said. "I did not oppose Mrs. Carman's application for bail for the reason that there is no doubt in my mind that she will be just as available for trial while she is in her home, as she would if she were confined in a cell."

Following the discharge of the jury after they had disagreed and wrangled for more than thirteen hours on the question of Mrs. Carman's responsibility for the murder of Mrs. Louise G. Bailey, an incident which occurred in the jury room was reported to Mr. Smith which may have an important bearing on the future developments in the greatest murder mystery of recent years.

The alleged occurrance was an agreement entered into on Thursday of last week by nine of the jurymen to stand out to the end for Mrs. Carman's acquittal.

It was at the Garden City Hotel, where the jury was quartered during the trial, that the alleged "agreement" was said to have been framed. It was on Thursday that Mrs. Carman took the stand in her defense, and at the time of the reported agreement of the jurors she had not even undergone cross-examination at the hands of the district attorney.

The result of the first ballot taken by the jurors when the case was laid in their hands at 9:44 o'clock Saturday night was a poll of nine jurors for acquittal and three for conviction for murder in the first degree.

When the jury came into court yesterday morning with the announcement of its disagreement it had had thirteen and a quarter hours of discussion and argument.

TOOK AMERICAN FLAG AND TRIED A "FRENCH EXIT"

When a troupe of colored footlight artists attempted to make a "French getaway" in the borough, Saturday night, after fulfilling a three-night stand at Saengerbund Hall, they had their flight rudely curtailed by the appearance of a couple of North Plainfield minions of the law, who had been doing special duty at the shows. It was alleged that they were trying to "skip" the town without providing the necessary remuneration for the bluecoats. They attempted the flight through a basement window and as they were climbing in waiting automobiles the coppers "got wise" to the episode. They were held up long enough for the policemen to extract the coin that was due them and were then allowed to proceed on their way. The liquidation of the silver shekels was not altogether to their liking, but when they found that they would not be released until the money was paid they "pooled" together to make up the fund.

Shortly after they had crossed the confines of the borough, Superintendent John Kuntz, of Saengerbund Hall, missed a large American flag and he declares that the minstrels took this with them.

FRENCH CLAIM FRONT HAS BEEN MAINTAINED, ALTHOUGH GERMANS HAVE CROSSED RIVER YSER

FOREIGN OFFICE STATMENT ADMITS ADVANCES HAVE BEEN MADE BETWEEN DIXMUDE AND NIEUPORT.

BAYONET FIGHTING ON RUSSIAN BATTLE LINE

London Hears That Ostend Will Be Evacuated, and That Every Available German Has Been Thrown Into Desperate Battle in West Flanders—Battleship Shells Effective Along Coast.

Paris, Oct. 26.—Aside from acknowledging that the Germans, as they have claimed from Berlin, have crossed the Yser River, between Dixmude and Nieuport, the official statement issued by the War Office this afternoon, takes an optimistic view of the situation in Belgium, and claims that the Allies have maintained their front, while the German losses have been great. Whether the "on-to-Calais" movement of the Germans is really effective, as claimed in the Berlin despatches, is not admitted in the statement, which is as follows:

"During the day yesterday, our front has been maintained. The forces of the Germans that have succeeded in crossing the River Yser, between Nieuport and Dixmude, have not been able to make further progress. Our front extends in a great way from Nieuport and Dixmude to the region between Ypres and Roylers to that between Armentieres and Lille, west of LaBassee and of Lens, and east of Arras. This line is prolonged to the south by that which had already been indicated in official communications. In the battle of these latter days the enemy appears to have suffered considerable losses.

"In Russia to the west of the Vistula River, and to the north of the Picila, the Germans have been thrown back upon Lowitcz, Skiernowiez and Rava, which have been taken at the point of the bayonet by the Russians. To the south of the Pilica, in the direction of Radom, a vigorous conflict has been in progress between the Russians and the Austro-Germans, who have lost some prisoners and guns. To the south of Solee, Russian troops have crossed the Vistula in a great onrush, bringing the Austrians back upon the San, while to the south of Przemysl there have occurred stubborn conflicts favorable to the Russians. An Austrian column, debouching from the Carpathians upon Delina, has been forced to the underbrush of the mountains."

London, Oct. 26.—A news agency despatch from Rotterdam says that the following official statement has been issued in Vienna:

"A telegram, dated Sunday noon, from the northeastern theatre of war, says Austrian and strong German forces have taken a new position in a nearly uninterrupted line from the northern spurs to the Carpathian mountains, by way of Stary and Sambor before the fortress of Przemysl, to the Polish part of the Vistula, and to the district of Plock, against the main army of the Russians, who have been re-inforced by troops from the Caucasus, Siberia and Turkestan. The Austrian offensive across the Carpathians attracted strong hostile forces."

According to a despatch to the Telegraph from Rotterdam, the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin, says that the Russians, who had withdrawn most of their troops from Lemberg have now sent 80,000 men there, who are strenuously fortifying the town. The Russians, the paper says, are clearly determined to keep Lemberg at all costs.

Rumors continue to come here of the impending evacuation of Ostend and the reduction of the German garrison in Antwerp. This does not necessarily impair preparations for a retreat, but it may mean that the Germans are throwing every available man against the Allies' left in their effort to conquer the channel ports.

On the Belgian coast the Allied fleet continues its bombardment. The great shells, travelling three miles inland, evidently have proved very effective, judging from the tragic fate of General von Tripp and the members of his staff, who were killed by a projectile from a warship.

All reports agree that the fighting in West Flanders has been terrible beyond any witnessed during the war. Projectiles hurled from the land, sea, and air are sweeping this flat, unprotected country, destroying villages and searching out the terror-stricken inhabitants who delayed too long in getting out of the line of fire.

New York, Oct. 26.—A despatch to the Evening Telegram today from London says that:

West of Lille the Allies have today gained important positions, and although the Germans, attacking in superior force the Belgian army on the Yser, have succeeded in forcing a crossing between Nieuport and Dixmude the situation, according to correspondents at the front, is not unfavorable to the Allies. The French and British flotilla continues to do good work in raking the German flank whenever the troops get within three miles of the coast. British gunboats have again dropped shells into Ostend, forcing the German field staff to move its headquarters back out of range.

The Germans are driving the pick of their men against the Allies in a supreme effort to cut a road open along the coast to the Channel ports of France. All German officers in Brussels have been ordered to leave there and proceed to the firing line.

Antwerp is being put in a state of defense, the Belgian guns in the important fortress being replaced by the heaviest German fortress guns. Only a small garrison is there at present, however, and Liege and Namur are said to be the only two Belgian cities now occupied in force.

While the fiercest fighting of the war is in progress near the coast, the French are making decided advances in the Argonne and in Alsace. The Allies have driven a wedge between the army of the Duke of Wurtemberg on the western side of the Argonne and that of the Crown prince on the eastern side and have foiled every attempt of the armies to unite.

The French hold the village of Melzicourt, which commands the valley of the Aisne, futher embarrassing the Crown Prince's army. The French artillery also commands the road connecting Thiaucourt, Buxieres and Loiuville, one of the principal lines of communication of the Germans near St. Mihiel.

The French War Office also reports gains northwest of Soissons and near Craonne. The Germans were repulsed when they made a strong effort to get possession of the plateau of Craonne.

Peking, Oct. 26.—Reports reaching the Japanese Legation here declare that an Austrian cruiser which took refuge in the harbor at Kiau Chau at the outbreak of the war has been sunk by the Japanese heavy artillery posted on the hills near the Harbor Mouhth.

A Wonderful Show and Sale of ORIENTAL RUGS

Opens in the Wanamaker Auditorium Tomorrow

(Because there they can be seen better than in the Rug Gallery)

A Quarter-of-a-Million Dollars' Worth at the Prices Set---Much Below the Lowest Current Valuations for Equal Grades

The first impression you will get when you enter the great Auditorium tomorrow will be one of wonder. All the glamour of the East is in these rugs; all the art of master weavers who have expressed their individuality in their work.

You will expect to receive some such impression. These are Oriental rugs. And this is Wanamaker's.

The greater wonderment will strike you when you read the price-tags and critically examine the rugs.

—the rare antique pieces,

—the exquisite modern pieces,

—the veritable values.

The grip of world-happenings has reached the weaver of rugs in the Orient. Great markets are closed to him temporarily. His eyes are on New York, today the world's greatest center for the distribution of his product.

And because Wanamaker's is the greatest single distributor in this market, this wonderful collection of

and rugs from China, India and Asia Minor have come to us to be sold at prices without any equal for littleness, quality considered.

You who know Oriental rugs are invited to note the following examples of the most usable rugs, each representative of the prices in its group—

A Mahal, 12 ft. x 10 ft. 10 in., for $95.50.

A Serapi, 12½ x 9½ ft., for $123.50.

A Kermanshah, 12 ft. x 9 ft. 2 in., for $195.

A Mossoul, 4 x 6 ft., at $12.50.

In the Exhibit is a collection of rugs of Chinese origin and Chinese design, remarkable in its colorscope and consistent high quality of wool and weaving. An 11 ft. 7 in. x 8 ft. 10 in. rug at $206 tells the story of the values.

Note—Rugs of similar grade, about 9x12 ft., are being offered today in New York at $432 to $540 each.

A fine lot of Kermanshah rugs, approximating 9 x 12 feet in size, are priced $192 to $225. This is much below any current price for rugs of such excellent quality.

Some Little Gems

It will be surprising to see what little gems, about 4 x 2 feet to 6 x 4 feet, can be had for $8.25, $10 and $12.50.

There is in the collection virtually every kind of Oriental rug, in all the sought-for sizes — dark, long-piled Belochistans, Karabaghs from the Shirvan district, soft-colored, richly varied Daghestans, warm red Bokharas, durable Gocrevans, old gold and ivory Kermahshahs, fine Herez-Persian Serapis, rare Ispahans; rugs with the deep old Indian reds and blues, and the powdered blues and golden yellows of China.

Tomorrow, in the Auditorium.

HIGH SCHOOL BIBLE CLASS--ATTENDANCE STILL GROWING

The Bible study and teacher training courses offered by the Y. M. C. A. are attracting a large enrollment. In the boys' department, fifty-three boys, representing both High Schools and Leal School, have joined groups taught by Messrs. Woodman, Crane and Bingeman. Men meet together at 6 o'clock every Friday evening for supper served by the boys' work committee of the Ladies' Auxiliary, following which they gather under their leaders for a half hour of Bible study. Membership is open to any High or Preparatory School boy, whether a member of the Y. M. C. A. or not.

The Teacher Training Class meets at 8 o'clock on the same evening for a forty-five-minute discussion of the principles and methods of effective Bible teaching. This group is led by William D. Murray and already includes twenty-five men, representing eleven Sunday-schools. The topic for next Friday's meeting will be "The Teacher's Preparation."

WORK FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

the proposed new school building and the new sewer led to the belief that in all probability the contractors would employ local labor to a great extent. It was also decided that at a later meeting of the committee, which will probably be held at the Mayor's office next Sunday night, a sub-committee will be named to wait upon the heads of the local factories, and ask them to try to rearrange their schedules so that they can employ more men on part time, rather than a few men on full time, thus relieving the situation with the machinists.

The committee did not formally organize last night, that action having been left until the Plainfield and North Plainfield Councils can officially appoint representatives to act on the body. It was decided to ask the Charity Organization Society at its annual meeting tonight, to send a circular to all of its regular mailing list, urging them to have any work done at once which they may have originally planned to have done later. This will be done tonight by a committee consisting of John J. Varley and William Lunger, business agent of the Trades Council.

In addition to the official representatives from the city and borough Councils, the Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Trade will be asked to make appointments on the committee. As both of these organizations were represented last night, it is probable that membership on the committee will not have to be increased in order to fulfill this request.

The principle effort to be made by the committee will be to provide employment of such a character that no man will feel that charity is intended. The committee was a unit in the belief that contemplated public improvements, if put under way, would help to greatly relieve conditions except with the machinists, and the labor men present last night seem to think that conditions with that branch were rapidly becoming better, especially since Pond's re-opened on full time this morning.

Those present last night, aside from Mayor Stewart, were Councilmen Theodore Martin, John H. Cose and Charles Graves; President A. E. Force from the Business Men's Association, and the following from that organization, M. C. VanAradale, John J. Varley, George Ballentine and Leslie R. Fort; William Lunger, William H. Harding, Ernest Rhodes, J. H. Cory and President John Schley of the Allied Building Trades Council.

active worker rather than a figurehead, what does it mean? If the Mayor can rely on the corporation counsel to do his work for him, why not make the legal adviser the Mayor.

"Now, we Plainfielders are a community of about 25,000 people, and we club together on expenses to pay for the things we want, such as streets, and lights, and police and fire departments, schools, libraries, and health protection. We raise the money by taxes, and it is the duty of the city officials to see that the taxes are kept down by rigid economy. We spend several hundred thousand dollars each year. Managing the city of Plainfield is managing a pretty big business. The taxpayers do not care so very much about a man's politics when he runs for a city office, but they are interested to know something about his experience and ability to handle the job. It is a business proposition, and the voters want to know whether their Mayor and councilmen will make good business managers.

"I have served in your Common Council as chairmen of several of the important committees, and as a member of several others. In particular as chairman of the finance committee, I have had occasion to work with our city treasurer, and heads of departments, giving me an intimate knowledge of the details of our city affairs. I have been active in the work of the joint sewage disposal commission; and especially as a member of the Board of School Estimates, I have made a study of our State school laws, and of the school work and costs in Plainfield. Everywhere I go, I find the people keenly interested in the school question.

"I don't pretend to know all about this problem, but I have given a great deal of time to the study of it. There is no doubt about one thing, and that is that the people generally think that the schools cost too much. It follows that either the people are wrong, in which case they have got to be shown that they are wrong and convinced; or else they are right, in which case the school expenditures should be cut down. In the long run, the taxpayers are going to be satisfied. It won't do for any School Board to be content with a conviction of its own that the school system satisfies the people. The schools belong to the people, who pay for them, and they have a right to say what kind of schools they shall have. I think our Board of Education should make the hardest kind of effort to get the public to attend its regular business sessions. Whether the public would attend, I don't know. They don't show much interest in Council meetings, except when a street is opened or widened, or a contract awarded. But notice of meetings of the Board could be advertised, and the public informed as to the business to be done, and urged to attend.

"The High School has cost, and is costing us a great deal of money, and yet only about fourteen per cent. of the 4,000 or more children in our school enrollment participate in its advantages. There is a very general feeling that adequate accommodations for the lower grades should have been provided first. There is also a strong feeling that there should at least be a charge made, if the law permits, for special instruction along lines not really essential to a good common school education. I meet practical business men everywhere I go who tell me that good, substantial buildings for the primary grades can be built for less than $100,000. The cost of our schools is thirty-eight per cent. of our total expenditure, and is increasing at a greater rate than that of our other departments. It is a live question and cannot be ignored.

"Our schools, like our streets, our fire department and our police department, belong to the people of our city, and this means all the people in all parts of the city. All sections of the city ought to be fairly represented in the management of our institutions and departments, if men of ability and experience can be found to undertake the work, and it ought to be possible to find them. People will take a better and a larger interest, and they will give a more loyal support, if they know that they are really sharing in our common undertakings.

"It is not enough for a candidate to stand for the elemination of unnecessary expense; and for a low tax rate, economy and efficiency. All candidates always stand for such things. A candidate, I think, should show by a public discussion of the affairs of the city that he is familiar with the items of our expenditures, and he should be able to suggest practical remedies, and to help work them out by suggestions and advice in co-operation with the Council. I pledge myself, if elected, to do all in my power to bring our School Board and Council into active co-operation on the school estimates before the Board of School Estimate meets in May to decide on the school budget. So far as I know this has never before been suggested by a city official as a practical method of satisfying the people as to the expenditures."

THE PASSING OF PARTY.

The most gratifying thing about the election this year is the lack of partisan interest shown by the mass of the people. The voter has reached a stage in the political life of the country where he knows what he is going to do and how he is going to do it. There is no excitement about it. He does not attend meetings as he used to, except occasionally. Whether a man has always been a Republican or a Democrat has no weight with him. He is past that hysteria stage. He is past the stage where he feels it is necessary to belong to any party. He is now where the man—the candidate—counts. What a blessing it is that this is so.

All this we believe is due to two things. 1. The direct primary. 2. The campaign of 1912 which all concede was carried on by all the parties on a higher plane than ever before in the country's history. It was a fight against the trickster in politics and the crook in public life. Why should it matter whether a man belonged to any party or not? Voting in the mass is voting by impulse and not intelligence. There is good in all parties as there is evil. The voter should seek out the best. What a senseless thing it is to vote a solid Democrat or Republican ticket simply because you consider you belong to that party. That is not the purpose for which one has the right to vote. The vote is individual and should be exercised by every man as an individual. Vote for the man on any ticket whom you think will best represent what you believe is good in government.

It is time to tell a man who asks your vote, because he is the regular Republican or Democratic nominee, that that cuts no figure with you, that what you wish to know about him is not whether he is regular, but that he has intelligence, character and fitness for the office he seeks. The fact of the matter is, the tendency of the times is toward the abolition of all party through the general preferential vote and the making of the individual the centre of action by the voter. We may criticise the French system as much as we please, but the fact is that it is nearer right than any other so far adopted in Government. Man and man alone should count at the election. Party should be eliminated as speedily as possible in all governmental matters. All the evils of our system that have arisen in the past twenty years are due solely to party government and to that alone. All the objectionable bosses, crooks and grafters in politics are due to party.

Uphold by your vote good men only, and then the party machine will soon disappear.

QUESTIONS.

Speaking of boosting the city, what are you doing about it?

Is your citizenship worth the dollar you pay, or beat the city of, for poll tax?

Do you consider it your duty, as well as your privilege, to cast a ballot, on election day?

Do you take an active interest in the affairs of your city? If not, why not?

Do you boost or knock the city in which you live?

Are you acquainted with the councilman from your ward?

Do you ever attend the meetings of the Common Council?

When out of the city, do you put in a good word for Plainfield?

If you believe in the cleanliness of a city, do you keep your own leaves raked up?

When you kick about the faults of the administration of the town, do you offer a possible remedy for the faults?

Did you ever stop to notice that our town has its good points?

By the way, can you honestly remember the time you last accomplished something for the city?

Did it ever occur to you that the same amount of energy some men invest in knocking invested in building up the town would yield eight per cent., instead of being a dead loss?

Honest, now, have you ever met a man that has accomplished something definite for the city by knocking?

Are you acquainted with the fact that you can find no better city than Plainfield east of the Mississippi?

Did you ever consider that this town would be better off should you do your two cents' worth of work in making it what it ought to be?

Why not use the unemployed men of the city on a job which will help beautify Plainfield? It has been suggested that the most needed improvement in the city is the cleaning out of Tier's pond. Agitation has started time and time again, and that is as far as it has gone. Why cannot some way be found by which the city can acquire the Tier property, which we understand is on the market? Then employment could be given to many men, cleaning up the pond and building a wall around it. It would furnish a place for the public to skate in the winter time, and where rowing could be made a pleasant summer diversion. A park could be built around the shores that would add much to the beauty of the city and borough.

Sure we'll buy bales of cotton, if the cotton growers will invest in Plainfield-made automobiles, printing presses and other products of the city. The whole effort nowadays seems to help the people thrown into trouble in the south. They seem to forget that the depression has hit the whole country.

MAY CALL SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS

President Wilson So Intimated to Visitors at White House Today.

Washington, Oct. 26—An extra session of Congress may be called shortly after the elections, and President Wilson within the next ten days will get in touch with Senate and House leaders on the subject. The President would not commit himself today to a declaration that an extra session was inevitable, but he indicated his belief that it would be desirable in order to clear up the legislative decks.

The administration evidently fears that the short session beginning in December will not have time to pass the necessary supply bills and take care of those of the administration measures that remained unenacted when Congress adjourned Saturday. The appropriation measures at the coming regular session, it is recognized, will offer greater difficulties than have been experienced in years past, because of the greatly increased number of new bureaus and governmental functions created by recent legislation.

President Wilson told visitors today that he was interested in seeing the ship purchase measure, the conservation bills and the seamen's and Philipines independence bills become law. He intimated, however, that no pressure could be brought to bear to get these through at the regular session, if such measure would in any way jeopardize the passage of the supply measures or operate to interfere with any other matters of pressing and immediate necessity that might arise.

Presided over by Representative Henry, Southern members of Congress met today to discuss ways and means of re-opening the fight for the cotton crop when Congress reconvenes. Besides Representative Henry the committee members are Representatives Austin and Langley, Republicans, and Lever, Helflin and Bell, Democrats. The committee held only a brief session.

JAPANESE NOT TREATED FAIRLY?

Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring in a Discourse Criticizes Action of California.

CLAIMS EQUAL RIGHTS

Americans Have No Right to Assume Superiority Over All Others, Says Preacher, and Seize Whatever Territory it Pleases.

"The Japanese-American Policy, was the subject of an interesting discourse at the First Presbyterian church, last night, by Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, it being a review of Dr. Gulick's widely-known book.

Dr. Herring said that he believed the Japanese had not been treated with fairness in the legislation against them in California. For sixty years Japan has been guided by American friendship and she feels deeply wounded by California's recent anti-alien legislation. All that Japan claims is equal rights for her citizens that the citizens of other lands receive. "We have heard California's side of the question, and upon investigation it has not been found perfectly true in all respects," said the preacher.

"It is said, for example, that when the Japanese immigrant moves into a certain territory the whites are compelled to move out, but that is true of other nationalities; Italians, Jews, Portuguese and Hungarians. Another criticisms is that the Japanese is immoral. Over against this statement it can be said that the immorality of the Japanese in California is not as bad as that of the citizens of San Francisco. It is often said that the Japanese do not grant citizenship to foreigners in their land, but this is not true. It has been allowed for many years and a great many Americans and Englishmen have availed themselves of the privilege. It is not true that foreigners are hindered from owning land there. All nations are treated with absolute equality while California discriminates against Asiatics and is financially disastrous and racially humiliating to the Japanese.

"There are certain excellencies in the Japanese which are overlooked by the Californians. No one charges them with petty thieving. They are prompt in paying their rent. While not teetotallers they are exceptionally free from drunkenness and large numbers have become Christians of a very sincere type.

"Dr. Gulick asserts that serious trouble may come upon the white races of the world who, because of their superior brute power, imagine that they can plunder the yellow races. Asia cannot be treated today as was the Old Asia of the nineteenth century, for there is rising a self-consciousness among its vast population.

"We speak of the 'Yellow Peril. The Asiatic speaks of the 'White Peril' and that peril is read to them. Imagine Staten Island owned by France, New Jersey seized by Italians because a few Italians had been murdered in the United States, Cape Cod possessed by Germany and Manhattan Island divided up into foreign concessions owned and governed by various nations. How could China feel perfectly friendly to the rest of the world under such conditions?

"There is great wisdom in the suggestions which Dr. Gulick urges as to the solution of these difficulties. We must abandon the assumption so tenaciously held that the white race is superior to all others and therefore has a divine right to rule the world and seize whatever territory it pleases.

"Then there must be a new immigration law which will apply to all races that the maximum of immigration from any land to this country will be no more than 5 per cent. of the number already here and naturalized citizens.

"American citizenship should be based on individual qualification. Race should not disqualify.

"There should be systematic education in our schools in oriental history. There have been splendid deeds of heroism performed by Jews, Hungarians, Spaniards, Italians, Chinese, Japanese and Hindoos, and these should be set forth before our children with appreciation.

"George Washington, Lincoln and Franklin are known to all in Japan who have had secondary education. This policy will assure California that there will be no swamping immigration and do honor to Japan. The world needs a vision of the New Humanity and the New International Mind."

"MEN AND THE CHURCH" THEME OF DISCOURSE

Rev. Frederic L. Greene, pastor of Hope chapel, last evening, delivered the second in a series of special sermons on "The Workingman and the Church," using "Men and the Church" as a sub-topic.

Mr. Greene discussed several of the many reasons advanced by men for non-church attendance. In a concise way he analyzed the excuses, and pointed out the details of where the church, as well as men, both inside and outside the church organizations were failing. Mr. Greene entered a plea for a better understanding between men and the church, as well as for a broader scope of work for the Church of Christ.

"While many of the reasons and excuses have foundation," he said, "it is to be considered that many of these men admit that they have not been inside of a church for several years, and are not fully acquainted with the conditions, or with the work of the church at the present time. The time is now here for men and the Church to come together that both may have a better understanding of condition. A large vision and a broader horizon may well be utilized by the church at this time."

ASSISTED IN CAPTURE OF MANY MEXICANS

Daniel Buckley, a well known local young man, who has been in Uncle Sam's service for several years, is enjoying a furlough in town while the battleship "Arkansas," on which he is a marine, is docked at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. He is at present stopping at the home of his aunt, Mrs. George Mehl, of Madison avenue.

Mr. Buckley was among the first Yankee "Jackies" to land at Vera Cruz during the capture of the city last April, the "Arkansas" having hurried to the harbor at the outbreak of the trouble. The Plainfielder escaped the hail of bullets that fell about him, although many marines were killed and wounded. He assisted in the capture of scores of Mexicans from whom they took many trophies, some of which the government permitted the boys to keep. Mr. Buckley brought a unique and interesting collection with him, among them a wicked Mexican dirk, a short-barreled pistols, hand-carved canes and native leggings.

The "Arkansas" will undergo an extensive overhauling, after which it will probably return to southern waters. Her crew numbers several Plainfielders beside Mr. Buckley.

GOOD BILL AT PROCTOR'S.

The bill at Proctor's for the first half of the week consists of the following acts: "The Ten Georgia Campers," celebrated colored singing and dancing artists; "Narumi," accordionist and pianist; Burke, LaForge & Burke, comedy singing and talking, Scott & Marke, in a comedy skit, and Lewis & Davis, comedians. Tomorrow "The Perils of Pauline," and Wednesday, "The Million Dollar Mystery" will be shown. The photoplays are changed daily.

EXCELLENT SERMONS.

Rev. John S. Gardner, a former resident of Plainfield, occupied the pulpit of Trinity Reformed church, yesterday, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. Y. Broek, and preached two eloquent sermons to large congregations. In the morning he spoke on the text, "But the people that do know their God, shall be strong and do exploits," Daniel 11:32.

RECREATION "MOVIES."

The program of photo-plays to be given this evening at Washington School under the auspices of the Public Recreation Committee includes the following: Mutual Weekly, No 83; Practising at a Life-Saving Station; Mt Ranier Washington; "Fatty's Finish," "The Unmasking."

STATISTICS INDICATE HOW DUNELLEN HAS GROWN

A prominent former resident of Dunellen, who moved out of the borough in 1906 and has not been back since, will have to do in order to get a fair idea of how that municipality has grown in the last eight years will be to compare the borough budget of that year with the present. The following tabulated records indicate the growth:

	1906	1914
County school	$ 3,158.68	$ 3,637.[illegible]
State school	1,042.00	3,749.25
Special school	4,600.00	12,700.00
Poors	100.00	400.00
Library		500.00
Road		2,354.72
Borough	4,783.33	8,300.05
	$13,684.02	$35,691.[illegible]

Incidentally, while some of the borough kites are complaining of the tax necessary to take care of this year's budget, out of town property holders are congratulating themselves upon the lowness of the rate.

TO DISCUSS PLANS.

The question of which of two plans for the proposed new school building on Harrison avenue, the borough is to be accepted by the North Plainfield Board of Education, will be taken up by that body this evening. W. S. Sill and the building committee of the Board have had several conferences on the plans, and the fact that the money for the construction of the building is now on hand, it is expected that plans for advertising for bids will be made tonight. Whether work on the structure will be started this fall or left over until spring is still an open question.

SUFFERS PARALYTIC STROKE.

George Rickert, of Fairview avenue, the borough, suffered a severe paralytic stroke while driving his team on Richmond street, Saturday, and barely reached the North avenue freight station before total collapse. He was removed to his home in a carriage where he now lies in a helpless condition. He is under the care of Dr. P. J. Zeglio.

TAKES TO ASYLUM.

Mary Flower, colored, who became entangled in the police net following her attempt to scorch Constable John Manley, Friday afternoon, was taken to the Morris Plains insane asylum yesterday afternoon. Following an examination by City Physician Norman W. Currie, the woman was pronounced mentally deficient.

GIVES HIS CLERKS CREDIT FOR RECORD

County Register F. H. Smith Praises Them for Efficiency in Handling Business.

The corps of clerks and assistants with which County Register Frank H. Smith has surrounded himself while in office, is coming in for a full share of credit at his hands for the record he has made, and will continue to do so, he says, every time he speaks at the meetings to be held during the remaining days of the campaign. There is to be a number of them and at each Mr. Smith will be one of the speakers, as he is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Smith's candidacy is based on his record and he says he realizes, through his knowledge of business the difficulty of [illegible] enthusiasm over the office, which is purely a business institution. He is going to attempt, however, to interest the people of the county in the elements and factors, the control of which create his record, and what he claims is the efficient and economic manner in which the office is conducted.

The most important element is the increase in business, according to the register. He said in 1905 there were recorded 8,368 papers of all descriptions. Last year the number was 14,775. This meant the making of a lot of new books of record and at present they number 1,193, aside from more than 200 index books.

Regarding this heavy business, Mr. Smith recently said, "It has been the constant aim of everybody connected with the office to keep it up-to-date and to install new methods of indexing and recording from time to time, as it was thought necessary. When I first assumed the duties of register, antiquated and obsolete methods were used. The recording was done by pen and ink. This has been changed and now we have ten book typewriting machines. The loyal and enthusiastic support of all my clerks and assistants has made the efficient and economic handling of this increase of business possible. Without their help the same result would not have been accomplished," he said.

IN THE SPORTING SPOTLIGHT

GLEANED FROM LOCAL GRIDIRONS

Despite the fact that Rahway High School triumphed over the Plainfield schoolboys on Parker Field, Saturday, there is a reasonable doubt existing in the minds of those who witnessed the contest as to the rightful claimant to the Union county title. True, Rahway was ahead on points and that's what counts in the actual settlement of the title. From the standpoint of real playing ability the red and blue aggregation had it on its rivals forty different ways. Outweighed by a considerable margin, the P. H. S. warriors resorted to football strategy and had they pulled down their share of the "breaks" the result would have been reversed. The horseshoe luck that enveloped the visitors was the real cause for them holding the odd touchdown when the final whistle was called.

Meetings of two such forces as Rahway and Plainfield should be encouraged along other lines besides football, but at the time their ought to be a reasonable amount of good sportsmanship exhibited. The near-riot that was started at the Parker Field playground was the one incident that marred the encounter. It was instigated by no other person than Johnny Brooks, of Rahway, who pounced on Daniels, after he had made a beautiful run for a touchdown. Brooks has displayed unsportsmanlike tactics before in the Queen City and he well deserved the rough handling he was treated to Saturday, although this sought of rivalry is a source of regret to all lovers of the sport. Brooks got in trouble here last year on the Y. M. C. A. basketball court, when he in introduced a little slugging.

In many respects the Plainfield-Rahway clash compared favorably with the Princeton-Dartmouth encounter being waged on a field in a different part of the State. The same actics were indulged in by the respective forces and the team that had piled up the best records in statistics came out behind in the score.

Those who saw the schoolboy game and have had the good fortune to see Holy Cross in action this season claim that the Ninth street lads will make a creditable showing if pitted against the boroughites. Rahway was about on a par with Holy Cross for weight and the schoolboys would certainly be able to show the red and white a thing or two in novelty shifts. Such a contest should be encouraged and we might state at this time that Election Day is not far in advance.

Holy Cross exhibited a superior brand of the gridiron sport in holding the Sailors to a tie Saturday afternoon. While we looked forward to seeing Holy Cross hang up its first victory of the season we were well pleased with the result of the showing against such a formidable foe.

It is little wonder that colleges are already endeavoring to corrall "Bill" Peacock. The kind of football he displayed at Parker Field was worthy of more than passing notice. His line rushing, tackling and breaking up of interference was little short of miraculous.

Interest in football locally forms a great contrast to that evidenced over baseball. If the Pets had an audience such as the ones at Parker Field, Saturday afternoon, a commission would probably have to be appointed to make an investigation.

R. C. BROWN WINS SWEEPSTAKE EVENT

Country Club Planning Attractive Schedule for Election Day.

The only event at the Plainfield Country Club, Saturday, was a sweepstakes competition, which was won by R. C. Brown with a net score of 67. His fat handicap of 27, however, helped him to return such a low card. G. A. Bomann, L. B. Alling, and S. D. Lounsbery finished second, each posting a 74 net. These scores were returned in the competition:

R. C. Brown, 94, 26-67; G. A. Bomann, 101, 27-74; L. B. Alling, 97, 23-74; S. D. Lounsbery, 82, 8-74; Burnett C. Kenyon, 94, 17-77; W. M. Alling, 94, 16-78; Henry L. DeForest, 97, 18-79; W. G. Cooke, 101, 18-83.

The club has planned several interesting events for election day, including the play for the Senior Cup, and possibly a team match between the college and non-college members of the club. The club has also decided to give a dinner-dance at the clubhouse on Hallowe'en night, October 31, which promises to be most enjoyable.

ROYLE T. PHILLIPS WINNER OF TROPHY

With 22½ Points He Captures President's Cup at Park Golf Club.

Although the competition for the President's Cup at the Park Golf Club will continue two weeks longer, as a result of Saturday's play, it is now definitely settled that Royle T. Phillips is the winner of the trophy and cannot lose out. He has a total of 22½ points. Clarence J. Hand, who is in second place, has a total of 15½ points, but should he win six points in the remaining two competitions they would not enable him to get the trophy.

J. A. Wilson leads for the Oakmount Cup with 23½ points. C. J. Hand is second with 15 points, and Charles B. Morse third with 11 points. This competition will be concluded in two weeks. Those leading in the best selected score for the season are C. J. Hand with a 64, Royle T. Phillips with a 65 and H. E. Blazier also with a 65. These scores were posted Saturday for the President's and Oakmount Cups.

Frank W. Thompson, 102, 22-80; Charles B. Morse, 93, 12-81; C. J. Hand, 96, 12-84; O. B. Hill, 100, 16-84; W. E. Lough, 100, 14-86; Walter Whitehead, 98, 12-86; J. V. Beckman, 106, 17-89; Royle T. Phillips, 98, 7-91; H. E. Blazier, 98, 6-94; J. A. Wilson, 104, 10-94.

LOCALS EXHIBIT OLD TIME FORM

Holy Cross Eleven "Comes Back" and Holds Battleship Crew to a Tie.

THRILLING ENCOUNTER

One of the Best Games that Has Ever Been Staged Here—Manning and Wilson in Limelight—Sailor Harper Attracts Attention.

The football team from the battleship Wyoming, champion eleven of the Navy, were as good as the Holy Cross aggregation in every stage of the game on Cricket Field, Saturday afternoon, and left town happy, having held the local team to a tie score of 6 to 6. Holy Cross made its first score of the year and at the end of the third quarter when they made their touchdown, it looked as if victory was a sure thing. One strong feature about the visitors' method was that they were in the battle every minute of the time and never let up till the last whistle blew and they almost got away with a victory.

All during the game the sailors played airtight football and only twice did they try forward passes and both of these failed. They were great on the line plunge and made large gains when Harper, the blonde fullback, took the ball and lowered his head. The interference was almost perfect and several long runs were made around the ends. Holy Cross became weak at times and it was then that their opponents took advantage and hit the line hard for yards.

The visitors chose to receive the ball and ran it up a good ways before the man with the ball was downed. Their swift playing and fast plunges surprised the boroughites and they made great headway toward Holy Cross' goal. At the twenty-yard line they lost the ball and, although Holy Cross tried all sorts of efforts, they could not gain and were forced to punt. About the middle of the first period "Turk" Webster was knocked in the head and was forced to retire. His place was taken by Lee Manning. In the second quarter the Navy boys again started to tear up things and went within a few yards of their opponents' goal when they lost the ball on a fumble. Holy Cross went back to the middle of the field and time was called.

In the second half Bremble replaced Caulfield at right end and played a steady game. With about four minutes left to play in the third quarter the Holy Cross backfield took the ball into dangerous territory and it seemed as though the sailors could not hold them. Ricketts took the ball to the four-yard line on an excellent run through the entire two teams and Captain Wilson carried it over for their first score on the next play. Manning made a poor attempt to make the score one point larger. Holy Cross then kicked off to their opponents and the game went through the third and into the last period without much excitement. Two men on the Wyoming team distinguished themselves in this period and they were the captian, who played quarterback, and the fullback. Both teams made great gains and it was the former who rushed the ball over the line tieing the score, and he also made a bad attempt to kick the goal.

With several more minutes to play both teams started to win the game and the borough team might have done this had there been five more minutes. The first successful forward pass of the game was worked in this period when Ricketts made a beautiful pass which Jerry Manning handled perfectly. The next play was also a pass, but this failed and time was called.

MAYOR H. W. EVANS TAKES A TUMBLE

Quickly Remounts and Finishes in Hunt Club Chase.

Much jumping and lots of music made the Watchung Hunt Club drag hunt, Saturday afternoon, an enjoyable affair for the large field of riders. The hounds were met at the horse show grounds, and were thrown in nearby for a chase which covered about twelve miles through a blind and trappy country.

While crossing the Henry farm, where the going was a bit stiff, Mayor Harry Evans, of Westfield, came to grief. He was up in an instant, however, and continued. Among those noticed in the field were: Rufus C. Finch, M. F. H.; L. B. Smith, H. A. Bourne, J. J. O'Donohue, Mrs. Gertrude Mattlach, A. C. Fox, Mrs. Rufus C. Finch, Col. C. E. S. Bellows, Harry L. Finch, William Palmer Smith, Jr., Mayor Harry W. Evans, of Westfield, and Huntsman Harrison.

MICHELIN TEAM WILL APPEAR HERE NOV. 21

The Michelin football team of Milltown will play Holy Cross on Saturday, November 21, on Cricket Field. This is in place of the game that was postponed last Saturday because of bad weather conditions and the Milltown eleven thinks it stands a fine show against the boroughites. Only five more games are left for the Michelin team and two of these are with Dunellen. Saturday, November 7, they will play the Dunellen aggregation at Dunellen and the following Saturday a return game will be played at Milltown.

The schedule is as follows:

Nov. 7—Dunellen at Dunellen.
Nov. 14—Dunellen at Milltown.
Nov. 21—Holy Cross at Plainfield.
Nov. 26—Thanksgiving Day (afternoon), Nutley Field Club at Milltown.

Randall, the visiting left halfback, scored both touchdowns, making beautiful end runs. Dover scored on a forward pass, Lynch taking the throw and making a nice getaway.

Y. M. C. A. BASKETBALLISTS MAY USE NUMBER SIGNALS

The majority of candidates for the Y. M. C. A. basketball team responded to the special practice which was held last Saturday night and a short scrimmage was held. Number signals were used with great success. Coach Mermans was present at this practice and is assisting with the coaching. No five men have been picked as yet to start in the first game and several substitutes will probably be taken to New Brunswick on November 4, for the first game. The team will also have two practices this week, the regular one on Wednesday night and a short workout on Saturday. That will be the last one before the initial game.

OUTSCORED BUT NOT OUTPLAYED

Plainfield High School Eleven Put up a Remarkable Fight Against Rahway.

A GRUELLING CONTEST

Red and Blue Performers Had it On Their Rivals in Some Departments—Both Are Woefully Weak on the Offense.

In a contest concentrated about the brute strength of eight husky backs, the Plainfield High School football eleven was treated to its first taste of defeat Saturday afternoon, the widely tooted Rahway High School warriors living up to their reputation and trimming the locals by a score of 20 to 14. Until 3:34 Saturday afternoon the red and blue goal line had remained uncrossed and the Plainfielders enjoyed a clean slate in the opponent's tally column. Three minutes after the pigskin oval had been put in play in the Rahway contest, however, it had been carried over the line for six points that were afterwards transformed into seven by a pretty boot between the bars. Those opening three minutes of play brought to the foreground the Rahway players' remarkable offensive ability and the Queen Cityites were swept completely off their feet. There was no occasion for optimism in the local's camp after that first touchdown had been made and many thought that the Rahwayites were due to pile up a record score at the expense of the apparently defenseless Plainfielders.

Much to the surprise of every one on the field, however, the locals rallied and exhibited a complete reversal of form. A miraculous play in the first quarter at the north goal put them on even footing with the county champions. After Wheelan had thrown the ball over Peacock's head on a bad pass from centre to quarterback the P. H. S. captain followed up the elusive oval and with a Rahway back almost on top of him, hurled it high into the air. Hedged in by two visiting players little Ralph Green stood on the goal line watching the soaring ball. As it came nearer the earth he leaped three feet off the ground and snuggled it to his breast. This stunt for a minute bewildered the Rahwayites, who were awaiting it and while they stood in a daze he scooted around and placed the ball squarely between the posts. Rosenson kicked the goal, evening up the score. This was one of the most spectacular pieces of football strategy ever seen in this city and Green was given a big hand for the stunt. However brilliant might have been Green's stunt Peacock should not be forgotten on this play. His headwork, after the bad pass, was the only thing that kept the scarlet garbed player from grabbing the ball.

Nothing of a creditable nature can be said of either of the two teams' defensive work. Rahway was as weak, if not weaker, than Plainfield. The light P. H. S. line was far from being adamant but it certainly had it on the visiting clan. Seldom was either side held for downs and the team with the ball generally carried it until progress was stopped by a quarter whistle, a touchdown or a fumble. After P. H. S. had tallied her first touchdown it could be readily seen that the visitors were not the superior clan of goal defenders that they have been heralded as. Their line ripped to pieces like so much paper when the red and blue ball carriers struck it. There was practically no resistance on the part of the linemen and the rusher invariably encountered a broken field.

The playing was hard and gruelling from start to finish. As soon as the Rahwayites had gained a realization of the calibre of the team they were stacking up against they went into the fray tooth and nail. So anxious were the warriors of the two contingents to break up plays that they missed tackle after tackle and the tackles that were made were not of the clean cut variety so essential to good playing. The Plainfielders were not at their best and the visitors met their match. The issue soon developed into a contest to see which side would have the odd score at the sound of the final whistle. Rahway had it and therefore now has a clear right to lay claim to the Union county title.

In the second quarter Bennie Rosenson booted Plainfield's first punt of the season and this in itself is a fair example of the change in tactics the encounter Saturday necessitated. Both aggregations had a neat and varied assortment of tricks and shifts and these were resorted to exclusively. Rahway worked the forward pass for goodly gains, but Plainfield was a little less successful in this department. Inability to solve the visitor's attack resulted disastrously for the locals, for in the fourth quarter they had a wonderful chance to hold the side for downs when a forward pass netted Rahway twenty-five yards. This kind of playing prevailed throughout, the visitors apparently getting what "breaks" there were in the contest and taking advantage of every little opportunity that presented itself.

The lineup:

Rahway H. S.	Plainfield H. S.

FRANKLIN LOWE RETURNS FROM LONG CYCLE TRIP

Franklin Lowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lowe, of Fairview avenue, returned home Saturday night from a two months' motorcycle trip in the New England States. He has been in the vicinity of Lake Champlain and the Canadian border and took many long trips in the Northern States.

On his trip home Lowe was only on the road two days, making 210 miles the first day out and 185 the second. He stopped at several places of interest along the way.

MAYORALTY CANDIDATE ENTERTAINED FOOTBALLISTS

After the Holy Cross-Navy game Saturday, on Cricket Field, the sailors were entertained by Manager John Doyle and Theodore Martin, Democratic nominee for Mayor. The team and rooters were accompanied by Ensign King, who acted as umpire of the game. The tars were very much pleased with their treatment and expressed a desire to "come again."

Manager Doyle has arranged to have the Franklin A. A. team, of Newark, appear here again Saturday and expects his team to score a win. In the first game of the season these two teams played a scoreless game.

MOVIE MAN TOOK BOY SCOUTS AND HOLY CROSS WARRIORS

Henry Brynariski, of this city, was busy with his "movie" machine, Saturday, when he took pictures of the Boy Scout display on Parker Field and of the Holy Cross football game on the Cricket Field in the afternoon. In the morning he reeled off many of the movements of the Scouts and some of the winners.

At the Holy Cross-Wyoming contest Brynariski took the teams practising and also pictures of the crowd and the large delegation that accompanied the sailors. The pictures will be shown in the near future in this city.

VIOLATED FISH LAWS.

Louis Bullman, of the borough, was arraigned before Judge Thomas H. Snape, Saturday evening, in the North Plainfield court, on charges of catching one pickerel under size while fishing in the Passaic River near Gillette. The charge was made by Game Commissioner William Hoblitzell, who witnessed the catch. A fine of $20 and costs was imposed.

BOY SCOUTS HAD FINE FIELD DAY

Plainfield Troops in Close Competition for Cups and Pennants.

MUCH INTEREST TAKEN

Engineers Awarded the Scoutcraft Championship Banner for This Year—Charles Rice, Eagle Scout, Wins Two Prizes.

The greatest display of scoutcraft and the work of the Boy Scouts of America was held at Parker Field, Saturday morning and afternoon, and there were about two hundred scouts present from this city and surrounding places. Many scouts present from this city and surrounding places. Many scouts came from New York, Bound Brook, Scotch Plains, Westfield, and a bicycle troop from New Brunswick to see the Plainfield scouts compete in the many events that were on the schedule. It was intended that the meet should only take till noon, but it was 2:30 before the judges awarded their decisions and the scouts assembled to return to the city. In the morning they marched out to the field and some waited at the railroad station and escorted visiting scouts to the Randolph road playground.

There were about sixteen events in all and all went very smoothly, much to the credit of those in charge. Allan Beals was present and was assisted by several of his assistants. Cups and banners were also presented as was told in Saturday's edition of this paper. The Unanimous Cup, which was to be won by the troop whose scout first made fire without matches, was taken by the Engineers and will be held for one year. If this cup is successfully defended for two more years in succession it becomes the permanent property of the troop. The Troop 7, colored scouts, of this city, was present in full force and captured the drumming and fife event. The water boiling contest, was a tie in the opinion of the judges and Harold McKay, of the Wolf Patrol, and David Dunavan, of the Bob White Patrol, each received five points for their work.

The sending and receiving by wireless was won by the Engineers and the receiver only missed one letter. The message was, "Save your patrol." Troop 11 copped the semapore signalling event and it was read perfectly, the message being "Coming home soon." The following local patrols were represented in the meet: Engineers, Bob White, Wolf, Signalling Troop 11, Hyena Troop 11, Lion Troop 7 (colored), and Red Cross.

The list of events and winners follow:

LUYSTER LUCKY.

"Flick" Luyster, the "Daddy of Elizabeth's Luckiest Ball Players," Harry a candidate for the title of "Elizabeth's Luckiest Ball Players." Harry Balaban, the Broad street tailor, who won quite a little attention when he offered a list of prizes for the baseball players competing in the T. A. B. S.-All Leaguers' series, among them a suit of clothes for the hitter scoring the first home run, has decided that "Flick" is entitled to the suit, because he declares that Luyster's double in the first game came nearest to being a circuit.

P. H. S. MAY MEET HOLY CROSS TEAM

Schoolboys Endeavoring to Get the Sanction of Faculty for Big Game.

Efforts are being made by members of the Plainfield High School to induce the faculty to consent to a meeting between the red and blue warriors and the Holy Cross team before the present season draws to a close. The schoolboys are elated over their showing against Rahway High School, Saturday, and sentiment for such an encounter runs high at the Ninth street institution. While the players are unanimously in favor of the contest it will be necessary to secure the endorsement of the principal of the school before negotiations can be completed. Two years ago the teams met and at that time some hard feeling was evident among the combatants, the affair being little less than a pugilistic battle. For this reason the faculty of the High School is reluctant to grant the players permission to indulge in anothe encounter with Holy Cross.

Should such an engagement be staged, however, it will no doubt draw one of the largest sporting crowds of the season to either the playground gridiron or Cricket Field. The animosity so prevalent at the previous meeting has been pushed in to the background and indications at the present time are that the rival elevens would meet on a friendly basis. Two years ago certain members of the Holy Cross outfit had recently left the local institution of learning for various reasons and bore a personal grudge against their alma mater. Two years have now passed and this regrettable feeling has somewhat died away and a successful meeting of the two forces would probably be one of the best things that could happen to promote local sport.

The Holy Cross management would like nothing better than to book such an attraction and Election Day has been mentioned as a possible date. The schoolboys, however, have this date filled with the Westfield High School team, but in view of the fact that turmoil now reigns in the Mt. Ararat camp it would not be a difficult matter to cancel this date. Either Parker Field or Cricket Field will be selected for the battle, in the event that the High School faculty grants the necessary permission and either of these parks would prove a fit rendezvous for an encounter of this importance.

SUFFRAGISTS TO BE GUESTS OF KANDY SHOPE

The Equal Suffrage League will hold its monthly meting at the Kandy Shope, 139 East Front street, the Misses Geier, the proprietors, having kindly loaned the use of their store for that purpose, owing to the fact that the store formerly occupied by the league at 128 East Front street, has been rented by the owner, Dr. Pittis.

Dr. Pittis allowed the league to hold its meetings there until the store was rented, and the Suffragists appreciate his kindness. It is a usual method of "cutting expenses" to use empty shops for suffrage headquarters. The shop thus occupied is always made attractive and it is believed is likely to rent more readily. Confesses to Allegations Before Prosecutor Stein After Long Grilling.

After a six hours' grilling by Prosecutor Alfred A. Stein in his office in Elizabeth Friday afternoon Mrs. Nelson L. Pollard, of that city, confessed to being the author of certain "Poison Pen" letters making charges of immorality against prominent men and women of the Union county seat. The confession culminated some adroit detective work on the part of government officials and Mr. Stein.

Last March Mrs. Pollard was brought before the Grand Jury on a charge of being the author of the scurillous letters, but was acquitted of the allegation.

No formal complaint has been entered against the woman as yet and it is not known whether or not she will be brought to trial again on the charges, although it is said that the woman's confession will be brought to the attention of the Grand Jury when it convenes today.

Following a cow which had developed a habit of disappearing every morning and coming home in the evening without her usual supply of milk, James Wilson of Greensburg, Pa., discovered that the cow was raising a motherless fawn.

Morris and His Furniture.

In "William Morris—His Work and Influence" is retold how the two friends, Burne-Jones and Morris, setting out to keep house together in the now historic rooms, 17 Red Lion square, found themselves confronted with the unendurable ugliness and vulgarity of mid-Victorian furniture. Says Mr. Clutton-Brock:

"Their rooms were to be furnished, and Morris could not find in any shop a single new table or chair that he could endure. This was not mere fastidiousness. To him vulgarity in furniture was, like vulgarity of manners, the expression of a wrong state of mind, and if his own furniture had been vulgar he would have felt as responsible for it as for his own manners. Therefore he designed furniture to please himself, making drawings that were carried out by a carpenter. Thus simply and naturally he began his business of 'poetic upholsterer.' * * * From the first he was not only an artist, but one who tried to make the world what he wished it to be and, beginning with armchairs, ended with society."

∴ Plainfield Theatre ∴

"Seven Keys to Baldpate," the play that George M. Cohan has built from the story of the same name by Earl Derr Biggers, and which is to be presented at the Plainfield Theatre this evening, is a farce of seven kinds. It is in two acts—that is one kind. It is original—that is the second kind. It is melodramatic—that is the third kind. And there are four other kinds, to say nothing of a prologue and epilogue that are thrown in for good measure. "Seven Keys to Baldpate" as a play is continually thrilling and continuously laughable, and critics agree that it is by far the most ingenious work we have had from the gifted pen of the genius of the American stage. A brief scenario of "Seven Keys to Baldpate" would read something like this: A young novelist, who is a writer of melodramatic twaddle, lays a wager that he can turn out a 10,000-word story in twenty-four hours. For the quiet that he requires for concentration in order to carry out his herculean task, the novelest secures Baldpate Inn, a summer hotel on the top of a mountain closed for the winter. From the caretaker the novelist gets what is supposed to be the only key to the hotel. He repairs to the wind-swept, ice-bound, snow-covered hostelry, locks himself in with his typewriter and goes to work on his "novelette." Soon mysterious visitors arrive—six batches of ones or twos, each batch having a key—a professional briber to conceal big money for a "graft" fund; a newspaper reporteress and her chaperone, bethrothed to a Mayor who is to be bribed; a professional blackmailer, feminine and beauteous as the reporteress; the village hermit, finally the Mayor and his ancient.

The funniest woman on the English speaking stage is coming to the Plainfield Theatre, Thursday night. Of course, the funniest woman in the world can only mean merry Marie Dressler, who will be seen in her newest comedy success, "A Mix Up, written especially for her by Parker A. Hord, a young newspaper man of New York. Miss Dressler is now under the direction of the Messrs. Shubert, and it is said that she has the funniest role of her entire career in "A Mix Up." She portrays the role of a queen of burlesque who becomes involved in a series of misunderstandings. It is said that Mr. Hord, who comes from a small village in Kentucky, once witnessed the stranding of a burlesque company in his home town, and that his farce is based upon some of the things he saw happen to the queen of burlesque in real life. A strong company will assist the star in the new offering, among the players being Bertram Lytell and Miss Evelyn Vaughan.

The menace of woman's present day mania for clothes and the evil results attendant thereto, are graphically shown in the powerful drama "To-Day," which comes to the Plainfield Theatre, Saturday, matinee and night, October 31. In the case of misguided Lily Wagner, her husband killed her to cure her of the craze that had soiled her life, but seeing "To-Day" and thinking about it will suggest a less dramatic cure. One of the chief problems of every-day life in the cities and in many small communities is how to induce women to dress according to their incomes. Talk to any thoughtful dressmaker and she will tell you, unless you show unmistakable signs of the mania yourself, that the grip of clothes upon her customers is appalling. Although earning her living and sometimes a fortune in dressing women prettily, she herself deplores the waste of ill considered dressing—the waste of money, in interest, in sanity, for seeing things out of their proportion is insanity. She will tell you that there are women to whom clothes are the art and science of life. They care for nothing else, think of nothing else. They are possessed by velvets, obsessed by chiffons. A moderate liking for pretty gowns and hats and wraps is entirely natural. It is in its simple normal form an expression of a woman's sense of beauty and fitness. But it is only one of the interests that make up a woman's life. A simple, well thought out wardrobe is within the means of most women. It was within Lily Wagner's. But she cared inordinately for handsome gowns. The sight of one mounted to her brain and befuddled it as the fumes of wine befuddle the drunkard. Beginning as a pretty girl with an average interest in dainty apparel, the liking grew into an obsession. It became a monster that destroyed her.

NOTED EXPLORER AT BOY SCOUT MEET

Dr. Frits V. Holm, Danish Citizen, a Leader in Work of Organization.

One of the judges at the Boy Scout field day events held at Parker Field, Saturday, was Dr. Frits V. Holm, formerly of Denmark, but now of New York city. Dr. Holm has had many exciting adventures on the other side of the water and has been fourteen times honored by foreign monarchs for his works. He was recently honored by the late Pope Pius X., and more recently he received a second grade Red Cross medal from the Spanish sovereign.

At the age of nineteen Dr. Holm was made commander of a royal expedition and went out to China in quest of the Nistorian Tablet. This stone was wanted by European powers because it contained some interesting facts about the early Christian religion and proved that Chinese held this belief some five hundred years after the death of the Immortal. When Dr. Holm returned with the original tablet he was highly honored and a copy was taken of the stone and is now in the American Museum of Natural History in New York, the original remaining in England. The expedition was conducted under the auspices of the King of Denmark and the Royal Geographical Society.

While on this trip the leader and his party had many exciting experiences and twice Dr. Holm nearly lost his life. He had every difficulty that the natives could put in his way to contend with and, among other things, attempts were made to blow up his boat and rob his train. The stone weighs five tons, is fifteen feet high and six feet wide. Dr. Holm is now an international war correspondent for the Associated Press, dealing with diplomatic missions.

Dr. Holm has been appointed national special field commissioner at large for the Boy Scout movement in this country. He has been the guest of Allen T. Beals, local commissioner of Boy Scouts, several times and has given some very interesting and helpful tips to the local boys. About a year ago he gave an illustrated lecture to the Boy Scouts of the First Presbyterian church. Dr. Holm is still a Danish citizen.

"LESSONS OF THE WAR"

The speech of Dr. William L. Saunders at the dinner of the Business Men's Association Monday evening brought home some "lessons" that are of particular interest to every person in Plainfield.

The need of mutual co-operation and helpfulness in local business was never more needed than at the present time when business is feeling the depressing effects of the European war.

Plainfield has long needed the manifestation by our people of a more general interest in our local industries and business enterprises, and a more altruistic business spirit—and it needs these now more than ever.

There are comparatively few people in the city of Plainfield whose incomes are not directly affected by business conditions in general in our city. It therefore becomes a matter of direct personal interest to each one of these to look beyond the immediate source of his own income and do what he can to insure the prosperity of his neighbors and thus insure the prosperity of his city and his own.

Plainfield has excellent stores ready to supply practically all the needs of our people. These stores are too often passed by our local people merely because of the want of a proper pride in our city and her enterprises and because they seem to find an indefinable satisfaction in possessing goods that were purchased at a distance from home.

To some the fact that an article was purchased in one of the larger cities seems to be a certificate of superior quality or evidence of discriminating buying.

Nothing could be further from the real facts. Our PLAINFIELD merchants are ready to furnish to the people of PLAINFIELD at fair prices the best qualities of goods in the markets of the world, in some cases not as promptly as can be done by the larger stores in the big cities, but the wants of the most fastidious can be supplied, if they will but give our merchants a fair chance and manifest a little patience.

A spirit of local patriotism and loyalty to their own city and neighbors, and even their own personal interests, should move the people of Plainfield to experience more satisfaction in saying, "THIS WAS BOUGHT IN PLAINFIELD." "After visiting the stores in other cities I came home and bought in our Plainfield stores just what I wanted." Than in saying "I bought this in— —."

Whenever we say or do anything that helps our PLAINFIELD manufacturers, merchants, businessmen, craftsmen or mechanics we are helping our city and incidentally ourselves.

A proper spirit of loyalty to our city should move every citizen of PLAINFIELD to give our local merchants at least a fair chance before buying elsewhere, and to help to create a public sentiment more favorable to goods purchased in Plainfield.

HOMEMADE CANDIES.

Fondant Is the Basis For the Most of Them.

The foundation for most homemade candies is fondant. This is of two kinds, cooked and uncooked. To make the cooked fondant place in a saucepan over a hot fire a pound of fine granulated sugar and half a teacupful of boiling water, add a saltspoonful of cream of tartar to prevent sugaring and boil until it threads between the thumb and finger. Then pour it into a buttered dish and stir with a wooden spoon until it is creamy. When it becomes cold enough to handle work it into shape with the hands. With the addition of colorings, fruit and nut meats, this foundation may be converted into as many different kinds of bonbons as one may desire.

For the uncooked fondant put the white of an egg into a large bowl; then gradually add to it with a silver spoon a cupful of confectioner's sugar. Stir well and work with it the strained juice of an orange, alternating with the orange juice and sugar until about a pound of sugar has been used. Divide this paste into as many parts as required, flavor each differently and color with the vegetable colorings—pink, heliotrope, red, blue or green Butter coloring will make a rich yellow, while melted chocolate furnishes a pretty brown.

MAKE YOURS A PUBLIC SERVICE STORE

This is the age of service. The rewards of today go to the men who give the most in return.

Translated for you, Mr. Merchant, this means that the customers are certain to patronize the store that will give them what they want when they want it.

Cut prices may bring some trade, but better service will bring more.

This is the age when people are reading the advertising in their daily ewspapers because they are finding it a distinct part of the service they expect their newspapers to give.

When a nationally distributed article of merit is advertised in the newspapers a demand for it sets in right away.

People want to see it and, if satisfied, want to buy it.

They are going to turn to the store that lets them know it has the article. That store will be giving them the service they want at that particular moment.

If it is a good article they are going to remember the store where they got it and will come back to that store again.

Co-operate with the manufacturers who come into the newspapers of your town to exploit their goods and you will be building business for yourself.

Some Cookery Suggestions

CAKES WITHOUT EGGS.

SOME cooks imagine that cakes and puddings cannot be made good without the free use of eggs. This is a mistaken idea, for there are many dishes which can be prepared without the use of eggs at all, as the following recipes will prove:

Dainty Tea Cakes.

Cocoanut Biscuits.—Take one-quarter pound cocoanut, one-quarter pound icing sugar, two tablespoonfuls water, one tablespoonful ground rice. Mix all the ingredients together, form into pyramids and bake on an oiled paper until slightly browned.

Coffee Cake.—Take two cupfuls flour, one-quarter pound butter or dripping, one cupful sugar, one-half cupful sirup, one breakfast cupful strong coffee, one teaspoonful baking soda, two teaspoonfuls cream of tartar, one teaspoonful ginger, one-quarter teaspoonful spice, a few large raisins, a little peel. Cream the butter and sugar together, add the sirup and coffee, stir in the flour in which is mixed all the other ingredients. Place in a cake tin and bake.

Good Spice Cake.

Raisin Cake.—Take a pound flour; one-half pound sugar, one-half pound butter and lard, one-half pound currants, one-half pound raisins, two tablespoonfuls vinegar, two teaspoonfuls soda, one cupful milk, one teaspoonful ginger, one-half teaspoonfuls cinnamon Cream the butter and sugar together. Mix the flour, cinnamon, ginger and soda together. Stir this into the butter and sugar, add the milk and fruit and also the vinegar. Place in well greased tins and bake in a moderate oven.

Gingerbread. — Take two cupfuls flour, one-half cupful sugar, one-half cupful sirup, one-half cupful milk, one teaspoonful ground ginger, one-quarter teaspoonful spice, two ounces butter, one teaspoonful cream of tartar, one teaspoonful baking soda. Rub the butter into the flour, add the sugar, ginger, spice and cream of tartar. Heat the sirup and milk and add the soda. Stir all into the flour and other ingredients. Grease a tin and bake in a slow oven

Safe and Snug In His Little Shell House He Sleeps.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—Going to Sleep Time For Animals.

"WELL, kiddies, it is about time for some of the animals to go to sleep for the winter," said daddy as the children curled up beside him on the settee for the evening story.

"Do they sleep all winter, daddy?" asked Evelyn.

"Why, yes; some of them do," answered daddy.

"There is the dormouse. It sleeps throughout the winter cuddled in its nest. The dormouse is not found in this country, but is common in England, where it is made a pet by the English boys and girls.

"Its winter nest is a globular structure composed of twigs, leaves, moss and grass and is usually found tucked away under the hedge rows, and quite frequently whole colonies of these nests will be found under the same hedge row.

"Before the dormouse goes to sleep he eats and eats and eats until he is so fat that he can hardly waddle. His food is principally of the autumn nuts—hazel nuts, acorns and beech nuts—and some wild berries. Then when the cold weather begins he retires to his winter nest and sleeps and feeds upon the fat he has stored up.

"The squirrel makes a storehouse, however, and stocks it with all sorts of nuts that he busily gathers. The squirrel usually sleeps about a week at a time, then wakens, stuffs his little 'tum tum' so full he can hardly wriggle and then curls up and snoozes again.

"Then there is the snail."

"Oh, daddy, snails don't sleep, do they?" asked the kiddies.

"Yes, indeed! Every autumn Mr. Snail prepares for his long winter nap by building a solid horny barrier across the opening of his shell, leaving just a tiny opening to admit air for him to breathe. Safe and snug in his little shell house he sleeps until the warm spring days tempt him to take down his shutters and clean house.

"The tortoise is another animal that sleeps all winter. He buries himself in the mud and remains there.

"Then there is the hedgehog. This prickly spined animal curls all up, and his spines are even more formidable in winter than at any other season, for, of course, as he curls up each spine sticks straight out.

"The badger sleeps for long periods, but does creep out of its burrow occasionally through the winter to forage for food, then returns, creeps back into its bed and sleeps again.

"Now, kiddies, you must run to bed and sleep, too, only not so long as our four footed friends. Good night. Sleep tight."

SCOOP, THE CUB REPORTER — THE BIGGEST BATTLE IN THE WORLD TO SCOOP. — BY "HOP"

THE FORUM

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

Will you kindly allow space in your columns to say a few words as to certain coditions on Saturday evening at Madison avenue and West Front street? The Salvation Army which has held its services at this point during the past years met with a gross insult during the hours of service by the would-be authority of the city. After the services were begun they were approached and asked to vacate their position in order that said corner could be occupied by some "political dogers." During the service of prayer these people were surrounded with banners and automobiles and when they were taking a collection they were forced to go away before finishing their services. These people are law-abiding citizens and have always conducted themselves as such and are recognized by all good thinking citizens as the means of accomplishing much good. This is about the smallest act for anyone to interfere with religious services. Was there no other place to hold a political meeting?

It was not for want of room or to have this particular corner. Had the shown courtesy to these people they would not have been interferred with. They certainly were doing more good than these politicians, but there was a purpose through the authority. Had any other denomination occupied the position nothing would have been said. Many of those present expressed indignation at the treatment of this religious body and they certainly were much humiliated by the treatment they received. Such conditions tend to show how little is the principle of others in authority and the standing and integrity of any city. It looks upon the face of it as though we are bordering upon heathenism or some low bred foreign condition. This should be the end of such brazen insults. There were no reasons for the act only for personal gratification and they will lose some of their prestige through such acts.

The Democratic candidate for Congress prides himself upon having been on the job; while on the job he assisted in putting out of a job thousands of mechanics and laborers in this District by voting to place sewing machines and other certain machinery on the Free List.

The loss of the job has meant an empty dinner pail, the spending of the fruits of economy and thrift under Republican prosperity and an appeal to public charity for employment in order to provide the necessities of life to the unemployed and those dependant upon them.

ACTIVE YEAR FOR LOCAL CHARITIES

Plainfield Organization Elects Samuel T. Carter, Jr., President.

REPORTS SUBMITTED

Committee Attends Annual Gathering in the Interest of City's Unemployed—Fifteen Trustees Are Chosen.

Reports submitted by the secretary and committee heads of the local charity organization at the annual meeting held last night, indicated that considerable progress had been made in the work here during the past twelve months and that the organization is now carrying on an active relief campaign among the city's poor. The meeting was held in the Charity Organization's rooms in the Babcock building and thirty-five of those actively interested in the work were in attendance.

The annual election of officers resulted in the selection of the following: President, Samuel T. Carter, Jr.; first vice-president, Mrs. Charles E. Ryder; second vice-president, Henry L. DeForest; treasurer, J. Albert Lane; secretary, Dr. William H. Murray. Fifteen trustees were chosen as follows: Samuel T. Carter, Jr., Mrs. James N. Charles, Dr. Frances DuBois, Mrs. Eugene H. Hatch, J. Albert Lane, Dr. Henry M. Maxson, Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey, Henry L. DeForest, William N. Wherry, Jr., John Miller, Harry C. Munger, Miss Mabelle E. Pierson, Mrs. Charles E. Ryder, Mrs. Dexter Tiffany and Dr. William H. Murray.

A committee composed of John J. Varley and William H. Lunger, who were appointed at a meeting held in the home of Mayor Percy H. Stewart, Sunday night, attended the organization's meeting last night. Mr. Varley and Mr. Lunger made a request that the body send a circular to all of its regular mailing list, urging them to have any work done at once which they may originally have planned to do later. The visit was made in the interest of the movement to secure work for the unemployed of the city a step which was launched at the home of the Mayor, Monday night. The Charity Organization keeps in close touch with the unemployed and poor of the city and is considered one of the most important channels through which the reform movement can be launched. A record is kept by that body of those who are in need of employment and everything possible is done to provide remunerative labor in such cases.

The report of Miss Mabelle Phillips, local agent for the body, indicated that a large quantity of work has been accomplished during the year, many cases having been brought to the attention of the organization for disposition. A number of these have been of the urgent variety and some have entailed court action. It was reported that while contributions of money and other necessities for the charitable work were unusually meager during the fore part of the year that they are picking up now and the financial status of the body is satisfactory at the present time.

ATTEMPT WAS MADE TO WITHDRAW BAND

Building Trades' Council Requested Borough Mayor to Dismiss Dutch Arms.

Efforts were made by representatives of the Building Trades Council to have the Dutch Arms Band cancel its engagement to play at the G. O. P. meeting last night, in Saengerbund Hall, but the attempts proved futile. Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., of the borough, stated this afternoon that both he and Councilman Julius Stahl had been communicated with, but the demands of the Trades Council were turned down.

It is understood that a threat was made to force the men in the band who are members of the Building Trades Council to retire from the parade, but nothing of this sort was attempted last night. There has been some feeling prevalent of late over the engagements accepted by the band, which is a non-union organization. A [illegible] of the players are mechanic[illegible] bona-fide members of t[illegible] rades Council and [illegible] the organization has [illegible] to take steps to prohibit [illegible] from participating in public demonstrations such as the one last night.

DISCUSS ISSUES OF THE CAMPAIGN

Somerset County and Congressional Nominees Heard at G. O. P. Meeting.

ATTACK TARIFF BILL

Speakers Take Democrats to Task for Not Reducing State and National Expenses—Illness Prevents Stokes From Being Present.

Important issues of the campaign were discussed by the Congressional and county candidates of Somerset county at a Republican mass meeting held in Saengerbund Hall, last night. It was expected that former Governor Edward C. Stokes would be the speaker of the evening, but word was received that he would be prevented from being present owing to illness. However, the hall was thronged with interested voters and the various speakers held the close attention of every one.

Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., opened the meeting, introducing Charles W. McCutchen as the chairman. Elijah C. Hutchinson, former State Senator from Mercer county, and at present candidate for Congressional honors in the Fourth district, was the first speaker, and he took the occasion to call the Democratic administration to task for not reducing the State and National expenses as their platforms called for. He called the attention of his audience to the fact that the expenses were not being reduced, and that taxes of various sorts and descriptions were continually being put into force by the administration of the opposition. He presented figures to show that State expenses had increased over $2,000,000 during the course of the past two years. He then referred briefly to the general business conditions existing today owing to the Underwood tariff bill.

W. W. Smalley, of Bound Brook, candidate for re-election as State Senator, referred briefly to his record in the State Legislature and the failure of the Democrats in power to run the affairs of the State in a business-like way. He emphasized the fact, that under the present administration, the Somerset County Board of Chosen Freeholders were not receiving its share of the automobile tax to use for the keeping of roads in repair, thus making it necessary for the freeholders to borrow money to accomplish this work. "This," he said, "is due to something which is radically wrong at Trenton under the present administration. Should all bills of the State be paid, there would be a deficit in the State treasury instead of a surplus that the Democrats are bragging about."

Ogden Hammond, of Bernardsville, candidate for Assembly, and Senator Leavitt, of Mercer county, also spoke briefly on State issues, as did Kenneth Lanning, of Trenton.

Both the county and Congressional candidates spent most of the day in meeting the voters of the borough, Watchung, Warrenville and other of the mountain towns. Music was furnished throughout the evening by the Dutch Arms Concert Band, of the Trinity Reformed church. A parade preceded the meeting.

ENGAGEMENT CULMINATES A ROMANCE IN THE WEST

Friends in this city have been acquaintance with the announcement of the engagement of Richard H. Depew, Jr., son of Richard Henry Depew, of Hillside avenue, to Miss Trenna Hofer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Hofer, of Avondale, a suburb of Cincinnati, Ohio. It was made at a dinner party given by the parents of the bride-to-be at their home Monday night.

Mr. Depew is a graduate of Cornell University and is well known in this city where he lives with his father. Following the completion of his college career he moved to the West and for two years was employed on the Eaton Ranch, one of the largest in Wyoming. The engagement announcement culminates a romance which started in the West, where the young woman was a visitor two summers ago. The couple first met on the Wyoming ranch and their acquaintance rapidly developed into a courtship.

WOMEN PLAN FOR GREAT GATHERING

Annual Convention of New Jersey Suffragists to Be Held at Camden.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS

Mrs. E. F. Feickert, President, Will Preside at Sessions—Every County and City Will Have a Representation at the Meeting.

The largest and most widely representative body of New Jersey women which has ever met in this State will gather in Camden for the twenty-fourth annual convention of the New Jersey Woman Suffrage Association on November 6 and 7. Every county, every city and most of the large towns in the State will be represented. It has never before been feasible to hold a Suffrage convention south of Trenton, because of the small number of organized suffragists in South Jersey, but today the State Association has branches from "the rolling hills of Sussex to the sands of fair Cape May," to quote Senator Martine, speaking on another subject.

Among those who will be present are the members of the official board of the association, Mrs. Edward F. Feickert, of Plainfield, president; Mrs. Frederick H. Colvin, of East Orange, first vice president; Miss Helen Lippincott, Riverton, second vice president; Mrs. Charles P. Titus, East Orange, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles P. Eaton, Jersey City, recording secretary; Mrs. Edward Olmsted, Elizabeth, treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Hunter, Montclair, auditor; Mrs. Chandler Sexton, Orange; Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, New York, and Mrs. Clara S. Laddey, Arlington, honorary presidents; the Rev. Antoinette Brown Blackwell, Elizabeth; Mrs. Alexander Chrystie, Bayonne; Mrs. Phoebe Wright, Sea Girt; Mrs. Elizabeth Vail, Mrs. Joanna Hartshorn, Short Hills, and Mrs. Caroline Barnes Wilson, Vineland, honorary vice presidents; Mrs. George G. PROGRESSIVES TO HOLD MASS MEETING

All the Candidates Will Speak Here Tomorrow Night.

Under the auspices of the city and county Progressive committees, a mass meeting of that party will be held tomorrow night at the headquarters on North avenue, at which time all of the candidates will be present and speak. They include G. W. V. Moy, of this city, the Congressional candidate; James B. Furber, Theodore F. VanDyke and Benjamin H. Williams, candidates for the Assembly; William R. Richart, candidate for sheriff; Edward A. Leach, candidate for county clerk; Harwood Fish, candidate for register of deeds, and Dr. J. B. Stevens, candidate for coroner. The Progressives have also endorsed State Senator Carlton B. Pierce for re-election.

It is the purpose of the candidates to discuss the live issues of the present campaign, Congressional and county. The Progressive motto is "Economy and Efficiency," and all of the candidates are pledged to a reduction of the salaries of county offices by legislative enactment.

BOY RUNNING TO SCHOOL FELL AND BROKE HIS LEG

While running along Berckman street with a number of companions at 9 o'clock this morning, on the way to school, fourteen-year-old Robert Condit tripped on a loose flagging, sustaining a fracture of the leg. His companions, becoming alarmed at his cries, ran to a house nearby and the boy was removed there for temporary treatment.

When the seriousness of the accident was ascertained a call was sent in for the ambulance and the youth was removed to Muhlenberg Hospital, where the fracture was set.

PLAN TO FINANCE CITY BOND ISSUE

City Council Receives Excellent Offer From Harris-Forbes & Co.

BONDS AT 5 PER CENT

Banking Firm Agrees to Purchase $100,000 of the School Issue and Like Amount for Short Term Sewer Notes to Run Two Years.

Plans for the immediate financing of the sewer and school improvements needed by the city of Plainfield were discussed at a joint meeting of the Common Council and the Board of Education held at the Council chamber, last night.

Approximately $420,000 will be required, of which $320,000 is the estimated cost of the sewer improvements and $100,000 represents the cost of the new school building on Evergreen avenue.

For the past month the disturbed financial conditions caused by the European war have made it difficult to market any bonds whatever and both the Common Council and the School Board have been obliged to delay the needed sewer and school improvements until the money for them could be obtained on advantageous terms.

Last night, City Treasurer William F. Arnold announced that he had received an offer for $175,000 of the sewer bonds and a representative of the well-known banking firm of Harris-Forbes & Co., of New York and Boston, who was present at the meeting, offered to purchase $100,000 of the school bonds at par and an additional $100,000 of short term sewer notes, the latter to run for two years. A committee consisting of William F. Arnold, A. A. Tilney and Thomas Hylan will confer with the representatives of the banking houses and report to the Council at its meeting next Monday night.

It is expected that the $100,000 school bonds and $175,000 of the sewer bonds will be sold at 5 per cent. and that the balance of the money needed for sewers can be raised by the sale of short term notes at six per cent., which will later be replaced by long term bonds at a lower rate of interest.

BORO COUNCILMAN'S HOME BURGLARIZED

Silverware Valued at $250 Stolen by Midnight Prowlers While Family Slept.

Silverware valued at $250 was stolen from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Cowperthwaite, of Hyde wood Park, North Plainfield, last night while the family slept. The culprit gained entrance to the Cowperthwaite home through a dining room window. Marks about the sill indicate that it was pried open with an axe which was found nearby this morning. It is the supposition of the police that more than one miscreant was implicated in the crime and that the others were admitted through a kitchen door which was found open.

The thieves used matches for light, a number of burnt stubs being found about the floor by the authorities when an investigation was conducted this morning. This, together with the fact that the prying open of the window was done in a crude fashion, indicates that the job was done by amateurs and the police are running down several meager clues which they have collected.

A thorough examination of the lower floor was made by the crooks and only the best grade of silverware was stolen. A quantity of lesser value was left untouched. The drawer of the sideboard where the service was locked was pried open with the axe and the piece of furniture badly damaged. The remains of a quantity of burned paper were found in one corner of the room and it is the belief of the police that the crooks accidentally started a fire among some newspapers which they extinguished before any great amount of damage was done.

Mr. Cowperthwaite, who is a member of the Borough Common Council, supplied Chief Weiss, of the North Plainfield force, with a list of and description of the stolen articles and everything possible is being done to run down the offenders. Each of the pieces of silver had the initials "E. A. B." engraved on it and this information has been communicated to the police departments of all New Jersey towns by Chief Weiss in the hopes of apprehending the thieves who may possily attempt to dispose of their loot in this State.

SAYS THE SCHOOL SYSTEM IS FAULTY

Leighton Calkins, Republican Candidate for Mayor, Criticizes the Law.

DEPARTMENTAL NEEDS

Too Much Power in Hands of Separate Board Which Has Nothing to Do With the City Finances—No Inducement for Rigid Economy.

Continuing his discussion on the school question, Leighton Calkins, Republican candidate for Mayor, addressed a large gathering of voters in the Third ward, last night. Believing that this question is one that vitally concerns every taxpayer, Mr. Calkins has been devoting considerable time to its consideration. Mr Calkins said in part:

"I find that our people are more stirred up over and interested in the school question than any other, and to a large extent it is the people whose children attend our free schools who seem most concerned. I have explained at meetings where I have spoken that outside of teachers' salaries, there is only about $75,000 spent yearly on all our schools, which includes every item of expense. If we also exclude expenditures required by the State laws, there is probably not much over $50,000 left for which the School Board is responsible in its school management.

"But this does not seem to satisfy people. They still think that things costing money are taught, especially at the High School, which are not necessary to a good common school education. They cannot understand why a new school for the lower grades is to be put at the South End of the city when there is a crying demand for one in the East End. They want good school buildings, but they are opposed to expensive buildings. They say practical utility should be the test, and that there should be architectural competition in an effort to secure economy of construction.

"Now the trouble to a large extent is with the system. The law puts the management of the schools in the hands of a separate Board which has nothing to do with our city finances. There is no particular inducement for the Board of Education to strive for rigid economy. They neither have to raise the money, nor do they have anything to do with any other city department. My point is

CARROLL TREASURER OF FIREMEN'S BODY

Local Bluecoat Elected at Annual Meeting of Association Yesterday.

Firemen from all parts of the State attended the annual convention of the New Jersey State Firemen's Mutual Benefit Association, which was held in Bayonne yesterday, among the delegates being Vincent Carroll and Paul Adams, of the local department. When the yearly selection of officers was made Carroll was chosen treasurer. During the morning the annual parade of the association was held, there being about 2,000 men in line. The city was decorated in flags and bunting and the men were reviewed by Mayor Bert Daly and city officials.

The annual banquet was held last night, in Opera House Hall, at which speeches were made by Mayor Daly, Congressman Eugene Kinkead, Edward C. Gray, candidate for Congress in the Eighth Congressional district, and Thomas F. Martin.

LOCAL EXPRESSMAN TAKEN TO MUHLENBERG HOSPITAL

George Rickert, of Fairview avenue, was removed to Muhlenberg Hospital, yesterday afternoon, following a stroke of paralysis which he suffered Saturday. Mr. Rickert's condition is said to be improved today.

He was driving on Richmond street, Saturday afternoon, with his team when he was afflicted and barely reached the freight station before he collapsed. He was taken to his home and remained in a helpless condition until taken to the hospital yesterday. Mr. Rickert conducts an express business here.

FUNERAL OF MISS CULLEN.

The funeral services of Miss Emily Cullen, of West Sixth street, who died yesterday at Muhlenberg Hospital, will be held tomorrow morning from her late residence at 8:30 and from St. Mary's R. C. church at 9 o'clock.

ALLIES HOLD LINE ALONG YSER RIVER, BATTLING CONTINOUSLY; GERMANS FORCE BOATS BACK

OFFICIAL BERLIN COMMUNICATION SAYS THAT ENGLISH WARSHIPS HAVE BEEN DRIVEN AWAY FROM BELGIAN COAST.

KAISER COMMANDS AUSTRO-GERMAN ARMIES

Allies Line in Great Battle Has Not Yielded An Inch, and Advantages Are Claimed in Artillery Battle Near Soissons and Berry au Bac—Russian Offensive Accentuated on River San and at Przemysl.

Paris, Oct. 27.—"The battle goes on continuously, and is raging with particular vigor between the lower reaches of the Yser River and the regions of Lens," says the official statement issued at 3 o'clock this afternoon by the War Office. "On this part of the front, the Allies have not yielded an inch, whilest they have continued to make progress in the region between Ypres and Roulers. In the region of Soissons and in that of Berry au Bac, an artillery battle has turned to our advantage and has resulted in the destruction of the enemy's batteries. In the region of Nancy, between the forest of Bezange and the forest of Parroy, we have taken the offensive, and have driven the enemy across the frontier.

"In Russia, on the River San and to the south of Przemysl, the Russian offensive has become accentuated."

Washington, Oct. 27.—Inability of the German advance west of the Yser Canal to pierce the Allies' line, and confirmation of the report that German artillery have driven off the British warships aid in the land operations, was contained in a wireless despatch from Berlin received at the German embassy here today. The despatch follows:

"Our troops attacked the enemy west of the Yser Canal between Neiuport and Dixmude, which places are still held by the enemy. The enemy made a strong defense. A British naval squadron taking part in the fight was forced to retreat by our heavy artillery fire. Three ships were hit, and the whole squadron afterward kept out of sight. Near Ypres the battle is still undecided. Southwest of Ypres and west of Lille the attack of our troops is making good progress. The English suffered great losses in a stubborn defense from house to house and left more than 500 prisoners in our hands. North of Arras a furious French attack was broken down by our fire with heavy loss to the enemy.

"In the eastern theatre of war our defensive against Augustowo progresses well. Near Ivangor the fighting is favorable to us, but no decision has been reached as yet."

London, Oct. 27.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Times learns from Berlin that under the new military agreement between Germany and Austria, Emperor William undertakes the leadership of the united armies. According to the latest accounts received in Copenhagen, the German Emperor is in good health.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Navy Department officials scoffed today at the report that a heavy naval battle had been fought last night off the Virginia coast as reported by the Ward liner Saratoga, now on its way to New York from Havana. Such an action, they said, scarcely would have taken place without its being reported promptly to Washington. Thus far no news has been received and the officials decline to take the rumor seriously. It was pointed out that the battleship Delaware is lying off and on outside the Virginia capes and the coast in the vicinity is patrolled by naval vessels. No such battle could have been fought without these sea sentinels knowing of it.

The Japanese ambassador held a long conference with Acting Secretary of State Lansing. Neither official would discuss their talk, but it is understood the reported protest from Japan regarding the German cruiser Geier was considered. The Geier, according to unofficial advices, is suspected by the Japanese of using Honolulu as a base of operations in the Pacific, and the reported Japanese protest had to do with this only.

Through the State Department the American Red Cross headquarters here telegraphed a total sum of $65,000 to the European relief fund. The American ambassador in Paris was sent $25,000; American hospital at Paignton, England, $10,000; a similar sum despatched to the American consul in Munich. The two hospitals in Berlin received $10,000 and $10,-

CANDIDATE MARTIN OUTLINES POLICIES

Tells What He Stands for at Democratic Ward Meeting.

Theodore Martin, the Democratic candidate for Mayor, addressed a large gathering of voters at the Jefferson Democratic Club, West Third street and Prescott place, last night, at which time he discussed his policies, which are set forth as follows:

"He favors representation for all wards on the Board of Education, Board of Health and Public Library directorate. Appointment of practical men who will build proper schools without expensive frills. Utilization of all branches of city government for the welfare of the people. Elimination of all expense that does not show a proper return. An honest effort to keep down the tax rate and establish a greater measure of home rule by appeals to the Legislature for the amendment of all laws inconsistent with economy and efficiency."

Other speakers, last night, included Mayor Percy H. Stewart, candidate for State Senator and the other county candidates, and David L. Coleman, councilmanic candidate in the Fourth ward. Former Judge W. A. Coddington presided at the meeting.

MME. LABADIES TO PRESENT "THE GREAT GALEOTO"

In this play of deep human interest adapted into English from the Spanish drama, "El Gran Galeoto," by Jose Echegaray, the scene is laid in Madrid, but the plot and subsequent events which lead up to the tragic denouement might take place in any city at any time.

The husband, the wife and their mutual friend as the principal characters form the old triangular plot. But in this play it is not the falseness of the wife or falseness of the friend that crushes the principals in the drama, but the intangible, all-pervading spirit of gossip which builds up a fabric of falsehood that ends in disaster and eventually—such is the power of scandal—drives the man and woman to desperation until that which was a monstrous lie in the beginning is "warped into the truth."

Each of the three acts ends in a climax, the intensity of the action mounting higher with the progression of the theme that leads directly to the tragedy of the play.

Mme. Labadie's presentation of "The Great Galeoto," on October 30, at the Plainfield Theatre, under the auspices of the Cheerful Workers' Circle of The King's Daughters, will undoubtedly afford a rare treat to all lovers of the highest in dramatic art and literature.

INJURED CHOPPING WOOD.

WHO WAS THE SENATOR?

So much favorable comment has been occasioned by the strong plea for the abolishment of the bar in the Capitol at Washington, made by George I. Apgar, Jr., in his address before the Young People's Society, of the Presbyterian church, on Sunday evening, that a movement has been inaugurated in the borough to have a petition circulated for the abatement of this evil. During the course of his remarks, Mr. Apgar went so far as to state that he himself had seen one of the irreproachable U. S. Reynolds.

Miss Mary Murphy, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Murphy, of North avenue, is to be married to Fred Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Doyle, of Front street, at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. The ceremony will be performed at St. John's church by Rev. E. J. Dunphy. After the ceremony a reception will be held at the bride's home, after which the couple will depart for Washington on their honeymoon. Upon their return they will make their home with the bride's mother.

WAGON BROKE DOWN.

A rear spring of George A. Schenck's ice wagon broke in front of the residence of William E. Terry on Washington avenue, yesterday morning, causing three three hundred pound cakes of ice to fall out of the back of the wagon. It is considered most fortunate that no kids were on the back of the wagon at the time as they would surely have been seriously injured if not killed.

After the shakeup caused by the Democrats putting a ticket in the field last year politics in the borough have again gone back to where they were before and it was left to the Democrats of the township to keep the ball a rolling and they declare they are going to give the Republicans a tight run for honors in the way of local offices.

mittee, and the following members of the organizers committee, of which the president, Mrs. Feickert, is chairman; Mrs. J. Thompson Baker and Miss Frances Baker, Cape May county; Mrs. F. H. Colvin, Essex county, Mrs. L. H. Cummings, Middlesex county; Mrs. Marion Holmes, Gloucester county; Mrs. George G. Scott, Passaic county; Miss Florence Halsey, Bergen county; Miss Mary W. Lippincott, Burlington county, and Mrs. C. B. Wilson, Cumberland county.

Among the prominent speakers will be Mayor Charles H. Ellis, of Camden; Miss Fola La Follette, Mrs. Philip McKim Garrison, chairman of the joint legislative committee of the New Jersey Suffrage Organizations, as well as vice president of the Orange branch of the State Association; Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the National Congressional Union, a representative of the National Congressional Committee; Miss Maud Gorman Basset, vice president of the Pennsylvania Suffrage Association.

One thing which especially emphasizes the growing importance of woman suffrage is the fact that most of the leading Jersey papers, as well as several New York and Philadelphia papers, are to send special representatives to the convention. At the convention dinner on the evening of the sixth, Miss Elizabeth Pope, of Jersey City, will preside at the press table, at which will be seated the newspaper representatives and the local suffrage press chairmen from all over the State. Miss Ada Fuller, of the Jersey City Journal, will speak at the Saturday afternoon session on "Co-operating With the Press."

Through the courtesy of the Mayor and Common Council of Camden the business sessions of the convention will be held in the Council chamber of the City Hall. The event mass meeting, at which the suffragists expect to celebrate many victories in the western States on the preceding Tuesday, will be held in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. building.

SCHOOL SYSTEM IS FAULTY

that if they were also interested in improving, for example, the fire department, there would be an inducement to consider its needs as well as school needs. In the Council when we work on the city budget we must consider all the department requirements, streets, police, fire, lighting, health, etc. We co-operate; and we do not decide how much we will appropriate for any one of them until we know in detail the needs of every other. We finish this work in March; and then before we can know positively what we can afford to spend, we have to sit back until May to hear from the School Board. Could anything be more unbusinesslike?

"I claim that the natural tendency is not for rigid economy where a department, like the schools, is managed by an outside Board unrelated to the other city departments. The natural tendency is for the School Board, unintentionally no doubt and perhaps unknown to themselves, to ride a hobby. The inducement is for them to make a record in results; to point with pride to our schools as the finest in the country. It is human nature. You can't get away from it.

"You ask, what are we going to do about it? I believe in our State system, generally speaking. It is not a matter to be left wholly to communities. Free public schools are the very basis of our democratic institutions. Yet the State laws can go too far. Beyond the requirements of that kind of free schooling which is necessary to good, intelligent citizenship, the people who pay should be able to say what sort of schools they want.

"In the meantime there are some practical things which we can do. The School Board can make it easier for the Mayor and Council members of the School Boar of Estimate to act intelligently on the school budget. It comes pretty near to being a farce, the way the school budget is now approved. No man can vote intelligently on a $225,000 budget in one evening. The city's representatives should be let into the School Board meetings when the estimates are being made up.

"In the same way I believe that we can work out economies in some of the city departments by co-operation in management, as by meetings of the chairmen of important committees to discuss together the requirements of the various departments. The people are jointly concerned over their taxes. It does not help us very much to hold back the tax rate if we increase the assessments. For every $1,000,000 increase in ratables we pay out, I believe about $3,500 additional money is turned over to the county.

"Municipal government is rather crude. With taxes going up all the time, the taxpayers want to know what they are getting for it. These are times of industrial depression. People have to economize in their personal affairs, and more than ever it is the duty of the government to economize in public affairs. It is not wholly a question of what we would like to have, but a very serious question of what we can afford.

"And so it seems to me that the only issue in this campaign so far as our city is concerned, is that men shall be elected who will apply business principles to a business proposition, and get together in a non-partisanship effort to secure the greatest degree of efficiency at a minimum of cost, cutting out all unnecessary expense. And since all classes of people and all sections of the city contribute to the general expense, there should be a perfectly fair distribution of advantages conferred. The requirements and needs of each section should be carefully considered. People are always better satisfied if they are fairly represented. This should be a guide in the choice of men for public service.

"I think the suggestion that the assessment rolls be published is deserving of consideration. There may be some objections to the plan. But if the tendency would be in the direction of a greater degree of equality, the advantages may outweigh the disadvantages. Nothing is more difficult than to assess fairly. We should welcome anything which will help."

GOOD CITIZENS.

A most striking example of good citizenship is to be found in front of the Plainfield newspaper bulletins. Men of all nationalities meet there to read the successes or reverses of their brothers across the Atlantic. Yet Slav and German, or Austrian and English, discuss the events of the war and remain peaceful citizens.

America has been called a melting pot. Today there are the various foreign quarters where the percentage of Europe's hordes, which have sought new opportunities in America, congregate and continue racial customs. As they become Americanized they move into the sections where the children of all nations dwell side by side in peace.

Before the newspaper bulletins representatives of all these races meet in their eager search for news from the lands of their nativity. The Teuton is cheered by the reverses suffered by the British. The Briton rejoices when the allies meet with successes. An inherent trait holds the sympathies of men to the land of their fathers.

It is not to be supposed that the Plainfield man of foreign birth and with brothers and cousins and maybe a father in one of the vast armies that are sweeping over Europe can view the situation imparitally. It cannot be assumed that the average German considers Europe's war absolutely without prejudice, and the same may be said of the son of any other nation now involved in warfare. Their sympathies are governed, just as the sympathy of an American in faraway Japan would be affected by anything American.

But there is something in the atmosphere of the land of personal liberty that prevents prejudice and bias from developing passions that lead to strife. Before the bulletins stand sons of all of Europe's nations reading the news from home, now cheered by successes of armed forces or again depressed by reverses. They discuss with each other the progress of the war, and occasionally their arguments become heated, but never is physical violence provoked.

The melting pot is doing its work. By this process the foreigner becomes the hyphenated American and finally the 100 per cent. pure American. And Americans love peace, both personal and national.

NO TROUBLE AT ALL.

Under the heading: "Plainfield Troubles," the Newark Call issues the following warning to motorists.

A reader has requested the Sunday Call to warn motorists that arrests are being made in Plainfield by uniformed policemen for insufficient cause. The writer makes the charge that the cases are misrepresented by the policemen in court and that safety demands that a motorist protect himself by obtaining witnesses immediately. The writer of the letter does not sign himself. The Sunday Call suggests that he or any other motorist encountering this difficulty notify Commissioner Job H. Lippincott, at Trenton, the Associated Automobile Clubs of New Jersey and the Plainfield newspapers, giving the details of the affair, including the officer's number.

This is another case where a coward, afraid to make his or her name known, has sought to misrepresent conditions in Plainfield, where the police are making a strenuous effort to break up auto speeding. Not a person has been brought into the local courts, with one exception, in which the police have not done their full duty. In the case mentioned Judge DeMeza soon let the arrested chauffeur go, with a rebuke to the policeman who made the arrest. The Plainfield police have been told to see that the law is obeyed, and they are trying to do so. If the law is too strict, there is no excuse for a complaint about the Plainfield enforcement of it. The law is there, and the police have found that the only way to break up speeding and other violations is to enforce the act literally, no matter whether is imposes hardship or not. We fear that if the advice of the Call is taken, and the local newspapers notified, the complainants will find that the suggestion made is very ill-timed.

Plainfielders do not want to forget that there are several residents of this city on the ticket which will be presented to them at next Tuesday's election, all of whom would make faithful public servants. George W. V. Moy is running for Congress, Mayor Percy H. Stewart is seeking the State Senatorship, former City Judge William N. Runyon will undoubtedly be elected to the Assembly, and Frank H. Smith, the present efficient county registrar, who has held the office since it was first created, and has brought it to a high state of efficiency, closes the list.

For the sake of those fellows who "never take any interest in politics" it might be remarked that while they only have to be citizens to vote, they have to do a good deal more than vote in order to be good citizens.

As a correspondent suggests, it is time to quit saying "Sit still, you're rocking the boat, and substitute "Pull on the oars and pull hard!"

Judging from the speeches and declarations of the candidates for Mayor, the Board of Education is in for a hot time, no matter who gets elected.

There are not any ruined castles in this country, but there are a few places in the city that are not so old that look just as bad.

What some homes in Plainfield need is not new tango steps, but new front ones.

A drink on the house never puts a shingle on yours.

MISS GERTRUDE O'BLENIS WEDS B. A. POLHEMUS

Miss Gertrude B. O'Blenis, daughter of John O'Blenis, and Benjamin A. Polhemus, both of Westfield, were married yesterday afternoon, by Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, pastor of the First M. E. church, this city. The ceremony was performed at the home of the officiating clergyman on Central avenue.

Those who attended the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. Russell I. Hoff, sister and brother-in-law of the bride, and the bride's father. After a trip the couple will reside at Westfield. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Polhemus, of New York.

SOMERVILLE REPUBLICANS HOLD ENTHUSIASTIC RALLY

Republicans of Somerset county held an enthusiastic rally in Germania Hall, Somerville, last night, speeches being made by James A. Metz, Jr., secretary of the county committee; G. A. Kipsey, of North Plainfield borough, and Herman Moosebrugger, chairman of the Board of the Epileptic Village at Skillman. The meeting was largely attended and the issues were well presented by the speakers. All of the speakers were loudly applauded for the expression of their views on political topics pertinent to that unit.

The keynote of the speeches was the curtailment of exorbitant government expense and the elimination of taxation of everything to raise revenue for unnecessary and extravagant purposes.

James Watkins' Peril

By George I. Sill.

"Pay up or get out!"

Rudely awakened from his cogitations as to whether the Tompkins Lumber Company would ever be resurrected and he installed again as its manager, James Watkins looked and saw his landlady who with these words and not waiting for permission, had entered the "fourth story back." Her appearance indicated that mentally and physically, she was far from normal.

"Why, Mrs. Harker," begun Watkins, "as I told you, I'm waiting——"

"I know you are," she snapped, "you've been doing that for a month, but you won't do it in this place any more; it's cash on the spot or I'll throw your things out of the room."

"Well no," said James calmly. "I'd hardly care to let you throw anything of mine out of the room."

"You wouldn't eh?—you'd hardly care! We'll see about that right now; suppose I begin with the picture of that pasty looking girl over there, how'd that do?"—and before James could intercept her, Mrs. Harker had crossed the room, snatched from the wall a gilt framed picture of his beloved Adeline and thrown it into the hall.

Watkins now suspected he had a maniac to deal with and being slightly built, gazed with some uneasiness at the two hundred and fifty pounds avoirdupois embodied in Mrs. Harker's stalwart form, which was not allayed as he recolleteed how extensively the lady, two or three years before, had been advertised on the vaudeville stage as the "strong woman." Nevertheless James was no coward and at once started to put the resolution he had formed to eject Mrs. Harker, into effect; the grossly inaccurate comment on Adeline's picture aided and abetted him. He therefore placed a firm hand on each of the lady's shoulders—it was to be a short swift run to the door for her—and pushed; but he might as well have attempted to change the position of the great pyramid, for Mrs. Harker steadfastly refused to budge. Instead, she drew a revolver from under her apron, carefully laid it on a table and before James could get at it, seized him and hurled him backward to the floor. When he arose, Mrs. Harker and the pistol confronted him. He grappled with her, fortunately grasping the hand that held the pistol, while chairs, washstand and table were overturned and the weapon discharged twice, during the struggle which ensued.

Suddenly, the woman threw the pistol away and with almost superhuman strength and rapidity embraced Watkins at the back, pinned his arms to his sides as in a vise and began to carry him to the open window. When he saw her object, he yelled and struggled frantically, he kicked and tried to trip her up; once he caught his foot in the brass bedstead, but this retarded their progress for a moment only. Mrs. Harker seemed of iron; powerless in her frenzied grasp James was soon brought close to the window. He put his foot against the sill and braced himself with all his strength; she pulled him back a little, lifted him up and then—the sound of a firearm was heard!—Mrs. Harker's hold relaxed, she dropped to the floor and blood oozed from a bullet hole in the forehead.

To the boarders who had rushed in, all evidence seemed to point to James Watkins as the murderer—Mrs. Harker lying dead, the pistol on the floor and the presence and evident confusion of James himself. As a summoned policeman was about to take him into custody a dapper individual entered the room, pushed himself to the front and waving his hat enthusiastically shouted:

"I did it! I did it! I saved the young man's life; that she-devil tried to throw him out of the window, but I was too quick for her—bully good shot that!"—and Mr. Bisley, who had won international fame as a marksman, further explained how from his window across the yards, he had heard the pistol shots and seeing the struggle, was on the point of going around to enter the house when Mrs. Harker finally succeeded in getting James to the window. He realized her intention of throwing him out, and that time was precious—the rest followed.

"Mrs. Harker," said one of the housemaids present, "was sure th' fiercest dope loidy ever, if she didn't lock herself in her room an hit in pipe, I should worry! Manny's th' time I see the poil handled gun in her shiffonyay."

There had to be a trial, however, at which James and Mr. Bisley were honorably discharged. As James left the court room he was joined by Adeline who after hearty congratulations, handed him a letter and said:

"I know how you just hated to go to that horrid old boardinghouse, so I stopped and got your mail."

They turned off at the next corner and James read the letter aloud: It was as follows:

Mr. James Watkins,
Dear Sir

The Tompkins Lumber Company has been reorganized and will commence operations the first of next month. I am instructed to tender you your former position with the company as general manager at a salary of two thousand dollars per annum. An early answer will much oblige.

Yours very truly,
LIVINGSTON R. DODGE,
Sec'y

It was a quiet street where they were, and James took chances; he hugged and kissed Adeline right then and there.

"Now," said he, "we can get married!"

"All right!" said Adeline.

POLITICAL NOTES.

October 27—Secretary of Commerce William F. Redfield, personal representative of President Wilson, addresses mass meeting, probably in Gordon Hippodrome, Elizabeth.

October 27—Final registration day in municipalities of less than 5,000 inhabitants.

October 29—United States District Attorney J. Warren Davis and Senator Hennessy, of Bergen county, address Democratic rally in Gordon Hippodrome Hall, Elizabeth.

October 30—Congressman Kinkead and Prosecutor Stein speak at Democratic meetings in St. Patrick's and Sacred Heart parish halls, Elizabeth.

October 31—Prosecutor Martin P. Devlin addresses Democratic open-air rally in South Park street, Elizabeth, outside Americus Club. Another county tour tentatively arranged.

November 3—Election Day.

The reasons for the slump in the Singer Manufacturing Company's business, and the resulting lay-off of 2,000 out of the 8,000 employes, will be diagnosed next Monday noon in speeches at the factory by ex-Congressman Charles N. Fowler, William L. Stuchell and the Republican counsel candidates. Lest Democratic oratory cause them to forget the tariff bill and its disastrous effect on the Singer employes, they will be reminded up on the eve of casting their votes," said a Republican leader today. The holding of other similar rallies at the county factories during the week is considered a masterstroke on the part of the Republican campaign managers, and as sufficient to swing the balance unquestionably in favor of John H. Capstick. The busy night schedule arranged for the Democratic candidates looks less praiseworthy in comparison.

Frank Ambler Parrison, who lives just "t'y other side of Alwa," in Colonia, is busy in the Progressive cause these days. Mr. Parrison, Mrs. wife is also a worker of tried and genuine ability. She is chairman of the Progressive State Committee, and he was last heard from in the hills of Sussex.

Professor James C. Monaghan, of Bayonne, the noted lecturer, is expected to leave in a few weeks for Kingston, Jamaica, having been appointed to the consulship there by President Wilson. Professor Monaghan is especially well known in Knights of Columbus circles.

The adjournment of Congress came as welcome news to Congressman William E. Tuttle, Jr. While he had spent several days this month in the district, he has been campaigning as "a man on the job," and if the session were prolonged further, he left called upon to continue his faithfulness in attendance. That was good dope a few weeks ago, but at this stage, would have been almost disastrous, especially when it is remembered that the New York press is predicting Mr. Capstick's victory.

GIRL INCORRIGIBLE.

Charged with incorrigibility, fourteen-year-old Violet Jenkins, colored, was arraigned in the city court, this morning, and Judge DeMeza placed her in the custody of Miss Mabelle Phillips, agent for the local charity organization, who will have her placed in an institution. The girl was arrested on the complaint of her mother, who lives in Fanwood.

ENJOYING VACATION.

Charles Press W. Bailey, of Duer street, is the last of the force to enjoy an annual vacation, which he is taking at present. He and Mrs. Bailey left today for Washington, where they will remain for a time.

If you happen to be Out of Work but the unemployed may soon be able to procure something to do if they will leave their names at the Mayor's office, in the City Building, North Avenue. tf

LECTURER SHOWS ORIENTAL VIEWS

Exclusive Slides Presented by Former State Senator E. R. Ackerman.

MANY ENTERTAINED

Affair Given Under the Auspices of Trinity Reformed Church Dutch Arms Featured by Illustrated Talk on China and Japan.

Many attended the "ladies' night" entertainment in Trinity Reformed church, last night, held under the auspices of the Dutch Arms. Nearly three hundred guests were entertained by an illustrated lecture on the "Orient," by former State Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, being the feature event on the evening's program. Other portions of the program comprised selections rendered by the Trinity church Sunday-school orchestra, and a trombone and cornet duet by Leslie Leland and Edmund D. Young, accompanied at the piano by Wendell C. Glover.

Preceding the evening's social program a short business session was held and seven new names were received into membership. In his address Senator Ackerman gave a graphic account of his travels through China, Japan and the Philippine and Hawaiian Islands. His talk was illustrated by stereopticon slides made from photographs taken by the speaker on his trip. It was the first time that they have ever been shown in this country and were the source of keen interest. The views were beautifully colored and depicted scenes typical of the countries which were represented. In speaking of China, Senator Ackerman said that the progress which the empire has made during the last score of years is most remarkable and that if the Chinese advance as rapidly in the next twenty years they will be one of the most powerful nations on the globe.

One of the most interesting of the many things described by the speaker was the Temple of Heaven in the Forbidden City of Pekin, where the former Emperor went to worship the unknown God. This temple is a magnificent piece of Oriental architecture elaborately colored after the Chinese style of decorations. It was described by the lecturer as being ninety feet in heighth and covering a wide area.

He showed pictures of the smaller temples where the writings of Confucius are engraved on stone tablets to prevent destruction. They have been handed down through centuries and are still in a remarkable state of preservation. In showing views of the Great Wall of China, formerly used to keep the mongrel hordes out of the Sacred City, Mr. Ackerman stated that many sections of these walls had been allowed to decay. He presented interesting pictures of Mukden, capital of Manchuria, where are to be found the remains of the great empire.

In showing views in Korea on the screen the speaker described the peculiar style of dress and customs typical of the natives. Native scenes and industries were occasion for considerable wonderment and interest on the part of the audience. A picture of a religious procession in Japan was among the features, and one particular scene showed the gods being taken on a vacation from their winter to summer home.

Pictures of the scenery and commercial products of the Hawaiian Islands completed the lecture after which refreshments were served by the good and welfare committee composed of the following: Arthur B. Davis, chairman; M. Stevens, E. K. Schomp, J. Dean, C. H. Harvey, R. Cutter, S. A. Stover, H. R. Sturges, L. Newman, A. Hedrick, W. H. Olmsted.

SET ASIDE $2,500 TO PURCHASE LAND

Borough Board of Education Made Appropriation for Harrison Avenue Lot.

Members of the North Plainfield Board of Education at their monthly meeting, last night, set aside an appropriation of $2,500 for the purchase of a tract of land on Harrison avenue for the borough school. Title to the property will be passed during the week. The matter of authorizing the building of the new structure was deferred until the next meeting owing to the fact that Chairman J. A. VanMater, of the building and grounds committee was absent.

The finance committee reported that the money for school bonds sold to A. B. Leach and Company, of New York city, had been received and deposited. Bills amounting to $6,500 were ordered paid, including $2,500 for remodeling and repairs to the borough schools, and $3,200 for teachers' salaries. A demand was made for new typewriters in the High School commercial department and the matter turned over to the supply committee. Supervising Principal D. Fred Aungst was unable to be present at the meeting owing to illness.

URGES EXERCISE OF HONEST NEUTRALITY

Pastoral Letter of the House of Bishops Read in Episcopal Churches.

The pastoral letter of the House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church, which has just been issued and which was read in all the Episcopal churches, last Sunday, has attracted considerable attention because of its timely suggestions in view of the European war. The letter which is addressed to the clergy and laity, is as follows:

"Your House of Bishops, assembled in the city of Minneapolis to elect missionary bishops, cannot adjourn without sending you this message.

"The war in Europe, which brings immeasurable and universal sorrow and distress, lays upon the Christian people of this country peculiar responsibilities and opportunities. Accepting in loyalty and with gratitude the leadership of the President of the United States in the cause of peace in both Europe and America, we urge that you, as brethren of the people of all nations, you sustain a spirit of forebearance, be careful in expressions of judgment, and while not unthoughtful, and still less unfeeling, encourage the exercise of an honest neutrality.

In the presence of this distress, we urge simplicity and economy in expenditure, and such restrain in pleasures and luxuries as will express the seriousness of temper consonant with the afflictions and sorrows of our bretheren. We urge all people to continue to pray, and pray earestly, to God for peace, such as will bring justice and international good-will.

We also urge that in view of the great destruction of property and shrinkage of incomes, the spirit of self-sacrifice be called into willing action, that so the benevolences and beneficiences of religion, charity and missions may not suffer loss. This is the more imperative, in view of the fact that for the time being the burden of the world's work is likely to fall chiefly upon the shoulders of Christian America, and the leadership in these activities is thrust into our hands.

"Amidst the shakings of the powers of the earth stand eternal forces of God's Spirit; under His providence these forces give protection and make for freedom, justice and peace. Let our faith in them and the power of their might be strong; and when peace shall have been restored, may we with grateful hearts take up resolutely and cheerily the duties of peace."

NARDINI MAKES A HIT AS PROCTOR'S HEADLINER

Coach P. V. Martin, of the Holy Cross football team, has issued a call for practice on Marshall Field, tonight, and all men are urged to be out. The practice will not be very long and several new plays will be tried.

The members of the team have great hopes of winning their first game from the Franklins next Saturday, the team that tied them in the first game of the season. The practice tonight will start at 7:45 sharp.

PLAINFIELD ELKS WILL MEET RUTHERFORD NEXT

The Plainfield Elks do not roll again in the Senior League till Thursday, when the Rutherford team visits this city and meets Nash's team on the Watchung avenue alleys. The Queen City "Bills" have not yet taken a match and will be out for at least two games from the Rutherfords.

There will be one match played tonight, when the Jersey City team travels to Rahway. Thursday night, Elizabeth and Paterson will get into action on the Silk City alleys.

MARTIN WILL TRAIN IN FLORIDA WITH TEAM

Unless there is an unexpected hitch the Phillies will train at St. Petersburg, Fla., next spring. President Baker has virtually closed the arrangements. It will be the first time the team has gone so far South. The previous longest trip was to Savannah.

Jack Martin will be there at the first call for the team to report for the preliminary practice.

INTERESTING BASEBALL RECORDS ARE COMPILED

Some interesting baseball information is found in the statistics compiled at the close of the season, covering the work of the sixteen clubs composing the National and American Leagues. Between April 4 and October 7, 2,568 games were played—1,250 in the National League and 1,258 in the American. National League clubs scored 4,802 runs, 10,021 hits, and 2,146 errors; American League clubs, 4,596 runs, 10,020 hits, 2,148 errors, giving the senior association the advantage of one hit and two less errors.

In the National League the New York Giants made the most runs and Brooklyn the most hits, while Philadelphia and Cincinnati tied with the greatest number of errors. The Philadelphia Athletics led the American League with 749 runs and 1,381 hits, while making the lowest number of errors. Detroit was second in runs and hits, with the New York Yankees second lowest in errors during the season.

GILMORE A FRIEND, HE SAYS.

Apropos of a suit for $30,000 on a charge of conspiracy brought by James E. Gaffney, the president of the Boston Nationals, against James A. Gilmore for the seduction of Pitcher Jack Quinn, from the Braves, the Federal president considers himself the aggrieved party and is thinking even of suing Gaffney for part of the world's series spoils. "If anybody in this world should be grateful to me it is Gaffney," said Gilmore. "Do you know that he had traded Rudolph and Gowdy to Rochester for Quinn? The deal, of course, was canceled when Quinn went to the Baltimore Federals. And to think that I am expected to pay $30,000 for such a courtesy!"

SEVERAL BIG SCORES IN K. OF C. TOURNEY

Kiely Rolls 279, 225 and 258 and Taylor and Shannon Also Pin Well.

Some high scores were rolled in the Knights of Columbus tournament last night, and in the first contest of the evening, between Kiely and Shannon the score was tied at the end of the last frame. Many two hundred scores were registered and Kiely took four games out of six, increasing his average. With scores of 171 each in the first game, Kiely and Shannon had to roll off to decide the winner and Shannon came out ahead, getting a 10 while the chief made 9. After losing the first game in the eleventh frame, Kiely came back in the second setto and made high score of the night, the tallies being 279 to 156. That showing was too much for Shannon and he went way off in the third game, dropping it to Kiely, who hit the wood for 225 while his opponent went up to 179.

Taylor took three straight from Caulfield, the third being the only exciting game of the match. Caulfield fell sixteen points short in the first and could not touch Taylor's 223 in the second. He forced his opponent to the limit in the third game, however, and only four points separated the scores. They were 193 to 189.

Shannon and Taylor then hooked up and the former took the first pair of games with two hundred scores and at the end of the third roll was one point short. The scores of the games were 226 to 178, 200 to 192 and 180 to 181. Kiely took two falls out of Caulfield, dropping the middle game when Caulfield made an even 200. The chief soared up to 258 in the first game and went down to 180 in the second, which his opponent annexed. The third and deciding roll was close, the final scores being 174 to 169 in Kiely's favor. The scores:

Kiely	171	279	225
Shannon	171	156	179
E. Taylor	174	223	193
Caulfield	158	162	189
Shannon	226	200	180
E. Taylor	178	192	181
Caulfield	144	200	169
Kiely	258	180	174

MRS. STOCKTON IS AGAIN A WINNER

Awarded Gross Score Prize in Last One Day Tournament Yesterday.

With a record number of ninety-nine starters, a one day golf tournament for women was run off yesterday, over the links of the Essex County Country Club. After all the scores were returned it was found that Mrs. L. L. Blake, of Cranford, had won the net prize with a card of 90, 7-83. Many of the players, however, preferred to withdraw.

At one time it looked as if Mrs. Blake and Mrs. Leo F. F. Wanner, of the home club, would have to play off for the gross prize, both with scores of 90, but Mrs. H. R. Stockton, of Plainfield, one of the last to start, returned with a card of 89. This makes the second tournament in succession in which Mrs. Stockton has carried off the gross award.

By way of novelty the club gave the women a chance to compete in a putting contest simultaneously with the handicap. In other words, they had to keep track of the number of putts on the round, and Mrs. Perry Ingalls, of the home club, won with 31. Miss Bertha Stratton, of Cranford, had 32. In the driving competition, Mrs. A. B. Holden, of Essex county, and Mrs. Charles L. Greenhall, of Hollywood, tied with a total of 460 yards for three balls. Mrs. Holden won the play-off, but her opponent received a second prie, presented by Dave Hunter, the club's professional. Mrs. Stockton's card was as follows:

Out ..3 6 6 5 4 5 6 7 6—48
In ...9 4 4 3 5 5 4 3 4—41—89

The Plainfield and Westfield scores that were returned are as follows: Mrs. H. R. Stockton, Plainfield, 89, 3-86; Mrs. McIntosh, Westfield, 115, 22-93; Mrs. H. S. Avery, Plainfield, 111, 16-95; Mrs. Mabie, Westfield, 123, 25-98; Miss H. Harmon, Plainfield, 121, 22-99; Miss Beatrice Hedges, Plainfield, 118, 15-103; Miss H. Gardner, Westfield, 121, 18-103; Mrs. E. H. Manvel, Westfield, 118, 12-106; Mrs. C. P. Tyler, Plainfield, 124, 16-108; Mrs. A. Mattlach, Westfield, 117, 10-107; Mrs. E. P. Worth, Westfield, 143, 25-113; Mrs. Lane, Westfield, 153, 25-128.

PRINCETON CLUB CUP GOES TO BLANCHARD

President Samuel T. Carter, Jr., Makes Award to Grammar School Player.

Samuel T. Carter, Jr., president of the Princeton University Club, of this city, was a guest of the student body at the assembly exercises in the Plainfield High School Auditorium, this morning, and at that time awarded the interscholastic tennis trophy to Davis Blanchard who won it in the recent tournament. It is the annual custom of the club to offer a silver loving cup for the individual tennis singles championship to be decided in a tournament in which the Plainfield and North Plainfield High Schools and Leal School are competitors.

It has fallen to the lot of a Plainfield High School athlete to win this trophy ever since it was originally offered, up to this year, but Blanchard is still a student in the grammar grades and thus the 1914 laurels go to the lower division. The fact that the 1914 victor has four years of High School competition ahead of him is a criterion of the Plainfield institution's prospects of holding the laurels for that length of time at least.

WATER POLO RULES HAVE BEEN ENTIRELY REVISED

The graduate committee of the Intercollegiate Swimming Association has undertaken to revise the rules now governing college water polo and will submit the new code to the Amateur Athletic Union for recognition.

Captains of the university teams holding membership in the league were requested some time ago to offer suggestions for the improvement of the game, and their ideas, as well as those of the graduate delegates, will be presented and discussed at a general meeting to be held shortly.

No important changes are likely, for the rules adopted a year ago proved satisfactory, on the whole, in last season's championship tournament, but situations not thoroughly covered arose in the big matches, and these it is proposed to thrash out at the coming season.

The idea of asking the Amateur Athletic Union to recognize the collegiate game was prompted by the action of the governing body last winter in forbidding absolutely the American type of water polo and including the collegiate style, in spite of modifications which have eliminated from it all the objectionable features of the former game.

While the league officials realize that soccer water polo has been universally accepted as the national game, they believe there is no reason to prohibit exhibitions and matches at their own style of play between the 'varsity teams and athletic clubs, now that practical experiments have shown the possibility of keeping the game free from all rough undesirable tactics.

000 was cabled to Vienna.

London, Oct. 27.—A news agency despatch from Amsterdan says that a message from Terneuzen, Holland, to the Courant, reports that the Germans continue to send great forces of troops to the westward and southwestward. The despatch says further that the allies who approached Thielt on Saturday, were repulsed by fresh German troops. On Sunday about 10,000 Austrians arrived at Ghent, where only a few Germans remained, the despatch says.

A despatch from Vienna says that the following official communication, signed by General Von Hoefer, was given out there today: "In the fighting before Ivangorod we have up to the present time captured 8,000 Russians and 19 machine guns. Near Jaroslau, a Russian colonel and 200 soldiers were forced to surrender. Near Zalucze and in the vicinity of Pasieczna, the enemy has been driven back. The situation generally is unchanged."

Paris, Oct. 27 (Central News Cable).—The German armies operating against the French left wing between the River Oise and the sea, commanded by General Von Buelow, the Crown Prince of Bavaria and the Duke of Wuertemburg, are the last of the available German fighting forces in Belgium. General Von Kluck remains in command of the army on the River Ainse. The latest engagements reported in this region, in the north of France, have been deadly for the Germans

Vienna, Oct. 27.—An official statement given out last night, says strong Servian and Montenegrin forces who had entered southeast Bosnia have been defeated in a three days' battle and are now retreating.

Johannesburg, South Africa, Oct. 27 (Central News Cable).—Another defeat for the South African rebels is officially communicated in a statement given out by the Government here. The statement relates that in a telegram received from Colonel Van Der Venter, in Calvinia, about 200 miles north of Capetown, and 100 miles inland from the Atlantic coast, states that he is engaging a portion of the rebel forces and a number of Germans who are with them. Ninety-one rebels, including four officers, have surrendered to the Nandes Scouts. He captured two maxim guns and a number of rifles. The maxims belonged to the union defence forces. Their crews, who had refused to serve against the union, had been made prisoners by the Germans.

At the time of wiring Colonel Van Der Venter was still engaging the enemy. It is officially announced that Colonel Maritz, the leader of the rebels, tried to induce Colonel Brits to rebel also, writing to him, as "My dear old Brits, who fought with me in the South African War." In a long letter he says: "I have declared South Africa independent." Colonel Maritz, in this leter, mentions the terms under which the German Government will treat with South Africa, including independence for it, Germany to have Walfish Bay and the islands opposite German southwest Africa. It is mentioned also that South Africa may annex Delagoa Bay. If the rebellion fails the rebels entering German territory will be treated as German subjects.

Pekin, Oct. 27.—The Chinese government has demanded the immediate surrender of the Japanese torpedo boat that entered Chinese waters after the wreck of the German torpedo boat F-90.

WANT PERMANENT MEANS OF DESTROYING CANINES

Considerable discussion was brought forth at a meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals held in the Y. M. C. A., yesterday afternoon, concerning the possibility of securing a new means of destroying dogs that are impounded and unclaimed. Heretofore the city has used the gas tank at the Rushmore Dynamo Works but the municipality was recently deprived of this asset, the factory having passed into new hands.

It is probable that the matter of having some permanent method adopted by the city will be taken up after the November election. The society appointed a committee to further plans for the proposed Band of Mercy to be started by the organization.

—You may have an immediate task for a want ad—and yet not act wisely in failing to read them day by day.

GIRL CHEMISTRY STUDENTS HURT WHEN ACID EXPLODED

Three pupils in the North Plainfield High School chemical class sustained minor injuries yesterday afternoon when some hydrogen with which they were performing an experiment, exploded. A number of glass test tubes which were being used were broken and the flying pieces of glass cut the pupils about the hands.

What made the element explode is a mystery, but several of those nearby at the time narrowly missed being hit in the face with the pieces of broken glass. Medical treatment was necessary in one case. Those injured were the Misses Emma Ryno, Amelia Brizzie and Helen Yates.

BIBLE SCHOOL TEACHERS DISCUSS MODERN METHODS

The officers and teachers of the First Baptist church met last night in the church parlors and after the routine business had been transacted an informal discussion took place on the methods of teaching and other subjects relating to the school.

The reports of the missionary and excursion committees were read and also those of the junior, intermediate and senior department superintendents. Daniel R. Douglas, of Grove street, was elected into the teachers' corps.

DECISION IN FRANK CASE IN NOVEMBER

Atlanta, Oct. 27.—Decision in the case of Leo M. Frank, convisted of the murder of Mary Phagan, arguments in whose case were made before the State Supreme Court, yesterday, in a motion to set aside the verdict of guilty, is expected to be handed down early in November. If the motion is denied Frank's attorneys have decided to carry the case to the Supreme Court of the United States. If the verdict is sustained an appeal will then be made to the Governor of the State as a final effort to save the condemned man's life.

Frank's friends declare that if either the State Supreme Court or the United States Supreme Court grant the motion for a new trial it will mean that he will go scot free, claiming that as he was not in court when the verdict of guilty was announced at the time of his trial he cannot be tried again on the same charge.

The evangelistic services which were inaugurated at Grace M. E. church, the borough, last week, were continued last evening, at which time Rev. Frederic J. Hubach, district superintendent of the denomination, preached the sermon. A large congregation was in attendance. Mr. Hubach also sang a solo.

Rev. C. C. Cain, the pastor, will preach at the service this evening, at which time there will be special music. The Women's Foreign Missionary Society will have charge of the service tomorrow vening, at which time Mrs. Emily March will be the speaker.

Henry Schoppe, court crier, of Rahway, who was injured in the same crash, will leave the institution this afternoon for his home. George Yorke, of this city, sergeant-at-arms at the local District Court, likewise an automobile accident victim, also left the hospital yesterday afternoon.

COUNSEL TESTIFIES IN HARDY HEARING

Witnesses Claim That Defendant Was Domineering in Attitude Toward Wife.

Additional testimony in the hearing to establish the ownership of $300,000 worth of securities left by the late Mrs. Hannah H. Hardy, of this city, was taken before Vice Chancellor Howell in the Newark Chancery Court, yesterday. The court action was instituted by Henry V. A. Parsell, Mrs. Hardy's son by a former marriage, against his step-father, Colonel John M. Hardy. William A. Coddington, of this city, counsel for the defendant, took the stand yesterday and testified that Mrs. Hardy came to him in 1909 to have her will drawn. She had drafted the document in her own handwriting and after it had been typewritten she made several changes in it. Mr. Coddington also told of withdrawing Mrs. Hardy's will from a vault in the Plainfield Trust Company several months ago.

That Mr. Hardy appeared domineering in his attitude toward Mrs. Hardy was the testimony of Clarence B. Pierce, a clerk in the Bank of the Metropolis, New York. The witness produced the bank records, showing that Mrs. Hardy and her son rented a safe deposit vault from December, 1904, until November, 1905.

The next witness was Miss Mary E. Coleman, a dressmaker, at 61 West Thirty-seventh street, New York city. She made gowns and dresses for Mrs. Hardy for a number of years, and had been on intimate terms with her. The dressmaker said that Mr. and Mrs. Hardy visited her place in the spring of 1906, when Mr. Hardy complained that his wife did not carry out her promise to place her affairs in his hands.

MRS. FLORENCE CARMAN NOT TO BE TRIED AGAIN

Mineola, L. I., Oct. 27—Lewis J. Smith, district attorney of Nassau county, who prosecuted Mrs. Florence C. Carman, announced today that he would take no action to bring her to trial again on the charge of murdering Mrs. Louise Bailey, unless new evidence was discovered. Counsel for Mrs. Carman said they would ask for another trial to bring about her vindication, but it is understood that if the prosecution makes no move in that direction no such action will be taken by the defense.

MISS GRIEVES ADDRESSED THE WESTMINISTER GUILD

The meeting of the Westminster Guild of the Crescent Avenue church, which was held yesterday afternoon in the edifice, was largely attended and those who were present heard a fine talk by Miss Eveline Grieves, of Philadelphia. Miss Grieves was a delegate to the Northfield Conference last summer.

She took for her subject "Children in Heathen Lands," and her talk was exceedingly interesting throughout. Tea was served to the guests after the meeting.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK
When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Lustre and Abundance.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its apppearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Adv.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

Miss Marie Dressler, the most amusing and unusual comedienne on the English-speaking stage, will appear at the Plainfield Theatre, Thursday night, in her newest comedy offering, entitled "A Mix-Up," written for her by Parker A. Hord, a newspaper writer. Miss Dressler is now under the management of the Messrs. Shubert, which is a sufficient guarantee that everything pertaining to both play and production will be of the best. The comedienne appears in the role of a burlesque queen who gets into the wrong apartment by mistake. A young husband who is happily married, finds himself somewhat embarrassed by the unexpected visit of two elderly relatives before he can get rid of the burlesque queen and, of course the relatives conclude that the actress is the wife. There are many amusing complications, which are all straightened out naturally before the fall of the final curtain.

The extravagant tastes of women, which go far beyond anything that their husbands' incomes can satisfy, has led to the destruction of many a happy home, but not until the sensational appearance of "To-Day" had this menace been brought home to the hearts of fashionable New York society. This striking drama which will be seen at the Plainfield Theatre, Saturday, matinee and night, October 31, ran for an entire season at the 48th Street Theatre, New York, where throngs nightly laughed and cried at the moving spectacle of metropolitan life, depicted before their spellbound eyes. From its first presentation "To-Day" created a furore of excitement because of the fact that it broke through the crust of calm and peace that masks the turmoil of so many society women's souls, and showed what a horrible disaster could occur through the wish to keep up appearances. It has long been a contention of European writers, commenting on New York life, that it was the heedless extravagance of women that so often drove their husbands to suicide and ruin, but how frightful could be the result of a reckless wife's love of pretty clothes—which she will do anything to obtain—has never before been shown. Therefore, it is no wonder that this play has been recognized as the most potent influence to deal with this evil that has ever been seen on the stage. "To-Day" is the combined product of George Broadhurst and Abraham Schomer, and has been staged in most lavish manner by the Manuscript Producting Company, Harry VonTilzer, managing editor. The cast that has been selected is an admirable one, including such well-known actors as Hallet Thompson, Arline Hackett, Marie Reichardt, Anton Ascher, Marie Burke, Arthur J. Wood, Marie Dantes, Sarah Hubbard and Frank Stone.

Chauncey Olcott will be seen at the Plainfield Theatre on Tuesday, November 3, in a new Irish romantic comedy by Rachel Crothers. Since Mr. Olcott has been under the direction of Henry Miller he has annually provided notably artistic plays. Miss Crothers was commissioned to furnish the favorite Irish star this season with a comedy which would depart in many ways from the ordinary type of Irish romantic drama and has delighted both the star and those who have seen "The Heart of Paddy Whack" with the results of her work. Mr. Olcott occupies a place pre-eminent importance as the favorite players of Irish romantic roles on our stage. As the barrister whose warm heart and good humor make him the favorite of his circle he is said to have a role which gives him artistic opportunity for playing the sort of comedy and sentiment which he does better than anyone else. With a notable supporting company and stage settings of delightful color and appeal he will be awaited with interest. Mr. Olcott will have several new songs this season and one or two favorites of a past generation.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Arrangements have been made with The Ritz to serve a supper at the High School for the caste of the minstrel show and their friends after the performance on November 7.

The various committees appointed by the presidents of the classes to take charge of the freshman reception, to be held at the school next Saturday night, have all met and are arranging a fine program for the occasion.

Miss Brown was among the Dartmouth rooters at the Princeton-Dartmouth game, Saturday afternoon. Her nephew is a student at that college. Mr. Woodman was also a spectator at the game.

Manager Updike has received a letter from the manager of the East Orange High School football team asking for a game on October 31. As this date was open, owing to the cancellation of South Orange, he immediately accepted it. The game will be played at East Orange.

Miss Grace Nevius, formerly of this city; but now of New York, is the guest of Miss Lillian A. Force, of Duer street.

ADVENTISTS HAVE HAD A FINE YEAR

Marked Progress is Evident in Report Issued by the Governing Body.

LARGE CONTRIBUTIONS

Denomination Has Been Organized Fifty-one Years—964 Young People's Volunteer Missionary Societies Have Been Formed.

Reports of the work done during the past year by members of the Seventh-Day Adventist church have been received from the statistical secretary of the General Conference and indicate marked progress in the accomplishments of the organization. The conference is the governing body of the church and has its headquarters in Washington.

The membership has increased eight thousand, a wonderful growth in tithes and offerings, and the movement itself has penetrated into a number of new countries until the heralding of the message telling of the soon coming of the Saviour, which is one of the principal beliefs of the church, is now being sounded in eighty-five countries. The report, which was sent by H. E. Rogers, is as follows:

"Funds to the amount of $2,866,727.40 (two million dollars, etc.), a per capita of $23.42 for each communicant, were contributed for evangelistic work in the Seventh-Day Adventist denomination during the last fiscal year.

"The net increase over the amount received for the preceding year was $164,528.38, the per cent. of increase being 6.10. Of the total amount contributed, $2,079,238.07 (72.28 per cent.) was raised in North America, $495,418.70 (17.28 per cent.) in Europe; $12,272.70 (.43 per cent.) in Asia; and $279,796.93 (9.76 per cent.) in all other countries. There was received in tithes $1,771,989.60, or 61.81 per cent.; in offerings, $640,373.29, or 23.34 per cent.; by Sabbath-schools in contributions to foreign missions, $291,711.76, or 10.18 per cent.; by church schools for their maintenance, $138,272.55, or 4.82 per cent.; by Missionary Volunteer Societies, $24,380.20, or .85 per cent. The per capita for the 71,863 communicants in North America was $28.93; for 50,525 communicants outside North America, $15.58, an average of $23.42.

"Since this denomination was organized fifty-one years ago there has been contributed for evangelistic work alone a total of $28,585,409.96. Of this amount, $19,720,499.66 (68.99 per cent.) has been tithe; $2,009,206.65 (7.03 per cent.), has been Sabbath-school offerings (of which 80.09 per cent. has been contributed for foreign missions); $3,731,154.65 (13.05 per cent.) has been foreign mission offerings; and $3,124,549.00 (10.93 per cent.) has been home mission offerings. Of that amount $22,279,943.29 (77.94 per cent.) was contributed in North America, and $6 305,446.67 (22.06 per cent.) was raised outside this country.

"There was a gain of 8,180 in the membership for the year, which is the largest gain ever recorded in any year since this work was begun. In North America there were 71,863 communicants; in Europe, 31,772; in Asia, 2,713; in other countries, 16,938. The total baptisms during the year were 12,794. The difference between the number added by baptism and the net gain is 4,614. Deducting the number of deaths, there is left a relatively small number of apostasies from the faith. It is a cause of great satisfaction to note the large number of baptisms during 1913, the number being the largest ever accounted for in any year.

"The number of churches at the close of 1913 was 3,589. This is a gain of 715, or 24.87 per cent. The number of new church members added in 1913 was 16,513. This number is greater than the entire membership of the denomination eighteen years after its organization. It may be explained that the number of members which was transferred during 1913 from companies to churches was 8,333. Deducting this amount from 16,513, the number of new church members added during the year, there is left the net gain in communicants (members of churches, companies and other Sabbath-keepers) namely, 8,180."

The report further says that the denomination is operating in 85 different countries through a force of laborers comprised as follows: 958 ordained ministers, 572 licensed ministers, 1,508 licensed missionaries, 2,060 colporteurs, 1,511 teachers in mission, primary and advanced schools, 734 laborers in denominational publishing houses, 1,727 physicians, nurses and other employes in sanitariums and treatment rooms, and 253 other persons not included in these classes, thus making a total force of 9,172 laborers engaged in all lines of work, or an average of one laborer for every thirteen members.

The report also tells in an extensive manner of the educational system which the denomination conducts in a uniform way throughout the world and also of the 37 publishing houses, which turned out nearly two million dollars' worth of Christian literature during the past year. Of the educational work the report says:

"The following general classes of schools are conducted by the denomination; Primary schools (grade 1-5), of which there are 510, taught by 592 teachers, and having an enrollment of 10,206; and advanced schools (grades 8-16), of which there are 70, taught by 557 teachers, and having an enrollment of 7,563. In addition to these two general classes, there are certain mission schools conducted in non-Christian and non-Protestant countries (a separate report of which is prepared), the present number comprising 206 training schools, head schools and out schools, with a teaching force of 362, and an enrollment of 9,610. Thus the total number of schools conducted by the denomination is 786, taught by 1,511 teachers, and having a total enrollment of 27,379. The total investment in these schools is $2,338,328.14. A total of 828 students were trained in all these schools sufficiently to enter some line of denominational work at the close of the last school year."

Of the publishing houses the report says:

"At the close of 1913 there were 37 publishing houses and branches, having assets amounting to $1,488,388.46, employing 734 persons, and the total denominational literature sales for the year were $1,869,714.48. This literature is issued in the form of approximately 360 bound books, 325 pamphlets, 1,200 tracts, 128 periodicals, in 80 different languages. The total literature sales from the time this work was organized approximate $19,556,590.02. As previously noted, this literature is distributed by 2,060 colporteurs, 805 of whom are in North America, and 1,255 in other countries. Work is being conducted orally in all the 85 countries covered by this cause in 107 languages and dialects.

The total number of Young People's Missionary Volunteer Societies stand at 964, with a membership of 19,428, an annual increase of 5,400, or 38.50 per cent. The per cent. of members belonging to these societies as related to the entire number of communicants is the highest yet attained, being 15.88. The total contributions for the year were $24,380.20, being $1.25 for each member of these societies. Of this amount, $13,432.49 was contributed for foreign missions.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER

Tuesday, October 27th.

A chat about those wonderful shops along Fifth Avenue and near it—despite the unsettled conditions abroad—there is no lack of new things.

"Only just arrived"—we are told—although purchased some weeks ago—is a group of perfectly beautiful imported gowns which I observed at Giddings—that delightfully satisfying shop at 564 Fifth Avenue. I must tell you of one of these dresses in particular—a fascinatingly beautiful Georgette conception of Taffeta Faille in a superb Matrix hue attractive chiefly in its simplicity and the extreme richness of the silk. Wide Skirt? Oh, indeed yes, for Georgette fulfilled such promises some weeks past—five and a half yards around the bottom gives this dress a voluminous silhouette—it clears the ground by fully four inches, rippling gracefully with every turn of the figure. There is a hint of the Casque in the abbreviated waist, while the hips are in no way accentuated for there is a circular yoke-top to the skirt. The only trimmings are twin rose buds of silk chiffon in variegated pinks at intervals quite low on the skirt, and very narrow bands of brilliants on the bodice which branch out into four strands forming shoulder straps. A capivating butterfly bow at the back completes a frock which could be nothing short of stunningly effective on the dancing floor. One can imagine its complete triumph, especially when set off by slippers and stockings of silver.

This model is $135, but there are many just as exclusive and wantable at Giddings' for lower prices.

For ultra smartness in Footwear one generally shops at Alexanders—(548 Fifth Ave.). I saw quite the newest and most desirable walking boot yesterday—unusually trim and graceful—fully eight inches high, of superb quality, dull black calf-skin with whole quarter of Dreadnought Cloth, Black leather strip trimming and small heel foxings—together with black laces complete the model which is poised on a slender Spanish heel. Hand workmanship in all the vital points assure wear in keeping with appearance. While one would expect to pay $10—I was surprised to find the price but $7.50.

Do you buy your Sweetmeats at Page & Shaws? If so, you will agree with me as to their peculiar excellence. I saw them making toothsome goodies by electricity the other day and packing them in belaced and bewitched orange-colored boxes for Hallowe'en, one lb. $1.50, up to five lbs. $6, two shops on Fifth Avenue.

The Millinery Section in Altman's wonderful new store is a rendezvous of exclusiveness and good taste. I was fascinated by a stunning chapeaux in Moyen Age Helmet style of black velvet, most effectively trimmed with nine Ermine skins at the extremely moderate price of $47.50. Many types of the new straight velvet sailor banded with side strips of velvet and plush, simple, but exquisite, price $6.75.

How often are beautiful serving plates unnoticed? Very frequently, indeed, you will admit—perhaps because their function is performed at the least interesting period of the banquet—the prelude. What do you think I have discovered at the attractive Crystal and China Shop of Rich and Fisher, 467 Fifth Avenue? A beautiful assortment of glass oyster plates, plain save for a gold band or a cut laurel, so that all the beauty of the serving plates is revealed through them. These may be monogrammed in gold and range from $5 per dozen for the plainest up to $27 per dozen for the heavy gold-banded and monogrammed styles. A charming wedding gift suggestion this. You should look them over when in town.

If you enjoy having your after-dinner demi-tasse served in the library or drawing room, perhaps you will be as interested as I was in a very attractive Coffee Service of solid copper. A fine capacious French Steam Percolator of Copper, silver-lined, with six dainty Limoges half-cups in copper shells—sugar, and creamer. The trimmings are ebony—the design most unique. You will find this at Joseph Heinrichs 461 Fifth Avenue. The price including a generous copper tray is $19.50, although the pieces are sold separately, if preferred.

Have you visited the beautiful new Fifth Avenue home of Mark Cross? Don't miss it, for during the opening weeks I am told that little is being said, but much is being done in the way of very fine values. Let me suggest that you make a point of seeing those new fitted Pouch Party Bags of golden velvet-calf, lined with shimmery satin of the same shade—they are quite the prettiest I've seen yet. The fittings are of the best quality and include two crystal bottles, cream and powder jars, lip stick holder, comb and mirror—all richly gold plated. The fittings lift out in a separate holder, in the center of which is room for opera glasses—not at all bulky, and elegantly expressive of good taste. Price $12.50. The new address of Mark Cross is 440 Fifth Avenue.

One generally has the idea that a real Chinese Rug must be frightfully expensive. You will possibly be surprised to know that at Vantines (438 Fifth Ave.) you may procure genuine Chinese Rugs of the modern type, but with the same old Canton or Siamese designs in the typical rich blues with white, or vice versa, at the extremely moderate price of $10 for the small sizes, while the medium sizes range from $15 to $20 each. One is always surprised somehow at Vantines—there are more beautiful inexpensive things there than in any shop I know of.

Now that skirts are to be shorter there will be a vogue in unique hosiery, hence I see Franklin Simon & Co. (414 Fifth Ave.) featuring comely effects in moired weaves of good quality medium weight silk stockings—Blues, Grays and Black at $1.95 pair.

NEWS AND VIEWS

Conducted by

THE W. C. T. U.

The local option situation in our New Jersey legislative fight is unprecedented ,and very encouraging. There never was for us in New Jersey such an opportunity for victory.

Last year we had thirty-two candidates pledged, most of whom were in the Progressive party. This year we have more than that number in the Democratic and Republican parties alone, and in all over sixty, not counting the Prohibition and Socialist candidates, and the Progressive party endorses local option in its platform.

In a number of counties we are sure of an Assemblyman, whichever candidate wins and, from some of these counties we have not had a vote in years.

We account for this encouraging situation by the greater enlightenment of the people regarding the liquor evil, and, especially because of the methodical canvass made by the league of the lists of voters, and reaching, before the primaries, those who are our friends with a personal word.

The work of analysis of voter's lists is being continued, minutely. This is expensive, and calls for earnest co-operation of all who would break the liquor strangle-hold on our State. We shall win. Blessed are they who help.

Now the State of Virginia, following on the heels of West Virginia, joins the ranks of Prohibition States. Steadily the area of dry territory increases throughout the United States, and with the spread of local prohibition there is an apparent growth in sentiment for the submission to the States of a prohibitory amendment to the Federal Constitution. Several more States will vote on the question at the November election, and the probabilities of success may be measured by the tireless and almost frantic efforts of the liquor interests to combat prohibition sentiment.

Whether this widespread opposition to the liquor traffic is merely an ephemeral manifestation of sentiment or whether it is based on deep-rooted conviction permanent in its results is a disputed question. Certain it is, however, that belief in the harmful effects of intoxicating liquors from an economical standpoint is rapidly gaining strength, and it is to this probably as much as to opposition to the traffic on moral grounds that the increase in prohibition territory may be attributed.

Commenting editorially on the prohibition victory in Virginia, the editor of the Vindicator writes ,"The action of the people of Virginia, however, adds to our confidence that 'prohibition is as sure as sunrise.' It is a milestone that marks the progress of the sentiment of the people of the States against the liquor traffic. A milestone that points onward to the day when, in the words of Abraham Lincoln, 'There shall be neither slave nor drunkard,' to the day when there shall be seated in the capitol at Washington a political party committed to the annihilation of the liquor traffic."

Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, gave Connie Mack, who today won his sixth pennant race, credit for the deal which resulted in a dry navy.

"The dry mess is working fine," the secretary said today. "I have refused to discuss this before. I preferred to wait until the first wave of criticism was over, and I wanted to see it worked out before talking about it.

"You know, Connie Mack says he must have clean living to have quick thinking. It is all a matter of efficiency, and when the men are on the job they ought not to touch liquor, no more than the engineer of a railroad train ought to touch it."

Secretary Daniels said that no one had been brought up on charges for this order yet. He had been criticized, he admitted, because the order excluded liquor from the homes of officers who live at the navy yards. But, Mr. Daniels classed the navy yard as a workshop, and thought liquor had no place there.

"There is little drinking and little drunkenness in the navy," he said.—Phila. North American.

The Czar inaugurated the greatest temperance movement in the history of the world when two months ago as a war measure, he issued the edict prohibiting the sale of vodka. It was not intended at the time that the suspension of the traffic in this liquor should be more than a temporary expedient. But so rapid has been the change in the habits of the people and so remarkable the improvement in the condition of the peasantry that by imperial decree the sale of vodka is to be barred indefinitely after the war.

The sale of spirits in Russia is a State monopoly, which has produced nearly 30 per cent. of the Government's ordinary revenues. In order to meet the needs of the imperial exchequer it has encouraged the growth of the traffic multiplied the number of dramshops in the rural districts and directly aided in the spread of poverty and drunkenness among the working classes. Being a cheap drink made from grain or potatoes, the Czar's ministers for revenue purposes have deliberately adhered to the policy of increasing the consumption, regardless of the steady degradation of millions of the Czar's subjects. Only rarely has a statesman like Count Witte ventured to question the wisdom of the Government's course, and even he was not able to offer a satisfactory revenue substitute.

That some of the cruel consequences of war should be unexpectedly offset by a great social and economic reform of which Russia stands in need is one of the ironies of circumstances.—New York World, Friday, October 12, 1914.

Popular Recipes.

Hickory Nut Cake.—To make hickory nut cake cream half a cupful of butter with a cupful and a half of sugar. Add alternately three-fourths of a cupful of water and two cupfuls of flour. Next add the whites of two eggs well beaten, a cupful of hickory nut meats, two more well beaten egg whites and a teaspoonful of baking powder. Pour into flat buttered pans and bake slowly for over half an hour. Cover with white icing and mark in small squares.

Peanut Jumbles.—To make peanut jumbles cream three-quarters of a cupful of butter with a cupful of sugar. Add three well beaten eggs. Sift a cupful and a half of flour with a quarter of a cupful of cornstarch and half a teaspoonful of baking powder and add to the butter and sugar and eggs. Add half a teaspoonful of extract of almond or lemon. Roll the dough out on a floured board, and when it is thin cut it with a biscuit cutter. Mix a quarter of a cupful of granulated sugar with the same amount of shelled peanuts and sprinkle these over each round of dough. Roll the nuts in and bake.

A Rich Cake.

Almond Cake.—Shred half a cupful of almonds that have been previously blanched by pouring hot water on them. Cream half a cupful of butter with two cupfuls of sugar and add four eggs, one at a time, beating the batter three times after each addition. Add two cupfuls of flour sifted with a teaspoonful and a half of baking powder. Alternate with additions of the flour and half a cupful of milk to which a small glass of grape juice has been added or else add three-quarters of a cupful of almond extract and mix smooth. Pour into a round mold with a tube in the center and bake.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

Annie Mary, O-Mee and the Corncob Dolls.

And With Her Doll Clasped In Her Arms Went to the Tepee.

"DID you ever hear of a corncob dolly, Evelyn?" asked daddy as the children quieted down for the evening story.

"No; I should think not," laughed Evelyn.

"Well, they can be made, and they are just as fine to play with as any other dolly. I'll tell you about Annie Mary, a western settler's little daughter, and O-Mee, the Indian papoose.

"This happened many years ago when people used to emigrate west in big covered wagons and often lived in these wagons until the daddy of the house could build a tiny log cabin for his family to live in.

"Annie Mary had traveled west across the vast prairie with her parents. They had found their claim and were slowly building a cabin when one day a stray Indian with his squaw and papoose stopped beside the wagon and asked for food. After they had eaten they showed reluctance to go away and asked if they could remain with them for awhile.

"So the Indian helped Annie Mary's daddy to build the hut and fashioned stout baskets, while the squaw helped cook and wove sweet grasses into fancy articles.

"But Annie Mary wanted a dolly. The only one she had—a doll with a china head—little O-Mee, the Indian baby, had smashed.

"So Annie Mary's mamma found two big corncobs—the biggest she could find—forced holes in each, through which she ran a stick for the dolly's arms. She covered the large end with white cloth, upon which she marked eyes, ears, nose and mouth. Then she raveled out an old black stocking for the curly hair. This was sewed on, braided into little pigtails and tastily tied with scarlet wool.

"Then she made dresses of calico and belted them down with white aprons and made some scarlet coats and little bonnets.

"So Annie Mary and O-Mee each had a corncob dolly.

"The little papoose and her papa and mamma remained with Annie Mary's family all summer.

"But one crisp autumn morning Annie Mary wakened, dressed and, with her dolly clasped in her arms, went to the tepee which the Indians had built for themselves.

"There was no fire outside the tepee, and when little Annie Mary peeped through the opening which served as a door into the tepee there was no one there. Little O-Mee and her daddy and mammy and the corncob dolly were gone."

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Drink Lots of Water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Adv.

MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S SHOES

You mothers want your children to develop feet that will be a real asset to them in later life. Distorted, crippled, suffering feet are a real hindrance in the work of the world.

No other shoes will so surely allow natural freedom for growth as our "TRUE-SHAPE" children's shoes.

Years ago we developed these shoes to a high standard of efficiency—not only in hygienic qualities, but also in real QUALITY. And while the styles have been changed, made more beautiful each season, the QUALITY has never varied.

Shown in all good leathers, with spring heels to size 11; larger sizes in low "School" heels.

PARENTS GATHER IN HIGH SCHOOL

Enthusiastic Meeting of Association Held in Institution Last Night.

SPEAKERS LAUD WORK

President Tyler, of the Board of Education, Among Those Who Delivered Addresses—Refreshments Served at School Lunch Counter.

Parents of pupils now pursuing courses in the Plainfield High School, numbering over two hundred, attended the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of that institution, last night, the affair being one of the most successful ever held in this city. The entire High School building was thrown open to the guests and many of the parents had their first opportunity of visiting the new class rooms in the addition recently constructed and turned over to the city for this department of educational work.

One of the features of the evening was the method adopted in the serving of refreshments. The social committee of the association provided the various refreshments from the school lunch counter and the parents secured their food and ate it at tables which are used daily by their children. This afforded them an excellent chance to see just how the pupils are taken care of at lunch time and the method was the subject of favorable comment from all sides. Those present made an inspection of the class rooms, library, commercial department and atheletic department of the school and were welcomed in each instance by the teachers who have charge of these various activities. The gathering also gave the parent an opportunity to get acquainted with the teachers and to get some direct information concerning the work being done by the pupils.

Many of the visitors took occasion to inquire into the records in scholarship established during the first two months of the term by individuals and also to ascertain any weaknesses, if there were any. This feature is one of the principal objects of the association.

Prior to the business meeting a musical program was given under the direction of Mrs. J. C. Evans, leader of the Plainfield High School orchestra. Mrs. Evans and her charges gave an excellent program of numbers all of which were well received.

DEMOCRATS RAISE A MARTIN BANNER

Local Candidates Address Large Gatherings in Fourth Ward.

The local Democratic candidates devoted their attention last night, to campaigning in the Fourth ward where a banner was raised in front of the Jefferson club rooms on West Third street, in the interest of the candidacy of Theodore Martin for Mayor. The T. A. B. Fife and Drum Corps furnished the music during the evening. Another banner will be raised tonight near Park avenue and Front street.

Mr. Martin, candidate for Mayor and David L. Coleman, candidate for Council from the Fourth ward, conducted the speech-making tour, last night. Former City Judge W. A. Coddington conducted the meetings which were held in the open air. The candidates made stirring appeals for the support of the entire ticket.

Mr. Martin spoke briefly and forcibly. It is apparent that he is losing the stage fright which always siezes beginners in oratory. With practice it is believed by his friends that he will make an impressive speaker for they claim that he has the honesty of purpose and sympathetic temperament which appeals to the hearts and minds of people.

Henry Rosenbaum, the West Front street dry goods merchant, made his first appearance in the local campaign, last night, making an impressive speech which won great applause from his hearers. A brilliant career is predicted for Mr. Rosenbaum in politics if he wishes to pursue it. Mr. Coleman is waging a lively campaign in his ward, speaking every night to the voters of the ward.

RETURNS TO PLAINFIELD.

William Kregar, a former well-known local resident who has been in Denver, Colorado, for the past two years, has returned to Plainfield and is residing at the home of his parents on Liberty street. Mr. Kregar went West with Russell Giles, another Plainfielder, who now holds an excellent position in Los Angeles, Cal.

TWENTY-FIVE MEN CAUSED THE WAR

Dr. Frederick Lynch So Declared to Men's Club of Crescent Ave. Church.

H. L. DEFOREST SPEAKS

Diners Heard About Personal Experiences Encountered During War Abroad—"United States Greatest Power for Peace."

War experiences and the lessons to be drawn from the great struggle abroad interested the men of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church at the first dinner of the season, which was held in the church parlors last night. Sixty-five were present the largest number that ever attended a similar gathering, and they heard Rev. Frederick Lynch, secretary of the Church Peace Union which was founded last year when Andrew Carnegie put aside $2,000,000 for the purpose, and Henry L. DeForest, a member of the club, tell of personal experiences abroad.

Dr. Lynch, in company with a friend, was in Paris when he first heard that war was expected. The Peace conference was to be held in Constance, Germany, beginning Aug 2, and it was only after an interrupted trip that he was able to reach the place. He described the scenes in the railroad stations as the German residents of France, in response to an order from the Fatherland, were hurrying to get back home, and told of the first mobilization in Germany where the people went about the job seriously, and with little enthusiasm. He said that in France the only demonstrations he saw were when a group of Socialists paraded the streets, protesting against war being declared.

In spite of the impending war, the fifty Americans who had reached Constance, in company with Germans, French, English, Scandinavians and others, proceeded to hold three sessions of the conference, the meetings being held in the room in which John Huss was tried five hundred years before. That night the delegates were told that the last train before the railroads would be taken over by troops, would leave the next day, and two special cars were provided for the party. They started for the Dutch border on the train with the exception of the French delegates, who went to Switzerland, and after a long, hard trip, with but little to eat, the party finally reached Holland, from which place they made

"The Man on the Job."

In no political campaign has the voter had the truth more plainly stated than when he reads under the advertisement of the Hon. William E. Tuttle, Jr., that he is "The man on the job with Wilson." The very audacity of such courage is magnificent and his request that he be continued in office for another term of two years, is an evidence of how lightly he seems to regard the financial ruin that he has helped place on his home, and nation.

He asks: "Shall this district have a voice in shaping legislation?" It certainly has not had any during the past two years, and it does not seem possible that the "empty dinner pail," and high cost of living will stand dumb at this election, for a continuance of such a situation.

Desiring "tariff reform" I, like a great many other Republicans, voted for Mr. Tuttle, but we did not vote for tariff disaster, and a double tax on both income and business.

Some industries, and certain lines of business thrive on the misfortune of the country, but who can enjoy such an income when they meet on all sides, embarrasssed manufacturers, short working hours, higher cost of living, increased national taxes, useless and expensive commissions, and appeals from the "pulpit" and "charitable organizations" for relief for able bodied men and women, who only ask a chance to earn a living, a right that seems to be denied them by an "administration" that can appropriate huge sums for any and all "pork barrel fads," while no one has the inclination or courage to revise the tariff along sane living lines.

We are a loyal nation, and are apt to rally to the cry, "don't swap horses while crossing a stream," but because we have made one huge mistake, that in any ordinary country would lead to complete disaster, it does not seem possible that we can be so blind as to repeat the performance, and return Mr. Tuttle to his place as "the man on the job."

A VOTER.

SUFFRAGISTS FACE PROBLEMS

Mrs. Helen H. Greeley Gives Practical Talk Before Equal Suffrage League.

SHOULD RAISE $1,000

Of Which $700 is to Be Used for Local Work and $300 for the State League—To Conduct Weekly Sale of Cakes and Pies.

Mrs. Helen Hoy Greeley gave an earnest talk concerning the problems that confront the local Suffragists and how to meet them, at a meting of the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield, yesterday afternoon. She said in part:

"There are five thousand voters in Plainfield and North Plainfield. We must win a majority of these; we must be sure of twenty-five hundred and one. Those of you who are good housewives know that when you put your house in order you go about it in an orderly way.

"You do not first wash a spoon and then run into the parlor to dust a little, and return to wash dishes between the making of beds. Now we must go about winning the ballot in an orderly way." Mrs. Greeley then explained that the suffrage work fell into two classes, money raising and propaganda.

In regard to money raising, Mrs. Greeley said that Plainfield should raise $1,000 in the next ten months —$700 for work in Plainfield and $300 for State work. In other words to do Plainfield's share Suffragists should raise $100 a month. "New Jersey is planning its work economically," Mrs. Greeley said. "While New York State intends to raise $150,000 in the coming year, the whole State of New Jersey is only attempting to raise $$5,000."

Referring to propaganda, Mrs. Greeley had some excellent suggestions and she did not fail to point out the opportunities offered by election day. From first to last, Mrs. Greeley made it clear that this is the year when work of suffrage will tell, therefore during this year the motto should be "Suffrage First."

ITALIAN PRIEST TO LEAVE ST. JOSEPH'S

Father Poli Who Left Today for Camden Was Presented With Purse of Gold.

Father Poli, Italian curate of St. Joseph's church, leaves that parish today to take a new charge in the Roman Catholic church at Camden. The announcement of the change was made at the services in St. Joseph's church by Father Patrick Hart Sunday and it came as a great surprise to the people of that denomination. Although he has been connected with the borough church for only a year and a half he has endeared himself to the congregation and has done excellent work among the Italians of that faith.

Last night a number of active workers in the church met in the parish house and presented the retiring priest with a purse of gold. No successor has been appointed as yet to fill the vacancy.

W. C. T. U. SOCIAL.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a social meeting in the parlors of Grace M. E. church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock when delegates to the recent State convention will make reports and there will be an informal program of music. Mrs. E. D. Young will sing several solos. All interested are invited.

Owing to the inability of the police to locate a witness, the case of Albert Jaeger against Edward Vanderhoef to ascertain the ownership of a hunting dog, was postponed by Judge DeMeza in the city court, this morning, to November 10. Robert Newton Crane is counsel for the defendant.

ELKS' RECEPTION WILL BE HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Plans have been completed for the reception for Elks and their friends to be held in the local clubhouse on Watchung avenue tomorrow night, and the affair promises to be one of the most auspicious ever held by the local lodge and their personally invited guests, and the entire clubhouse will be thrown open for the occasion. One of the attractive features will be a State league bowling series between the Plainfield and Rutherford "Bills."

The program has been planned appropriate to the season of the year, the Hallowe'en idea being prevalent throughout. The refreshments served will be typical of the New Jersey autumn season, cider and homemade crullers being among the appetizing palate satisfiers on the menu. Dancing will also be one of the attractive features.

PATROLMEN PLANNING BIG TIME FOR ANNUAL MEETING

Elaborate plans have been concluded for the annual reception of the local branch of the State Patrolmen's Benevolent Association to be held in Saengerbund Hall, Wednesday night, November 11, and the affair promises to be one of the best ever held under the direction of the local organization. Speakers of special interest to the average patrolman will be in attendance and prominent city and borough officials will be present as honorary guests.

VOTERS JOB TO PICK BEST MAN

So Declares the Republican Mayoralty Candidate in Addressing Colored Men.

APPEALS TO REASON

Voters Are From Missouri and Must Be Shown, Says the Nominee —Councilman Graves, W. J. Douglass and Wm. Kline Also Speak.

The local Republican candidates, accompanied by members of the city committee and other supporters of the party ticket, visited the First ward, last night, the candidates speaking to a large gathering of colored voters at the Nonpariel Club. Leighton Calkins, candidate for Mayor, and Councilman Charles C. Graves were the principal speakers. At the conclusion, William J. Douglass and William Kline also spoke, urging the election of Mr. Calkins. The Mayoralty candidate in addressing the colored voters said in part:

"It would be a reflection on the intelligence of the colored voters of Plainfield to believe that they could be persuaded as a class to cast their ballots all the same way. No colored voter in Plainfield will vote as a colored man. When he votes, he will vote as a citizen and will be guided by common-sense rules of action to the same extent as the white voters. The colored voters come from Missouri like the rest of us, and have got to be shown. They are taxpayers like the rest of us, and they know that when they vote for councilmen and Mayor, they are choosing the men to run the city's business. They are just as much interested as the white voters in having expenses cut down, wherever they can be cut down; but they are going to use their own heads, and not other people's heads, in deciding which candidates have had the most experience in our city government and know most about the business. You can't lead the intelligent voter, whether he be American born, or black, or foreign born. He expects all candidates to say they favor low tax rates, and

GERMANS CROSS YSER SEVEN TIMES AFTER REPULSES IN MOST DESPERATE BATTLE OF WAR

SO MANY KILLED, SAYS AMSTERDAM REPORT, THAT BODIES FORMED BRIDGE FOR TROOPS TO CROSS OVER THE CANAL.

FRENCH SAY ALLIES HAVE MAINTAINED POSITION

Battle Line in Russia Said to Be 62 Miles Long and Czar's Troops Claim to Be Driving Germans Back at a Rapid Pace—Radon and Lodz Taken by Russians—Berlin Says That Germany's Enemies Are Numerically Superior.

Amsterdam, Oct. 28, (Central News Cable)—"It is evident that the Germans are not repulsed for a long distance along the battle front," telegraphs a Central News correspondent from the interior of Belgium, concerning the fighting along the Franco-Belgian frontier. His report continues: "The German forces are making strong efforts to cross the Yser Canal with reinforcements. The fighting is very severe. Bombs have struck the roofs of many houses. Many places have been taken and retaken, over and over again. A German officer told me that the Germans succeeded in crossing the Yser canal as many as seven times, and were repulsed just as many times with severe losses. In some places the corpses of dead soldiers formed bridges across the canal, by which the Germans tried to reach the opposite side. The Germans have failed in the fighting of the last three days to occupy more points than they already possessed, and it is a question whether reinforcements will be sufficient to make up the enormous losses. The battle is not yet decided. The British naval guns are taking part in the work of repulsing the Germans."

Paris, Oct. 28 (Central News Cable).—The Germans who crossed the River Yser in their last advance in Belgium, are unable to advance or retire, and are in danger of complete annihilation. The losses of the Germans in that particular conflict are staggering. Their killed and wounded probably amount to fifteen or twenty thousand. The foregoing is only partially claimed in the official French statement issued at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and which read as follows:

"During the day, yesterday, the attacks of the Germans throughout the region between Nieuport and Arras became much less violent. Our positions have been maintained generally, and we have continued to make progress to the north and south of Ypres. We have accomplished some progress between Cambrin, southwest of La Bassee, and Arras.

"Strong confirmation is being received from day to day that the Germans have suffered considerable losses in dead, wounded and prisoners.

"In the right to the north of the right bank of the River Aisne, the Germans have attempted a violent offensive movement at night. In the region of Craonne, on the heights of the Road des Dames, they have been repulsed. Desperate fighting marred the German attack by night in the Craonne region. They tried to force the Allies back from the positions which they gained, but were repulsed with a loss of 2,000 killed and wounded. It is stated that the French casualities in this fight numbered only 100. In the Woevre region our troops have continued to advance in the forest between Apremont and St. Mihiel, and likewise in the forest of La Pretre.

"In Russia, to the south of Warsaw, the battle extends from Rawa to the Island of Jenka in the Vistula, along a front of 100 kilometers (62 miles). In the region at the northeast of Rawa, the Russians have inflicted heavy losses upon the Germans. Bloody combats have taken place in the forest between Kozienice and Radom.

"In Galicia the Russians are making progress in the south of Lambor. They surrounded in the Podbuj valley, the 38th division of the Honved, as well as Landwehr troops, whom they completely decimated, taking twenty guns and much war material. In East Prussia, the partial offensive movement of the Germans have been checked."

A despatch from Bordeaux to the Temps, says that the Germans are furiously continuing the bombardment of Arras. The town is now almost entirely destroyed.

London, Oct. 28—The correspondent of the Times at Warsaw says that Radom, 57 miles south of Warsaw, was taken by the Russians after a hard struggle, and large bodies of Russian cavalry occupied Lodz, 75 miles southwest of Warsaw today, after considerable resistance.

According to a despatch from Copenhagen, the Cologne Gazette reports that an epidemic of cholera has broken out at Libson and that the Spanish Government has stopped all communication across the frontier.

A despatch from Berlin via The

PRESIDENT SEES CAUSE FOR THANKS

Annual Proclamation Recalls Year of Special Blessing to the Nation.

Washington, Oct. 28.—President Wilson today issued a proclamation, fixing November 26 as Thanksgiving Day. The proclamation follows in part:

"It has long been the honored custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for his many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. The year that is now drawing to a close, since we last observed our day of thanksgiving has been, while a year of discipline because of the mighty forces of war and changes which have disturbed the world, also a year a special blessing for us. It has been vouchsafed to us to remain at peace with honor, and in some part to succor the suffering and supply the needs of those in want. We have been privileged by our own peace and self control in some degree to steady the counsels, and shape the hopes and purposes of a day of fear and distress. Our people have looked upon their own life as a nation with a deeper comprehension, a fuller realization, of their responsibilities, as well as of their blessings and a keener sense of the moral and practical significance of what their part among the nations of the world may come to be.

"The painful effects of foreign war in their own industrial and commercial affairs have made them feel the more fully and see the more clearly, their mutual independence upon one another, and has stirred them to a helpful co-operation, such as they have seldom practiced before. They have been quickened by a great moral stimulation—their unmistakable ardor for peace; their earnest pity and disinterested sympathy for those who are suffering; their readiness to help and to think of the needs of others, has revealed them to themselves as well as to the world."

EIGHTH ANNUAL BALL.

The Plainfield Hebrew Ladies' Benevolent Association has completed arrangements for its eighth annual ball to be given election eve, November 2, at Abrams' Auditorium. The various committees will be announced later.

HALLOWE'EN DANCE.

Under the auspices of the Women's League of St. Joseph's church a Hallowe'en dance will be given in Debele's Hall, Friday night, when prizes will be given to those wearing the most unique costumes.

DUNELLEN

All the Happenings of the Day In Plainfield's Hustling Suburb.

LIBRARY ENTERTAINMENT.

The rapid progress towards the completion of final arrangements for the library entertainment confirms the original indications that the program will be one of the best of its kind ever given in the borough. In addition to the worthy object for which the entertainment is being given, the fact that the majority of those taking part are local people affords an increased interest in the affair. Mrs. Wickham reports most satisfactory results in the matter of the rehearsals for the play and those who are acquainted with her ability for coaching will readily appreciate the treasure which is in store for all who attend the entertainment on November 17. The musical program will include, in addition to the vocal and instrumental solos, several vocal selections to be rendered by a quartet of local young women. Mr. Kaft, the celebrated violinist, has been persuaded to assist in offering to the people of Dunellen the best entertainment that it is possible to afford them and it is to be hoped that no one will be so lacking in foresight as to miss this exceptional opportunity.

DANCING CLASS.

Arrangements are being made toward forming a local dancing class to meet in the W. G. Holton Hall once a week during the coming winter. It is planned to secure the services of a teacher from Plainfield in order that the very latest dances may be learned.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY.

Edward Maurer, Jr., will hold a Hallowe'en party at his home on Madison avenue on Saturday night. Invitations have been extended to Plainfield and local young people.

WOMEN'S BOWLING TOURNEY.

An account of the games of the women's two-team tournament on the Presbyterian alleys last evening, in which it was Mrs. H. B. Arnold and Miss Margaret Ryan vs. Mrs. William E. Terry and Miss Natalie Terry and Miss M. L. Crawford vs. Miss Mabel Bennett and Mrs. W. J. Smith, will be found on the sporting page.

MAYOR ENTERTAINS.

Mayor and Mrs. E. B. Latham entertained two of the Mayor's brothers, William Latham, of New Britain, Conn., and Mayor Malcolm Latham, of Searsborough, Iowa, over the week-end. While William Latham cannot, like his two brothers, be addressed as Mayor, he came within an ace of having the honored handle affixed to his name when he was defeated last fall by a close count for the mayoralty of New Britain.

BANQUET COMMITTEE.

The various committees appointed at the initial meeting of the banquet committee of the Board of Trade in the Borough Hall on Monday evening, are as follows: Catering, Lewis T. Churchill and John Fedderman; ticket, Percival R. Abbott and John P. Fenner; lighting and decorating, A. N. Randolph and P. R. Abbott; tables, Lewis Schneider and E. H. Dean; hall, H. S. Garretson and A. N. Randolph; speaker, E. B. Latham and H. J. Swackhamer; music, E. H. Dean and J. E. Dix; entertainment, J. E. Dix and E. B. Latham; toastmaster, H. J. Swackhamer and E. M. Jones; reception, A. N. Randolph, P. R. Abbott and E. M. Jones. Chairman H. S. Garretson, of the hall committee, has already been offered the garage of Walter W. Stryker, in which to hold the banquet if the banquet committee so desires. The banquet was held there last year and it proved a very appropriate place. It is understood that there will be no spirited liquors served at this banquet. Another meeting of the banquet committee will be held in the Borough Hall tomorrow evening.

Nelson Snyder, of Penfield place, was a visitor at Jersey City on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Piddington, Jr., of Whittier avenue, are going to give a Ha'lowe'en party on Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincengo Tozze, of North avenue, attended the christening of their little nephew, Madison Verdi, at Jersey City, yesterday.

JEALOUSY LED TO ARREST.

Mrs. Joseph Sanko, of South avenue and Chestnut street, was arraigned in the Borough Hall before Judge Rene P. F. Von Minden, yesterday morning, on a complaint made by Mrs. Charles Finkich, residing in the same building, the McDonough flats. The complainant alleged that Mrs. Sanko used unseemly language in addressing her and the defendant made a similar counter charge. The evidence tended to show that the women were jealous of one another and the court, after severely reprimanding them, let them go with a warning that it would mean thirty days a piece for them in the county jail if they should ever appear before him again.

ENTERTAINS AT CARDS.

Mayor and Mrs. E. B. Latham entertained thirty guests from this place and Plainfield at a card party on Saturday night. Other entertaining features were dancing and music. A dainty repast was served during the evening.

Mrs. William Van Dusen, of Whittier avenue, has been indisposed for the past couple of days.

RETURNS FROM TRIP.

Dr. M. J. Whitford returned yesterday from his vacation trip of practically a month through the Great Lake region of this country and Canada. If the doctor's looks are any criterion the trip has done him a world of good.

Mrs. George W. Day and Miss Ruth Voorhees were visitors in New York, yesterday.

Mrs. Robert Craig, of Lincoln avenue, is entertaining Miss Ethel Case, of Phillipsburg.

Mrs. Charles Dodwell, of Jackson avenue, is spending a month at Manasquan as the guest of a sister.

WILL RETURN TO ELIZABETH.

Mrs. Harry Apgar and children, who have been making their home with Mrs. Apgar's parents in Pennsylvania, arrived in the borough on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Morse, of New Market road, motored to Glen Gardner on Sunday and visited their neice, Miss Ethel Lawrence, of Roselle, who is endeavoring to recover her health at the New Jersey Sanatarium.

Mrs. Elizabeth Randolph has moved from Jefferson avenue, Plainfield, to the apartment of the Asher Fleming double-house on New Market road, recently vacated by Oscar Harris.

John Murphy, son of Mrs. Margaret Murphy, of North avenue, who has been ill for the past two years or so, continues to grow slowly worse.

CLARK RAMSEY IMPROVING.

The numerous local friends of Clark Ramsey, son of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. David Ramsey, who has been suffering from a strain of one of the heart muscles, will be pleased to hear that the young man was able to sit up for a while yesterday.

EVENING SCHOOL OPENS.

Dunellen's evening school opened last evening, with an enrollment of forty pupils. Eighteen are in the class for general elementary subjects taught by William C. O'Neil, and twenty-two in the class of English for foreigners taught by Miss Margaret Crawford. The enrollment is expected to increase at the next session. Two rooms on the second floor of the Lincoln School are being used for the classes.

PARENT-TEACHER MEETING.

The Parent-Teacher Association met in the Lincoln School, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mrs. George Vander Veer, president of the association, was in charge of the meeting. The most important business transacted was the decision to raise $15 to supplement a sum of $25 turned over to Mr. Rentschler by last year's eighth grade for the purchase of school apparatus or furniture, the same to be applied to the purchase of fifty folding chairs which are needed for additional seating in school assemblies as well as outside meetings. The meeting was decidedly a Hallowe'en affair, the decorations being suggestive of the same. The parents and teachers were seated in groups and gave a half an hour to confer on school work and Parent-Teacher interests. A short program was rendered, consisting of a short program by Elizabeth Young and a piano solo by Mildred Mattis. Katherine Monahan, Helen Ayers and Gertrude Monahan also took part. Refreshments, consisting of doughnuts, popcorn balls and punch were served.

'Plains & Fanwood.

The Scotch Plains fire department was called out yesterday afternoon, to extinguish a fire burning briskly on the mountain in the rear of the 'Plains that was threatening some houses. They responded with the engine but had to resort to using brooms. It is only one of the many that have started this fall and all seem to savor of an incendiary origin.

Yesterday was the last registration day in the borough and township before the general election tuesday, November 3. All those who do not vote at the primary election or register yesterday cannot vote.

All hope of the Parish House opening for the coming winter seems to have vanished, as a member of the council, the governing body, has stated that certain existing condition will make it impossible to do so. It is not generally known what the exact reasons are, although it is said that lack of funds is one of the drawbacks.

A meeting of the Fanwood Tuesday Afternoon Literary Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. Hudson Thompson, on Marine avenue, yesterday afternoon, and a pleasant time was spent by all. The forepart of the meeting was taken up with a review of English history of the Victorian reign, papers and clippings on the subject being read by several of the members. Following was an hour of discussion of current events. The work being done by the Red Cross in the present war was spoken of as a number belonging to the club are among the local women organized to make things for the soldiers in the conflict.

THE CLOSING CAMPAIGN.

In less than a week campaign arguments and activities will be matters of the past.

The campaign now drawing so near to a close has been remarkable because it has differed largely from its predecessors. They say politics does not change but it does change. This year is has changed noticeably, and those who have followed the various arguments through these times of conflicting interests incident to a great foreign crisis and an American economic struggle for foreign trade, must perceive it.

As never in former years, the arguments produced and the declarations made by spell-binders have dealt with social subjects—social service, human welfare, official service to the public. There have been discussions of finances, economics, taxes and appropriations,—but there has been always cropping out above all else the principle of public service.

There can be but two conclusions. Political parties and public officials have realized the tendency evident over the country to place service to the public—the serving of the public welfare—above the old standards of what might be termed "selfish politics." And the public's interest centers nowadays as never before upon the emphasis of service to the public and particularly to that portion of the public designated for centuries as "one's brother."

It means thoroughness in charity, human welfare, schools, industry and public life. It means community instead of individual. There was a well-remembered time when politics centered about individual welfare. There is the growing evidence this year of politics for community welfare.

The tendency is plain to see, for politics quickly discerns what it must dwell upon if it wins the public favor. This tendency is the growing interest upon the part of citizens generally to regard as of vital concern the general welfare of everyone and all, the dependency of the welfare of the individual upon the good for the all. The campaign is being fought out along the lines of social service.

HELP THE OTHER FELLOW.

One suggestion made by the committee of men who are trying to solve the problem of the unemployed in Plainfield, should be given the earnest and careful consideration of every Plainfielder, for all can help to a greater or less degree to aid conditions throughout the city. We refer to the suggestion that all people put under way at once any improvements which they are thinking of doing later in their homes. Of the five or six hundred men out of work here now, many are skilled masons, carpenters, painters and other craftsmen allied with the building trades. Were painting, odd jobs, repairs, and other small contracts given to the various bosses, it would provide work for many of these men, and they are all ready and willing to go to work. Many of them are now in actual want, and those who had small savings have been forced to nearly exhaust them.

There are hundreds of residents in Plainfield who would be willing to go down in their pockets to keep their fellow men from being in want. Why not provide employment for respectable citizens, who would much rather earn an honest dollar than feel that the conditions have forced them to become objects of charity? Many will perhaps prefer to go without the necessities of life, rather than ask alms, and these should be given a chance. It is much better to feel that for any money which might be given to charity a full dollar's worth of labor is to be procured. So we urge our readers who may be in better circumstances these days to look about their homes, and see if they cannot find something that needs to be done by the mechanics out of work.

A New York doctor has offered a new method for curing colds. He says that the quickest way is to go into a room, open all the windows and disrobe. This causes the Paterson Call to suggest that perhaps it is an oversight when he fails to say anything about drawing the blinds or pulling down the shades.

The offers made for the city school bonds would indicate that it will soon be possible to start the Evergreen Avenue School, and thus give employment to many men.

It improves the soup to throw a little pepper into it. Try throwing a little "pep" into Plainfield, and see how you will help to improve the town.

If you are a man without a job, be sure to register at the Mayor's office.

ORCHESTRA GUEST OF BAPTIST BIBLE SCHOOL

The members of the orchestra of the Temple Baptist Sunday-school were the guests at a social given in their honor, last night, in the church parlors. The affair was one of the most successful of its kind ever held and a large number enjoyed a pleasing program which was arranged by the committee in charge. There are five members in the Sunday-school orchestra who play every week and greatly aid in the singing of the school. This affair was the monthly social of the Sunday-school.

Edward W. Dunham, of Trenton, State treasurer of the Sunday-school Association, was present and gave a short talk. Games were played throughout the evening and refreshments were served by the committee. Flowers were placed about the room which made an attractive appearance.

The committee in charge was Mrs. Edward Baker, Jr., Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. B. M. Waldron, Miss Ella Curtis, George E. Hall and L. W. Randolph. The committee was assisted by the members of the Nonquint girls' class.

CLARK TALKS TO METHODISTS.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Speaker Champ Clark was the principal speaker yesterday before the board of conference claimants of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which met for a three-day convention. The object of the conference is to secure $5,000,000 from the eastern conference for the support of aged ministers and the widows and children of deceased ministers. Men familiar with similar work from the Protestant Episcopal, Presbyterian, Northern and Southern Baptist and Congregational churches told of the manner they are taking for the care of the retired ministers. The meetings are held at the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal church, each morning, afternoon and evening.

Trenton, Oct. 28.—The State Board of Health announced today that it had fixed Tuesday, November 10, as the time for hearing the complaint of the Elizabethtown Water Company against the pollution of the Elizabeth River by the joint trunk sewer, which empties into the Kill von Kull a short distance from the intake pipe of the water company. The State Board had before it last week the question of the over-taxed capacity of the trunk sewer.

P. H. S. FRATERNITY TO HOLD A REUNION

Body of Students Who Organized in 1906 to Meet Thursday Night.

Members of a fraternity that was at one time the leading voice in the student activities in the Plainfield High School have sounded a call for a revival meeting to be held at the home of F. Clyde Doane, on East Seventh street, tomorrow night. The organization, known as the Sigma Delta Phi, was founded in the Plainfield High School in 1906 and was a strong faction in everything done by the student body. The High School at that time was located at Fifth street and Arlington avenue.

Among the charter members who will be present at the meeting are F. Clyde Doane, Paul R. Collier, William V. Rafferty, Augustus C. Nash, Charles J. Loizeaux, Jack Riffert, Walter C. Caldwell, Egbert Bogardus, Russell Morris, Stanley Robins, Arthur Bingeman and Guion Fountain. Since their graduation Rafferty, Nash and Bogardus have been admitted to the bar. Riffert is in Swarthmore College, Bingeman is in Yale University, Robins is in Rutgers College. Caldwell graduated from Cornell, Doane graduated from Williams, and Collier, Morris, Fountain and Loizeaux have entered business.

All of the members were prominent in athletics and at one time every office in the school was controlled by the fraternity. The meeting tomorrow night will be the first of a series that has been planned.

PARENTS AT HIGH SCHOOL

A short business meeting of the association was held, Mrs. F. St. John Fitch, the president, presiding at the session. The secretary's report was read by Mrs. Emma J. Berrien, after which the meeting was adjourned in order to allow as much time as possible for the open reception.

The auditorium of the school was opened to the parents and they were entertained with short speeches by members of the Board of Education and those in terested in the educational work in the institution.

Principal Lindsey Best, of the High School, delivered the address of welcome to the parents and took occasion to comment on the good work that could be wrought by such gatherings as these and expressed a desire to have each member of the organization enter heartily into the activities. He spoke of what help the Parent-Teacher Association had already been to the teachers and parents and what good it could bring about in the future.

President William S. Tyler, of the Board of Education, delivered a lengthy address in which he presented numerous statistics to indicate the relative growth in the attendance figures of secondary schools within the last few years. He referred to this as a part of the widespread educational movement and said that with this increased demand for education there was a subsequent increase of school buildings. The speaker declared that the Parent-Teacher Association could serve as a leading factor in determining public opinion on the subject of school needs in the community.

Following President Tyler's address, Phillip S. Suffern, of the association, introduced a resolution endorsing the speaker's remarks and also the work of the local Board of Education, which was unanimously adopted.

Superintendent of Schools Henry M. Maxson lauded the work of the association and commented on the good the meetings between the parents and teachers' corps of the local schools have brought about. He said that the Parent-Teacher Association was fast becoming a leading voice in all parts of the country and that public sentiment was swayed to a large extent by the demands of that organization.

Mrs. F. St. John Fitch, president of the association, called attention to the fact that the Mothers' Congress convenes at Atlantic City, November 13 and 14, and suggested that a delegate be sent by the association. No official action was taken on this matter, but it is probable that a representative will be authorized to attend the congress prior to the time set for the gathering.

The social committee in charge of the serving of refreshments comprised Mrs. Henwood, Mrs. Mumford, Mrs. Burnett, Mrs. Case and Mrs. Moyer.

WILL SHOW "THE REAL PHILIPPINO" IN PICTURES

The second of the free entertainments held this winter under the auspices of the Board of Education will take place in the Washington School, Darlow avenue, tomorrow evening and will consist of an illustrated lecture by A. S. Riggs, entitled "The Real Philippino."

In America little is known of Spanish ideals in colonization, and until the motive of Spain in the Philippines is understood, know exactly why and how she failed, one cannot grasp properly the situation of the islands and their people. Something of that enters into this lecture and something of the peculiar, tropical charm and difficulty of life within a few degrees of the equator.

Archipelago and people are alike strange to us. The Filipino is still far from realizing his roseate dreams of a national existence. But the methods which America employs to teach him are slowly developing a national instinct and responsibility. His country is far from ours in every way. A land where labor is well nigh needless, where insect pests are offset by the amazing fertility of the soil, where the houses stand on stilts, where barefooted women wear diamonds in war time instead of hiding their savings, where the sunsets are terrifying, and the choicest fruits taste like ancient cheese. In a word, it is a land of the impossible, that is the utterly commonplace.

25 MEN CAUSED THE WAR

their way to England.

Dr. Lynch said that in his opinion the war was caused by twenty-five men, and that the great masses of the people in all the nations involved were opposed to it. He told of the cordial spirit existing between the English and Germans for many years and said that it was with tears in their eyes that some of the German and English delegates to the conference separated. He said that while the great nations of Europe have been maintaining all along that the big armies were developed in order to keep peace in the world it was nothing more or less than an armed truce, and that so long as militarism is permitted to control affairs abroad the situation would remain nothing more or less than such a truce. He said that Germany spends $12 for the support of the army and navy, to every dollar spent for education, and the percentage is greater for war purposes than for education in every country in Europe except Switzerland.

The United States is looked upon as the greatest power for peace in the world today, merely because she maintains no army within her borders, and only a comparatively small navy, declared the speaker. He said that the problem which now confronts the church is how to bring about satisfactory peace, which will be lasting, when the dreadful struggle abroad shall finally have been settled. Throughout his entire remarks the speaker was listened to with the greatest interest and attention, his manner of expressing himself being particularly pleasing, the narrative being occasionally illustrated by a timely story.

Mr. DeForest was well received when he described in a most entertaining manner his personal experiences in Bavaria, during the first weeks of the war. With Mrs. DeForest, their two children, Miss Leal and Miss Rudd, of this city, he was spending a vacation in a little town a short ride from Munich, and it was not until the last day of July that he was made to realize that there was danger of war, and by that time mobilization was about underway. He succeeded in getting his party to Munich, and there they were marooned for several days without being able to get even an idea as to when they could leave the country. Mr. DeForest and one or two other Americans, including President Garfield, of Williams College, and Elbert F. Baldwin, of Lakewood, the latter one of the editors of the Outlook, were appointed, unofficially, as a committee to aid the American consul, who had several hundred citizens of this country on his hands to care for, many of them without funds.

After the Americans had been all provided for, and started on their way home, Mr. DeForest took his party and went to London, from which city he returned to New York later. Throughout his entire story, he told many amusing and interesting incidents about people with whom he came in contact. Some were excedingly nervous, and others decidedly self possessed. One American traveler, a chemist from Chicago, had been in Belgrade when that city was bombarded, and he told Mr. DeForest in a most matter of fact way, how he remained in the city for a week, continuing his experiments, until he was told to get out of the city, with only a half hour's time to catch a boat. He said that the bombardment was a sort of comic opera performance, the gunboats firing at the forts of the city until noon each day, then stopping for lunch, and then starting in again. The chemist said that he was there when a bridge was blown up by the Servians, and "that he did not see it go up, but saw it come down." The description of the experiences of the party was probably the most interesting narrative that has been heard in Plainfield.

A short business session closed the evening's program.

THE FORUM

Editor Plainfield Daily Press:

Judge Newcorn, in his leader in your columns of Saturday, 24 inst., gave a quotation supposed to have been made by our much loved Abraham Lincoln and said Abraham Lincoln summarized the tariff in a few words when he said, "I do not know much about the tariff, but I know this much, when we buy manufactured goods abroad we get the goods and the foreigner gets the money. When we buy the manufactured goods home we get the goods and the money."

I have read the same Republican misquotation for many years past and have not been able to find a single politician of that faith who can find any reliable authority crediting or discrediting Abraham Lincoln with so untruthful a statement. Abraham Lincoln was too intelligent a man to say, "The foreigner gets our money for the goods we receive from them," for that statement is not true, but politicians of a small calibre take this means to cheat and throw sand into the eyes of the voters just as the scuttle fish uses its inky fluid to catch its prey. When nations trade with each other it is done by barter. We export goods, not money, to pay the foreigners for the goods we have received from them, and our imports are payments from the foreigner to us for the exports we send to them. American money does not leave this country in that way.

If we send one million dollars worth of our goods to Japan that country does not pay us in Japanese money. Neither do we pay Japan or any other country in American money for goods we have received from them, but in goods for goods. Who ever saw Japanese, or other foreign money floating about Plainfield which he had received from them for goods we had exported to them?

J. W. HARRISON.

Oct. 28, 1914.

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

In the issue of October 27 in The Daily Press the representative of the Building Trades Council was accused of making a threat to force men in band from playing for the campaign committee or force men to retire from parade. If any threat was made it was unofficially put forth and the Council should not be censured. I, the undersigned, consulted Julius Stahl relative to the employment of a non-union band. Mr. Stahl said that there was no union band in Plainfield. I advised Mr. Stahl a union band could be secured in a very short time. I presume that Mr. Stahl gave me his answer as given to him from a member of the band who left the office as I came in. My conversation was very short, but not harmful. I felt if the committee desired to employ a non-union band and the candidates were satisfied, I then and there decided to let the matter drop. If anything harmful was stated to the Honorable Mayor and Councilmen I hereby offer an apology to all concerned. Permit me to state that if a man takes an obligation in a respective organization and many inducements placed before him for a long time to join a musicians' organization and continues to go forth and play with members of a non-union band in Plainfield and other cities who have complained of the band taking their places where they have played for years, possibly for practice they have rendered their service, and, perhaps, for a much less charge rate than the minimum scale of a union band, and still we are all calling for a better living wage scale. All I can say is members of any non-union band, stop, think wisely and get together and join the musical union of which the charter now holds upon for you one and all and place an organization of union musicians in our city of which we will all be proud of and will also materially assist all campaign committees when securing music for their candidates.

Less Than a Cent

You may know a woman who has a reputation for making delicious cake, biscuits, etc.,—who seems to hit it right every time.

You may also know a woman, who, no matter how painstaking, can't seem to get the knack of successful baking.

Both use the same butter, same eggs, same flour and sugar. What is the difference?

Very likely it's all in the baking powder. Undoubtedly the woman with the knack uses Royal Baking Powder, and the unsuccessful woman uses an alum baking powder thinking it cheaper.

Yet the difference in the cost of a whole large cake is less than a cent.

It is economy to use

Absolutely Pure No Alum

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

Arleen Hackett, who plays the faithless wife in the Broadhurst-Schomer drama "To-Day," at the Plainfield Theatre, Saturday, matinee and night, has made the discovery that the choking to which she has had to submit at every performance at the hands of Hallett Thompson, who plays the role of the outraged husband, have developed her neck three-quarters of an inch. "The chokings have developed the muscles of my neck and chest quite wonderfully," says Miss Hackett. "They have smoothed out the hollow spots and given me the thing I had longed for for years—a well formed neck and chest, something that every woman envies in another. The chokings have not been violent. They have been more in the nature of a massage. Mr. Thompson threatens to send me a bill for massage treatment. He recommends that every married man try choking his wife as a means of beautifying her. I hardly agree with this advice, though I must confess I feel that any woman who acted in real life as I do in 'To-Day' would deserve to be choked."

HERE AND THERE

It is not generally known, but a fact nevertheless, that Henry S. Sanderson, who is associated with F. F. Proctor in the vaudeville and motion picture business at Proctor's Theatre, is one of the oldest Elks in Plainfield, if not the State, being a charter member of Boston Lodge, No. 10, B. P. O. E., which was organized in Boston, May 23, 1878, under a dispensation granted by Frank Girard, grand exalted ruler, to Antonio (Tony) Pastor, Henry S. Sanderson, Gustavus W. Leweck (Gus Williams), Henry T. Dyring and Luke Schoolcraft, of New York Lodge, No. 1; Charles T. Ellis and Harry Kernell, of Philadelphia Lodge, No. 2; Thomas Baugh, of San Francisco Lodge, No. 3, and Nat C. Goodwin, of Chicago Lodge, No. 4. These men together with Nicholas D. Roberts, of New York Lodge, No. 1, and William Barry, of Philadelphia Lodge, No. 2, on May 23, 1878, met at Codman Hall, on Tremont street, Boston, and formed themselves into a lodge with the following organization: Exalted ruler, Frank Girard; esteemed leading knight, Antonio Pastor; esteemed loyal knight, Gus Williams; grand lecturer, Nicholas D. Roberts; secretary, Henry S. Sanderson; inner guard, Thomas Baugh; tiler, Henry T. Dyring.

AWAIT OPENING OF DEER SEASON

Hunters Polishing up Rusty Rifles for Four Days' Campaign in Jersey.

WILL WEAR RED CAPS

Game said to Be Plentiful—Sections Where Deer Will Be Found and Hotel Headquarters — Lower Counties Most Prominent.

Deer hunters are making preparations for the opening of the season next Monday, especially in the southern section of the State, where the greatest number are to be found. Ocean, Atlantic, Gloucester, Salem and Cumberland counties have two deer within their boundaries to one in any other county, and it is in that section of the State where the hunters will congregate.

Philadelphia gunners have enjoyed the best of the deer hunting in New Jersey, because they are in closer touch with the guides who make part of their living deer hunting. These guides make it their business to pick out the man who is willing to pay a bonus to the guide should he be fortunate enough to bring down a deer, and all of the information they possess is kept secret until the hunt begins.

During last week several prominent hunters of Plainfield have visited Mays Landing, Barnegat, Egg Harbor City, Millville and other places making arrangements for accommodations during the season, which, while supposed to be of five days duration, will be but four this year because the first day happens to fall on Sunday.

The prospects for a good season grow brighter every day now that rain has fallen. During the long dry spell the deer disappeared from their usual haunts and it was feared that they had gone to the Delaware River in search of water and from there found their way across to Pennsylvania, but they came back to their feedings grounds with the rain.

Barnegat citizens claim that at least a dozen deer will be killed on the outskirts of their village between Brookville, Manahawken and Waretown if the hunters look for them there. One herd of three was seen crossing the road into the property of the Barnegat Hunting and Fishing Club last Tuesday and another herd of four was seen coming from a spring south of the village.

Abernachie township, in the vicinity of Eagle Speedway, Friendship Bogs and White Horse, claims more deer than any other township, and many Philadelphia gunners will hunt through there this season. Deer have also been seen in Shamong township around Hampton Gate and Hampton Furnace.

Bridgeton will be the hotel quarters of a few hunters who have information that deer have been seen recently in Fairfield and Lawrence townships bordering on the Delaware Bay. The Cohansey River in Greenwich township is also the feeding grounds of a few deer. Upper Pitts Grove in Salem county boasts of seeing deer feeding with the stock in barn yards.

Uncertain and dangerous as is the sport, hundreds of gunners will follow the trails and tracks during the open season in hopes that they will bring down a buck, the only kind that can be killed under the law, which provides that the horns must be seen above the head before shooting. Only one deer can be killed by any gunner during the season, and the use of a rifle or a slug or bullet of any kind is prohibited, and nothing smaller than a twelve-gauge gun can be used.

The prohibition of the use of dogs in hunting deer is not relished by the guides, but it has proven a good restriction, as in former years when hounding was permitted, many deer were driven across the river into Pennsylvania by a pack of howling hounds, both in season and out of season.

A new feature this year will be the wearing of red hats to prevent accidents. The wearing of any headgear of a brown, drab or gray color is dangerous and gunners usually fire when they see but the head of a deer, and frequently the cap or hat of a hunter is mistaken for the deer and the mistake is not learned until after the damage is done.

JOHNNY EVERS IN CLASS WITH BAKER

Has Attained the Honor of Hitting Over .300 in Three World's Series.

J. Franklin Baker no longer can lay claim to being the only athlete in captivity who has batted .300 or better in three world's series, for Johnny Evers, by rapping the sphere for .437 in the recent arguments between the Braves and Athletics stepped into the Mauling Marylander's class. The National League Chalmers Car winner of 1914, in 1907 and 1908, ran up an average of .350 against Hugh Ambrose Jennings' slabmen, his record against Fielder Jones' artillerists in 1906 having been a miserable .150. Baker hit at a .429 pace in the 1910 world's series with the Cubs and his percentages against the Giants in 1911 and 1913 were, respectively, .375 and .450. Baker and Eddie Collins are the only pair who have twice batted over .400 in baseball's annual classic, the man who won the Chalmers car among the American Leaguers this season, being one of seven pastimers who have twice been members of the World's Series Society of the Three Hundred. The other six are "Chief" Myers, of the Giants; Frank Schulte, of the Cubs; Frank Chance, of nowhere; Jack Barry, of the White Elephants, and Danny Murphy and Artie Hofman, of the Brookfeds.

Not taking into consideration morning glory performers like Art Wilson, Olaf Henriksen and J. Weldon Wyckoff, the high batting percentages for world's series by positions are as follows:

Hall, of the Red Sox, for the pitchers, with .750; Gowdy, of the Braves, for the catchers, .545; Chance, of the Cubs, for the first basemen, with .421; Evers, of the Braves, for the second basemen, with .470; Barry, of the White Elephants, for the shortstops, with .368; Steinfeldt, of the Cubs, for the thrd basemen, with .470; Sebring, of the Pirates, for the left fielders, with .366; Cobb, of the Tigers, for the center fielders, with .368, and Schulte, of the Cubs, for the right fielders, with .389.

The names of all the men who have hit .300 or better in the various world's series are given below:

MASONS PREPARING FOR UNION COUNTY LEAGUE

A meeting of the team that will represent Jerusalem lodge in the Union County Masonic Bowling League will be held tonight. A captain and manager will be elected and the alleys to be used will be discussed.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, will practice tomorrow night on the Second street alleys to get into trim for the county league which will start Monday night, when Anchor meets Essex.

PLAINFIELD Y. M. H. A. WILL START TOMORROW

The Plainfield Y. M. H. A. basketball team will open its season tomorrow night, at Charity Hall, Elizabeth, when the locals will play the Elizabeth Y. M. H. A. Both teams have been practicing hard for this game and the winner will have to go the limit to get the larger end of the score.

Practically all of last year's players will again be on the local team, including Rosenson, Hirsh, Cantor, Schreager and Abrams.

J. C. CLUB FOR SYRACUSE?

Talk of putting an International League team in Syracuse was revived again yesterday, when it became known that William Devery, New York's ex-Chief of Police, who controls the Jersey City Club's stock, spent the day at Syracuse negotiating with men in that city who are dickering for the Jersey City franchise. Devery has been anxious to sell out his Jersey City Club for some time. The club lost money last season along with the other International League clubs. Jersey City's franchise has been talked of in the peace proposals with the Feds as being transferred over to Brooklyn, but Devery seems to be going ahead trying to dispose of his property regardless of the situation as respects the Feds. Any action relative to the sale of the Jersey City franchise cannot be confirmed, however, until the December meeting of the league, whose members will pass upon the proposed transfer to Syracuse.

LOCAL FIVE'S RIVAL PLANS FOR SEASON

Somersets Are After a Meeting With Plainfield Y. M. C. A. Aggregation.

The Somerset basketball team, which made its debut in 1912, and came into the limelight as one of the most promising quintets in this vicinity, has been organized again for this season.

Last year the team made a high bid for the county championship and chances were of the best, but the team disbanded before the middle of the season.

This year the team will be practically the same with the exception of the absence of Elroy Steadle from the line-up. His absence will be greatly felt, as he was undoubtedly the most consistent foul shooter in the county, and one of the fastest floor men. Just who will fill his position is not known as yet.

In all probability Stretch Sherman will jump center. Having been connected with agriculture for some time now he has added to his strength, and has greatly improved in his playing. He is undoubtedly the tallest player in the county, and has a remarkable reach. His shooting is also of the highest brand. Wilmot will occupy one of the positions underneath the basket, and with a couple of years of experience he is about ready now to be matched against the best of the forwards. His playing of last season made promise of his basketball future.

Taylor and Garland, who made the Somersets what they are, will make up the other part of the team. Garland will divide his time between forward and center, and "Roe" Taylor will play his reguar guard position.

The team will be under the same management as heretofore, and the announcement of some dates will be made soon. A game has already been secured with the Knights of St. Peter, who recently defeated the championship team of Trenton, for the first Wednesday in January, but it is expected that a game will be arranged before that time.

The Somersets will probably play the Riversides, Michelin, Sterlings, Company M, of Somerville; Invaders, of Passaic; Plainfield Y. M. C. A., Parish House, of Woodbridge; Tottenville and other teams of like reputation.

FIVE LOCAL FISHERMEN CAUGHT A GREAT MESS

What do you think of this for a catch? Clarence L. Thorn, Charles L. Hall, James C. Blair, Percy McVoy and W. J. Whelan, all of this city, motored to Great Kills, S. I., last week, and went out with Captain Abe Hapenny in his power boat to a point 1,000 yards easterly of the Sandy Hook boat, landing on Atlantic Highlands, where they caught eighty-nine large weakfish, three croakers and two herring. They fished from noon until 4 o'clock, using bloodworms for bait and chummed with shrimp, which Captain Hapenny furnished.

TWO PLAINFIELD LODGES IN THE COUNTY LEAGUE

Plainfield will be represented by two lodges in the Union County Masons' Bowling League, which will start operations next Monday and will conclude its schedule on March 25, 1915.

Anchor Lodge, of Plainfield, will open the league with Essex next week and the Jerusalem pinners will get into action for the first time when they meet Orient Lodge. There are nine teams entered in the league.

HANK IS THE BIG NOISE.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 28.—Hank Gowdy, Boston National catcher and one of the heroes of the 1914 series for the world's baseball championship, got a cordial reception upon his return home here, last night. Several thousand persons marched in a parade which escorted the young catcher from his train to the State House, where Governor James M. Cox and Mayor George J. Karb made addresses of welcome. The procession was headed by six bands. Gowdy was accompanied by Josh Devore, Boston outfielder, whose home is in Murray City, Ohio.

SPEEDBOAT RACES OFF.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Races to decide the speedboat championship of America were called off by the owners of the three contesting boats yesterday, because of cold weather. The first race of the series was won by Disturber IV., of Chicago. The event will not be decided until next summer.

DUNELLEN TOURNEY GETTING EXCITING

Players Are Rounding Into Real Form and Pinning is Very Good.

Miss Mabel Bennett and Mrs. W. J. Smith came out winners, last night, in the Women's Two team Bowling Tournament which is being played on the Presbyterian alleys, Dunellen. This pair hit the pins with great accuracy and took three out of the four games they took part in. This team also made the team high score of the night with a 205 in the first game.

Mrs. H. B. Arnold and Miss Margaret Ryan split games with Mrs. W. E. Terry and daughter, Miss Natalie, who substituted for Miss Margaret Crawford in the first three games. Both teams had an easy time winning their respective matches, many points separating the final scores. In the first game Mrs. Arnold tallied a 129 and later increased that mark by one point, which stood for the night's high score. All of the other scores in the first match were below the one hundred mark. Mrs. Arnold and her teammate took Miss Bennett and Mrs. Smith for their opponents and again broke even on two games, the first being very close with an eight-point gap between the scores.

In the last match Miss Bennett and Mrs. Smith took both games from their opponents. Miss Natalie Terry played the first game, but was relieved by Miss Crawford in the last. The first score was very close and the winners were forced to the limit, coming out six points to the good. The next matches will be rolled tomorrow night on the same alleys. HOLY CROSS WILL MEET PLAINFIELD

Borough Aggregation and City School Team Will Probably Play Nov. 28.

Although no game has as yet been scheduled, the Holy Cross and Plainfield High School football teams will probably meet on the gridiron this year and the contest promises to be one of the best of the season. Manager John Doyle, of the borough club, has been after the Plainfield authorities for election day and, although the players are willing to meet the team on one of the local fields, Coach Patch holds that the team must keep its game with the Westfield High School team at that place. If the Westfield players are still "outlaws" steps could be taken to book the boroughites, but rumor has it that the team has been reinstated as the school's representative eleven.

Other dates were talked over by the managers and Captain Peacock and the teams will probably come together on Saturday, November 28, and it will be the last game for both teams. The managers had expected to end the season on Thanksgiving Day, but as there is no other date open the game will be a post-season event.

DEXTERS HAVE SIGNED A MODEST MANAGER

Resignation of Billy Pfau Results in Engagement of a Real Financier.

A communication received this morning by Manager "Doc" Doyle, of the Holy Cross football team, indicates that the Dexters have increased the rating of their playing ability and the guarantee has been treated to a substantial boost of forty points since they laid preposterous claim to the New Jersey title some twenty odd months ago. Although the local manager has been endeavoring to sign up the attraction for some time past the unusual figures named by the rival manager will probably keep the pair of gridiron contingents a number of miles apart this season.

The Dexters played here to big crows, but their appearance was never considered the drawing card they evidently think it was. That the name Dexter should signify a hundred additional dollars at the gate is beyond reason, but that is the status placed on the Perth Amboy eleven by its modest manager.

The tone of the letter indicates that the "small" guarantee is requested out of modesty, it being known in Amboy circles that world's series crowds are seldom entertained at a football picnic in the Queen City.

WITH THE BOXERS

Revised Schedule of Bouts.

October 28—Mike Gibbons vs. Billy Maxwell, New York.

October 29—Carl Morris vs. Jim Flinn, 12 rounds, Kansas City; Frankie Callahan vs. Young McAuliff, 20 rounds, Waterbury.

October 30—Jack Britton vs. Kid Lewis, at New York; George Chip vs. Jimmy Clabby, 20 rounds, at San Francisco; Battling Levinsky vs. Tom Kennedy, at New York; Battling Reddy vs. Louisiana, at New York.

October 31—Young Ahearn vs. Tommy Teague, at New York; Young Rector vs. Young Drummie, at New York; Battling Levinsky vs. Terry Keller, New York.

Jim Barry, the Western heavyweight, is in England gunning for purses.

Eddie Moha will meet Welter Stone, of Boston, if the latter can evaporate some of his 148 pounds.

Freddy Welsh will spend next week in Milwaukee training for his bout with Charlie White, which is set for November 9.

Billy Mackey will train Frank Burns for his fight with Kid Herman at New Orleans, scheduled for November 6.

Sam Murbarger, manager of Jack Dillon, writes that he will begin proceedings against the St. Louis club that had Jack pinched for alleged faking.

New Yorkers are to see Freddie Welsh on November 2, when he will meet Ad Wolgast. Wolgast claims he is in good shape this fall.

Packy McFarland cut short his honeymoon trip when a German ship fired on the Japanese vessel he was traveling on. He is getting ready for Freddie Welsh.

Leach Cross wants to get back at Gilbert Gallant, and is to meet him at a New York club on November 6.

Jimmy Duffy, the Buffalo lightweight, is the latest to discard his manager and handle the oars himself. Many have tried, few succeeded.

The fight season is well under way, but good boxers are sadly lacking.

DEXTERS MAY PLAY HOLY CROSS HERE

Will Finish Their Season on the Road and Were Booked for Nov. 26.

The Holy Cross football team will probably have a big game on at the Cricket Field on Thanksgiving Day and will not go to Perth Amboy to meet the champion Dexters as was originally arranged by the Dexter manager. From reports it appears that there has been war in the Dexter camp and the Amusement Park, where this team played all home games, has been shut up and is not likely to be reopened.

The manager of the team scheduled the Elizabeth A. A. team to play for $15, but the players could not be satisfied with their $6 share and so the game was cancelled. After that the announcement was made that the Dexters would play all games away from home and will probably keep their date with the Holy Cross club for the holiday bill if financial arrangements can be agreed upon. This, however, is improbable as Manager Applegate has been instructed not to book any games for less than a $35 guarantee. There may be some trouble from that quarter but Manager Doyle may fix it up with the Perth Amboy booker and Plainfield fans will see a great game which may give the boroughites a chance at the State title.

The Holy Cross team held a good practice last night, and will probably meet again before the game with the Franklins, of Newark, on Saturday. This game should be a good one as the teams played a scoreless tie several weks ago and were about evenly matched.

WESTFIELD FOOTBALL TEAM REINSTATED BY PRINCIPAL

Westfield, Oct. 28.—The Westfield school authorities have reinstated the Westfield High School football team with the understanding that Randall, Bush and Miller must not play until they have received report cards for October. These cards will be issued on Friday, when it is expected that these players will re-enter the game. The game with Rahway, scheduled for Wednesday, was postponed for this week. The local team may play Somerville H. S. next Saturday.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR LATE MEMBER

Local C. E. Union Adopt Resolutions on Death of Arnold Finkel.

Under the auspices of the Plainfield Christian Endeavor Local Union, a service in memory of Arnold Finkel, its late president, was held in the First Baptist church, last night. The service was largely attended by members and friends of the union, all of the societies comprising the organization being largely represented. Mr. Finkel, who was an employe of the Westfield postoffice, died recently as the result of a motorcycle accident while returning to his home in this city.

Theodore W. Day, vice president of the Union, was in charge of the service, while Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the church, conducted the devotional exercises. Early in the services resolutions were adopted on the death of Mr. Finkel, being presented by a committee comprising H. H. Pennoyer, of Evona chapel, Clarence B. LaRue and Edward Baker, of the Temple Baptist church, and Miss Lucie Coriell, of Trinity Reformed church. The resolutions were adopted by a rising vote, the Mizpah benediction being repeated while the congregation remained standing.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. Edward S. Ralston, pastor of the Netherwood Reformed church, of which Mr. Finkel was an active member. His remarks were of an eulogistic character in which he recalled the faithfulness which marked the Christian work of the departed president of the union. The speaker also dwelt at length on the importance of caring for the small as well as the larger things in Christian Endeavor work. During the evening several selections were given by a male quartet comprised of Guion Fountain, Clyde Doane, Wilbur Moke and Hollis Cubberley.

P. H. S. NOTES.

Tryouts for parts in the play, "The Case for Sherlock Holmes," to be presented by the Girls' Athletic Association, were held yesterday afternoon, and the following roles were assigned: "Lavinia," Miss Mildred Burnett; "Estelle," Miss Dorothy Simons; "Eugenia," Miss Ruth Voorhees. Tryouts for the parts of "Helen" and "Cyrene" will be held today.

A demonstration in the use of milk chocolate was performed before the cooking classes this afternoon.

The classes for the boys in gymnastic work began today.

This will be the last week in High School for one of the most popular girls in the sophomore class. Miss Marion Archer will move to Reading Ridge, Conn., where she will attend school.

The swimming pool, which has not been in use for two weeks, owing to a break in the pump, was opened this afternoon.

LITERARY ORGANIZATION.

A literary organization in connection with the local Young Men's Hebrew Association will be formed this evening at the club rooms of the association, 204 West Front street. Mr. Goldfish, of the National Y. M. H. A., will be present to direct the organization of the new department of work. A full attendance of the membership is desired. Final plans will be made at this time for the ball to be held Thanksgiving night, at the Columbus Club Auditorium.

"LEAVENING THE LUMP."

The meeting at the Congregational church this evening will be one of a series of special services arranged by the official board. Rev. Dr. Charles W. Carroll, of East Orange, will be the speaker. His subject will be "Leavening the Lump." The address will be followed by a conference on practical ways for a church to influence the community. There will be a solo by Roy Titsworth. The public is invited.

MISS CULLEN'S FUNERAL.

A large number of friends attended the funeral services of Miss Emily Cullen, this morning at 9 o'clock, from St. Mary's R. C. church, when a solemn mass of requiem was said, Father Sciola being the celebrant. The bearers were Edward and John Connolly, Patrick McAfee, John Simpson, John Casey and Patrick Kiely. Interment was made at St. Mary's cemetery.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SERVICE.

Plans have been completed for the young people's service next Sunday evening at the Grace Methodist church, when the Epworth League of the church will be in charge. There will be special music by the choir and orchestra. A Hallowe'en social is to be held by the league, Saturday evening, at the barn at 640 Grandview avenue, the borough.

FANWOOD REGISTRATION.

Returns from the last day of registry in Fanwood township yesterday show that 457 voters have registered in that place. This is the largest number of voters ever registered in the borough. Indications are that in another year the township will have to be divided into two election districts in order to comply with the election laws of the State.

TEACHERS RECEIVE PARENTS OF PUPILS

Franklin - Stillman Parent Teacher Association Held Reception

Parents and friends of pupils enrolled in the Franklin Primary School and the Stillman Grammar School were the guests of the Franklin-Stillman Parent-Teacher Association in the auditorium of the former institution, yesterday afternoon. The meeting was largely attended and the parents were introduced to the various teachers, the meeting being the first one of the fall and took the form of an acquaintance party.

The parents conferred with the instructors having charge of the work being done by their respective pupils and an opportunity was afforded each mother to ascertain just what her child was doing along scholarship lines. The entire school was open to the parents and friends and following a short business session the guests were received by the teachers in the class-rooms.

After the meeting refreshments were served, older scholars of the school assisting the association in serving.

THE FORUM

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

I hereby wish to publicly announce my appreciation for the support and good feeling shown to me by my constituents in the overwhelming majority given to me on primary day for the office of township committeeman in Warren township. This popular sentiment absolutely assures me that I would receive a substantial victory at the final ballot. While being duly grateful for this good feeling and kindly support, I wish to here state that owing to unforeseen increase in my private business since receiving the nomination it will be absolutely necessary for me to resign immediately after my election. With these facts in view and being a man of honor and wishing not to disappoint those who have always had faith in me, I feel that the honorable thing to do in the matter is to withdraw at this time, asking my friends to kindly throw their support to my worthy opponent, Frank W. Raluh, who, in my estimation, is well worthy of this support. The reason of my stand at this time is this: On the resignation of any member of the Township Committee it rests with the other two members in power to appoint a third member to fill this vacancy and as Mr. Ralph was the people's alternate choice it is only right that he should be elected. I trust that my friends will excuse my inability to serve and will grant my request.

JOHN C. COOPER.

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press.

The morning mail brought me a circular issued by the Progressive candidates for county officers, making a bid for my vote by an appeal to my pocket. The three gentlemen pledge themselves to make a reduction ranging from $6,500 to $3,500 per year in their salaries. Why should they? What will they do with the balance? Refuse to accept it? If so, what will the county do with it? If the salaries are too large (and there is no question but what they are) the proper course to pursue is to ask the Legislature or the proper authorities to reduce them. But to undertake to bribe the voters to give them their support if not illegal certainly should be made so, for it is bribery and nothing else. I can suggest a still better way to meet the situation. Abolish the office of register—it is not needed, and was created by the G. O. P. to furnish further political patronage and plunder. Why should the county clerk be an elective office? Its duties are clerical. He is the clerk of the courts. Why not commit his appointment to the judges, and why should not his term continue during good behaviour? If Messrs. Richart, Leach and Fish will pledge themselves to endeavor to bring about these changes they will commend themselves much more to independent voters than they can possibly do by this discreditable circular.

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAM.

The motion picture program for the weekly entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday afternoon and evening will include a fine Boy Scout film entitled, "Wig-Wag." It shows some of the great possibilities of the Boy Scout movement. The film receives its title from the wig-wagging of a signal from a Boy Scout camp on Lake Otsego to a scout on the shore of the lake who rescues a boy from drowning. Then the resuscitation of the rescued by is shown and later his reception into the organization. This film has the highest educational value for both boys and parents of boys. The other pictures in the program are: "Heroes, One and All," and a comedy film.

SPEAKS AT BOONTON.

G. W. V. Moy, the Progressive Congressional candidate, addressed a large gathering of voters at Boonton, Morris county, last night. He was given a cordial reception and the audience listened attentively to his remarks as he presented the issues of the campaign from the point of view of the Progressives. Mr. Moy will probably speak at the local mass meeting of his party tonight.

Hague says that the German cruiser Emden has sunk the Japanese liner Kamaska Maru. The steamer was enroute to Singapore from Japanese ports with a valuable cargo when she was attacked by the Emden in the Indian Ocean and sent to the bottom.

The Allies are making preparations for the vaccination against cholera infection on all the men in the Amis.

Berlin, Oct. 28 (By wireless)—Austro-German official reports from the eastern theatre of war indicate that severe battles are raging along the Vistula and San Rivers. The Germans are apparently engaging numerically superior Russian forces and the battle is attracting equal attention with the struggle in France and Belgium. A bulletin issued last night by the Austrian war office states that the Austrian, southwest of Ivangored, are combating numerically superior forces of Russians.

Rome, Oct. 28 (Central News Cable)—A despatch from Athens states that the Greek Government has officially announced, following the requests from both the Christian and Mohammedan population of Epirus, that troops be sent there to occupy Argyrooistro and Premeti, that it will respect in every way the decision of the London conference concerning that territory.

Havre, Oct. 28 (Central News Cable)—Belgian troops from the Congo Free State have completely defeated a German force at Kissenie, on Lake Tanganyika, which separates the Congo Free State and German East Africa, according to a cablegram received from the Governor of the Free State, sent from Katanga.

The Hague, Oct. 28—The Government of Holland has asked parliament to appropriate 3,000,000 guilders for the maintenance of the refugees from Belgium who are now within the Dutch borders.

Amsterdam, Oct. 28 (Central News Cable)—A telegram from Ymuiden says that the Trawler Otono arrived last evening and reports the motor lugger Maria Christina, out of Laardingen, sank in the North Sea forty miles northwest of Ymuiden. It is believed that it struck a mine. It was impossible to save the crew, which numbered ten.

The Germans are fortifying their position in the north of Belgium along the canal from Bruges to the coast. A number of their large field guns have been brought forward from Antwerp.

Durban, Natal, South Africa, Oct. 28 (Central News Cable)—A number of prisoners of war at Pietermaritzburg, where several thousand German and Austrian were interned at the beginning of the war, mutined last night. Some of them temporarily escaped. The guards were speedily reinforced by volunteers from the town and quickly quelled the disturbance.

Copenhagan, Oct. 28 (Central News Cable)—A despatch from Berlin says that it has been found impossible in Germany to start the public schools this fall in normal manner, as there are 40,000 German school teachers at the front, a fifth of the entire number of school teachers in Germany in ordinary times.

On account of the British holding up so many of the Danish freight steamers from America the plan under consideration by the Danish Government of giving a guarantee to England that in each case the cargo will not pass out of Denmark again has made a good impression here. The Scandinavian-American liner Oscar will be released soon, but the delays that have been suffered mean such great losses to the Danish shipping trade that any effort that may be made to give England satisfactory guarantees, and that will mean that Danish ships will be allowed to pass with only an examination of their papers at sea, is hailed with delight.

Athens, Oct. 28 (Via London)—German war supplies for both navy and army have been pouring into Turkey virtually since the war began. The trains with 150 wagons of guns and ammunition held up by Roumania were not the first. Submarines, in separate parts, have been sent to Smyrna by rail and are being put together on the Mediterranean coast. German officers are in command of the Turkish army and both officers and gunners man the Turkish forts.

Pekin, Oct. 28—The authorities of Hong Kong and other British possessions in China today issued orders for the expulsion from British territory of German and Austrian subjects except those of military age who will be detained.

Tokio, Oct. 28.—The Japanese cruiser Chitose repulsed two night attacks by German warships October 18 and 19, after the destruction of the Japanese cruiser Takachiho by a German torpedo boat destroyer in Kiau Chau harbor October 17. The German ships fled into the harbor. Storms have delayed the general Japanese assult on Tsing Tau, and the rough seas have released the mines, which are endangering navigation. The preliminary bombardments of the forts from land and sea continue and are causing much destruction.

Washington, Oct. 28—The Red Star liner Kroonland has been seized by British warships and interned at Gibralter, the State department was notified formally today by the British Government. The Kroonland was reported to have a cargo of several thousand tons of copper for an Italian port. The copper, it was understood, really was destined for the Krupp Works in Germany. Official notification was made by the British Government of the release of the Standard Oil tank steamer Brindilla.

RULED MEXICO WITH FIRM HAND

Diaz Was Country's Government Many Years.

BEGAN PUBLIC LIFE EARLY.

Future Dictator Only a Youth When He Entered Actively Into Nation's Political and Military Affairs—Forced Out of Office by Madero Revolution In 1911.

General Porfirio Diaz was the leading figure in Mexican life and history in the closing quarter of the nineteenth century and the first decade of the twentieth. He was more than a Mexican figure; his fame was international. Even in quarters in which his dictatorship of a nominal republic was disapproved his forceful qualities commanded general attention and admiration.

After a stormy career in the army and politics in the chaotic conditions in Mexico in the middle of the nineteenth century Porfirio Diaz, a man of mixed Spanish and Indian descent, became president of Mexico in 1876. With the exception of the four years between 1880 and 1884 and in defiance of the provision of the Mexican constitution which forbids the re-election of a president he ruled the country continuously until 1911. Then he was driven from power by the Madero revolution and sought refuge in France. The time since June, 1911, until the present has been spent by Diaz in Europe and Egypt.

Diaz developed a sound mind in a vigorous, healthy body and even in old age was a strong and remarkably well preserved man. At the age of seventy he visited the gymnasium of the National Military academy at Chapultepec one day, and, after watching the work of the cadets for some time with keen interest, he swung on to a rope and climbed thirty feet or more hand over hand as spryly as any of them. Sliding down easily, he said, "Now, boys, see to it that you so live that when you are my age you can do as well." He exercised daily, taking a morning horseback ride and a walk later in the day. He loved horses and was a splendid horseman. He was fond of hunting and other sports.

Diaz's Stormy Earlier Career.

Diaz was patriotic enough to be born on the anniversary of Mexican independence, namely, on Sept. 15, 1830. His father was a Spaniard, but on his mother's side there is a drop of Indian blood. His mother intended to educate him for a priest, but to her great grief he chose rather the law. This estranged his parents, so he was obliged to earn his own education.

At seventeen he enlisted for the war against the United States, but he was obliged, to his disgust, to serve as a "home guard." "Better than nothings," was the contemptuous name given to these militiamen by the Mexican peasants.

His first taste of real warfare was when he enlisted under the banner of Herrera against the usurper, Santa Ana. He was the only student in his school who had the courage to take sides against the dictator then in power. The resolution was won, and Diaz was rewarded with the mayoralty of the town of Ixtlan. There, by his own unaided efforts, he organized the half naked Indian boys into a body of effective militia. These soldiers Diaz soon had occasion to use in his native town of Oaxaca, where an adventurer named Garcia started a rebellion. Diaz marched his Indian ragamuffins to Oaxaca and frightened Garcia into being good. Garcia broke faith, and then Diaz captured the town. For this service the president offered him a money reward, which the young patriot declined.

He also refused to accept a law degree tendered to him by Juarez, the conqueror of Emperor Maximilian, preferring to earn the honor by spending two more years in study.

Then, during Tejada's administration followed Diaz's own fight for power, which, after several early discouragements, was crowned with complete success.

President Diaz Closely Guarded.

Thoughout his long rule in Mexico President Diaz took few chances with assassins, despite his personal bravery.

"The shooting of our American presidents," said an American traveler returned from Mexico, "would not have been possible in Mexico, a country where attempted assassination is one of the expected incidents of government. President Diaz never takes a walk on the street or in any public place without secret service men watching over him. Nobody with his hand wrapped up or with his hand in his pocket could approach him without being stopped. One morning a lame man carrying a heavy cane was passing him on the street. A detective brushed against the man as if by accident and knocked the cane out of his hand. He picked it up and returned it to the man with profuse apologies, but while he had the cane in his hands he gave the head a turn and a pull to satisfy himself that it was not a sword cane. Another time an old woman carrying a basket on her arm was stopped because her hand was concealed in the basket. The detective lifted her hand out of the basket and, seeing that it held no weapon, apologized for the liberty."

A Resident Known to All Our Readers Relates an Experience.

Readers of the Press have been told again and again of the merits of that reliable, time-proved kidney remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills. The experiences told are not those of unknown persons, living far away. The cases are Plainfield cases, told by Plainfield people.

C. L. Treat, painter and paperhanger, 411 East Third street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I suffered for a long time from kidney trouble and for years couldn't get relief. My back ached constantly and I had pain across my kidneys. My kidneys were in bad shape and I became all run down, in fact, was almost a physical wreck. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply at Randolph's drug store and my experience was so satisfactory that I cannot make my endorsement too strong. I simply wouldn't be without a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills on hand."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Treat had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

MEN'S & BOYS' CLOTHING, HATS & FURNISHINGS

Character, is what we aim to, and do instill into all our clothes. Our one absorbing thought, in designing our garments, is to adhere to the prevailing tendency of good form.

The title "Style" in many cases is a misnomer screening exaggerated liberties with the proprieties of proper dress.

We are constantly in touch with the embodiment of correct and refined detail in the tailoring of our product and keep fully abreast of the times in our personally owned and supervised tailor-shop; affording many advantages which are a direct benefit to our customers.

We have improved the making of our clothes quite visibly by owning our own plant, perfecting an organization of skilled tailors, and putting the contractor's profit into the betterment of the garments.

HARWOOD FISH IS WAGING AN AGGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN

Harwood Fish, of Roselle Park, the Progressive candidate for registrar of deeds, is conducting a lively campaign throughout the county. Mr. Fish, in speaking of his candidacy, says: "As Mayor of Roselle I have fought for 'economy and efficiency' in the expenditure of public funds and his appointments have all been non-partisan."

Mr. Fish is known throughouf the county as "The Fighting Mayor of Roselle Park," and one of his slogans is that "he stands for human rights as against corporate greed."

NEW PRESIDENT CHOSEN FOR CHORAL SOCIETY

H. B. Coombe, president of the Plainfield Choral Society, who was forced to resign on account of business pressure, was succeeded, last night, by the Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, who was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy. Twenty-six new voices increased the membership to nearly one hundred and fifty and the conductor, S. Frederick Smith, hopes to have a chorus of two hundred voices to give Handel s "Messiah" in December at the new High School auditorium.

Another new officer is Miss Ruth Sadler, who was elected treasurer to succeed Miss Enstrandt.

VOTERS TO PICK BEST MAN

economy, efficiency, home rule and fair representation. Of course, candidates favor these things. The voter's job is to pick out the men who are best qualified by training and experience to secure those things for the people.

"I want no man to vote for me except for the only reason which will justify any man's vote as a public-spirited citizen, having the welfare of the community at heart. Citizenship is just as much a public trust as is public office. You voters have a duty to perform. I stand on my record of hard work in the Council and on my experience in our public affairs. I believe that when times are bad it is more than ever the duty of public officials to economize in the spending of public moneys. I am not satisfied that our schools are run as inexpensively as they can be. I make no empty pledges to cure everything, but I pledge myself to become a working Mayor, and to use what ability I have to secure a reasonable efficiency in our public affairs together with a wise economy. I ask your support only if you have confidence in my sincerity of purpose to conduct the office so far as I can, for all the people of our city regardless of color, race or position in life. It is just up to you as practical men to make a practical choice of your business managers."

Councilman Graves spoke for the election of Mr. Calkins. He told the audience that it was the cleanest-cut kind of a proposition for them to vote on. "Would you, if you had to get rid of your appendix, go to some fine fellow whom you happened to know personally, say a carpenter or a grocer, or would you go to a doctor? Why you would go to the man best fitted for the job, whether he happened to be a personal friend of yours or not. And so I say the voters of Plainfield are going to elect Mr. Calkins because he is one of the best fitted, if not the best fitted man who ever ran for office. Look back over our list of Mayors, and how many have ever been elected who came from the Common Council with two hard years of work on every important committee? Mr. Calkins will go into office better equipped and better fitted than any man who has been before you for years, owing to his Council experience, and when you come to know him as well as I do, you will not only like him, but you will find out, that when he says a thing he means it. I am going to be in the Council next year, and I tell you we need Mr. Calkins in the office of Mayor."

W. J. Douglas and William Kline both spoke for Mr. Calkins' election and assured him that he need have no fear that the colored people would not vote with intelligence. Mr. Kline praised Mr. Calkins' work in the Council, and spoke of his interest in every movement for the benefit of the workingmen.

Mr. Carroll presided and made a rousing speech for all candidates. The meeting was largely attended. Before going to the East End, Mr. Calkins addressed a large audience at headquarters, speaking on the school question, and on the need of economy in all city departments.

MRS. GREELEY TO SPEAK.

Mrs. Helen Hoy Greeley, the widely-known leader in the suffrage cause, who has been assisting the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield in its campaign of "Votes for Women," will be one of the speakers at the Progressive mass meeting to be held at the headquarters on North avenue, tonight. All of the county candidates will be present to speak.

RETURNS FROM IRELAND.

Miss Rose Spillane, a graduate of Muhlenberg Hospital's Training School, returned to her home on Madison avenue, Monday, after a six months' stay at her former home in Ireland. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Scheila Spillane, who will make her home in this city. The return trip was made on the White Star Liner "Baltic."

FIRST PLACE TO VELVET COATS.

Vogue says quite the smartest outer garment now, smarter even than the fur cloak, is the separate coat of velvet bordered with fur, designed to wear with the one-piece frocks. Callot's separate coats are unsurpassed by anything seen in Paris this season. Of soft and vivid velvets, they are worn over frocks of sober-hued satin and cloth, and the more they flare the smarter they are declared to be. The Cheruit coat differs from the Callot creation in that, instead of flaring all about the figure, it flares only at the hips, being quite flat in front and back. The short shoulder cape is of sealskin. Like so many other recent models this cloak has no fastening of any kind but must be drawn about the figure and held with the hand—a subtlety worthy of the house of Callot. Drecoll shows a redingote which is rather long and straight in effect, although it is quite wide at the hem. Premet's favorite coat is short in front, scarcely covers the waist-line, and extends to the hem of the skirt in the back. It is worn over a flaring, circular or ruffled skirt, short enough to show the curve of the ankle. Premet shows also a number of simple tailored coats, rather long-waisted, with a slightly circular piece sewn on to give a flare. These are worn over moderately wide circular skirts. These coats have long sleeves and fur collars.

Some Cookery Suggestions

STUFFED VEGETABLES.

LUNCHEON MENU.
Stuffed Tomatoes.
Pickled Beets.
Steamed Apples.
Buttermilk, Cocoa or Tea.

VEGETABLES stuffed with meat are delicious and nutritious. Those stuffed with a cereal are also especially wholesome.

Nourishing and Nice.

Stuffed Vegetable Marrow. — Cut a marrow in half, remove the seeds and peel off the rind. Fill the two half pieces with some nicely seasoned minced beef. Secure the two pieces together with skewers and bake in a moderate oven until tender. Serve with a good brown sauce.

Stuffed Beets.—Wash one-half cupful of rice and put it in a kettle of boiling water. Boil rapidly for fifteen minutes and drain. Chop one cupful of English walnuts, mix them with the rice, adding one teaspoonful of salt and one-third saltspoonful of pepper. Scoop the centers from cooked beets, fill the spaces with rice mixture, stand in a baking pan and bake for twenty minutes. Chop the beet taken from the center very fine, add it to one cupful of cream sauce and pour around the beets after they are served.

Flavored With Gravy.

Stuffed Baked Tomatoes.—Take four tomatoes, wash and cut off the stem end, remove the center, make a dressing and fill in the center. Place in a pan which has been brushed with drippings and bake in a moderate oven until tender.

Dressing.—Take one cupful of breadcrumbs, one tablespoonful of onion, two teaspoonfuls of drippings, one teaspoonful of parsley and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Any left over gravy, cream sauce, vegetables or meat may be added.

Put the drippings and onions into a frying pan, cook until tender; then add the breadcrumbs, parsley, salt, gravy or water enough to moisten. Heat thoroughly.

Filled With Breadcrumbs.

Stuffed Peppers. — Take five green peppers, cut off the stems, cut in two lengthwise and take out the insides. Put the shells in boiling water, let them cook five minutes; then throw them into cold water.

Make a stuffing in the proportion of one cupful of breadcrumbs soaked in stock to one cupful of chopped meat. Season with one teaspoonful of onion juice, one-quarter of a spoonful each of savory and thyme, a half teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper.

Drain the shells and fill them with the stuffing. Sprinkle the top with crumbs browned in butter and put bits of butter over them. Place the half peppers in a deep earthen dish, pour a half cupful of stock around them and bake in a moderate oven a half hour.

Anna Thompson

Suddenly Good Mrs. Blaine Heard Concerted Sobbing.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — The "Paradise Special" and Its Destination.

"HAVE you ever heard of the 'Paradise Special,' kiddies?" asked daddy.

"No. What is it—a new soda fountain drink?" asked Jack.

"No; it isn't a new drink," laughed daddy; "it's a train that carries the little slum children away from the heat and dust and intolerable smells of the crowded city streets right out into paradise, which is another name for the country.

"It may be difficult for you kiddies to believe, but down in the lower east side in New York city there are hundreds of little boys and girls who have never seen grass and trees and cows and sheep.

"When they go out to play they play in the gutters, sit on the curbstone and dodge the horses and automobiles and dance to the music of the hurdy gurdies.

"The streets are narrow and are cluttered with pushcarts from which are vended all sorts of merchandise, fruits, vegetables and clothing. It is all unutterably awful to the country bred person accustomed to fresh air, plenty of sunshine and growing green things.

"But I must tell you about a little girl who was taken away from these surroundings last summer and sent up into Sullivan county.

"How little Rachel did enjoy the trip in the 'Paradise Special!' Along with about 200 other children, she left the Grand Central station one hot July morning when the temperature down in Orchard street was about 95 degrees in the shade and was whirled up into the beautiful reaches of Sullivan county.

"But the train stopped at station after station, and at last came the station where Rachel was to leave the train with two or three other children.

"They were put into a big farm wagon and whirled through the scented country roads and reached at last the farmhouse.

"Mrs. Blaine was waiting for them with a big pitcher of milk fresh from the cow and some wonderful homemade bread. The children were very hungry and ate and ate until their little 'tummies' could hold no more. Then they were bathed and put to bed.

"It was a beautiful night. The moon sailed up in the sky in all her splendor, the frogs chanted down in the swamp, and save for these night sounds of the country silence reigned.

"Suddenly good Mrs. Blaine heard concerted sobbing from the room where the little 'fresh airs' were supposed to be sleeping. She hastened in, and beside the windows all the kiddies were kneeling.

"'I want to hear the hand organ! I want to see the lights! I am 'fraid of the noises!' chanted the little homesick freshies."

3COOP, THE CUB REPORTER — AMERICAN STYLE OF WAR — BY "HOP"

MANY PHYSICIANS ATTEND GATHERING

Guests of Plainfield Clinical Society Hear Lecture on "Twilight Sleep."

Seventy physicians from this city, Bound Brook, Somerville, Westfield, Cranford, Raritan, Metuchen, Dunellen, Stirling and Summit gathered at the home of Dr. F. C. Ard on Park avenue last night as guests of the Plainfield Clinical Society. The announcement of the presence of Dr. Polak, a noted medical authority, had attracted widespread interest and practically every invitation that was issued by the society was responded to.

Dr. Polak, who comes from Brooklyn, is the professor of Gynaecology and Obstetrics in the Long Island College and has visited on several different occasions the Frauen Klinik at Freiburg, Germany. His subject last night, "Twilight Sleep," is one which he has made a special study of and his competency on the great medical question is probably unrivaled in this country. Knowledge of the topic is of vital interest to every practitioner in the medical world and physicians who were invited to attend last night's meeting welcomed the opportunity to listen to so renowned an authority. His exhaustive study of "Twilight Sleep" has familiarized him with the intricacies of the application of this wonderful discovery in the medical world and his lecture last night indicated that he was well versed in every detail pertaining to its use.

Dr. Polak has personally cared for over one hundred cases in accordance with the methods in vogue in Germany and illustrated the value of the method last night. Following a complete description of "Twilight Sleep" he drew these conclusions: First, that the so-called "Twilight Sleep" is a most successful method without danger to mother or child; second, that after the conclusion the mother has no recollection of the travail; third, that it is a dangerous procedure unless the physician is very competent to handle cases of this character and has had the opportunity to observe cases treated by this method and is able to place his patient in an institution where every facility exists and to give his entire attention to the case. Dr. Polak concluded his talk as follows: "Consequently the public cannot yet expect the application of this method in a general way."

Dr. J. H. Carman, of this city, exhibited a number of beautiful X-ray slides which were made with the new machine recently installed in Muhlenberg Hospital.

MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S SHOES

You mothers want your children to develop feet that will be a real asset to them in later life. Distorted, crippled, suffering feet are a real hindrance in the work of the world.

No other shoes will so surely allow natural freedom for growth as our "TRUE-SHAPE" children's shoes.

Years ago we developed these shoes to a high standard of efficiency—not only in hygienic qualities, but also in real QUALITY. And while the styles have been changed, made more beautiful each season, the QUALITY has never varied.

Shown in all good leathers, with spring heels to size 11; larger sizes in low "School" heels.

Neither PHYSCOLOGY nor DEMOCRATIC PHILOSOPHY will provide the necessities of life for your wives and children.

ELUDES FAMILY AND HANGS SELF

Mrs. George Leffert, of South Stirling, Commits Rash Act in Yard.

HAD LONG BEEN ILL

Careful Watch Had Been Maintained Over Her by Relatives But She Slipped Out of House and Hung Herself on Apple Tree.

Suffering from nervous prostration, Mrs. Susan B. Leffert, of South Stirling, wandered away from her home during the night and was found this morning hanging from an apple tree, life being extinct. The woman had been ill for sometime past and, although a careful surveilance had been maintained over her actions she managed to elude her watchers last night. The supposition of relatives is that she left the house for the express purpose of self-destruction. She had evidently laid careful plans for her rash act and after tieing a rope attached to the limb of an apple tree around her neck she jumped from a soap box.

The body of the woman was found dangling in the air several inches above the ground and she had evidently been dead for several hours. As soon as the absence of the woman was discovered relatives instituted a search and the premises were scoured, the startling revelation being made following a night of endless work on the part of neighbors and members of the family. County Physician Long was notified this morning, and after viewing the remains granted a burial permit.

The woman is survived by her husband, George Leffert, a caterer with a place of business in New York city; two sons, Walter L. and George L., and two daughters. The family has resided in Stirling for six years.

QUEEN CITY LODGE 23 YEARS OLD

Event is Celebrated With An Entertainment and Roll Call.

Queen City Lodge, No. 26, Independent Order Odd Fellows, celebrated its twenty-third anniversary, last night, with a roll call of members and an attractive informal entertainment, following a short business session. There were visiting delegations from Canada, Philadelphia, Newark, Elizabeth, Pawtucket R. I., Pottsville, Pa.; New York, Mt. Bethel and this city.

There were in all 217 persons present and when the roll was called, seventy-two members answered by name and nine letters were received. Queen City Lodge was instituted on October 26, 1891, with forty charter members, by Grand Master Howard Sutphen, assisted by members of Elizabethport Lodge, No. 11. Today the membership is over 200 and is constantly increasing, the lodge being considered one of the strongest in the State.

After the business session, the meeting was thrown open and a number of friends were guests of the lodge. Noble Grand Charles Ludgate was in charge of the program, which was greatly enjoyed throughout. It opened with a selection by Rachefsky's orchestra, after which there were songs by the following: "My Thora," John Page, "Dan Ginity," Ramsey Wilson; "You Are As Welcome As the Flowers In May," John Henderson; "Little Bunch of Shamrock," Thomas Gardner; "I Am Going to Do As I Please," Leonard Bennett; "Heart of the Rose," John Ludgate. There were also addresses by Alex Muir, Joseph Gray, and a recitation by Guerillermo Thorn. Interspersing the songs and addresses were selections by the orchestra. At the conclusion of the entertainment refreshments were served. The committee in charge comprised Fred Cross, chairman; Charles Young, Fred Rose, Samuel Wilson and Walter Cotgreave.

CANDIDATES HOLD FINAL BIG RALLY

G. O. P. Office Seekers Spoke to Audience of 500 People in Theatre.

ECONOMY IS PLEDGED

All of the Candidates Promise to Do Their Duty in an Efficient Manner if Elected—Sentiment for Election of Ticket in its Entirety.

Over five hundred persons, representative of every walk of life, attended the Republican rally held in the Plainfield Theatre, last night, the affair being the biggest pre-election event of the year for that party. The assemblage was a cosmopolitan one, there being present people of all nationalities and creeds, and a plentiful sprinkling of women was in evidence. Supporters of the G. O. P. from suburban districts near this city were among those who heard an excellent program of speechmaking and many who have not as yet attained their majority were seated in the audience. To the latter class several of the campaigners directed words of advice, it being one of the chief aims of that party to inject Republicanism into the rising generation. The gathering was not one of the exclusive one-party variety, there being present ardent supporters of the Democratic, Progressive and Socialist platforms, many of whom were attracted to the meeting out of curiosity to see what the candidates on the opposite side of the fence "had up their sleeves." The old time party feeling and Republican enthusiasm was made conspicuous because of its absence. The ovations accorded the speakers were meager in volume and contrasted noticeably with the cheering and spirit such gatherings have produced in the past. Last night's

The full list of speakers as announced for the Democratic rally at Saengerbund Hall, tomorrow evening, include the following: Allan B. Walsh, candidate for Congress from the Fourth district; Azariah M. Beekman, candidate for State Senator from Somerset county; Francis E. Bodin, candidate for the Assembly; Frank Mobus and Charles L. FORM LITERARY SOCIETY.

A literary and debating department was organized by the Young Men's Hebrew Association, last evening, at its new clubs rooms at 204 West Front street, after an address had been delivered on these lines of work by Mr. Goldsmith, of the National Y. HAROLD HEGEMAN WEDS MISS CLASS

Rev. Dr. C. L. Goodell Officiates at Home of Bride's Parents.

A RECEPTION FOLLOWS

Edwin M. Daniel, 2nd, is the Best Man and the Bride is Attended By Her Sisters—Will Reside in New York.

Miss Margaret Class, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hepburn Class of New York, and Harold Arrowsmith Hegeman, son of former Mayor and Mrs. Benjamin Arrowsmith Hegeman, for several years residents of the borough, but now of New York, were married at 8:30 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's parents, the Apthorp Apartments, Broadway and 78th street, New York. Rev. Dr. Charles L. Goodell, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church, New York, performed the ceremony in the presence of about two hundred guests, including a number from this city.

The bride wore an ivory satin gown, court train and a tulle lace, trimmed with point lace. She carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies-of-the-valley. She was attended by her two sisters, the Misses Pauline Wilber Class and Emma S. Class, as bridesmaids. They wore pink and carried pink chrysanthemums.

The best man was Edwin M. Daniel, 2d, of this city, and the ushers were Reginald Roome, formerly of North Plainfield; William Barlow, Jr., of North Plainfield; Charles Potter Titsworth, of this city; Robert E. M. Hamilton, of Boston; John C. Hasbrouck, of Passaic, and John C. Patterson, of Montclair.

Following the ceremony a reception was held during which the bride and bridegroom received the congrat-

"THE GREAT GALEOTO" AT THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

"The Great Galeoto," an adaptation of the Spanish drama, "El Gran Galeoto," from the pen of Jose Eschegaray, will be presented in the form of a dramatic interpretation by Mme. Harriet Labadie tomorrow evening, at the Plainfield Theatre, under the auspices of the Cheerful Workers'

Mme. Harriet Labadie.

Circle, of the King's Daughters.

The play is beautifully written, lofty in character, chaste and pure in its treatment, and singularly strong and direct in its progress. The characters are universal and distinctive. The plot is simple and clear, not deply involved, but intensely interesting and beautifully developed. It tells how the idle gossip of busy tongues ruined a true friendship and a great love and how it brought tragedy into a home where happiness had reigned supreme.

In the earlier scenes a vein of humor sparkles in the lines which carry many home thrusts to scandal loving ears, but as the play proceeds, one dramatic situation follows close upon the other until, in the final climax, one is brought face to face with the startling truth of a lightly uttered warning in the first act. "It isn't what you do, nor what people think you do; it's what they say you do."

HAD NO LICENSE.

Albert Ceccarelli, a dealer in vegetables and fruits, was arraigned in the borough court yesterday afternoon, before Recorder Fred Hand on the charge of peddling his goods without a license. Ceccarelli was released on the promise to secure the necessary document with which to conduct his business.

WAGITASHI PATROL WON.

In the Boy Scout field day that was held at Parker Field, last Saturday, the semaphore event was won by the Wagitashi Signalling Patrol of Troop 11 and not by Stag Patrol as was announced.

WILL QUIT BORO EDUCATION BOARD

Former Mayor Newton B. Smalley Replies to Clerk's Letter Sent to Him.

REASONS ARE GIVEN

Has Been An Active Member and Thinks That State Meddles Too Much in the Affairs of Municipalities.

Continued absence on the part of Newton B. Smalley from Board of Education meetings in the borough has prompted the body, of which he is a member, to authorize Clerk Frank Rowley to forward him an inquiry to learn whether he desires to be considered a member in the future. For several months past Mr. Smalley has declined to accept any of the work being carried on by that body and his absence at meetings has been the cause of considerable comment among the other members.

It is a well-known fact that he opposed certain resolutions authorizing large expenditures early in the spring and at that time expressed himself forcibly against the methods of the organization and its custom of disposing of the people's money for seemingly needless expenditures. In an interview following the forwarding of the letter Mr. Smalley states that his reasons for withdrawing from the Board's activities were due to the laws which govern the management, with which he could not conscientiously agree. He contends that the State laws compelled the School Board to do things that the municipality cannot afford and which he would not feel right in voting for.

One of the chief causes for the formation of this opinion on the part of Mr. Smalley was the authorization of an appropriation to provide

MANY UNEMPLOYED REGISTER FOR WORK

City's New Bureau in the Mayor's Office Visited by Seventy-four Men.

Seventy-four names are included in the list of registered unemployed being compiled by Clerk Walter Harding in Mayor Stewart's office in the city building. This record has been started in conjunction with the movement inaugurated by the Building Trades Council to supply employment of various kinds for those who are at present idle. The Mayor will meet the committee tomorrow night for the purpose of formulating plans by which it is hoped to bring about a temporary betterment of conditions and to place a number of men in a position where they earn enough to provide for their families during the winter months.

The present unsettled condition of the country has thrown many men out of work and present indications are that the same condition of affairs will exist for sometime to come. The applicants who have registered are of all nationalities and a majority are middle aged men with families. To date but one has been supplied with work, but it is probable that employment will be furnished for a large number after ways and means are devised at tomorrow night's meeting. Councilman Leighton Calkins has been made a member of Mayor Stewart's committee.

G. O. P. RALLY.

A Republican rally has been announced for Mt. Bethel Hall to be held Saturday evening, at which time the list of speakers will include Clarence E. Case, former judge of the Somerset County Court; William W. Smalley, of Bound Brook, candidate for State Senator, and Ogden H. Hammond, of Bernardsville, candidate for the Assembly, as well as the township candidates. A number from North Plainfield expect to journey to the gathering by automobile.

"500" PARTY.

The West End "500" A. M. Club will hold its next meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hendry, of West Fourth street, tomorrow evening.

It's Tough to be Out of Work but the unemployed may soon be able to procure something to do if they will leave their names at the Mayor's office, in the City Building, North Avenue. tf

RECREATION WORK NOW IN PROGRESS

Plainfield Has a Well Established Department of This Kind in Operation.

VARIOUS ACTIVITIES

Complete Schedule and Opportunities Offered for Members of All Classes—School Buildings Being Used for Meeting Places.

Reports of the work which has been accomplished by the Public Recreation Committee since its inauguration in the spring of 1913 have been compiled, and Chairman A. B. Jones has made public the announcement that over 26,000 have attended the various events held under the auspices of that committee from May 30, 1913, to October 1, 1914. The attendance figures for the past two weeks show a net gain of 200 over the previous weeks, with prospects of further gains in the near future.

The work of the Recreation Committee is varied, educational in nature, and under the direction of two competent supervisors, the Misses Lillian L. Lamson and Mildred Brownlee. The committee is to be congratulated upon the active interest shown by both the professional and business men of the city. The work as carried on in this city is far in advance of the work in many municipalities where the population is larger and the needs greater.

The Plainfield Symphony Orchestra is one of the latest organizations to be added and will be conducted under the personal direction of S. Frederick Smith. This orchestra has a membership of twenty-five, and rehearses classic and concert symphonies each Monday evening in the Franklin School auditorium.

PETER ROSE WEDS MISS MONTROSS

Ceremony Performed by Rev. C. C. Cain at Home of Bride's Parents.

Miss Gertrude Mabel Montross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Montross, of Midway place, Fanwood, was married to Peter Russell Rose, son of Peter Rose, of Belmont avenue, the borough, last night at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. C. C. Cain, pastor of Grace Methodist church, officiated. There were about one hundred guests present. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The couple was attended by the Misses Hazel B. Rose, sister of the bridegroom, and Verna Stewart, who were bridesmaids, and Samuel Montross, brother of the bride, was best man. The bride was gowned in white charmeuse with embroidered net veil and orange blassoms and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. Miss Rose wore a pink gown and Miss Stewart blue.

The wedding march, "Humoresque," was played by Miss Viola Rose, and Miss Bessie Carson sang "O Promise Me." After the ceremony a wedding super was served after which the couple left for Jewett, Conn., where the will spend a ten days honeymoon. Upon their return they will reside at 101 Belmont avenue and will be at home after November 15.

SWACKHAMER A SPEAKER AT C. E. UNION'S RALLY

Samuel S. Swackhamer, of this city, was one of the speakers at the annual rally of the good citizenship committee of the Union County Christian Endeavor Union held in the Presbyterian church, Rahway, Tuesday night. Mr. Swackhamer depicted the evils of the liquor traffic and urged the furtherance of the work to promote temperance. He outlined the terms of the Hobson Bill in Congress which provides for national prohibition by constitutional amendment and presented arguments to show why this piece of legislation should go through.

Following the talk the union endorsed the following Union county candidates as men who stand right on the liquor question: Senator Carlton B. Pierce, Charles L. Morgan, Arthur N. Pierson, William N. Runyon and George W. V. Moy.

RUSSIANS SAY ENTIRE GERMAN CENTRE AND RIGHT HAVE BEEN DRIVEN BACK IN WILD ROUT

DECISIVE BLOW STRUCK TUESDAY, FOLLOWED BY A NIGHT RETREAT OF KAISER'S TROOPS UP THE ILJANKA RIVER.

EYEWITNESS TELLS OF TERRIFIC FIGHTING

Says That German Dead So Choked up a Stream in Belgium That Water Was Forced Out of Course on to Lowlands—French Foreign Office Considers Present Situation Satisfactory.

Petrograd, Oct. 29, (Central News Cable)—The entire German centre and right before Warsaw was routed and driven back in the four days' battle which ended Tuesday, and fresh Russian troops are now being hurled against the left wing between the Pilica and Bzoura rivers, in the region between Nowo Miasto and Ezhoff. The reports indicate that the heaviest fighting is about 20 miles east of Lodz, and that further retreat by the Germans there will put Lodz into Russian hands.

The decisive blow against the line was struck Tuesday and that night the Germans retreated up the Iljanka river, past Radom and Ilzha. The forest immediately west of the Vistula and south of Iljanka, where the Germans threatened Ivangorod and Nova Amexandria ten days ago, is now completely cleared of the enemy.

In the campaign in the north the battle lines are in virtually the same position as they held after the Kaiser's soldiers were driven out of Suwalki and Augustowo. The official statement last night made no mention of Russian operations there, merely stating that the enemy has violently bombarded our positions in the region of Bakalargewo. Repeated assaults have been repulsed in the campaign in the south. In Galicia steady but slight advances are made in the region immediately west of the San, both north and south of Przemysl.

London, via northeastern France, Oct. 29.—(By Frederick Bale, in Central News correspondent, coypright, Central News, 1914)—Despite their enormous losses the German troops still in formidable strength are fighting with the greatest desperation. Their ability to pour out masses of men in seeming continuous torrents surprises even our own men, who themselves have participated in some astonishing operations of the same character. A British soldier said to me yesterday: "If we shoot a German, it seems as if eight of them pop up in his place."

The character of the country makes the employment of huge numbers the enemy's only chance, and the extent to which the Allies have taken advantage of the natural features of the ground makes this chance the slenderest one imaginable. The country is cut up by numberless ditches and rivulets, between which the Allies and the Germans have constructed an amazing network of trenches and over this scarred, graven terrain the battle surges, now this way, now that. The Allies are frequently in possession of the German trenches and vice versa.

The German troops are provided with strong roughly made wooden devices which they can throw across the rivulets in lieu of bridges. They rush forward under fire using these things as shelters, hurriedly placing them as bridges over any obstacle. Then the rush follows. The Germans in these charges are often mowed down in swathes by the Allies' machine guns where the range is not more than 20 or 30 yards. If they get across by sheer weight of numbers, hand to hand fighting ensues, but invariably they are driven back.

West of Dixmude the Germans attempted to rush a low platform bridge over a dyke. When actually on the bridge their right front was charged and a fearful melee followed. The Germans were cut up in terrible fashion and the bodies of the slain cumbered the dyke so that its waters were unable to find passage underneath the bridge, being diverted into the flat agricultural land on either side.

Paris, Oct. 29.—More successes by the Allies are claimed in the statemet made public at 3 o'clock this afternoon by the French war office. It says:

"During yesterday, Wednesday, we made progress at several points on the line of battle in particular around Ypres and to the south of Aras. There is nothing new on the front from Nieuport to Dixmude. Between the Aisne and the Argonne, we have captured some of the enemy's trenches, and none of the partial attacks attempted by the Germans has succeeded. We have likewise advanced in the forest of Apremont."

Today's statement covers the line of conflict from the Belgian coast to the German frontier. Like that of yesterday, it is optimistic throughout.

A news agency despatch from Bordeaux says that President Poincare has left for Paris, where he will join M. Millerand, minister of war, for a trip to the front. President Poincare was accompanied by Finance Minister Ribot and Minister of Public Works Sembat, when he left Bordeaux. It is also expected that the President will go to Havre to pay his respects to the Belgian government.

London, Oct. 29 (Central News Cable)—Advices from Petrograd say that the German front at Russian Poland has been broken in two by the Russian advace up to Pilica River, so that each portion is in danger of being outflanked by the fresh Russian troops.

Eight airships passed over Hasselt going southwest and evidently making for Brussels and Antwerp, where it had previously been stated Zeppelin sheds were being constructed, according to a Rotterdam despatch to the Daily Mail.

Beginning today the British Court goes into mourning for three weeks for Prince Maurice of Battenburg, a cousin of King George, and a brother of Queen Victoria of Spain, who died as a result of wounds received at the front.

HAND SEVERELY BURNED.

Joseph Samek, of Dewey Park, an employe of the Stryker Garage, burned his hand quite badly with a gasoline blower at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had been soldering a radiator of an automobile during the late forenoon and had put the blower out at the blowing of the whistle at the noon hour. During the hour that elapsed the torch had not cooled off sufficiently and when he picked it up to resume his task the heated copper metal of the blower seared his hand. Suffering intense pain, he hurried to the Marien pharmacy, where cooling lotions were put on the hand, after which it was swarthed with cotton bandages.

MURPHY—DOYLE.

Miss Mary Frances Murphy, daughter of Mrs. Mary Murpay, of North avenue, was wedded to Frederick Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Doyle, of Front street, in the St. John's Catholic church at 8 o'clock yesterday morning by the Rev. E. J. Dunphy. The couple were attended by Miss Anna C. Murphy, a sister of the bride, and Adolph Doyle, a brother of the groom. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's mother, at which the members of the two immediate families were present. The couple left on a wedding trip to Washington. They expect to be gone a week. Upon their return they will make their home with the bride's mother. The bride received many valuable and useful presents.

It has been optional with the delinquents that the marshals have approached to either pay the back taxes due plus interest and costs or enjoy a sojourn until they are paid at the expense of the county on the banks of the Raritan. The marshals haven't had any occasion thus far to report any tightness in the money market, as collections have been very brisk.

The work of removing the old tombstones from the Park avenue side of the Baptist church cemetery, is now progressing. They are the oldest stones in the cemetery and made from sandstone taken from the mountains in back of this place. They are for the most part so old that the epitaphs engraved on them are scarcely distinguishable, although dates of a Revolutionary period can be seen on several. The ancestors of several of the families in this vicinity are known to have been in the Revolution and it is possible that they were buried here. The underside of some of the stones, being preserved from the weather, may show something of interest when they are removed.

BORO DEMOCRATS HOLD A SMOKER

Enthusiastic Meeting in W. G. Holton Hall, Dunellen, Last Night.

STRIRRING ADDRESSES

Urgent Appeal Made to Endorse and Support the Administration of President Wilson—Nominees Cordially Received.

The seating capacity of W. G. Holton Hall, Dunellen, was not sufficient to take care of the local Democrats and the delegates from Middlesex Borough, New Market and South Plainfield, who turned out last evening to the rally and smoker under the auspices of the local Democratic organization and a number were obliged to stand while the candidates were making their respective speeches.

The rally was opened by local Democratic Committeeman Willard N. Apgar, who acted as chairman. The first speaker introduced by Chairman Apgar was Assemblyman Arthur A. Quinn, who is running for re-election. In pleading that Congressman Thomas J. Scully be returned to Congress by a large vote, thereby endorsing the administration of Woodrow Wilson, Assemblyman Quinn said in part: "We want to rouse ourselves to the occasion on November 3rd and endorse Woodrow Wilson's administration. If there were ever a time for non-partisanship that time is now. With any other President in the chair we would be spilling the blood of the flower of our land on Mexican soil. Let us express out appreciation of his capability and level headedness by voting to send Congressman Thomas J. Scully back to Congress on November 3rd. Another reason for electing a Democratic Congressman," Assemblyman Quinn said, "was because we are going to be called sooner or later to act as mediators to the nations involved in the present European war and we want a Congress that will be in sympathy and not at loggerheads with the President when this time shall arrive."

In saying a few words for Bernard M. Gannon, who is a candidate for re-election to the county clerk's office Assemblyman Quinn said that during Mr. Gannon's administration the county clerk's office had paid for itself which is the first time that it has ever done so.

Assemblyman Quinn spoke of Edward F. Houghton, the candidate for sheriff, as being the man logically in line for the job on account of his having been deputy sheriff during the past six years.

Assemblyman Quinn then reviewed some bills that he had voted for, among which was the Workingman's Compensation Act. And in reviewing the Garnishee Act which he had voted against, Mr. Quinn said that this act which is a law in other States enables creditors to levy on the wage of a workingman earning $12 a week or more. He said that he was proud that he had voted against this act and that he would do so again if he had the opportunity, because it was used for immoral purposes and the ultimate destruction of home by collectors and shuyster lawyers in other States.

Robert A. Hirner, of Woodbridge, and Eugene J. Muller, of Perth Amboy, the candidates for the two offices of coroner, were then introduced by Chairman Apgar in turn, and they in short speeches requested the support of the local voters at the polls.

Hervey B. Walters, one of the local candidates for Councilman, was next introduced by Chairman Apgar amid loud acclamation. Mr. Walters thanked the voters for their confidence in him as manifested by the votes that he received at the primary election and he promised to look after the interests of the borough to the best of his ability if elected on November 3rd.

In introducing Bernard M. Gannon, Chairman Apgar heated with indignation at the mere thought that there was an ingrate in the Democratic party in the person of one William H. Quackenboss, who was running independently for the office of county clerk, waxed eloquent and spoke of Mr. Quackenboss as the ingrate who is quacking, quacking, everlastingly quacking throughout the domain of the county.

Mr. Gannon's remarks were interestingly listened to as were those of Edward F. Houghton and E. Leon Loblein, the candidates for the sheriff's office and the Assembly, respectively.

Chairman Apgar, in closing the meeting, lauded Congressman Thomas J. Scully, who is on the ticket for re-election, and explained that he was not able to come to Dunellen this year on account of the late adjournment of Congress.

In closing his remarks, Chairman Apgar asked for the election of the entire ticket. Why should we in this borough condemn the Democratic party? Our factories are all going full time and no idlers are standing on our street corners. As to the local candidates he pleaded that the voters not allow themselves to be swayed by any personal feeling, as the Democratic candidates are every bit as good as their opponents, the Republicans. Some of the boroughites are not in favor of having railroad men run for the Common Council. This is all wrong, said Mr. Apgar, as letters which the Board of Trade have on file show that the Central Railroad is willing to do anything for this beautiful borough. As an illustration, Mr. Apgar called attention to the recent improvement at the Prospect avenue crossing.

START PETITIONS FOR COMMISSION GOVERNMENT

The movement for Commission Government has again been started in Plainfield, and petitions are already in circulation. The project was launched on Tuesday night and petitions first placed in circulation yesterday. Those having the project in charge say that they are anxious to get an expression of sentiment on the question, and that as there are undoubtedly many Plainfielders who are in favor of the change in form, the people should be given a chance to vote on the question, and decide it either one way or the other. It is therefore going to be urged upon all citizens that they sign the petitions whether they favor the change in government or not, as this will expedite the formal expression by the people. Former Mayor George W. V. Moy is the chairman of the committee having the matter in charge; Dr. Marcus Clawson is the treasurer, and Charles R. Rhodier is the treasurer.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

Miss Marie Dressler in her new comedy, "A Mix-Up," under the direction of the Messrs. Shubert, comes to the Plainfield Theatre tonight. Miss Dressler is unquestionably the funniest woman on the American stage, and in her new comedy offering she is said to have a role which gives her the fullest opportunity for the display of her unique talents as a comedienne. She appears as a queen of burlesque who gets into the apartment of a young married couple, with disastrous consequences for the husband, and many amusing scenes for the actress. During the course of the comedy Miss Dressler sings several songs, her bigget hit being entitled "Let Them Alone, They're Married." The Messrs. Shubert have surrounded merry Marie with a strong company of well-known players, among them being Bertram Lytell, Miss Evelyn Vaughan, Robert Ober, Julia Blanc, Sarah McVicker and others.

"To-Day," the remarkable drama of New York life which will be seen at the Plainfield Theatre, Saturday, matinee and night, deals with the congenial phases of mankind—love, passion, fear, hatred, self-sacrifice and loyalty—all blended in an endeavor to show woman's frailty and man's power. A young wife's lust for appearances and social success cause her to break the trust reposed in her by an unforgiving husband. Instantly she is dashed on the rocks of destruction, lost forever to love and life. The scene where she unknowingly meets her husband, in a house of bad repute, is one of the most startling in the history of modern drama. The production provided by Harry VonTilzer, sponsor for "To-Day," is complete in every detail, and the splendid cast engaged includes such well-known names as Arleen Hackett, Hallet Thompson, Marie Reichardt, Anton Ascher, Marie Dantes, Arthur J. Wood, Marie Burke, Sarah Hubbard and Frank Stone.

"Thirty Leagues Under the Sea," which comes to the Plainfield Theatre, November 6 and 7, for four performances a day, is a motion picture apart from all others and stands in a class of its own in which it need fear no rivals. This is the first and only motion picture ever taken under water, in nature's vast acquarium. As such an achievement was an impossibility until the completion of the Williamson Submarine Tube, and as this tube is the invention of the producers of pictures, they have the field embracing three-fourths of the earth's surface which lies under water, all to themselves as far as dramas of the deep are concerned. In New York one hundred thousand school children have received tickets for this educational performance at greatly reduced rates, and special Saturday morning performances are being given for them weekly.

SECRETARY GARRISON.

The political speech made in Trenton on Monday night is said to be the first political speech ever made by Secretary of War Garrison. If so, it was a great credit to him. It was one of the best political speeches of the campaign.

Secretary Garrison is not a politician. He was one of the distinguished vice chancellors of New Jersey when he was selected by President Wilson for Secretary of War. He has made good. All official Washington rate him as a remarkable executive officer. The Army are delighted with his administration. They say he decides questions after the fashion of a judge. When a question is brought to his attention he is said to send for his stenographer and have him take down all that is presented by the proponents and then gives his decision at once. He then has it written out and filed and the whole record is preserved.

A short while ago a Jersey lawyer, a friend of his, told him that he had heard of this habit of his and of the favorable comments he had heard about it from those having business with the department and congratulated him on it. Laughingly he said, "Well, you know I cannot get over my habit on motion days in the New Jersey Chancery Court." What a good thing it would be if more officials were of the Garrison kind. New Jersey is proud of her Secretary of War.

TEACHING HOME BUYING.

The high cost of living has been attributed to several and many causes. War in Europe, speculation, raising of standards of measures, packages and production, trusts and tariffs, insufficient shipping facilities, middlemen, and so on,—all come in for their part of the credit for the fleet-footed market basket. But there always are two parties to any transaction—the seller and the buyer—and these given causes infer that all the blame rests with the seller and that all the remedies must be furnished by them.

As has been noted in these columns before, the city of New York this fall has taken a decided interest in solving the high cost of living problem for its people. First, it established public markets; then it went out and saw that surplus food products, rotting on the farms because prices were low, were brought to the city to supply the needs of the people. Now, the city proposes to take up the loose threads at the buyers' end of the transaction. It plans simply to reduce the family budget outlay by encouraging more careful and judicial buying.

Recently, the Board of Education has been engaged in the distribution of 800,000 circulars on "How to Buy," among the children in the public schools. There will be in theory a special school course in marketing with the idea that what the children learn they will take home with them. Cities for some years have realized that the best way to reform the home is to work through the schools. New York's idea is to reach the mothers of the household through the children. Besides, children themselves in many of the most congested districts are the buyers for the family. They go to the stores and make the purchases for the table. These youngsters are being trained in the schoolroom to be careful and economical marketers.

New York city will profit in its thousands of homes as a result of this action. For that matter, any other city or town, large or small, cannot but be benefitted by training its children in the art of buying and through them inculcating the principles among all its households. We can't get away from the facts that a part of the blame for high living costs rests right at home. Don't hoard but buy wisely, pay promptly, and do your thinking before instead of after purchasing, is the advice to women of New York's Department Store Education Association.

The efforts for war purposes are just beginning to show themselves. Over $200,000,000 exports of foodstuff, clothing and other war supplies have gone out at the port of New York in the past three weeks, thus exceeding a like period in our history. On Monday of this week over $6,000,000 of exports were shipped from New York alone. A week ago they were only $3,780,000. The tide is turning. It begins to look as if great prosperity were just coming to our business men. If we can keep out of the trouble on the other side and maintain peace the future will indeed be bright.

State Treasurer Grosscup exploded the falsehood so frequently uttered that the "seven sisters" had been the cause of great loss of revenue to this State when he showed that over $2,400,000 taxes from miscellaneous corporations had been paid into the State treasury up to October 23 of this year. The largest ever paid before the "seven sisters" acts were passed was $100,000 less than that. The trust defenders will have to find a new issue against the seven sisters bills.

After reading the detailed description of what took place in the jury room in the Carman case, we are led to believe that the men who formed the body had no regard for the oath they took as to secrecy, and that a new trial with a better class of jurors is very much needed.

Democratic and Republican campaign arguments have been presented by contributing editors in the issues of the last two Saturday nights, and the series will be completed on Saturday of this week, when the Progressive side will be presented.

Have you made up your mind for whom you intend to vote? If not do it. Do not wait until election day. Voting this year is serious enough to make it a matter of prayer. Think of your country when you vote.

If the Burlington county papers can be taken as an indication, they are certainly having a regular old-fashioned mudslinging campaign in that section of New Jersey.

There may be a job waiting for you if you are out of work. Help the authorities to place you in that position by registering at the Mayor's office at once.

THE FORUM

Editor Plainfield Daily Press:

Can you find room in the forum for a short answer to Mr. Millar's reference to the attitude of the liquor interests to the suffrage. It is a subject that has been worn rather threadbare, but as some people are convinced that two and three make five if they hear it asserted often enough and without contradiction, it may be as well to point out again that Mr. Millar's arguments are not borne out by facts.

May I call the attention of Mr. Millar to the fact that in the words of President Coeveland, "it is a condition that confronts us and not a theory." Theoretically it may be true that women would as a rule vote against the liquor interests and that therefore it is to the interest of those interests to oppose woman suffrage. The theory sounds all right, but behold the condition. White women voting in Wyoming for 40 years are more, in Colorado for over twenty, in Idaho for seventeen and other States for two or more years, there is but one which has prohibition and in that one (Kansas) prohibition legislation was enacted before women had the vote.

But notice that State after State where men alone vote comes into the prohibition line and, if I mistake not, with increasingly rigid laws on the subject. Virginia and West Virginia are the latest.

In our navy strong and inclusive orders have been issued and I hardly think any one claims that the Government is very ardent in the cause of "Votes for Women," although the well-known attitude of the Secretary of State may be perhaps the result of a feminine veto.

In Russia the army has been deprived of its vodka but surely no one thinks women's votes had anything to do with that. Germany is issuing temperance beer; imagine the Kaiser influenced by women's votes. Persistent education and agitation—not votes have accomplished this. This is the condition which falsifies the theory.

Perhaps it was studying this condition which made the counties in Michigan where the liquor interests were strongest give such a large majority against "Votes for Women." We recommend that "condition" to the study of all men interested in wise and sane legislation.

POLITICAL NOTES.

October 29—United States District Attorney J. Warren Davis and Senator Hennessy, of Bergen county, address Democratic rally in Gordon Hippodrome Hall, Elizabeth.

October 30—Congressman Kinkead and Prosecutor Stein speak at Democratic meetings in St. Patrick's and Sacred Heart parish halls, Elizabeth.

October 31—Prosecutor Martin P. Devlin addresses Democratic open-air rally in South Park street, Elizabeth, outside Americus Club. Another county tour tentatively arranged.

Thirty-nine States will hold elections on November 3.

Democrats in Congress claim they will retain their membership of 288.

Republican Congressional leaders predict a gain of 100 seats and control of the House.

The election of Martin G. Brumbaugh, the famous educator, as Governor of Pennsylvania, is generally accepted throughout the State.

Kentucky is in the "important" column. On October 22, two members of the cabinet, Bryan and Daniels, spoke simultaneously. This is a new record for Kentucky.

West Virginia is finishing a quiet campaign. While the Democrats show some dissension, the Republican chances appear thwarted by the Progressives.

Out in Indiana the election thrill is Tom Taggart, who, for the first time in his long career, has mounted the platform in the role of spellbinder.

And Beveridge runs him a close second, for he is always forceful and picturesque. The Senatorial battle in the Hoosier State is being waged closely.

Ohio has a mixed-up situation, through the injection of the liquor question into the campaign. Congressman Willis, Republican, and James R. Garfield, Progressive, are vying with each other for the "dry" votes.

The Ohio "wet" votes, called "liberal" by their own leaders, are conceded to Cox and this brings the labor vote to the Governor. For the labor leaders have decided to oppose State-wide prohibition.

Perhaps the hottest fight of the year is in Pennsylvania, where Congressman Palmer is trying to oust Boise Penrose from his Senate seat with Pinchot as a third contestant. There is merry music throughout the State.

New England issues are meager, the only interesting fight being that of former Congressman Sam McCall for the governorship of Massachusetts against Walsh, the present Democratic Governor.

New York politics is well up to the usual interest this year, and "bossism" is still a good argument in the Empire State. Glynn has the backing of the administration for the governorship, while District Attorney Whitman is making a good fight.

The interest which President Wilson is taking in the various campaigns presages his second running. Among those closest to him, it is believed that his decision will depend on his health, which has undergone a severe tax during his strenuous term.

CANDIDATES HOLD BIG RALLY

meeting was characterized by an intense interest on the part of the audience in every point brought out by the candidates and the silence was seldom interrupted during one of the talks. One of the most prominent features of the session was the fact that the various candidates, local, county and State, were working as a unit and their chief object appeared to be the election of the Republican ticket in its entirety.

George P. Mellick, of this city, acted as chairman of the meeting and the numerous speakers discussed National, State and local topics pertinent to the times. Confidence was marked in the words of each speaker and much applause accorded the various campaigners as they were introduced.

Carlton B. Pierce, candidate for State Senator, spoke upon the subject of bank and railroad taxes. He said that these measures were put through the Legislature for the sole purpose of compelling owners of large railroad securities to bear their just proportion of the tax burdens of the State as individual citizens do. He said that at the time of the passage of the bank tax act these institutions throughout the State paid little or no tax on their securities.

William N. Runyon, of this city, candidate for the Assembly, took occasion to laud his fellow nominees on the Republican ticket and said that each was competent to fulfill the office to which he aspires. He declared that the Republican party would profit by the experiences of the past few years while the Democrats have been in power and if Republican legislators were put in control again they would be better able to serve the people. He said he was a believer in the American institution, the American school system, the freedom of the press, the right of free speech, that America's destiny should be the asylum for the oppressed of all nations and right of the freedom of religious belief.

Frank H. Smith, who is a candidate for re-election to the office of county register, promised his constituents a business administration by a business man if elected. He reviewed the important duties of the office he has held since its creation and presented statistics to show how the money appropriated for the department of county work was expended annually.

Charles N. Fowler commented on the prosperity the country has enjoyed during Republican administrations since 1816 and the periods of depression that have been prominent during the Democratic regime. He advocated an American Merchant Marine with ships built by American labor in American yards, manned by American seamen and carrying every pound exported out of the country and bringing every pound imported into the country. He cited certain instances where the Democratic party had failed to fulfill its pledges and said in part:

"Woodrow Wilson promised a reduction in the high cost of living, but, instead has decreased wages and made the purchasing power of money less. He promised to do away with Republican extravagance, but the Democratic appropriations have exceeded by more than a million dollars those made by the Republicans. He claimed that the Republican party deposited its money in favorite banks controlled by Wall Street, but we have heard of no bidding since the Democrats came into control; and he advocated the fostering of Merchant Marine but we are still as far away from this as we ever were."

Leighton Colclough, candidate for the Mayoralty, declared he favored a more economic public school management in this city, and a closer cooperation between the Common Council and the Board of Education. He declared that the State owes to every child a good common school education, but that the people should have a say as to whether or not they should pay for the teaching of cooking, swimming and singing. He said the school expenses should not go beyond the absolute necessities of the system and promised the management of city affairs on a business basis if elected.

Arthur N. Pierson, candidate for Assembly, said he believed in the enactment of pure laws and better laws and economy and efficiency in the administration.

John H. Capstick, candidate for Congress, declared that the tariff is the real issue and that the Underwood tariff is responsible for the present depression. He advocated the revision of the tariff on a protective basis, the creation of a tax commission, and the establishment of a Merchant Marine, and national highways.

Charles L. Morgan, candidate for COUNTY CANDIDATES HEARD AT G. O. P. RALLY

An enthusiastic and largely attended Republican rally was held in the rooms of the Middlesex Volunteer Fire Company at South Plainfield, last night. All of the county candidates were present including William Burtis Havens, Congressional candidate, and all were well received.

William VanSickle, of New Brunswick, County Chairman John P. [illegible] and Albert Leon, of Perth Amboy, also spoke. William Hamilton, of South Plainfield, was chairman of the meeting.

SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS MAN FOR SHRIEVALTY

William R. Richart, of Elizabeth, a Candidate on Progressive Ticket.

William R. Richart, Progressive candidate for the office of sheriff in Union county, has been a resident of Elizabeth for twenty-six years and is well versed in county politics, knowing exactly what the political unit expects of its officials. He had always been a staunch Republican up to 1912 when he, like many others of the G. O. P., followed in the footsteps of Colonel Roosevelt in forming the Progressive party, and has since been an active party worker.

William R. Richart.

Mr. Richart has for his motto "Economy and Efficiency," and his education, general business experience, his intimate knowledge of all parts of the county, his experience upon the Grand and Petit Juries, all tend to make him well qualified for the office of sheriff.

The candidate on the Progressive ticket is a successful business man in the Union county seat. In 1884 he purchased a drug store in Elizabeth which he successfully conducted for twenty years, incorporating the business last June under the title of Richart and Company. This concern conducts two thriving stores in Elizabeth. As a candidate for excise commissioner of Elizabeth in 1912, he was one of the high men on the Bull Moose ticket and is well and favorably known to the medical and pharmaceutical profession in that city.

STATE SENATOR FROM BERGEN WILL ADDRESS MASS MEETING

Charles O'Connor Hennessey, State Senator from Bergen county, will address the Democrats of the city at their headquarters at Park and North avenues tonight at 8 o'clock. Other local and county candidates will be present at the mass meeting and several others will probably speak.

A large Democratic banner heralding Theodore Martin as the "people's choice" for the mayoralty was unfurled on West Front street, last night, and occupies a conspicuous position in the business centre. A similar emblem has been put up on Liberty street.

MARKED GROWTH OF PARCEL POST BUSINESS

The report of the parcel post business transacted at the local postoffice from October 1-15 inclusive, was forwarded to Washington, yesterday by Postmaster Alvin E. Hoagland. It shows that 3,236 parcel post packages were mailed at the postoffice during that time, while 8,439 were received from out of town points. The weight of the outgoing mail totaled 7,237 pounds.

The parcels mailed to the eight zone, which includes the most far distant points in the country and other points, numbered 347, while 1,437 packages were mailed to the first zone, which comprises a twenty-five mile radius from Plainfield. It is estimated by Mr. Hoagland that more parcel post packages will be handled at the local office during the holiday season than in any other four months of the year.

YOUNGSTERS ARE WARNED.

Chief Marshal George Weiss, of the borough police department, announced this morning, that a number of extra marshals will be on duty Saturday evening, when Hallowe'en celebrations and pranks by the boys will be in vogue. It is the hope of Chief Weiss that the youngsters have a good time, but desires that they be warned not to damage or deface personal and private property.

TEACHERS TO MEET.

Among the events recently announced by County School Superintendent H. C. Krebs, is the meeting of the Somerset County Teachers' Association to be held at the North Plainfield High School, Saturday of this week. The County Teachers' Institute will be held at Somerville, Monday and Tuesday, November 9 and 10.

MAKING READY FOR Y. M. C. A. WORKERS

Summit Society Planning to Receive Auxiliary Ass'n Members of State.

Summit, Oct. 29.—The local auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. is getting ready to entertain Friday and Saturday, November 5 and 6, about 150 delegates to the annual meeting of the women's auxiliaries of the Y. M. C. A. throughout the State. The first session will start at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, with an address of welcome by Mrs. George F. Vreeland, president of the local branch. Invocation will be by Rev. Minot C. Morgan, pastor of Central Presbyterian church. Question box will be conducted by Mrs. William G. Frost, of Montclair. The business session proper will include a report of the women's auxiliary board, by Mrs. William T. Mills, of Montclair, report of the treasurer, Mrs. George M. Seaton, of Elizabeth; report of the 1913 conference, Mrs. Mills, and the presentation of invitations from those societies which would like to entertain the auxiliaries next year.

Subscriptions toward State work will be received, followed by the regular offering. Adjournment on the opening day will be taken at 5:30.

Henry S. Park, of the State committee, will speak at the evening session Friday on "The Forward Step and What It Means to a Boy." Charles R. Scott, State secretary of boys' work, will also give a short talk. The remainder of the evening will be devoted to musical selections by members of the Summit Choral Union and to an inspection of the local association's building.

The meeting Saturday will be opened at 10:15 in the morning with a devotional service conducted by Mrs. Joseph C. Pierson, of Plainfield. "Glimpses of Association Work" will be the subject of an address by J. G. Schroeder, general secretary of the railroad association work, with headquarters in Hoboken. Other talks will be as follows: "County and Rural Work," B. R. Ryall, of the State committee; "Foreign Work," Miss Caroline B. Chapman, of New York, third vice president of the international women's auxiliary; "Jersey Boys' Camp," H. Hallock Brown, of Bernardsville.

Conference reports will be presented at noon, and soon after a "quiet moment," will be conducted by Mrs. J. E. L. Davis, president of the international women's auxiliary. Adjournment will be at 12:30 o'clock.

NEW JERSEY NURSES WILL HOLD SESSION IN SUMMIT

Summit, Oct. 29.—About fifty delegates are expected to attend the semi-annual meeting of the New Jersey State Nurses' Association next Tuesday morning and afternoon in the parish house of Calvary Episcopal church. The arrangements are in the hands of the Alumnae Association of the Overlook Hospital Training School, of which Miss A. Ingelborg Praetorius is president. This association will entertain the delegates.

Most of the two sessions will be devoted to business, although there will be addresses by Dr. William H. Lawrence, Jr., head of Overlook Hospital, and Miss Pertha J. Gardner assistant business manager of The American Nurses' Journal.

Rev. Philip J. Steinmetz, Jr., pastor of Calvary Episcopal church, will make the invocation, and the address of welcome will be by Hamilton Wright Mabie, a resident of this city. Miss Arabella R. Creech, of Elizabeth, president of the association, is on the program for the response.

The question box is expected to form an interesting feature of the association's work. There will be reports from numerous committees on topics of interest to nurses.

INTERESTED IN FRUIT GROWING IN PORTO RICO

Councilman Edmund Rushmore, who is a candidate for re-election in the borough, has been unable to be home during the campaign, owing to the fact that he was called to Vega Baja, Porto Rico, to look after his business interests there in connection with the Spanish American Fruit Company, of which he is a director.

Mr. Rushmore is now attending to affairs preparatory to the fall planting, which starts in November. He expects to return home early in the month in time to vote at the election.

The company with which Mr. Rushmore is connected will probably plant 10,000 grapefruit trees, in addition to the pineapple industry. It is the intention to ship grapefruit this year from one of the older groves, but no large shipments are expected for a few years. The company owns about 500 acres of land which is now under development. This land is located at Vega Baja, about thirty miles from San Juan. This week Mr. Rushmore was a guest at a banquet given by Judge Savage in honor of Governor Yager and a number of the officials of Porto Rico.

IN THE SPORTING SPOTLIGHT

A MAXIMUM OF FACT, A MINIMUM OF BUNK

By "MAC"

Manager "Doc" Doyle's esteemed contemporary in the game booking business sends word to the Queen City that he will bring the Dexter football team here for a sixty-dollar guarantee. We might at this time call attention to the fact that for a $300,000 guarantee Promoter Tex Rickard would have agreed to bring the combatants in the Jeffries-Johnson heavyweight championship fracas to Parker Field in 1910.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Dexters admit that they are the champions of New Jersey in club football circles, Manager Doyle has passed up the opportunity of shelling out five dozen hard shekels to the Ampo Kid.

Scoop says—The Franklins are the one best bet for Saturday afternoon's engagement. After that scoreless tie fight on Cricket Field several weeks ago we fail to see any grounds for this assertion on the part of the little blonde.

Our High School correspondent informs us that the Plainfield school boys are endeavoring to pursuade their principal to sanction a game with Holy Cross. Someone is evidently displaying some keen interest in keeping certain football warriors' anatomies together.

Taking the game as a local issue, however, we are well aware of the fact that it would draw a few hard simoleans into the clubs' treasuries and that's what the magnates are after nowadays. Win or lose, both aggregations would profit financially.

When the politicians wind up their pastiming next Tuesday considerable more interest will probably be brought to bear on the real sporting issues of the season. Several of the Holy Cross combatants have had so much to do for their favorite candidates during the last couple of weeks that they have been unable to report for practice.

Take a tip from us, Doyle, and if you think Holy Cross can beat those schoolboys, sign 'em up. You ought to annex at least one struggle this season on the credit side of the ledger.

That fracas between the Westfield High School football team and the faculty of the institution resembles in many respects the Army-Navy struggle on the sporting pages. The off-again, on-again, Finnegan stunt is being pulled by the Mt. Ararat athletes. First the team is fired out, then it is reinstated, and now we are told that it has been bounced again. What next?

Dunellen has come to the fore with eleven human beings brave enough to attempt the football pastime. Holy Cross has been challenged to a modern gridiron duel with the suburbanites and it is not unlikely that a contest will be arranged in the near future.

Forty-five candidates have signified their intention of trying for places on the Plainfield High School basketball team this year. Wonder what the forty extras will be trying their hand at by the time the first contest rolls around? The first of the season always demands a rush but the interest is soon lulled in the schoolboy camp.

Captain Abrams, of the Borough High School quintet, has secured a big jump on his city rivals. Abrams has been giving the candidates the "once-over" and is not backward in commending his proteges for their good early season tactics.

North Plainfield is going to win the interscholastic championship this year. Captain Abrams admits this to be a fact. We have a faint recollection, however, of the same Abrams predicting that Cornelius McGillicuddy was going to have a walk-over at the expense of the Boston Braves.

Combining the basketball schedules of the Y. M. C. A., Plainfield and North Plainfield High Schools, Leal School and Hope Chapel we note that the Queen City cognomen will be heralded to several different cities this fall. Over one hundred dates have been arranged by the five managers.

Haven't heard a whimper from the Rahway High School camp since the footballers of that burg were treated to a scare by the P. H. S. athletes on Parker Field, Saturday afternoon. It must have been some shock to encounter such a stiff proposition when a walkover was looked for.

The game of football is more or less like the game of life. There are always those with a clearness of vision which enables them to see opportunity at a greater distance and meet it a little sooner than their fellows. Moreover, the radicals of today are often the conservatives of tomorrow.—Walter Trumbull.

Probably the most astonishing golf story of the year comes from the fertile gossip surrounding the preliminaries to the woman's golf championship recently played at Glen Cove, L. I. The story is that a man—a golf professional of considerable standing—played in the qualifying round of the tournament disguised as a woman and failed to qualify. The story is going the rounds of the women golfers, but those who know, or declare they know, refuse to divulge names. It is stated that the man was employed by a woman golfer to play in her stead and that, garbed in woman's clothes, he made the attempt, but either lost his nerve or was so hampered by petticoats (or whatever hampers women since they discarded petticoats) that he failed to qualify.

PRACTICE AND THEORY.

(Clark Griffith is one of the managers who puts a ban on his baseball players. In the meantime a tobacco concern is using an endorsement by Walter Johnson as an advertisement.)

Clark Griffith:

Avoid the cigarette, my lads,
Oh, shun the deadly pill;
It's full of some bum, subtle dope
That's deadly to the will.
It takes your batting optic and
It knocks it all askew.
In fact, it puts the kibosh on
Most all you try to do.
Then up spake Walter Johnson:
The pitcher strong and bold,
How can I shun them pills? said he,
When to me they mean gold?
A firm that makes the Arabs' Own
(A most obnoxious brand),
Is paying me much dough to boost
Its dope sticks through the land.

Here it is the middle of a perfectly good football season and not a single local player has been received at the hospital. Demonstrating the act that the gridiron sport is not the profitable game it used to be.

Rumor has it that baseball on Sundays will be a feature of Scotch Plains next year. With a cold, hard winter staring us in the face this hope fails to stir our sporting blood at this time.

HUNT CLUB HAS A LIVELY CHASE

Follow Hounds Over Fair Country in Twelve-Mile Run.

The mid-week run of the Watchung Hunt Club, yesterday afternoon, was a good one, covering a distance of about twelve miles. The hounds were met at the Plainfield Country Club and were thrown in nearby, the line leading to Oak Tree, where the first check was made on the T. J. Mumford estate. Taken up again the hounds were cast in on the Wright farm and led the riders to Metuchen, where they were checked for the second time.

Cast in again at Pumptown, the hounds led the field a stiff pace over post and rail fences and ditches to the Geary farm, the end of the run. A. C. Fox, who was riding Japan, went off at a stiff rail fence, but quickly remounted. There was a good field out, including many grooms, who were exercising green hunters. The following finished in the chase:

Rufus C. Finch, M. F. H., J. J. O'Donohue, R. H. Towner, Miss Mary F. Baker, Henry L. Finch, Samuel D. French, A. C. Fox and Huntsman Harrison.

RUTHERFORD ELKS HERE TO PLAY LOCAL PINNERS

The Plainfield Elks will entertain the Rutherford "Bills" at the local clubhouse, tonight, rolling off their scheduled match in the Senior League. Both teams have annexed two games and dropped four to opponents and the locals are looking for their first clean-up tonight.

The Elizabeth pinners will travel to Paterson and roll on those alleys, where they expect to take at least two of the games.

FINAL PRACTICE FOR LOCAL TEAM BEFORE FIRST GAME

After a fine workout last night, the Y. M. C. A. basketball team will not practice again until it takes the floor against the Knights of St. Peter's at New Brunswick next Wednesday night. Fourteen reported for practice last night, and the combination number signals were perfected.

Several short scrimmages were held and those who played on the first team played well together and all had their eyes on the iron rim. The local team will make the trip next week in automobiles and Captain Brynairski expects to take a few substitutes along.

FIRST ROUND PLAYED IN P. C. C. TOURNEY

Women's Handicap Golf Matches Will Be Continued This Afternoon.

The first round of the women's eighteen hole handicap golf tournament was played on the Plainfield Country Club course, yesterday, and the second round play will be continued this afternoon. The defeated eight of yesterday will also continue to play for a prize. Sixteen players took part yesterday and in some cases the playing was very close. Several matches were won by default.

Mrs. H. R. Stockton, who has won several Metropolitan one day tourneys recently, defeated Miss Beatrice Hedges 7 up and 6 to play, while Mrs. Allan Cowperthwait defeated Miss Wharton 8 and 7.

The scores of yesterday's play follows: Mrs. McDonald defeated Miss Helen Harmon, 2 up; Mrs. Allan Cowperthwait defeated Miss Wharton, 8 and 7; Mrs. Chester Lawrence defeated Mrs. Daniel Runkle, by default; Mrs. H. R. Stockton defeated Miss Beatrice Hedges, 7 and 6; Mrs. A. M. Collens defeated Mrs. Brown, 2 and 1; Miss Wiley defeated Mrs. C. B. Tyler, 2 and 1; Mrs. W. N. Avery defeated Mrs. Halstead Osborne, by default; Miss Moore defeated Mrs. W. B. Tyler, by default. The players will be matched today as follows: Mrs. McDonald vs. Mrs. Allan Cowperthwait, Mrs. Chester Lawrence vs. Mrs. H. R. Stockton, Mrs. A. M. Collens vs. Miss Wiley, Mrs. W. N. Avery vs. Miss Moore. The beaten eight will play as follows: Miss Helen Harmon vs. Miss Wharton, Mrs. Daniel Runkle vs. Miss Beatrice Hedges, Mrs. Brown vs. Mrs. C. B. Tyler and Mrs. Halstead Osborne vs. Mrs. W. B. Tyler.

JOHN FRITTS WILL HAVE CHARGE OF P. H. S. MEN

John F. Fritts, a local policeman and one of Plainfield's best all around athletes, will have charge of the Plainfield High School track team this year and will probably start some time next week looking over his material. Fritts will talk it over with Athletic Director Ralph S. Patch and then make arrangements for the work.

Fritts expects to have several dual meets between the classes of the school and if enough good material for a representative team can be found the locals will probably enter into meets with other schools. Last year there were some interesting events held in the school and some of the members of that institution made good in large meets and under the direction of Fritts the school will undoubtedly have a good list of men.

HOWE TOOK THREE GAMES IN A ROW

Made a Great Average of 225.1 in Two of Games Last Night.

Only two matches were played in the Knights of Columbus bowling tournament last night, and George Howe had his best night so far when he took three straight from Strappe with three two hundred scores. The second game was the only one in which he had to extend himself and in that roll his opponent pushed him to the limit and then fell only one point short. The scores of this game were 204 to 203. In the first game Howe made high score with a 237, while Strappe only hit for 177. After his narrow escape in the second game, Howe again went high up in the two hundreds and scored 235, while Strappe went his first score four points lower. Howe's average for the three games was 225.1.

Pasch and Cannon were the other two pinners and the latter annexed the last two games after dropping the first. Pasch easily took the first, the scores being 182 to 143 but Cannon's score of 178 in the second game was ten points higher than his opponent's. A 224 in the deciding tilt was large enough to Give Cannon the match.

The scores:

Pasch	182	168	175
Cannon	143	178	224
Strappe	177	203	173
Howe	237	204	235

The Jersey City quintet is now tied with the Paterson, New York and Hoboken teams on a percentage basis, each team having captured two-thirds of its games. The pinning last night was rather ordinary. Rahway started with a total of 880 and this was good enough to win by seventy-two pins, the visitors stopping at 808. In the next encounter the competition was again interesting though the scores were low. Jersey City accounted for 837 and won by thirty pins. The last and deciding game saw the Rahway pin-knights total 866, while the Jersey City five was forty-one pins to the bad. McCartney did some good pinning, having tallies of 214 and 201.

ANIMATED BEAN POLE THEY CALL BOLAND

Mike Boland.

Long, lean and lank, an animated bean pole capable of thinking, quick as a flash on spindle-like legs, and arms that work with the rapidity of piston rods in action—that's the description which fits Mike Boland, Princeton's strange phenomenon who plays in the back field.

Rogers Blanchard defeated Philip Mills in the semi-final round of the singles championship of the Plainfield High School tennis tournament yesterday afternoon. In the first set Blanchard won the first two games, but Mills then won the next six with little difficulty.

NEW BRUNSWICK IN N. L. OF B. B. CLUBS

To Organize Professional Basketball League in the East.

Coming like a thunderbolt from a clear sky, announcement was made yesterday of the formation of a new professional basketball league, to be known as the National League of Basketball Clubs. The circuit will include one team in Trenton, Camden, New Brunswick, Burlington and Bristol, with a sixth team to be selected from North or West Philadelphia, Princeton, Lambertville or Morrisville.

The birth of the new league will come as big news to the many basketball fans not only in this city, but in every other city represented on the National League map. It is not expected that the organization will be as powerful as the Eastern League of the New York State body.

The organization of the new league took place rather quietly, as it was desired to announce the newborn body prematurely. Now that the circuit is an assured thing, the officers are glad to announce to the basketball fans that there is a new strong professional body in the making.

MAKE YOURS A PUBLIC SERVICE STORE

This is the age of service. The rewards of today go to the men who give the most in return.

Translated for you, Mr. Merchant, this means that the customers are certain to patronize the store that will give them what they want when they want it.

Cut prices may bring some trade, but better service will bring more.

This is the age when people are reading the advertising in their daily newspapers because they are finding it a distinct part of the service they expect their newspapers to give.

When a nationally distributed article of merit is advertised in the newspapers a demand for it sets in right away.

People want to see it and, if satisfied, want to buy it.

They are going to turn to the store that lets them know it has the article. That store will be giving them the service they want at that particular moment.

If it is a good article they are going to remember the store where they got it and will come back to that store again.

Co-operate with the manufacturers who come into the newspapers of your town to exploit their goods and you will be building business for yourself.

nlations of those present, and supper was served. The home was lavishly decorated for the nuptial event. The bride received a large collection of costly gifts, including a diamond pendant from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Hegeman is prominent in New York society, and has a large acquaintance. Mr. Hegeman, who spent his younger days in the borough, where he is well-known, has been living with his parents at the Hotel Marie Antoinette, New York, since they removed to the city several years ago.

Mr. Hegeman is associated with his father in the United States Metal and Manufacturing Company, of New York, where he holds an excellent position. The couple left last night for the South where they will spend their honeymoon and upon their return will live at Graham Court, New York.

WILL QUIT BORO BOARD

for improvements to the Somerset School. In order to bring the building on Somerset street up to the requirements of the State Board's regulations it was necessary to remodel certain portions of it, entailing considerable expense. In the opinion of Mr. Smalley this expense was not in proportion with the borough's financial status and he strenuously opposed the apparent needless expenditures. At the time the measure was adopted Mr. Smalley and a number of prominent borough taxpayers contended that the present structure was adequate to the municipality's needs. Arguments were presented which seemed to substantiate this version, but notwithstanding the objection, the remaining members of the School Board declared it advisable to live up to the regulations of the State authorities.

Mr. Smalley has long been an advocate of school regulations that will fit the needs of boroughs of North Plainfield's calibre. In his opinion the present State restrictions are not applicable to municipalities having an income similar to that of the borough's and he maintains that placing the school in a condition that would meet with the higher body's requirements would be placing a hardship on the taxpayer. Some of the changes that had to be made were classed as ridiculous by Mr. Smalley and he personally attacked the restriction making it compulsory to have the windows in the classrooms constructed so that the light would enter at the left of the pupil and the stringent fire preventive regulations. He claimed that the institution on Somerset street was far from being the fire trap alleged by some authorities and contended that it amply fulfilled the demands of North Plainfield.

Mr. Smalley's independent stand on some of the topics has occasioned no little amount of hard feeling among his colleagues on the Board in several instances, but he has acted according to the policy that he advocated prior to his election to the Board and if he cannot maintain his principles he says he is ready to quit.

RECREATION WORK PROGRESS

The Italian Social and Educational Club, of which Albert Colleta is president, is also making great strides of progress, and has already secured a membership of seventy-five. This organization conducts a musical and literary program, followed by socials each week, and is but a small part of the melting pot of the work carried on by the general committee. The meetings are held at the Lincoln School, Monday nights.

The Choral Society, recently organized, has a membership of 125, and is under the leadership of S. Frederick Smith. Rehearsals are being held Tuesday evenings for the oratorio, "The Messiah," to be given December 21. This body meets at Franklin School.

The Needlecraft Club, under the leadership of Miss Rogers, meets at the Franklin School, Tuesday evenings, at which time embroidery and plain sewing is taught.

The colored people's activities are carried on at the Stillman School building Tuesday evenings, under the direction of Mrs. R. C. Wormley. A gymnasium class for girls and a literary club are conducted for the colored people and are meeting with great success.

The Italian orchestra and the girls' shirt waist making class meets at Lincoln School, Wednesday evenings, while the girls' gymnastic and athletic club meets the same evening at the High School. These organizations are well attended.

The Dramatic Club, which has presented one or two fine productions, meets Thursday evenings with a membership of thirty. The club is, at present, preparing to present "Brown of Harvard," at a date in the near future.

Friday evening is a busy time with meetings of the Civic Club, under the direction of R. Storey Rowland, a volunteer worker, and a member of the general committee, at the Stillman School; the Dunbar Club, for colored people, under Mrs. Wormley, at Washington School, and the Washington Musical and Literary Club, at Washington School, is under the direction of H. C. White. The latter organization presented one of its best numbers at the "Safe and Sane" Fourth of July celebration. The Italian Club classes in English and public speaking, and the class for young men in gymnasium and athletic work, under Dr. Charles Davis, meets on Friday nights.

The municipal dances on Saturday evenings are probably the most popular branches of work. They have helped to do away with the undesirable dance halls in the city and have provided a wholesome enjoyment under strict supervision and proper chaperonage. These dances are not only self supporting, but help pay the expenses of the other activities. New clubs which will be entirely self supporting will be started as soon as possible.

WAR IN EUROPE BRINGS TO LIGHT MANY SIDES OF THE FIGHTING MAN

Grim and Strange Incidents of Most Terrible of World's Struggles.

Youthful French Volunteer Delivers His Message, but Loses His Life.

LOSSES IN THE WAR NOW ABOVE 2,000,000.

Figures that appear in recent war dispatches indicate the appalling extent to which the losses in the war have grown.

A Copenhagen dispatch estimates the German losses during the fighting in France at 750,000.

Paris hears that the allies lost 10,000 men a day in ten days' fighting over toward the Belgian coast in what has become known as the battle of Flanders. The German losses in the same battle have been correspondingly large, if not larger.

One dispatch says the Germans lost 20,000 men "in the recent fighting." Another tells of 2,000 German dead in front of one position.

All the dispatches admit that* the losses in the battle which resulted in the German retreat in Poland have been enormous. In the early stages of the fighting the loss on the German side was placed by Russian reports at 40,000.

The Germans say they have more than 296,000 prisoners.

A rough estimate of the dead, wounded and missing of all the belligerents puts the number far beyond 2,000,000 men.

THAT cold and cannon cannot kill German humor is shown by a postcard written in pencil by a young German officer in the trenches on the Aisne, where he had lain for several weeks in the first line of the German forces. The contents of the card, as published in the Frankfurter Zeitung, are here given in translation:

Our hair has grown into a mane,
Soap's unknown in all this dirt;
We never brush our teeth,
We never change our shirt.
Our clothes are always soaking wet
And many a time for meals we fret.
Of beer or wine, alas, alas!
We get no bottle, keg or glass.
In leaky shoes our cold toes squash,
And mud and mire our faces splash.
The only things that still are dry
Are General Humor, friend and I.
And yet this heroism
Is not without its charms;
We're drawn by rheumatism
To valiant force of arms.

"Wounds Make You Grow."

Gustave Chatin, fifteen years old, a Paris gamin and a soldier, who was brought to the hospital in Paris, after he had been playing at war like a man, has gone again to the front. He wished to continue his game of war, having an ambition to capture a flag.

The good sisters who had been nursing his wounds were unable to restrain him, especially since an army lieutenant had given him a uniform with the congratulations of the officers of the regiment.

His father took him to the recruiting office. When the father told Gustave where they were going the boy leaped from his bed.

"Bully," he cried, and jumped into his clothes in feverish haste.

Some one suggested teasingly that he would be rejected because he was so small.

"A wound is like soup, it makes you grow," retorted the boy. "Anyway, if they refuse me I will find a way to wriggle to the front ranks."

Set Forest on Fire With Foes.

A number of interesting episodes of the recent fighting between the Russians on the one side and the Germans and Austrians on the other are beginning to find their way into print.

Opposite Kozenitze, where thick woods run almost to Radom, the Germans filled the whole forest with troops, including some heavy artillery. The latter in fancied security and well concealed was doing a good deal of exciting practice without effecting anything in particular, but the German infantry under this admirable cover for a long time prevented the Russians from making much of an impression.

At length several small bodies of volunteers from the ranks stalked the German lines, got around into three or four suitable spots and fired the forest. The wind aiding it, the conflagration spread with terrible rapidity, and thousands of Germans were suffocated by the dense smoke or burned alive. When it was seen that the fire had gained a good hold the Germans dropped everything and fled, but the forest had been fired in too many places for the panic stricken troops to escape, and few ever got away.

Owes His Life to His Horse.

Trooper S. Stanley of the Royal Scots Greys, writing to a friend in Edinburgh, says: "I owe my own life and that of perhaps a whole army to my old horse. I was on outpost duty at a lonely spot, and, though I could not hear or see anything, my horse kept neighing and betraying signs of restlessness.

"I got down and came on a German crouching in the long grass. He had a sword bayonet and evidently meant to get me unawares, and then the post would have been rubbed. I didn't wait to ask his intentions, but let him have a ticket for another country.

"His yells brought his mates down, but I got away, and the row alarmed the guard and spoiled their attempt at surprising us. You bet the old nag had a special feed that night."

A Soldier's Unfinished Letter.

A touching story of an unfinished letter is told by a private in the Scots guards. "In the trenches in one of our off days I was sitting smoking a 'fag,' and my chum was writing a letter to his mother. He had got to this—'I have got through without a scratch so far, but you never know your luck out'—when a bullet rounded off that sentence better than you or I could do it, and his grave is in the lonely valley of the Aisne."

A beautiful little story of self sacrifice is told by a gunner of the Royal artillery. "In one of our night fights," he writes, "a chap of the Gloucesters had his rifle knocked out of his hand and a big German lunged at him with a bayonet. Quick as lightning one of his mates sprang between him and the German and received the thrust in his chest. He died within an hour, and when asked why he did it his answer was: 'God! I couldn't help it! He's got a wife and kids.'"

Austrian Kaiser Decorates Girl.

Rosa Zenoch, a twelve-year-old Austrian girl, who was seriously wounded while ministering to her father, an Austrian officer, on the battlefield of Tannenberg, has been decorated by Emperor Francis Joseph personally for bravery, according to Max Fivars of Braddock, Pa., who was a passenger on the steamer Red Cross, which reached New York from Europe.

"I met the little girl on a train conveying wounded soldiers to Vienna," Mr. Fivars said. "She was with her father, who also was wounded. During a lull in the fighting at Tannenberg she had gone out on the field carrying water for the wounded. She found her father lying there and was giving him a drink when a shell burst near them. Her right leg was almost torn from her body.

"Emperor Francis Joseph heard of her bravery and visited the girl at the hospital. By his personal orders she and her father are receiving every possible care while there. He decorated her, and when she gets well she will wear an artificial leg made for her by the emperor's orders."

Bomb Set Americans Free.

After having been confined in a prison at Antwerp for nearly two months, suspected of being German spies, four Americans were given their release by means of a German bomb which destroyed the walls of their prison. The Americans are Frank Rosney, Thomas McKeown, Frank Smith and William Boyle, all of New York, who returned home on the steamship Red Cross, which left in September with American nurses and doctors for European battlefields.

According to the story told by the Americans, they were going from Antwerp to Rotterdam when they were arrested as spies and held, pending investigation.

"We were confined in a prison at Antwerp," the spokesman said, "and were evidently forgotten when the city was bombarded by the Germans. On the second day of the attack a bomb struck the wall of our prison, tearing it away and enabling us to escape. We then joined the tide of refugees going into Holland and made our way to Rotterdam."

Delivered Message but Lost Life.

La Liberte of Paris describes the death of a young Frenchman, which it calls the most heroic yet recorded. Rene Granger, aged eighteen, born in La Vendee, where his great-grandfather fought against the republic, volunteered at the outbreak of the war. He was attached to a regiment engaged in Lorraine, where his ability was rapidly rewarded with the rank of corporal. Recently, when his regiment held an especially dangerous position on the fighting line, his colonel asked for a volunteer to take a message to the advanced companies across ground exposed to a deadly fire. Granger offered to go, and the colonel demurred, owing to his youth, but finally agreed to send him.

Granger gave the orders to the first three companies and received a wound in the thigh as he approached the fourth. Nevertheless he persisted in his task, crawling across 300 yards of the shot swept plain to the farthest company. When only fifty yards from the goal he was mortally wounded by a shell. Litter bearers from the force he was trying to reach picked him up, and he succeeded in giving his message with his dying breath.

Leaves $5,000,000 to City.

Announcement was made in Houston, Tex., that George H. Hermann, bachelor and philanthropist, had left his entire estate, save a few minor bequests, to the city of Houston, to be used in erecting and endowing a great charity hospital. The estate will amount to approximately $5,000,000. Previous bequests by Mr. Hermann to the city of Houston during his residence there amounted to more than $1,000,000.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or side, headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Thickness and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wipsy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.—Adv.

Conservation of the Home*

Report of Homes Department, National Conservation Congress
Mrs. Frederic Schoff, Chairman.

The one object for the conservation of all the material resources of a nation is for the use, comfort, and benefit of the homes of the people.

It would be of little importance what became of forest lands, waters, minerals, or food, were there no men, women and children to use and enjoy them.

Therefore at the very heart of this conservation work should be the two departments covering homes and child-life.

It has been a source of encouragement to see that men who are leaders in many great developments of our land have given definite place to the study of conservation of the home.

There is need for it, if America is to be the greatest of all the nations, for with all its wonderful natural resources, it can only be as great as the quality and character of its people.

Great minds are needed to think and plan with wisdom and unselfishness for the America that is to be, for the protection of homes that are to shelter and nurture the men and women who a few years hence will take our places.

The United States has its Departments of State and War and Navy. It has not yet seen that the greatest questions it has to meet are the protection and care of the American people and American homes.

The United States Department of Agriculture is educating the farmer to make the most out of his land. It gives him information concerning the soils, the rotation of crops, the protection against the many enemies of plant life, the care and feeding of stock and poultry. It protects the forests and the fisheries. All these things for the service of man have received the guardianship of the Government.

Homes are just as important as farms, and there is just as great need of proper consideration for their elevation and protection as there is that of farms and stocks and forests.

The protection of infant life is of more value even in a pecuniary way than the protection of the cotton crop, yet 300,000 babies die annually whose lives might be saved if the United States gave the same careful, intelligent information to the mothers as it does to the farmers.

The annual sacrifice of 300,000 American citizens from preventable causes is a waste far too great not to receive governmental consideration. Time need not be wasted on compiling statistics. There is need for prompt and decisive action to prevent this needless sacrifice; it means that each year the possibility for at least 100,000 homes of American citizens is cut off. That means a serious loss to this nation and one for which immigration cannot compensate.

The wonderful advance in agriculture can be paralleled in human culture if the same methods are used.

The trains that go through the country for agricultural demonstrations should carry instruction to both men and women on home making and child-nurture. The list of valuable educational pamphlets published and sent free of postage should include instruction in child hygiene and sanitation.

There is today a need for a Home Department in the National and State Governments, that is equipped to study the home problems of America and meet them as only can be done by thorough study and knowledge of conditions, their causes and remedies.

The sacrifice of infant life is a small part of the waste that undermines the homes. Juvenile crime, its causes and treatment are of more vital moment than the boll weevil or the chestnut blight, for the possible good citizens transformed into one who is a menace and expense to society is a great waste.

There are countless organizations which give material and charitable relief. There are few which give the help which will enable the average home to properly guide and train the boys and girls who are wayward or will help parents to learn efficient methods of child nurture.

The home has the greatest power over human life and human character. Too long has it been left to chance and ignorant experiment to make it efficient in its work, stable and permanent.

The home is founded by the marriage of a man and woman. It is a matter of grave concern to the nation when divorce breaks up one in every twelve of the homes, and leaves the children bereft not only of a normal home, but deprived of a true conception of what marriage and parenthood should do. The conservation of the home requires that serious study and work be done to change this condition in America. It cannot be done by legislation alone, though one of the greatest needs today for the protection of the home is Federal law governing marriage, divorce and polygamy.

It is a serious menace to the home when 48 States may make as many different laws as they choose on a subject which is the foundation of the nation's future.

That a man may be legally married in one State, and that such marriage is illegal in a State adjoining, that divorce is easy in some States and difficult in others, that polygamy is permitted to continue in some States, and that freedom to spread the cult is allowed, have all been undermining influences in the God-given standards of marriage, home and parenthood.

The Government has found it necessary to assume jurisdiction over inter-state commerce, railroads, and express companies. It is of even more vital importance that it should have jurisdiction over marriage, divorce and their violations. In addition to this, there is need for definite, plain teaching of youth in regard to the true, high ideal of marriage, of parenthood, and the making of a home. This would prevent a large proportion of the divorces. A standard should be set in regard to the home, and boys and girls should get that as part of their education.

Ignorance of hygiene is responsible for the drawbacks and failure of many homes. It is inexcusable that any boy or girl should be permitted to reach manhood and womanhood without clear knowledge of personal hygiene, sanitation and food values. This knowledge is essential to good home making and good parenthood, and is equally necessary for men and women.

The nation needs to protect every home, for it is of interest to all that each home shall be wholesome in all ways.

Congestion in cities should not be permitted.

In the sea-port cities many immigrants from other lands have not the means to go farther, and if they had the means do not know enough about the country to place themselves where their qualifications would fit best. The cry against immigration is one with which I cannot sympathize.

The Americanizing of the immigrant should be placed in other hands than the politicians who uses him en masse for a manipulated vote.

The special education of immigrant men and women would be an important service to good home making and the ability to train the children to be useful citizens.

The proper distribution of immigrants by careful information as to opportunities for work and the earning of a home is greatly needed.

The proper assimilation of our immigrant population is still in its infancy, but is of vital moment, for the future citizens of America are being trained in these homes.

The city home of the American citizen should not be left to the will of builders, whose only thought is to build houses for sale. Many apartments are built today without the amount of light, air or ventilation necessary to health. Some cities and towns are realizing the need for regulating this.

The conservation of the home demands that every State should have requirements as to building homes. The problem of a comfortable home for the family with a moderate income is a serious one today. Few cities or towns are giving the thought necessary to make a city of good homes for the average family—at prices possible for them to pay.

The country home is equally in need of study and help. The opportunities for social life and educational opportunities equal to those given to the city home should be supplied. That means larger appropriations for schools, the employment of the best teachers, the consolidated school, the use of the schools and churches as centers of educational and social life, the making of good roads between home, school, church and market place.

The Government Department of the Home would take all these things into consideration. It would bring to the overworked farmer's wife better household facilities and more help. The greatest drawback to country life today is the overworked wife, who cannot get needed help and who goes beyond her strength in cooking and doing housework for farm help as well as her own family.

No one who knows of the terrible results of hookworm disease in the South resulting from the unsanitary, poverty-stricken hovels, where physical weakness had for years sapped the vitality and energy of men, women and children, can gainsay the fact that Government study of the causes and the remedy has done service of inestimable value to thousands of homes. Seven years of life among those people proved that many of them were in quality equal to the best American stock, but that disease had brought upon them the unjust stigma of laziness with resulting poverty.

The Government could study and publish the results of its investigation, but Dr. Stile had to get contributions from individuals to do the educational and medical work necessary to uproot this disease. That is not as it should be. The power to help should go with the power to investigate, for the condition was of much wider interest than to the individual directly affected.

The National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations has made the subject of the home, of parental education, and of child-welfare its special study and work for seventeen years. It has worked steadily to build up a united system of Parent-Teacher Associations in connection with every school, to bring co-operation of home and school in child nurture. It has required that these associations shall be for child-study, so that parents might have guidance and help in their problems. It has instituted study courses and provided educational material for the parents. It has headquarters in Washington and has valuable co-operation from Government departments. It should be the Homes Department of the National Conservation Congress, because its work is well established, covering every State and reaching to other nations. It is the only national organization whose membership is composed of parents and teachers, and whose educational leaders include the greatest specialists in child-nurture and child-welfare in home, school, church and State.

I would suggest to the National Conservation Congress that it make the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations its Homes Department, because in that way it will have consecutive work of high standard, and will bring a strength which could be secured in no other way. Co-operation without duplication brings results.

The National Congress of Mothers offers its co-operation in every phase of conservation for which the Conservation Congress was organized. It also asks co-operation of the Conservation Congress in its international work, for home, parenthood and child-nurture.

THE MORNING'S MUFFINS.

BREAKFAST MENU.
Grapes.
Bread Croutons With Hot Milk.
Hashed Brown Potatoes With Scrambled Eggs.
Toasted English Muffins.
Coffee or Cocoa.

MUFFINS are a favorite addition to breakfast. When the weather grows cool the housewife usually begins to serve hot breads more frequently, and the following recipes may now be of use:

Toasted Golden Brown.

Toasted Muffins.—If not convenient to make the muffins at home they may be bought at the confectioner's. Split and toast to a golden brown. Butter well, pile one on another and serve hot.

Corn Muffins.—Take a cupful of sifted cornmeal, a tablespoonful of butter, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a scant teaspoonful of salt and five cupfuls of boiling water. At night mix the cornmeal, salt and sugar, using the top of a double boiler. Add the butter and boiling water, stir until smooth and then allow to cook for an hour. Place in a bowl and pour a quarter cupful of water over to keep a crust from forming. Leave until morning. Then beat smooth and soft. Take one and a half cupfuls each of fine yellow corn flour and white flour, two even teaspoonfuls of baking powder and stir into the cooked meal. Beat an egg and add to the mixture. Drop into greased muffin pans and bake in a hot oven.

Baked in a Moderate Oven.

Cream Muffins.—Take one and one-half cupfuls of flour, one-third teaspoonful of salt and one and one-half teaspoonfuls of baking powder, sift together and add the yolks of two eggs, one-fourth cupful of melted butter and two-thirds cupful of thin cream. Beat well. Fold in last the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Bake in greased muffin pans in a moderate oven.

Rice Muffins.—Take one cupful cold boiled rice, two cupfuls flour, two rounded teaspoonfuls baking powder, one teaspoonful salt, one tablespoonful sugar, one tablespoonful melted butter, one cupful milk, two eggs. Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into bowl, add milk, butter, rice and well beaten egg, mix all well together. Brush muffin pan with butter and bake in moderate oven.

If you melt the butter in the muffin pan, then pour it in the mixture. It will save time and butter.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

How the Jackdaw Of Rheims Lost His Feathers.

"He is the thief," shouted the monks.

"I AM going to tell you tonight an Ingoldsby legend about the naughty jackdaw of Rheims," said daddy.

"The cardinal lord archbishop of Rheims was giving a great dinner. All the monks and friars and knights and squires were there, and the saucy jackdaw sat on the back of the cardinal's chair and preened himself and peered under the great red hat of the cardinal and was very happy indeed.

"Soon the feast was over, and then six little singing boys marched through the refectory, and one of them carried a golden ewer beautifully embossed. The others carried lavender water and eau de cologne and a cake of soap and a fine—very fine—linen napkin upon which was embroidered a red cardinal's hat.

"Now, all this fuss was so the cardinal could wash his hands. So the cardinal drew from off his finger a costly turquoise ring and put it upon the table.

"Then he washed his hands in the golden ewer, using the cake of soap and wiping them upon the fine linen napkin, and then scented them with the lavender water and the eau de cologne.

"Then he was all ready to put back on his finger the costly turquoise ring.

"But it wasn't there. Then there was a terrible row. The monks turned their pockets inside out, the friars got down on their knees and searched the carpets and then, as, of course, you have seen people do when things get lost, searched in the most impossible places you can think of—the walls, the ceilings, behind the pictures, everywhere, while the cardinal took off his shoes and poked around in the toes and left his red stockings exposed to view.

"But no ring could be found.

"Then the cardinal put his shoes on and rose with a very dignified air and called for his candle, his bell and his book and solemnly cursed the rascally thief that had run off with his ring. Such a curse had never been heard before. But no one in the company seemed any the worse.

"Night came. The monks and friars continued to search for the ring. Just at dawn, when they were feeling terribly from fatigue, what should come limping into the room but the most dejected little jackdaw you can imagine.

"His feathers were nearly all gone, and his head was as bald as the sole of your foot.

"Then he feebly cawed and started to limp away again.

"'He is the thief!' shouted the monks and the friars in unison and ran after the jackdaw.

"Sure enough in his nest in the belfry among the sticks and stones was found the cardinal's costly turquoise."

Enameled Kitchen Ranges

(An Entirely New Process and Feature for Stoves)

It has always been our custom to introduce new features and new goods when they are of a practicable and desirable character. In introducing this New RANGE we will GUARANTEE it in every respect, and against CHIPPING OF THE ENAMEL. We will replace at our expense every range found defective in any way.

EXPRESS INVESTIGATION.

Washington, Oct. 29.—An investigation into the changes of the classification of express matter will open here tomorrow before the Interstate Commerce Commission. The questions involved include many changes in rates. For many months the companies have been reviving their classification of express matter in conformity with suggestions of the commission. It is believed that the changes to be passed upon will be approved.

HARRIMAN'S SON MAKES GOOD.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 29.—W. Averill Harriman, son and heir of the late E. H. Harriman, is making good on his month's work on a handcar on the Union Pacific. He is imbibing the rudiments of track-laying and grading, and lives with the "gang." He wields a pick or shovel for hours at a time, and is developing his muscles as well as his ability to handle his father's great railroad property.

PROGRESSIVES SPEAK AT AN OPEN-AIR MEETING

The Progressive candidates who were announced to speak at the party headquarters on North avenue, last night, changed the place of campaigning to Park avenue and West Second street, where a fairly good-sized crowd gathered to hear the candidates. The issues of the county and State, as well as the Nation were discussed in an informal manner. Both the candidates of the Republican and Democratic parties came in for a share of criticism.

The speakers included G. W. V Moy, Congressional candidate; James B. Furber, Theodore F. Vandyke, Lincoln Phillips, Benjamin H. Williams, Harwood Fish and William R Schart. It is expected that all of the candidates will speak in this city Saturday night, winding up the campaign.

MISS VAN VLIET AN OCTOBER BRIDE

Becomes the Wife of Martin Cathcart Fawcett at Home Ceremony.

DR. ZELIE OFFICIATES

Couple Are Married on Wedding Anniversary Date of Bride's Grandparentsand in Room that Her Parents Were Married in 25 Years Ago

Miss Ruth Gray VanVliet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. VanVliet, of Grove street, was married to Martin Cathcart Fawcett, of the borough, at 8 o'clock last evening by Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. David Nevius Groendyke, 91 Mercer avenue.

The ceremony was performed in a bow window in the reception room, which was attractively decorated with palms and chrysanthemums. It was in this room that the bride's parents were married twenty-five years ago, and it was also the anniversary date of the wedding of the bride's grandparents.

Miss Jane VanVliet, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Hegeman VanVliet, sister of the bride; Miss Lillian M. Fawcett, a sister of the bridegroom; Miss Elizabeth Deeble, of Washington, and Miss Gladys Perry, of Boston. The best man was Reginald Fawcett and the ushers were William M. Fawcett, of Boston, Mass.; Howard Crosby Foster, of New York; Herbert Cathcart, of this city, and Stewart Porter, of Philadelphia.

The bride was gowned in white satin charmeuse, trimmed with lace, a family heirloom, and she also wore her mother's wedding veil, and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bride roses. The bridesmaids were gowned in yellow and carried bouquets of chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held during which the couple received congratulations and supper was served. The wedding march and the music for the reception was furnished by an orchestra. The bride received many gifts.

Later in the evening the bride and bridegroom left on a wedding trip. They will reside in Bound Brook upon their return. The bride formerly attended the Hartridge School and the Plainfield Seminary and is a graduate of Abbott Academy, Andover, Mass. Mr. Fawcett, who is the son of Hughes Fawcett, is well-known here. He is engaged in business with his father in New York. About one hundred relatives and friends attended the wedding and reception. The decorations at the house, which were very attractive, were arranged by Stanley, the florist.

THREE BROTHERS ASSIST AT WEDDING

Miss Edith M. Baker, of Philadelphia, Bride of Allen S. Dunn.

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Allen S. Dunn and Miss Edith M. Baker, which took place in the Tioga Presbyterian church, of Philadelphia, on Monday, October 26. Mr. Dunn is the son of Rev. Charles E. Dunn, formerly of this city, who performed the ceremony. Three brothers of the bridegroom assisted in the service. Rev. William J. Dunn, formerly organist of the Crescent Avenue church, presided at the organ. Robert H. Dunn was the best man and Charles E. Dunn, Jr., was an usher. The other ushers were Messrs. Roy C. Baker, William H. Baker, James Whiting, James McGhee and Dr. William C. Drein.

Mrs. Maud B. Bryant, cousin of the bride, was the matron of honor. After a wedding trip the couple will make their home in Philadelphia. Several Plainfield relatives and friends were guests at the wedding and reception which followed at the home of the bride's parents in Philadelphia.

CHARGES GATEMAN WITH NEGLIGENCE

New Market Autoists Had Narrow Escape From Death at Railroad Crossing.

Taximan Herbert E. Nelson and Fred C. Ward, of Dunellen, and two passengers for Highland Park, narrowly escaped being killed or seriously injured Wednesday night, when their automobile smashed through the northerly gate of the Main street crossing of the Lehigh Valley, at New Market, in front of a fast westbound freight. Ward and Nelson were barely able to jump out of the car and push it back off the track when the fast freight with shrieking whistle dashed by.

The only injury sustained by any occupant of the automobile was a scratch on Mr. Nelson's face caused by a piece of flying glass from the windshield, which was completely demolished. Outside of the shattered windshield the car was not damaged in any way and Taximan Nelson was able to deliver his fares at Highland Park.

When interviewed last night as to the cause of the accident, Taximan Nelson said, "The Main street crossing of the Lehigh Valley is a bad one, as everyone knows, and I was approaching it at a rate of not more than five miles an hour. The light on the particular gate was out and the first inkling, as my headlights only furnish a dim light, that I had that the gates were down was when my companion, Ward, yelled, 'Lookout for the gates.' A collision was unavoidable then, as I was right on top of the gate. The gate tender, who is afraid that he will lose his job, says that I was going fully forty miles an hour at the time. It is ridiculous for him to stick by such a story in view of the fact that I stopped my car on the first track, and furthermore, I have a witness who was standing in front of her home at the time and saw the whole affair. She is sure that I was not going any faster than five miles an hour. The gateman further asserts that the lantern on the gate was burning at the time. This assertion is also ridiculous, because the lantern was stone cold when I picked it off the bottom of the front part of my automobile not five minutes after the accident happened."

BIDS ARE REJECTED FOR NEW SCHOOL

Changes in Heating Plans Intended to Lower the Cost of Work.

At a meeting of the Board of Education held in the High School, last evening, the Board decided to reject all the bids received for the construction of the Evergreen Avenue School, and will probably re-advertise within the next thirty days for new bids for the work.

Certain changes in the heating specifications are contemplated which it is believed will result in lower figures when the contracts are finally let.

In addition to considerable routine business the Board acted favorably on an application of the Women's Auxiliary of the Muhlenberg Hospital to rent the High School Auditorium this winter for a series of monthly dances for the benefit of the hospital; the rental received for the auditorium will somewhat more than cover the cost of opening the auditorium.

The next meeting of the Board will be held on Monday at 8 p. m.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY FOR ELKS' FRIENDS

Affair Given in Watchung Avenue Clubhouse Last Night Enjoyed.

Members of the Elks' lodge of this city entertained their friends at a reception in the clubhouse on Watchung avenue, last night, the affair being one of the most successful and unique of its kind ever conducted by that organization. The entire clubhouse was turned over to the seventy-five couples who attended and an enjoyable evening of informal entertainment and dancing was provided, music being furnished by Paroubek's orchestra.

The amusement provided was of the Hallowe'en variety, the various features being typical of this season of the year. Yellow and black decorations on the interior walls of the house gave it an attractive appearance and cornstalks stacked in the corners lent a Hallowe'en atmosphere to the affair. Following the arrival of the guests the interior electric lights were put out and the illumination during the remainder of the evening was provided by Jack o'Lanterns hung about the rooms. Many took advantage of the program of terpsichorean music and the spacious assembly hall of the clubhouse afforded the guests an excellent opportunity to enjoy this popular form af amusement.

During the evening a committee of members served refreshments consisting of pumpkin pie, cider and crullers. The committee in charge of the arrangements included Jack Todd, Dr. Chalmers L. Crist, Elmer D. Cutting, John Cose and Dr. C. W. Leonard.

FALL RECEPTION A BRILIANT AFFAIR

Social Function at Park Club Enjoyed by Nearly 300 Guests.

Under the auspices of the entertainment committee, the annual fall reception and dance was given at the Park Club, last night, marking the resumption of activities for the coming season. The affair was largely attended, there being nearly three hundred members and their guests present. In addition to the members of the entertainment committee, who acted as a reception committee, the guests were received by wives of the board of governors which included Mrs. Alexander Milne, Mrs. Horace M. Fisher, Mrs. Allen B. Laing, Mrs. Henry D. Hibbard and Mrs. Stuart H. Patterson.

Mrs. Hugh Jarvis is the chairman of the entertainment committee and associated with her are Mr. and Mrs. Allen B. Laing, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Milne and George English. The clubhouse was lavishly decorated for the affair under the direction of Henry Johnson, the steward. Especially attractive was the arrangement about the stage, where through the use of autumnal foliage, small trees, part of a fence and blue colored footlights, there was presented a moonlight scene in the woods. The autumnal foliage was also used throughout the large hall.

The reception was held during the early part of the evening and from 9:30 o'clock until 2 o'clock this morning dancing was a feature, music being furnished by VanEps Brothers. They gave a popular program and were generous with encores. During an intermission about midnight, refreshments were served under the direction of the committee.

The next social event at the club will be an informal dance on Saturday evening, November 7. Definite arrangements have not as yet been made for the Thanksgiving dance, there being some talk of holding it on Friday night, November 27.

MANY ATTENDED AFTERNOON TEA AT OPEN AIR SCHOOL

A very successful afternoon tea was held at the Open-Air Anti-Tubercular School, yesterday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. There is much interest taken in this work and many people visited the school yesterday. The tea was in charge of Mrs. B. van D. Hedges and Mrs. F. W. Bulkley, and the visitors were shown through out the building.

Many donations of money and food were received and the interest taken in this work is very encouraging. In the afternoon the children gave an entertainment for the benefit of the visitors.

MORE THAN $1200 FOR THE BELGIANS

Plainfielders Have Responded Generously to Request for Aid for Widows.

TWO BIG BOXES SENT

Clothing Has Already Been Forwarded from This City to Dr. Henry VanDyke, to be Distributed to Those in Need.

Through the efforts of a group of about forty of the well-known women of the city, between $1,200 and $1,300 has been raised in Plainfield to be sent abroad to aid the suffering women and children of Belgium, who have been deprived of home and property, and in some cases of their husbands and fathers. The movement has been thoroughly described in the Daily Press from time to time, as the work progressed, the chairman of the local committee being Mrs. Pierre Mali, wife of the Belgian consul in New York.

In addition to the money two large packing boxes of women's and children's clothes of all kinds have been forwarded, express prepaid, by Mrs. Frederick Wallace, of Hillside avenue, on behalf of the committee, to Dr. Henry VanDyke, United States minister to the Netherlands, who is a personal friend of Mrs. Wallace. There garments have either been made or donated by Plainfielders, and in the boxes are clothes of all kinds, dresses, suits, hoods, blankets and shawls, as well as 125 or more children's garments, 65 of which were made by the pupils of the Hartridge School. In each of the children's garments was sewed by the young women a toy, or a piece of Belgian money, which was procured in this country.

The money which was subscribed was all sent in response to personal appeals, or to the appeal made through the columns of the Daily Press. Some of it was sent direct to this newspaper, but the larger amount went to the committee. This will all be forwarded to the Belgian consul in London, with instructions that he use it where needed, as many of the refugee women and children are in want in London.

Another box of clothes will be forwarded about the middle of November, and contributions for it will be welcomed by any member of the committee, or information can be procured at the Daily Press office as to where it may be sent. Checks for the cause may be sent direct to this newspaper, or forwarded to Miss Hartridge, the treasurer, at the Hartridge School. It is hoped that a substantial sum will be added to that already subscribed by Plainfielders.

MRS. L. M. LEEK GIVEN A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Mrs. L. M. Leek, of Westervelt avenue, was given a birthday surprise yesterday afternoon by the Thimble Club, at the home of Mrs. Floyd Woodhull, of Stelle avenue. Twenty members and friends of the club were in attendance. The rooms were attractively decorated in yellow and white, and a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess. During the afternoon, Mrs. Leek was presented with gifts from those present. The latter part of the afternoon was spent in playing "500" and other games.

At Smalley's Market.

Smalley Brothers' famous sausage is again to be procured at their market, 147 North avenue. They will continue to make the excellent quality sausage, which has gained for them such an enviable reputation in past seasons. The firm is also offering fine fresh killed guinea hens, broilers, roasting chickens, Jersey lamb and the very best cuts of meat. Another product of their own rendering is the lard which so many Plainfielders have found better than any other offered in the market, and the delicious hams and bacons of their own rendering.—Adv. ***

Jack o'Lanterns.

Make the children happy tomorrow night, by furnishing them with pumpkins to make Jack o'Lanterns. We have them at 12, 15 and 20 cents, all nice and round, and well adapted for the purpose. CALKINS GIVES MORE VIEWS ON CITY AFFAIRS

Republican Candidate for Moyoralty Outlines His Policies.

Republicans of the city held a mass meeting in the Washington School Auditorium, last night, primarily for the purpose of booming Leighton Calkins for the Mayoralty of the city. Informal remarks were made by a number of active workers in the party and during the evening the candidate for the Mayoralty election on the Republican ticket expressed himself as follows:

"We have no national or political issues involved in our local election; but we have some practical things to do in the next few years, and these things cannot be done properly except by study and familiarity with the problems which confront us.

"We are not yet through with the big joint sewerage project. In fact, we have just begun it. You need men to carry on this work who are familiar with the various steps already taken. As a member of the commission, I have been active for two years in the work of the special committee on contracts, and have had to consider many questions with the legal advisers which are mixed questions; that is, partly business and partly legal in character. There have been difficult financial questions to work out with the city treasurer. As Mayor, I would continue to work with the commission, and my entire familiarity with the problem should be of value to the city.

The school problem is a real problem because there seems to be a difference of opinion as to the proper scope of education. The school authorities claim that no further economies can be had, without striking at the root of the educational movement. Perhaps the trouble is with the movement. At any rate, many people do think that there are things done at the public expense which the State is under no obligation to do. But the practical things for us to get in Plainfield is an opportunity to go into the question of expense intelligently. The city and not the School Board has the control as to expense, under the law. But the School Board, by its reluctance to co-operate last year with the city officials, made it impossible for them to satisfy themselves that the expenses are justifiable.

"If the number of pupils attending school, and the night school work, and the truant officer, are responsible for the increased cost, and if there is no way to keep the expense down, let us know it. If we must build a new $100,000 schoolhouse every two or three years, let us know it. There is no reason why our discussion should not be fair and temperate. But I will tell you frankly that the city officials are not satisfied that real economies are practiced. Economy is relative. If a man's tastes and wants are expensive, he may sit up all night figuring on a seventy-five dollar suit, and think he is mighty economical.

"Our people get restless when they find that they are not represented as they should be. In my opinion, the meetings of the School Board should be open meetings and none will claim that they are now. There may be some good reason for not being especially active in getting the public to attend. I should like to hear it.

"Neither are the people properly represented in the School Board of Estimate, and they never will be until the Mayor and Council members are given a better opportunity to understand the needs of the schools. Their participation in the budget is a farce. Finally, our local and our commuter must be more actively cooperative in our public service; and all sections of the city must, by fair representation, feel that they are being considered.

DISINFECTION MATERIAL IS EMPTIED IN FACTORY YARD

Residents of the East End, particularly in the section bounded by Berckman street and Johnston avenue and South avenue and East Second street, were treated to a decidedly unpleasant experience this morning, when an objectionable odor enveloped the atmosphere within that radius and considerable alarm was aroused for a short time. Several calls were received at police headquarters, it being thought that a gas main had exploded near the railroad property.

Sergeant Maurice Higgins went to the scene and found the trouble arising from the yard in the rear of the hair factory on North avenue. Employes of that concern were emptying a large tank of disinfectant in the yard and a stiffling odor was issuing from the substance. Higgins in turn ordered Health Officer Chandler to the place and temporary relief was supplied.

FLOOD YSER VALLEY FORCING GERMANS TO WITHDRAW, WHILE ALLIES ADVANCE AT YPRES

BELGIANS OPEN DYKES, AND THEN SHELL RETREATING GERMANS—BRITISH FORCES REGAIN GROUND IN REGION OF LA BASSEE.

TURKEY BEGINS HOSTILITIES AGAINST RUSSIA

Paris, October 30.—German forces in the lower Yser valley in Belgium have been compelled to retreat. The Belgians opened the dykes in the valley, and the Germans were compelled to withdraw by the flood of water that poured forth against them. As the Germans retreated they were shelled by the Belgians.

The Allied forces are advancing above Ypres and LaBassee. Along this section of the battle front, the French and British troops are forcing wedges into the German lines to weaken the pressure of the extreme German right wing against the forces along the coast.

The text of the bulletin issued at 3 o'clock today is as follows:

"On the extreme left the floods spread by the Belgian army in the lower valley of the Yser have compelled the forces of the enemy to cross that river in retreat. They have been violently shelled by the Belgian and French artillery during their retreat. The Germans yesterday attempted three violent counter attacks on the French and British corps, who are advancing to the northeast, into the east of Ypres. At the end of the day, our troops nevertheless continued their forward movements in the direction to which they had been assigned, and took several points of support.

"British troops attacked at several points to the north of LaBassee by superior forces have retaken an energetic defense, and regained in large measure grounds that had been gained by the enemy. At numerous other points in the line of combat they have likewise repulsed German attacks, inflicting upon them serious losses.

"On the rest of the battle front there is no general action, but there are partial offensive movements on our part, and on that of the enemy. We have made progress almost everywhere, notably between some villages between Arras and Albert on the heights of the right bank of the Aisne before Soissons, and here and there along the Meuse to the north of Verdun."

London, Oct. 30.—Turkey has begun hostilities against Russia. The Breslau, flying the Turkish flag, but manned by German officers and sailors, has bombarded the Russion open port of Theodosia. The Turkish cruiser Hamedieh has demanded the surrender of Novorossysk. A despatch from Kertch, a seaport in the Crimea, says that the Russian steamer Yalta has been sunk by a torpedo launched by the Goeben. The crew and passengers were saved. The steamer Kazbek, which went to the assistance of the Yalta, was struck by two torpedoes and sank, many persons aboard the Kazbek were drowned.

INCREASING TAX RATE A SERIOUS MATTER

Seymour Perkins, Democratic Candidate for Council, Offers Timely Advice.

A large and enthusiastic mass meeting was held at Democratic headquarters, last night. Former City Judge W. A. Coddington presided and the audience listened attentively to addresses by Theodore Martin, the Mayoralty candidate; David L. Coleman, Seymour Perkins, councilmanic candidates, and other speakers.

Mr. Perkins, councilmanic candidate from the Second ward, in his speech said in part that in 1912 the Plainfield tax rate was $1.68 and in 1914 it was $1.91. During the last ten years taxes have increased 5 per cent. He brought out the fact that the continued increase in taxes is becoming a very serious matter to the man of moderate means who owns his own home and is a cause of grave dissatisfaction and alarm to others who are heavily interested in Plainfield property.

Mr. Perkins said that in his business experience he had long noted the general upward trend of taxation in American municipalities and he pointed out the great stimulant real estate values in Plainfield would enjoy if at the end of three, or even at the end of two years, should it be possible to widely advertise the fact that taxes in Plainfield had not gone up or had shown decrease during that period. There would be no question that property in that event would advance greatly in value as a result of the influx of people from other cities who want to own property and reside in a city with such a history.

This result could not be brought about without cutting out some luxuries and unnecessary expenditures in practically all departments of the city government, was the opinion of Mr. Perkins, but he emphasized that some retrenchment for a comparatively short period would be repaid a hundred fold by the resultant increase in real estate values. As a practical business man, Mr. Perkins earnestly requested the votes of the citizens of the Second ward, so that if successful on election day he would have an opportunity to engage in activities for the public good and devote his experience and ability in advancing the best civic ideals.

BURGLARS TRIED TO ENTER DEMEZA AND BLIMM'S STORE

An attempt was made to enter the store of DeMeza & Blimm, on East Front street, last night, for the purpose of robbery, the midnight intruders being frightened away by Patrolman Roy E. Martin who happened along at the time. The prospective looters failed to accomplish their purpose but made good their getaway, running in the direction of the mountains.

The burglars were endeavoring to pry open the back window of the store when detected and had partially succeeded. Owing to the darkness the patrolman was unable to obtain a description of the culprits and no trace of them has as yet been unearthed.

AMERICAN TROOPS NOT TO BE WITHRAWN FROM VERA CRUZ

Washington, Oct. 30.—That this government regards conditions in Mexico as chaotic was evidenced by the announcement today that all plans for the withdrawal of the American troops at Vera Cruz or the warships lying off the Mexican coast had been cancelled. It was indicated that recent pledges of faith purporting to have been made by Provisional President Carranza, on which the withdrawal plans were based, actually were made in his name and apparently without his sanction by General Aguilar, whose forces have been threatening the town.

BANK STOCK TAX ACT CONSTITUTIONAL

Justice Swayze Files An Opinion in Supreme Court Today.

Trenton, Oct. 30—Justice Swayze filed in the Supreme Court, today, an opinion deciding that the Fielder Bank Stock Taxing Act passed by the Legislature last winter is constitutional. The decision is in the case of the Commercial Trust Company of New Jersey, of Jersey City, against the Hudson County Board of Taxation, the suit having been brought to set aside the assessment upon the shares of stock of the Trust Company.

The only question raised in the suit was the validity of the Bank Stock Tax Act. The constitutionality of the act was assailed on six grounds, and Justice Swayze rules against the Trust Company upon all grounds. This decision upholding the act follows the recent decision of the Supreme Court that the statute was passed in a constitutional manner, so that there is now a double ruling in favor of its validity.

the Province of Bukowina.

Colonel Brits, who has been engaged in suppressing the rebellion started by Lieut. Colonel Maritz, in the northwest Cape Province, reports that the invasion of the Cape has finally been broken, according to a Capetown despatch.

Word was received here today that the British hospital ship Rochilla is ashore off Whitby, England. Some bodies have floated ashore. Some of the crew can be seen in the rigging.

A Petrograd despatch to the Times states that the British and Russian governments have agreed to a mutually advantageous exchange of combatant and technical forces.

The British Government has decided to disregard the provisions of the declaration of London of 1909 and will insist on the right to search ships of neutral nations on the high seas for reservists of belligerent nations.

The German semi-official newspapers have now changed their minds, and admit that the war is likely to last longer than was originally supposed. The Norddeutsche Algemeine Zeitung urges the necessity of husbanding foodstuffs. It estimates that the present stores are sufficient to last until the 1915 harvest, but adds that the war may last longer than that, and Germany must be in a position to feed her soldiers and population until peace has been procured.

The German Bundesrath met yesterday to discuss means of conserving the food supply during the coming year. It was decided that with certain exceptions the grain supply will be ample until the 1915 crop is harvested. The mills will be allowed to convert larger percentages of grain into flour. It was decided to prohibit the feeding of wheat and rye to live stock, and to restrict the amount of rye used for distilling to sixty per cent. of normal consumption. The hoarding of grain for speculative purposes is prohibited. The Bundesrath adopted a scale of maximum prices for grain, fixing rye at 220 marks ($55) a ton in Berlin, with a proportional difference in other cities. The price of wheat is fixed at 10 marks more a ton than rye.

A despatch from Lourenco Marques, East Africa, confirms the report of a German invasion of Portuguese West Africa.

A despatch from Bucharest to the Times says there are now six Italian warships at Avlona. The whole duty of inforcing the decisions of the conference of London in Albania will be intrusted to Italy, as the sole neutral power among the signatories.

Washington, Oct. 30.—The Russian embassy acknowledged today that it had been informed that Turkey had begun warlike action against Russia. As the situation stands, if the Balkan States not now engaged in the war took up arms, the Embassy expressed confluence that they would side with the Allies, since the sentiment of the Balkan people is strongly Russian. The Balkan States, Bulgaria and Roumania, were given their freedom by Russia and it was thought at the embassy that this fact would tend to influence the people toward the cause of the Allies. At the Turkish embassy it was declared no advices had been received from Constantinople. The Greek legation and the Italian embassy claimed also to be without information for their governments as to Turkey's entrance on the field of war.

Amsterdam, Oct. 30.—Parts of submarines have been sent by railway from Germany to the Belgian coast at Zeebrugge, according to a despatch to the Handelsblad. The submarines are being put together, it is said, to be used against the British fleet off Ostend and Nieuport. All railway traffic to Zeebrugge, Knocks and Bruges is forbidden by the Germans. Civilians are not allowed to enter that part of Belgium west of a line sout from Mariakerke.

The Cologne Zeitung reports that furlongs of five and seven days are being granted the German soldiers who have been enduring the heavy fighting at the front, and that many of them go to their homes in the interior of Germany to spend the time.

Rome, Oct. 30.—Movements of Greek troops in South Albania, apparently by consent of England and France, is causing much concern here. It is said that Italy is opposed to this action.

Flushing, Holland, Oct. 30.—English aeroplanes, as an auxiliary to the cruisers patrolling the Straits of Dover are helping to keep the paths of navigation safe for shipping. Not only is a constant watch kept for German mines and mine layers, but a naval convoy is given ships making the trips from the English coast to Dieppe, Boulogne and Calais. Four Belgian fishermen were killed near Nieuport in handling a German mine that was washed ashore there.

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—The German Pacific squadron is now in secret rendezvous south of the Hawaiian Islands. The United States battleship Cleveland has been ordered to maintain United States neutrality.

Bordeaux, Oct. 30.—It was announced officially here today that two Turkish torpedo boat destroyers entered the port of Odessa on the Black Sea yesterday, and sank a Russian gunboat. They also inflicted damage on the French liner Portugal.

Belin, Oct. 30 (By wireless).—The alleged raid of German troops into Angola, West Africa, was declared today to be a flat lie, forged in order to justify Portugal's participation in the European war.

Paris, Oct. 30.—A German steamer converted into a cruiser has been sunk in the Adriatic by a squadron of British torpedo boat destroyers, according to a news agency despatch from Barcelona.

CHIEF DOANE HOME FROM NEW ORLEANS

Describes Interesting Trip to the Convention of Fire Chiefs in the South.

Fire Chief T. O. Doane returned home yesterday from New Orleans, where on October 20, 21, 22 and 23, he attended the annual convention of the International Fire Chiefs' Association. In speaking of the gathering today, Chief Doane said that the number of delegates, about 600, was smaller than usual owing to the great distance. There was not a single foreign representative, which could be accounted for by the fact of the European war.

The officials of New Orleans entertained the visitors in royal style, according to the chief, giving them a steamboat ride on the Mississippi, a trip to the Spanish fort, which is very much like Coney Island, which was especially illuminated for the visitors. They also gave them an oyster dinner and entertained them at one of the theatres.

One of the features of the gathering was a firemen's parade and a six hours' pumping exhibition by a dozen apparatuses, in which the chiefs were greatly interested. In speaking of New Orleans, Chief Doane said that in some respects it is one of the cleanest as well as one of the dirtiest cities he had ever visited. He described its beauties, adding that in many ways they are unsurpassed. The chief said that while New Orleans has a department comprising fifty apparatuses, the majority of the machines are of the old type. Chief Doane made the trip both ways by boat which he enjoyed very much, and he added that he did not lose a meal, although on the return journey the boat struck a hurricane.

ROOSEVELT MAKES AN ADDRESS IN ELIZABETH

Elizabeth, Oct. 30.—"Teddy" Roosevelt made a brief address at East Jersey and Broad streets here at 1:30 this afternoon, speaking especially in behalf of the local Progressive ticket. A fair sized crowd greeted him. Mr. Roosevelt was accompanied by Everett Colby, former State Senator of Essex county.

SUSTAINING CIVIL SERVICE.

In view of the many attacks which are being made upon Civil Service reform, which has been in effect in New Jersey now for six years, it is gratifying to know that many legislative candidates have pledged themselves to do all in their power to maintain the present law. The New Jersey State Civil Service Reform Association has inquired of all candidates for legislative office just how they stand on the question, and the result is made public today.

Carlton B. Pierce, the Republican candidate for Senator in Union County, and Mayor Percy H. Stewart, of Plainfield, his Democratic opponent, have signified their intention of doing all they can to sustain the law. Charles L. Morgan and Arthur N. Pierson, Republican candidates for Assembly, also favor its continuance, according to the circular, and William N. Runyon, their running mate, says that he replied that he would do everything in his power to sustain and strengthen the law, but his answer did not reach the association in time to have his name included in the list. None of the Democratic candidates for Assembly replied to the letter of the association, and the names of the Progressives are not given on the list made public. The latter, however, are pledged to the cause.

Of the Somerset county candidates, Senator William W. Smalley, the Republican candidate for Senator, is the only one of the three seeking that office who pledges himself to carry on the good work, but the candidates for Assembly of all parties say that they favor the continuation of Civil Service.

On the whole the result of the canvass has been very gratifying to the members of the State Association, of which former Senator Everett Colby is the president, for all but one of the large number from whom answers have been received have signified their intention of sustaining the law as it is. The one man who gave a non-committal answer was the Democratic candidate for Assembly in Salem county, and there is little prospect of his election, anyway.

WE CANNOT DELAY.

With a covetous eye upon South American markets, Uncle Sam must see to it that we do not delay too long in building up equitable and advantageous trade relations with the republics to the south of us. Germany may be bottled up for a long time to come. Belgium may be wrecked politically and commercially. Holland may be able to do little and France is too busy with the enemy within her borders to attempt any production and commerce, but Great Britain has been clearing the seas of danger to its shipping and already it has notified its tradesmen that they may ply to South American ports as though no crisis had reached alarming proportions in Europe.

Great Britain is as covetous of German markets in South America and elsewhere over the world, as Uncle Sam is of the markets of the world. Great Britain has but to rid the seas of the enemy, whereupon it may resume foreign shipping, but America must build up trade relations it has neglected; aye, misused, in the past.

John Bull is making of the European war, a commercial battle on the seas to crush German business in the many years to come. Moved by revenge, he is storming the ports of neutral nations with his ships of peaceful commerce. With the United States, there is none of this spirit of revenge; we want only our just proportion of trade of South America and other continents. There is nothing of guilt or avarice in our ambitions. The nations of the world must look to us and do look to us to establish with them satisfactory trade alliances and to supply them with our resources when the resources upon which many lands had pinned their faith heretofore, are being turned to build and break armies and citadels and homes.

The European war will not be settled in a day or a year—perhaps, even in a decade with wars which may come as a result of the present conflicts,—but soon we will face strongest competition in the markets of the world. We must act at once—if for no other reason than because the needs of the South American nations which are calling us must be supplied lest those nations suffer.

Leighton Calkins has made a clear cut, able campaign for the mayoralty. His opponent has worked hard for votes, but has had little to say on the issues of the day, confining himself to a few stereotyped statements which are printed on cards and distributed to the general public. Mr. Calkins has been a hard worker in the City Council, and every progressive act of the city government has had his active support during the last year. Perhaps Mr. Martin is just as able, but if he is, he has been hiding his light under a bushel, for aside from voting we have not heard of a single constructive act of his as a member of the Council. It is certainly to be hoped that Mr. Calkins will be selected by the largest majority that has ever been given a candidate for Mayor in this city.

Former Mayor George W. V. Moy, candidate for Congress on the Progressive ticket, has written the contributed editorial for tomorrow's Daily Press. As has been the case in the two editorials preceding, the article will be of a political character, the campaign claims of the party which Mr. Moy represents being presented for the consideration of our readers.

There never was a year when it was so hard for a disinterested person to predict the outcome of the election. Aside from the fact that at least two of the Republican Assembly candidates seem to have the upper hand, and County Clerk Calvert will probably be re-elected, the situation is very much upset.

The home newspaper always sings the praises of the home town; what some of the inhabitants of Plainfield ought to do is make the song a chorus, instead of a solo.

Isn't it strange how some men will build a house for a new dog the first thing, but are perfectly content when they get married to live in a flat.

THE FORUM

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

I am much chagrined to find that through some mistake (which I fear was occasioned by my own carelessness), the force of my argument is much weakened. Of course I meant to say that some people could be induced by constant, uncontradicted reiteration to believe that two and two make five instead of four. And as to Michigan, of course I meant to say that the counties where the liquor interests were weakest—in other words, the dry counties—were the ones that gave the largest majorities against Woman Suffrage.

May I ask you to make these corrections and oblige,

ELIZABETH B. SYKES.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Six new telephones have been installed in different parts of the building. One is at Miss Moore's desk in the library and the others are at convenient parts of the building.

William D. Murray was a guest at the school this morning, speaking at the chapel exercises on the subject of "School Loyalty." He gave some fine examples of loyalty to school and teachers shown by pupils from other schools.

"IN A MIX-UP" IS SCREAM FROM START TO FINISH

Metropolitan audiences are erratic about the theatrical productions which are offered for their entertainment, so that it is hard to predict whether or not "A Mix Up" which was presented at the Plainfield Theatre, last night, will be a success when it reaches Broadway. It may be truthfully said, however, that if Marie Dressler and her company of fun-makers do not make the blase first nighters roll around in their chairs in laughter, then the Plainfield sense of humor is very much strained.

From the entrance of Miss Dressler, early in the first act, until the final curtain there was not a dull moment, and all the fun was not provided by the star either, for she was supported by a very capable cast. The scene of the three acts was laid in the New York apartment of Robert Hickman (Bert Lytell), a young architect, whose wife, Angela (Evelyn Vaughan), was unexpectedly called away from home to visit her mother, who was ill. Miss Dressler, as Gladys Lorraine, prima donna of the Boulevard Butterflies, a burlesque company, in seeking the apartment of Tille Schwartz (Nellie DeGrasse), another actress, gets into the Hickman apartment by mistake. Hickman is explaining her mistake to Gladys, when he is unexpectedly interrupted by the arrival of Hiram Hickman (Albert Reed), his uncle, who comes from up-state to New York, in company with his wife (Sarah McVicker), who is old-fashioned, and not used to modern ways, but fond of her nephew.

In order to save himself from embarrassment because of having the actress in his apartment, he introduces her to the uncle and aunt as his wife. From that time on the fun becomes fast and furious, others assisting in the work being Mrs. Hamilton Ormsby (Helen Beaumont), mother of the younger Hickman's wife, Nora Maguire (Julia Blane), the Irish cook, Eugene Copeland-Ramsay (Robert Ober), who is a fresh youth, just from college, and Sam Landman (John P. Dougherty), a prize fighter, and the real husband of Gladys. Of course everything turns out all right in the end.

The play was splendidly mounted, and gives promise of being one of the big comedy successes of the season when it reaches New York. All of the cast were capable. The management of the theatre deserves better support than was given last night, when such a high class show is presented in this city.

WILLIAM H. STITES DIES IN DUNELLEN, AGED 77

William H. Stites, aged seventy years, died yesterday afternoon, after a lingering illness, at his home on Jefferson avenue, Dunellen. Mr. Stites was a native of Martinsville, being born at that place January 5, 1839.

Mr. Stites was married to Miss Margariee McQualter, of North Plainfield, in 1865, and was a resident of the borough until 1897, when they moved to Dunellen. Mr. Stites was a member of the Dunellen Methodist church, having become a communicant there in 1874 during the pastorate of Rev. James W. Marshall. He is survived, beside his wife, by three sons, Isaac J. Stites, Dunellen tax collector; S. D. Stites and D. F. Stites, and one daughter, Mrs. E. J. Hughes.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon from his late residence on Jefferson avenue, Dunellen, at 2 o'clock, when Rev. Dr. David Ramsey, pastor of the Dunellen Methodist church, will officiate. The interment will be made at the Methodist cemetery, this city.

EPWORTHIANS GIVE A GHOST AND GOBLIN PARTY

A ghost and goblin party was held under the auspices of the Epworth League, of Monroe Avenue church, last night. As the visitors entered the Epworth House, they were greeted by the handshake of a ghost. Following this, they were given into the keeping of other ghosts, from whom they were to learn what the fates had in store for them.

The Epworth House was very prettily decorated with autumn leaves, corn-stalks, pumpkin, jock-o-lanterns, etc. Many games of fortune were played, by the gypsy booth, presided over by Miss Grace Parker, which proved by far the most attractive.

Credit is due the fourth vice president, Miss May G. Stafford, for planning such a pleasing evening. She was ably assisted by the following committees: Decorating, Lillian Harris, Olla Cline, Mildred Barnes, Bessie Gunzelman, Louise Praed, Harold Zeek and Wesley McCormick; refreshments, Gertrude Gray, Alberta Oakley, Annie Stafford, Elizabeth Van Name and Anna Mathews. Those representing ghosts were Anna L. Lee, Stella Rink, Martha Camp, Mildred Barnes, Gertrude Gray, Lillian Harris; witch, Mary J. Mathews; gypsy, Miss Grace Parker.

His subject will be "The Master's Imperative." After the address, there will be oportunity for a conference on methods and encouragements for personal work. There will be a solo by James McClymont. This will be the preparatory service. Church letters should be presented at this meeting.

MISS EMILY MARCH TO GIVE MISSION ADDRESS

The Women's Home Missionary Society, of the Grace M. E. church, will have charge of the meeting this evening, and Miss Emily March will be the speaker. Mr. Houseman, of New York, will render vocal selections. All are invited to attend this meeting.

All those who are thinking of donating to the Christmas ship that will be sent to European orphans are urged to take their donations to the church between 2 and 4 o'clock this afternoon, and if that is impossible they will be accepted at Sunday-school next Sunday. This ship is being sent by a Chicago newspaper and the local church is going to have a share in it.

RENE P. F. VON MINDEN CHOSEN STATE COUNCILOR

By a vote of nearly three to one the State Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., Wednesday selected Newark as its meeting place next year. The result of the balloting showed a big majority for the Queen City of the State, as it was called by the North Jersey delegates, 382 favoring the change while ninety-six voted to make Atlantic City the convention town in 1915.

The announcement of the vote, which required most of the afternoon to tabulate and count, was greeted with applause by the Essex county contingent, who were joined by their Hudson county brethren, most of whom supported the "Newark in 1915" movement. Argument against the change was based, as stated Wednesday, on the lack of hotel accommodations in that city, but the North Jersey representatives, through sheer force of strength, carried the day. Although in embryo shape at present it is planned to hold a big demonstration in Newark next year.

It had been planned to have a parade in Atlantic City, but the project was abondoned a short time ago. The board of managers, upon canvassing the subordinate councils throughout the State, found that it met with little favor.

Practicaly the entire afternoon, Wednesday, was given over to balloting and extending greetings to the fraternal delegates from the State councils of New York, Pennsylvania, District of Columbia and Virginia and the United States Funeral Benefit Association, a Pennsylvania corporation.

The following officers were elected: State councilor, Rene P. F. von Minden, of Friendship council, New Market; vice-councilor, Theodore Buttenbaum, of Garfield council, Town of Union; secretary, William H. Miers, of Trenton council, Trenton; treasurer, Dr. J. Morgan Read, of Goodwill Council, New Brunswick; conductor, Wilson J. Smith, of Newark council, Newark; warden, Willard M. Apgar, of Boonton council, Boonton; inside sentinel, John W. Meyers, of Prospect council, Newark; auditor, Frank L. Morton, of George H. Adams council, Newark.

A report from the legislative committee was presented by Past State Councilor Joseph M. Thompson, of New Egypt, who set forth in detail the experience of the committee before the Congressional committee at the hearing on the immigration bill during the session just closed. Reference was also made to the bill introduced by Assemblyman Peacock, of Burlington county, at the last session of the Legislature to compel the reading of the Bible in the public schools. It was stated that the bill was killed in committee after having been twice reported through the efforts of the Jr. O. U. A. M.

Future session of the New Jersey State Council will be held two weeks earlier in the month. The per capita tax for general expenses for the coming year has been set at twenty cents and the orphans' fund tax at ten cents.

The newly elected State officers were installed by State Secretary and State Past Councilor William H. Miers, of Trenton. The first official act of the new State councilor, Rene vonMinden, of New Market, was to appoint William B. LaRue, of Found Brook, as deputy State councilor at large.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HOLDS SEMI-ANNUAL SOCIAL

The home department of the Netherwood Reformed Sunday-school held its semi-annual sociable last evening, at the church on Iceland avenue. The members and friends were welcomed by the genial president, Mrs. Amos Andrews, and good cheer reigned supreme throughout the evening. Brief addresses were given by the pastor, Rev. Edward S. Ralston, and Horace Martin, and the latter sang as a solo, "The Perfect Day."

The secretary, Mrs. D. S. Adams, gave a report of the proceedings of the department since its organization in 1911, showing the many ways in which it had helped the church and Sunday-school. The orchestra of the church rendered a number of selections during the evening. The sociable closed with a merry social hour and refreshments, and was voted by all a great success.

IN THE SPORTING SPOTLIGHT

MAC SAYS

Some pre-season dope from the Y. M. C. A. indicates that the Association is due to turn out one of the best aggregations that has represented it in recent years during the coming winter. The several practises held have been productive of some excellent talent and the contests are being arranged by the manager accordingly. Some new rivals are on the card this season and the week end program in Plainfield this winter will be of the thirty-second degree variety.

Some wiseacre has "dopesied" that we are in for a hard winter, but if that same individual will give the football crowds the "once over" on Parker Field and Cricket Field he will probably reverse his opinion. Just a few fifteen cent donations are turned over to the management each Saturday afternoon and we haven't heard the usual wail of dissatisfaction to date.

Plainfield High School football warriors break into the limelight around Newark tomorrow afternoon with a contest on Ashton Field against East Orange High School. While the red and blue youngsters have been putting up a good article of the gridiron sport around these parts it is doubtful if they will be able to furnish a winning resistance against the home clan. Ever since the East Orange team met defeat at the hands of Stevens "Prep" it has been working faithfully and it is practically certain that Coach Grosenbaugh's lads will not be caught going into another contest overconfident.

This may seem rather a strong assertion coming from Plainfield quarters, but nevertheless it is true. Little short of a miracle could prevent the Plainfielders from going down to defeat as the Orangers are heavier and have a powerful attack. A large number of optimistic maintain that the red and blue of the Queen City will come out on top of the heap, but notwithstanding this loyalty we expect to see a victory for the red and blue of Newark.

Local Elk pinners dropped three in a row on their home chutes to the Rutherford alley boys last night. Some discouraging work was in evidence in the Plainfield camp and something was decidedly wrong with the combatants. 'Smatter Bill?

Johnny Campbell informs us that there is no interest taken in bowling averages until after the leaguers have each appeared in a trio of series. Nevertheless Newark, New Brunswick, Elizabeth and Paterson papers saw fit to copy our exclusive records of last year. You'll have to find another alibi, Johnny, old man.

Local Y. M. H. A. basketball representatives were treated to their bumps on the Charity Hall court in Court street, Elizabeth, last night. Those who saw the contest inform us that the football pastime still clouds the atmosphere in the vicinity of the Betsytown Y. M. H. A. camp. In other words the locals got their bumps in more ways than one.

In commenting on the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. and Knights of St. Peter basketball game to be played in New Brunswick next Wednesday night the Home News, of that place, says: "The Knights will meet the fast Plainfield Y. M. C. A. team at Columbia Hall on next Wednesday night. This team is among the fastest in the State, and will undoubtedly show some class. The Plainfield quintet will probably lnieup with Percy Bailey, center; Stine and Smith guards; and Billie Coyle in one of the forward positions. Stine and Bailey are two former members of the fast North Plainfield High School team."

The aforementioned article is just about three years behind the times. Not a player in the list will be present in the little town along the Raritan next Wednesday and a couple of them have long since discarded basketball togs for plain business clothes.

Now that the newspapers have won another great moral victory so far as the numbering of football players is concerned, it is to be hoped that they will put their shoulder to the wheel and start another crusade for the Loyal Legion of Football Fans. The numbering of players is all right in its way. It cannot be said, however, that it has brought about the millennium. At Princeton last Saturday each player had a nice, big number on his back. Once in a while the numbers came in handy. In the main, however, the majority of the spectators soon marked some peculiarity in each player and used that as an identification mark.

As an example, every one of the 8,000 people that witnessed the game knew Ghee was the Dartmouth player without a head guard. It is a question if more than a dozen spectators today could tell you what was his number, although he wore a big 2 on his back. Still everyone of the spectators remembers that it was a thin player, without a head guard, who made that wonderful seventy-yard run.

How do we know that it was a seventy-yard run? Ah! that's the question. To this day we are not sure. And that leads up to the new reform that is badly needed in football. Every gridiron should not only be marked with five-yard bars but at the end of each line there should be painted plainly the number of the yard line. If the Loyal Legion of Football Fans has a right to know which player made a run, it certainly has a right to know the length of the dash.

Fields have been marked in this manner and it has wonderfully helped the spectators. A year ago at the Polo Grounds there was a number to each one of the five-yard lines. Again, it was a common enough custom at Harvard. However, the rules do not make it necessary, and until a clause is incorporated into the playing code, the Loyal Legion will have to make wild guesses regarding the length of punts and the distance covered by players in sensational runs upon the gridiron.

PLAINFIELD TEAM FACES HARD GAME

Will Tackle the East Orange Eleven at That Place Tomorrow Afternoon.

Plainfield High School football warriors will be forced to show their best tomorrow afternoon when they stack up against the strong East Orange High School eleven at that place. The locals have been playing some good ball this season and showed class in the game against Rahway last week, although beaten. The Orange boys will be equally as hard if not harder than last week's opponent.

They have been practising all week for this game and did not play any mid-week contest. Plainfield has only been scored on once while their opponents-to-be have not so good a record. The regular team will be used to represent the local school and the coaches expect a victory that will place the team permanently on the football map.

TEAM STANDINGS IN TOURNEY CHANGES

Culver and Gates Drop Out of Second Place in Borough Event.

Some good matches were rolled on Gates' alleys, last night, Bimble and Lutz meeting Miller and Connolly in the first match, and the latter team succeeding in copping two games out of the three. They took the first with a 316 against 298 and dropped the second when their opponents hit for 310. The third and deciding roll was close and the Miller-Connolly outfit came out with a few points to spare.

The second match of the night was between McGongal and Menzenbach and Culver and Gates, which the former took. A 348 and 373 gave them two games and they dropped the third. Conshay and Conover still lead the teams, while Culver and Gates dropped out of second place.

HOLY CROSS AND FRANKLINS AGAIN

Will Fight Tomorrow Afternoon After Tieing One Game This Year.

Holy Cross will meet the Franklin A. A., of Newark, tomorrow, on the Cricket Field. The boroughites have not yet annexed a victory and have lost two. Two others were tied but if they play the brand of ball they did last Saturday against the Sailors, the Franklins will probably not get away with a tie as they did in the first game of the season when these two teams met.

The game tomorrow will be one of the best of the season and the Newarkers are coming here for revenge and will bring their strongest men. Weather permitting, one of the largest crowds of the year will be present, as there is no other attraction in town as the city school eleven plays in East Orange.

DUNELLEN TOURNEY LOOKS LIKE CINCH

Vail-Smith Team Took Four Games Last Night and Still Has 1,000 Per Cent.

Mrs. Fred Vail and Miss Florence Smith tightened their hold on first place in the women's bowling tournament in Dunellen, last night, when they won all four games played and retained their perfect team average. They have now won eight games and lost none, which will be a very hard lead to overcome unless they fall way below form. The winners' team average for the night was 225, and all their scores were over the two hundred mark.

In the first match with Mrs. Albert Russell and Mrs. Robert Craig, the Vail-Smith combination hit the wood for 218 and 236, while their opponents scored 126 and 175. The Vail-Smith duo kept up its good work in the match with Mrs. H. A. Wickham and Miss Helen Shively, when they scored 211 and 235 against 175 and 213. In the third match of the night the Wickham-Shively team took both games from its opponents, which gave them an even break in games and put the Russell-Craig team out with no wins.

Nash Averages 193 and Kiely 189—Visitors Closely Pressed in Each Contest—All Scores Pass the 900 Mark.

ELKS' LEAGUE RECORD.

New York	4	2	955
Hoboken	4	2	929
Rutherford	5	4	909
Elizabeth	3	3	1023
Rahway	4	5	912
Newark	2	4	1016
New Brunswick	2	4	978
Plainfield	2	7	958

Although they rung up three tallies that passed the 900 mark, last night, the Plainfield Elks were treated to a triple reverse in the State Senior League, dropping all three to the Rutherford invaders. Seldom does it happen that an alley quintet has to play the losing role after hanging up scores of tais variety, but the experience fell to the lot of the fated Queen Cityites on their home chutes last night. Factional differences again were conspicuous on the Watchung avenue chutes among those who witnessed the trio of contests and although they pinned on the sensational order, the local shooters were severely "panned" by their peeved brothers at the conclusion of the match. This open display of poor sportsmanship disheartened the pinners and was probably responsible for the score being held betwixt the nine and ten hundred points. Under favorable conditions and cherishing the support of those from whom they had a right to expect it the Plainfielders would undoubtedly have set a league record worthy of more than passing comment.

All of the Plainfielders pinned consistently throughout the three contests and the scores in a majority of cases indicate that the locals had one of their big nights. Although Frank Blatz and Johnny Campbell sank to the 160 class during the evening, there was considerable excuse for these tallies. Blatz hit the wood in splendid style, although his scores fail to show it. Blatz and Campbell had less missed spares than any bowler on either side, but a "jinx" hovered over their heads and no less than eight splits were chalked up to the credit of last year's captain.

Rutherford set the alleys afire with their work, setting up a high team score for the evening of 955 in the first game, when the locals pinned 915. Plainfield had fifteen missed spares while the rival clan chalked up an even dozen, the visitors had fifteen splits and the Plainfielders had three more. Their faculty of being able to bunch strikes at the proper time was responsible for the triple verdict last night, the Plainfielders being woefully weak along this particular line. Captain Nash, of Plainfield, pinned most consistently for the losing side and with scores of 199, 177 and 204 hung up an average of 193. This is considered a pretty creditable record as a rule in Elks' League circles and the pinner who tallies the mark of this calibre generally is enrolled among the winning contingent. Chief Kiely was runner-up for the locals in the individual average race with a 189 and Vail pulled up third with 190.2. Blatz scored a 168.2 and Campbell was credited with 174.2.

W. Walters, of Rutherford, hung up 211 and 216 for the high individual score of the evening, while Vail, of Plainfield, tallied a 210. A. Walters, of Rutherford, had 204 in two games.

The scores:

Four women survived in the second day's play of the handicap golf tournament at the Plainfield Country Club, yesterday, and they will enter the semi-final round of the tourney this afternoon, and the finals for the prize will be played tomorrow. There were eight matches, the beaten eight also playing for a prize and the winners of those matches will enter into the semi-final round today.

The playing was close in most of the games, Miss Wildey and Mrs. A. M. Collens playing the best game, with the former won, 1 up. The results of yesterday's play follow: Mrs. Allan Cowperthwaite defeated Mrs. McDonald, 3 up and 2 to play. Mrs. H. R. Stockton defeated Mrs. Chester Lawrence, 5 and 4; Miss Wildey defeated Mrs. A. EAGLE BOWLERS WILL PLAY WESTFIELD TONIGHT

The postponed bowling match between the local Eagles and a team from Westfield that was to have been rolled last Friday night, will be run off tonight, on the Second street alleys. The Eagles expect to give a good account of themselves and will get some good practice for the first game of the Eagles' League, which starts next week. One week from tonight the locals will travel to Westfield and play a return game.

Next Tuesday night the second match with Gates' team will be played on the home alleys. Last week the Eagles took the match on the Somerset paths and are going after the second match and the series.

LOCAL RUNNER GETS PLACE IN COLUMBIA CLASS EVENT

Running in an interclass cross-country run at Columbia University, yesterday afternoon, over the Riverside Drive course, A. B. Conlin, of this city, and a junior at that institution, finished in sixteenth place, his time being 27 minutes and 31 seconds. This figure was 2 minutes and 24 seconds behind the winner, who was a senior.

The sophomores won the event, with three men home out of the first five, their first and second men having a great fight at the finish with only one second between them at the tape. Only four of Conlin's classmates finished. The last man to finish crossed the line 2 minutes and 44 seconds after the winner and he was the twentieth runner home.

JIMMY CLINTON PLAYING BASKETBALL THIS SEASON

Jimmy Clinton, widely known in these parts as a baseball pitcher, has entered the basketball limelight and will play the court game till the spring comes again, so he can again use his salary wing. Jimmy has pitched on local diamonds many times and at one time was considered one of the best in the Central New Jersey League. He also used to twirl for High Bridge and opposed local basties.

Last winter Clinton played basketball with the Trenton team, of the Eastern Basketball League, and was very popular in that city. This season he has signed up with the Cohoes team of the New York State League, and in the two games he has played he has made enough points to assure him a permanent position. Clinton plays forward and is very fast on his feet besides being a fine shot.

He will probably some time during the season come in contact with Frank Bruggy, another former ball player, who plays on the Gloversville five in the same league. Bruggy plays guard and might have the pleasure of guarding Clinton.

The preliminary round will probably start the first part of next week and after that is over the handicaps will be given and match play begun.

The handicaps will be given according to the showings in the preliminary round. Two cues will be given for prizes, one to the winner and runner-up.

LOCAL Y. M. H. A. TEAM EASY PREY FOR ELIZABETH

The Plainfield Y. M. H. A. basketball team proved easy prey for the Elizabeth Y. M. H. A. five at that place, last night, when the home quintet won by a score of 31 to 18. The locals were not in it at any stage of the game and the big lead which the Elizabethans made in the first half could not be overcome.

The home boys started off in mid season form and scored four or five baskets before their opponents could get their bearings. Barr contributed four in the first half to his team's score of 14, while field goals by Cantor and Hirsh and a foul by Bloom consisted of Plainfield's score. Wagner and Simon played in the second half for Elizabeth and Shrager and Berse were put in the game during the last period. The home team played defensive ball in this half and outshot their opponents by four points, which still gave them a large lead and the game. Barr again was high point man in this half and Bloom added five points to Plainfield's score.

SEVENTH DAY YOUNG PEOPLE ENJOYED HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church held a successful Hallowe'en social in the church parlors, last night. There were about forty present and all were masked and dressed in farmers' attire. The guessing of those behind the false faces caused much fun and after all had been discovered the evening was spent in playing games suitable for the occasion.

Music was also enjoyed and at a late hour refreshments were served by the committee in charge. Miss Isabel Randolph is the chairman of this committee and Miss Francis Kinney, chairman of the entertainment committee, had charge of the entire social.

RALPH SEALS ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

Arraigned in Freehold Yesterday and Held for Trial on Larceny Charge.

Ralph S. Seal, of this city, and Robert W. Gildersleeve, of Brooklyn, who spent part of last summer at Asbury Park as partners in the automobile business, pleaded not guilty to a joint indictment charging them with automobile stealing, when arraigned before Judge John B. Foster in the Court of Quarter Sessions, at Freehold, yesterday. The two defendants are alleged to have stolen an automobile from The Camp, at Pleasure Bay, Long Branch, last summer. In view of the fact that their plea was one of not guilty, November 24 was set as the date for their trial in Monmouth county. If proven guilty the Plainfielder and his companion are liable to prison sentences. They were released on bail last night.

The alleged theft was committed during the latter part of August. Seal, who is well-known in this city, where he was formerly a schoolboy, was loaned $500 by his fiancee the fore part of the summer and with this amount established himself in Asbury Park as an automobile agent. It is said that he met Gildersleeve at that place and it is alleged that the two contrived to steal the automobile from Pleasure Bay. Two days after it was missed the machine and the two boys were located in New York State by detectives.

Although Gildersleeve is said to have admitted his culpability in the theft it is said that Seal will attempt to establish an alibi. He said that he took the machine under the impression that it was his companion's property and had no knowledge of the depredation that was being committed.

PASTOR'S AID SOCIETY HOLD INNOVATION DINNER

The Pastor's Aid Society, of the First Presbyterian church, held a successful innovation supper in the Sunday-school rooms, last night. There were over one hundred persons present.

The dinner cost the society absolutely nothing to prepare as it was in advertisement of various companies in this State and New York and they sent the goods free. The society realized a large sum of money which will go for their work. The supper was in charge of a large committee of women who were assisted by several of the young women of the church.

HARD TIMES HAVE STRUCK THE POLICE DEPARTMENT

Hard times have affected the police department. Seldom does this branch of municipal work enjoy a lull similar to the one that has been noticed during the past week. There has not been a single case in the police court in three days, Judge De Meza's office having temporarily dropped out of the limelight.

Few complaints have come to the attention of the authorities and all of the patrolmen have little to report from their posts. Few investigations have been necessitated during the last week and in the words of Chief Kiely, "the morals of the city at this time are beyond reproach." However the old adage warning the people of a "lull before a storm" has not been forgotten and the department has managed to keep its eyes open during the monotonous period and is ready to take charge of any sudden mutiny.

REPORTS OF TWO DELEGATES READ AT W. C. T. U. MEETING

The W. C. T. U. held a meting in the parlors of the Grace M. E. church, yesterday afternoon, with a good attendance of members. Mrs. M. D. Tomlinson, president of the union presided.

The meeting was called for the purpose of hearing the reports of the local delegates who attended the State convention at Morristown recently. Mrs. C. S. Bennett and Miss Mehlenbach, who were the delegates, read their reports. Several pleasing vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. E. D. Young. After the business meeting was over the social committee took charge and a general social time was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by the committee.

MAKE YOURS A PUBLIC SERVICE STORE

This is the age of service. The rewards of today go to the men who give the most in return.

Translated for you, Mr. Merchant, this means that the customers are certain to patronize the store that will give them what they want when they want it.

Cut prices may bring some trade, but better service will bring more.

This is the age when people are reading the advertising in their daily newspapers because they are finding it a distinct part of the service they expect their newspapers to give.

When a nationally distributed article of merit is advertised in the newspapers a demand for it sets in right away.

People want to see it and, if satisfied, want to buy it.

They are going to turn to the store that lets them know it has the article. That store will be giving them the service they want at that particular moment.

If it is a good article they are going to remember the store where they got it and will come back to that store again.

Co-operate with the manufacturers who come into the newspapers of your town to exploit their goods and you will be building business for yourself.

Belgian refugees on Holland frontier.

Three hundred thousand refugees from Belgium have fled to Holland, where the situation is becoming so tense that the Hollanders fear the sudden great influx of refugees, coupled with the difficulty in obtaining food, will bring about a state of affairs with which the Hollanders are not at present prepared to cope. A few of the refugees, assured by Germany that their lives and property will be protected, have returned home. But other thousands probably will accept Holland charity for months to come.

DESCRIBES "THE REAL FILIPINO"

A. S. Riggs Gives Interesting Lecture at the Washington School.

A large number of people attended the second free entertainment under the auspices of the Plainfield Board of Education, which was held in the auditorium of the Washington School, last night. The entertainment was a lecture by A. S. Riggs, who spoke on the subject, "The Real Filipino." The speaker had many stereopticon views, which increased the interest in the talk.

Mr. Riggs spoke along various lines regarding the life of the Filipino and showed with colored views the surroundings in that country that lies in the tropics and also gave vivid pictures of home life, the methods of living, and the type of persons that form that race. He explained that the people in America and other places know very little of the ideals of the Filipino concerning civilization and then explained them in a very clear way.

The speaker also gave comparisons of the native methods of living and work and the modern ways that have entered that country. The sunset and moonlight scenes were magnificent and one panoramic view was shown that gave a very vivid picture of that country. These lectures are very popular and the first two have been very well attended.

CLYDE DOANE HOST FOR SCHOOL "FRAT"

Plainfield High School Organization Met and Dined at His Home.

F. Clyde Doane, of East Seventh street, was the host for members of the Plainfield High School Sigma Delta Phi Fraternity at his home, last night, the affair being in the nature of a re-union and get-together gathering. The organization was founded in 1906 and during its regime in the local educational institution was a powerful factor in all of the activities.

During the early part of the evening the members of the organization held a business session at which time plans were perfected for a big affair in New York, December 28. At that time the fraternity will be the guest of Charles Loizeaux, one of the charter members, and the program will include dinner at Churchill's followed by a theatre party.

At midnight a sumptuous banquet was served by the host concluding a most enjoyable evening. It is proposed to have frequent meetings of the body in the future, the next one to be held at the home of William Rafferty, November 12. Following that one will be held at the home of Paul R. Collier and another at the home of Guion Fountain prior to the New York party.

The charter members active in the re-organization work are F. Clyde Doane, Paul R. Collier, William V. Rafferty, Augustus C. Nash, Charles J. Loizeaux, Jack Riffert, Walter C. Caldwell, Egbert Bogardus, Russell Morris, Stanley Robins, Arthur Bingeman and Guion Fountain.

LOYAL DAUGHTERS HOLD SEMI-ANNUAL BANQUET

Forty strong, the Loyal Daughters' Bible Class of Hope chapel and their friends, gathered last evening at the chapel, when their semi-annual banquet was held, the occasion being in the nature of a Hallowe'en social and parents reception combined.

A social hour was enjoyed from 8 to 9 o'clock when the gathering was seated at four large tables in the Sunday-school auditorium, after which a "speech-fest" brought the gathering to a close. Among the speakers were Clarence A. Breamer, of the State Sunday-school Association, adult Bible class department; George E. Hall, superintendent of methods of the Temple Baptist church and member of the International Sunday-school Association; J. H. Manning, assistant superintendent of the Hope Sunday-school; George T. Leighs, chairman of the chapel ways and means committee; Rev. Frederic L. Greene, pastor of the chapel, and Thomas M. Jones, organist of the church. Many phases of church and Sunday-school work were discussed by the speakers.

The rooms were all decorated appropriately to the Hallowe'en season, while the entire program of the evening was planned by the social committee of the class.

HALF-YEARLY MEETING.

The Shrewsbury and Plainfield half-yearly meeting of the Religious Society of Friends, will be held tomorrow at the meeting-house on Watchung avenue. The morning session will convene at 10:30 o'clock. In the afternoon Henry M. Haviland, of Brooklyn, will read a paper on "Essentials and Non-Essentials in Religion." The public is cordially invited.

NOTES FROM LABOR FIELD

Railroad employes in New England are waging a vigorous organization campaign.

Winnipeg printers are out after the International convention in 1916, and their campaign has already begun.

John Rader, of Milwaukee, has been chosen international secretary of the Brewery Workmen's Union of America, to succeed Louis Kemper, of Cincinnati.

Chicago women have joined the International Broom and Whisk Makers Union, and are fighting for better wages. Some of the girls were receiving as low as $3 per week.

Carl Pearsons, accused of murder in the Illinois Central Railroad strike, has been acquitted. His self-defense plea was accepted by the jury, and he is receiving many words of appreciation on his manly stand.

The labor unions of England declare their loyalty to the Crown, despite the recent declarations of the Germans that a national weakness existed in the strong unions of the country.

It is expected that over a thousand delegates will attend the thirty-fourth annual convention of the American Federation, which convenes in Philadelphia on November 9, and will continue in session for two weeks. Sixty thousand will march in a parade.

The scope of the government's employment bureaus for laborers and home-seekers has been extended by the establishment throughout the country of distributing zones with headquarters in eighteen cities. Information on conditions and needs will be gathered and furnished to all interested.

The low scale of wages and frequent terms of unemployment are the reasons why only five per cent. of the Pacific coast seamen are married, says Paul Scharrenberg, secretary of the California State Federation. He suggested an organization of migratory labor.

The building of a $100,000 home for working girls in Milwaukee, funds for which are being raised by a religious body, has aroused a country-wide discussion as to whether such institutions are necessary if the working girls are paid enough money to live on. The working girls do not want charity; they want justice.

The resignation of A. H. Lindeke, of St. Paul, from the State minimum wage commission probably means much delay in the fixing of a minimum wage for women workers in Minnesota. Mr. Lindeke has represented the employers on the commission. Just as the finding of the commission was to be given, after many hearings, the resignation was handed in.

Just where labor will stand on the Clayton Bill, just signed by the President, is the most discussed feature of the new law. For, although Samuel Gompers has shown marked enthusiasm, declaring the bill a big victory for organized labor, other leaders are of the belief that there is nothing new in the bill. Injunctions are still enforceable, penalties are just as heavy, and nothing that was illegal before is made legal now, declare the dubious leaders.

—Your "furnished rooms to rent" ad will probably afford "opportunity news" to some dissatisfied—yet not over-critical—roomer.

POLITICAL NOTES.

October 30—Congressman Kinkead and Prosecutor Stein speak at Democratic meetings in St. Patrick's and Sacred Heart parish halls, Elizabeth.

October 31—Prosecutor Martin P. Devlin addresses Democratic open-air rally in South Park street, Elizabeth, outside Americus Club. Another county tour tentatively arranged.

November 3—Election Day.

If Mayor Percy H. Stewart, of Plainfield, should be elected State Senator, it would be quite an advance in public life for a man who came from the seclusion of an ideal home life but two years ago. It came hard for Mr. Stewart to jump in and make speeches day after day in the beginning, although he had always been active in a quiet way for the party. Now, however, the Mayor has gotten the swing of things, and in the well-chosen words he uses in each of the many speeches, he rarely repeats and invariably creates a good impression upon his auditors. He realizes he has a fight on hand, and his poise and dignified mien have won him much respect.

All the innumerable preliminaries to the general election have been practically cleared up now. Registration in municipalities of all sizes is over; the challengers have been selected, the sample ballots have been delivered, and a host of other things that burden the county and city officials and the election officials, have been pushed out of the way. There are still some routine things to be done, however, before the battle of the ballots actually starts.

As Election Day approaches, the Republican county candidates appear to have increased confidence. This is especially true of ex-Assemblyman George C. Otto, the shrievalty nominee.

Congressman William E. Tuttle, Jr., will devote some time to Morris county during the rest of the week. Republicans declare that Mr. Tuttle's cause is hopeless in that end of the district, as local pride alone is sufficient to carry the day for John H. Capstick. Morris has not had a Representative in a quarter of a century or more.

Bound Brook.

Mr. Wynn, of West Second street, has been ill.

Mrs. Edward Snyder, of Nyack, N. Y., was a recent visitor with her sister, Mrs. Francis J. Teston.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jackson and daughter, Clara, have returned to their home after a few months spent in their cottage at Avon. They are spending some time with relatives in East Millstone.

Mrs. Richard E. Casep and daughter spent yesterday with friends in New Brunswick.

Invitations have been issued by the Plainfield Seminary for Girls, for a dance to be held this evening. A number of young people of Bound Brook will be there.

N. P. H. S. NOTES.

The Girls' Athletic Association will hold a dance next Monday night in Saengerbund Hall. Every one is invited and the chaperone committee of the Parent-Teacher Association will be present.

The freshmen reception will be held tonight in the kindergarten room on Lincoln place, instead of in Saengerbund Hall, as was originally planned. Every one in the school is welcome to the affair.

HELPING THE UNEMPLOYED.

Camden, Oct. 30.—A crew of Camden's idle laborers will be hired by the city next week, to work on wharf improvements. The city wharf property has been newly bulkheaded, and the idle are being engaged to fill in and level the wharf.

Montreal, P. Q., Oct. 30.—Twenty thousand men who are out of work will be taken onto the city's payroll for six weeks, beginning next Monday. This is a relief measure, but the city will see that each does his work.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 30.—The Federated Trades Council has called upon the city to employ the thousands of idle men and women of Milwaukee.

IMPORT REGULATIONS ARE NOW IN EFFECT

Compelled to Show When, Where and From Whom Goods Were Bought.

New York, Oct. 30.—Beginning tomorrow a new import regulation, compelling foreign shippers to show when, where and from whom goods were bought, will be in effect. Despite many protests from business organizations, the Treasury Department has decreed that President Wilson's executive order establishing the new regulation must be carried out.

The portion of the law which has formed the basis of a long-drawn-out controversy relates to the declaration to be filed by the shipper abroad at the time of shipment, which information the government desires to establish true market values. The American Importers' Association appointed a committee to take up the matter with Secretary McAdoo, and secured a postponement last spring, until the Treasury officials had weighed the complaints. The German-American Chamber of Commerce also put itself on record at that time as opposed to the application of the new rule.

Importers here declare that during the present stress of business conditions, the government should do all in its power to aid merchants in getting goods over here, and it is their belief that the new ruling will affect the imports.

In behalf of the Government, officials of the Treasury Department contend that it is high time more information is vouchsafed by shippers and importers regarding the prices, circumstances of sale and character of goods than has been the case heretofore. In addition to this, it is pointed out that the Department of Commerce requires some of these data in order to make its statistics more reliable and accurate. All this is authorized under the new law and must be furnished beginning tomorrow, if invoices are to be passed by the customs officers at the different ports.

On the other hand, ex-Judge Sharretts, counsel for the importers, maintains that many of the constructions placed on the law by the Executive Consular regulations are erroneous. Discussing the matter yesterday, he said:

"To force consignment houses doing a legitimate business to publish the name and address of every firm, large and small, in the United States to whom they have sold or agreed to sell imported merchandise, together with the widely-varying prices charged therefor dependent on the cost of transportation, size and character of the purchasing firm, the quantity of goods, intended length of credit demanded, amount of duty paid the Government, and the expense incurred in taking conditional orders, could be of no possible benefit to the government even for statistical purposes.

"On the other hand, the information contained in the invoice and entry, and which is usually guarded by business houses as a trade secret, would, despite every precaution, become known to competing importers or domestic manufacturers, and end at least in the temporary discontinuance of such importation. If the government enforces the regulations as they stand it will result in trade demoralization that will postpone indefinitely the era of prosperity we have been told is at hand."

It is said among the importers that they will test the legality of the new regulations in the courts. On the other hand, the domestic manufacturers are said to be a unit for the new law, which they claim was promulgated to protect home industries from unfair competition through the undervaluation of foreign-made goods as they come through the custom houses.

PRESIDENT OPENS BIG STATION.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 30—When President Wilson, this afternoon, touched the button which opened the new Union station in Kansas City, the Presidential salute of 21 guns was fired and the huge station, the third largest in this country, was formally opened to the public. A big parade of business organizations marched through the doors, with bands playing and flags waving. The new station has cost in excess of $50,000,000, and the systems which will use it are the Santa Fe, Burlington, Rock Island, Union Pacific, Frisco, Missouri Pacific, M. E. & T., Kansas City Southern, Alton, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Chicago Great Western, and Wabash. The front of the new station is one-third of a mile long; the main building is 500 feet long itself and 160 feet deep. The buildings themselves cover six acres. As a feature of the event, en effigy of the old station is to be burned at midnight on a hill-top.

DAUGHTER ON BATTLEFIELD.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 30—From letters received in the home city of Pleasant A. Stovall, the United States minister to Switzerland, it was learned today that Miss Pleasant Stovall, his daughter, is completing her studies as a nurse, and is by this time on her way to the battlefields. The Stovalls are at Berne, Switzerland, where Miss Stovall is one of the social leaders. Minister Stovall was formerly a prominent editor in Georgia, and was appointed to the Switzerland commission by President Wilson last year.

LEHIGH VALLEY MAKES TWO ADDITIONAL CHANGES

Close following upon the announcement of the creation of the new position of general traffic manager and the naming of William T. Grier for the position, the Lehigh Valley Railroad has made public two more important changes in its traffic department staff.

H. C. Hamilton, assistant general freight agent at Buffalo, has been made a general freight agent and will move his office to New York to the general offices of the company at 143 Liberty street, and S. A. Story, through freight agent at Buffalo, has been made an assistant general freight agent.

The promotion of Mr. Hamilton will give the Lehigh Valley two general freight agents. F. J. Woulfe will continue with that title, various duties of the position being divided between the two in the interest of better efficiency.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

The most gripping drama of New York life ever presented on the stage comes to the Plainfield Theatre, tomorrow, matinee and night, when "To-Day," by George Broadhurst and Abraham Schomer, will be presented with a superb cast and a magnificent production. The bare outline of the story, which shows the pit that pleasure loving wives dig for themselves in their mad pursuit of pleasure, is as follows: Lily Wagner, a spoiled wife, who finds herself in enjoyment of luxuries to which she has not been accustomed, is forced to go back to a limited allowance because of the fact that her husband has failed in business. He is making an honest effort to pay back his debts, has sold his wife's jewels to pay some of them, and is living with his spouse and his father and mother in a small flat, which is in direct contrast to the luxurious home in which they had previously been housed. After a time the wife, urged by a fashionable friend, is ready to do anything to keep up appearances and wear the finery and gowns she has learned to love. She starts to frequent a certain apartment where she smudges her being for worldly gauds. Her husband has been appointed renting agent of this house, and in a visit to the establishment in the interest of his employer sees his wife's photograph on a table in the drawing-room.

Chauncey Olcott, under Henry Miller's management, started his tour in "The Heart of Paddy Whack" in the early autumn. This season much interest attaches to his new vehicle, which was written by Rachel Crothers, whose "A Man's World," "Young Wisdom" and "The Three of Us," have placed her among the foremost modern dramatists. Miss Crothers has delighted in providing Mr. Olcott with a play vastly different from those he has had in recent seasons. It is a story of an Irish bachelor who prefers the small town and his own good neighbors to the bustle of a big city. Here he practices law and lives a contented life until his ward returns after years at school. The ward nick-names her guardian "Paddy Whack" and the latter soon finds his heart slipping from his own keeping. All the charm of a bachelor's romance set in the colorful scenes of an Irish gentleman's home of a generation or so past, all the romance and humor of the Emerald Isle is said to have been drawn upon for the new play. Mr. Olcott's annual engagements here are always events and in the new comedy with new songs, his coming to Plainfield will be pleasantly anticipated. He will be seen at the Plainfield Theatre, on Tuesday.

WAR A BIG BOOM TO POSTAL SAVINGS

Receipts Have Increased by Leaps and Bounds Since Hostilities Began.

The war in Europe is proving a big boon to postal savings in this country. From the very day hostilities opened across the seas postal-savings receipts began to increase by leaps and bounds and withdrawals fell off, a result quite contrary to the predictions of many well-informed persons who, in their imagination, saw lines of feverish depositors at postoffice pay windows anxious to again return their savings to the boot-leg and body-belt depositors whence they came before intrusted to Uncle Sam. But the forecasters failed to reckon on the absolute confidence of the American citizen, regardless of the flag that first met his eyes, in the ability and purpose of the Government to carry out its obligations, not only among the nations of the earth, but with the humblest citizen of our land.

Two important results have followed; thousands of people, largely of foreign birth, accustomed to send their savings abroad, are now patrons of our postal-savings system; and enormous sums of actual cash have been released for commercial uses among our own people at a time when the need for every available dollar is pressing.

The growth of postal savings in the United States has been steady and healthy and the system has filled an important gap between the tin-can depository and the factory paymaster. On July 1, when affairs were running smoothly abroad and the transmission of money across the Atlantic was safe and expeditous, there was approximately $43,000,000 of postal savings standing to the credit of about 388,000 depositors. Since then over $10,000,000 of deposits have been added and the number of depositors has increased enormously. This unprecedented gain is the more striking when it is considered that the net gain in the last three months is larger than the gain for the entire fiscal year 1914. Scores of offices have done more postal-savings business since the war has been going on than was done by them during the previous existence of the service. The increases are confined to no special localities, but have been felt in every nook and corner of the country. New York city alone made a gain in September of more than a million, while Brooklyn showed a relatively big increase. Chicago reported a larger gain in the past three months than for the previous twelve months. More than 7,000 new accounts were opened during the period, bringing the number of depositors in that city up to over 21,000.

The unexpected increase in postal-savings business has not only added greatly to the general administrative duties of the system, but has brought up many new and interesting problems which have called for the careful personal consideration of Postmaster General Burleson and Governor Dockery, third assistant Postmaster General. But their task has been lightened somewhat by the promptness of depository banks in furnishing additional security to meet the abnormal deposits. A number of the very largest banks in the country, which have heretofore declined to qualify as depositors for postal-savings funds, are now among the eager applicants for them.

WILSON APPROVES THE MOVEMENT

Expresses Sympathy With Prevention Work to Stamp Out White Plague.

Washington, Oct. 30—President Wilson has expressed his approval of the Fifth National Tuberculosis Day Movement during the week of November 29 and also of the work of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, in a letter to Dr. George M. Kober, the president of that body, made public today. He said, among other things:

"I know that I need not assure you of my very profound interest in and sympathy with the work of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, and I am delighted to know that you feel encouraged by the results of its efforts. I sincerely hope that November 29 the day which you have designated as Tuberculosis Day, will result in awakening the people of the United States still further not only to the necessity, but to the perfect feasibility, of arresting and preventing this terrible disease."

A number of Governors are issuing proclamations on the Tuberculosis Day campaign, calling on the churches and schools to unite during the week of November 29 in an educational campaign against tuberculosis. The movement is not for the purpose of raising funds, but simply to bring to the people all over the country essential facts with reference to the treatment and prevention of tuberculosis.

10,000 Union Suits for Men

At Less Than Half Price

Winter Weight Merino (Half Wool, Half Cotton) at Only $1.15 Each—for the Reasons Explained Below

The maker of these suits is famous for the fit and proportions of his union suits, which are seldom, if ever, offered for less than regular prices—not to speak of less than half.

Comfort in a union suit is simply a matter of proper fit—these suits fit.

This lot came to us because the Ohio river overflowed its levees one day and soaked a great quantity of wool yarn belonging to this mill.

This yarn was washed but slight water stains remained—very slight — otherwise perfect. It was knitted into garments made in the same way and with the same care as the regular output.

The mill owner, notwithstanding the stains are scarcely perceptible (except in the white garments) put down the prices less than half.

Natural and mottled blue colors and white.

Long sleeves and ankle length legs. Sizes 34 to 46.

Some Cookery Suggestions

HOW TO COOK SMELTS.

OF all fish the one with the most delicate flavor is the smelt. Its flesh does not always agree with an imperfect digestion, but healthy people usually appreciate this dainty and delicious fare. Greater appreciation would be shown if greater variety were used in the methods of cookery.

Broiled Smelts.—Mix half a teaspoonful of salt and a saltspoonful of pepper with two tablespoonfuls of olive oil. Place the mixture on a plate. Prepare a dozen smelts and dry them on a cloth. Arrange them on the plate and let them soak in the oil for ten minutes. Turn them and let them soak for ten minutes longer. Grill them over a clear fire for five minutes and serve with caper or tomato sauce.

Piquantly Seasoned.

Deviled Smelts.—Wash and dry twelve smelts, brush each with salad oil or melted butter, roll in curry powder and arrange on a fireproof dish. Sprinkle a little cayenne over each fish and add a few pieces of butter the size of peas (one ounce in all) and bake the fish for a quarter of an hour.

Smelts in Sauce.—Clean twelve smelts and arrange them on a fireproof dish with a teacupful of tomato pulp and an ounce of butter. Bake the fish for twenty minutes. In a small saucepan place half a teaspoonful of French mustard, a teaspoonful of flour, an ounce of butter and a saltspoonful of pepper. Mix the ingredients smoothly together, adding a little water if necessary. Add to it the juice from the baked smelts and stir the sauce over a moderate fire until it thickens. Pour the sauce over the smelts and serve them as hot as possible.

Flavored With Onions.

Baked Stuffed Smelts.—Take a dozen small smelts, clean and dry. Stuff with one tablespoonful of finely chopped onion cooked for three minutes in a tablespoonful of butter, to which add one-fourth cupful of finely chopped mushrooms, one-fourth cupful of soft part of oysters, which have been parboiled, drained and chopped; one-half teaspoonful of thick white sauce and one-half cupful of fish forcemeat. After stuffing smelts with the mixture sprinkle with salt and pepper and brush over with lemon juice. Place in buttered shallow plate, covered with buttered paper, and bake five minutes in hot oven. Remove from the oven, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and bake until the crumbs are brown.

Anna Thompson

He Was Served Upon Golden Dishes.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—What Happened To Sir Rupert The Fearless.

"DADDY, you promised us another 'Ingoldsby Legend,'" said Jack as the children scampered to daddy for the evening story.

"Very well," said daddy. "I'll tell you about Sir Rupert the Fearless, a German prince.

"He was a very gallant young fellow, but was somewhat inclined to spend more money than he could afford and at last got into trouble.

"He didn't know how to pay his debts, so he concluded to drown himself.

"Then he went out to the Rhine river, where a skiff was moored. The moon was shining brightly, and Sir Rupert the Fearless embarked jauntily.

"As his skiff floated down the river in the moonlight he heard sweet music. It was a woman's voice, accompanied by a tinkling guitar. Looking about him, Sir Rupert espied a beautiful maiden floating upon the stream.

"Then she began to sink and pretty soon was out of sight under the water. Sir Rupert plunged in after her and sank down forty fathoms or more.

"But a wonderful sight met his eyes as he gradually collected his senses from his deep plunge. It was a glittering hall in which were a great many beautiful girls and among them the one he had first seen.

"This beautiful girl came toward him and said: 'I am Queen Lurline. Won't you tell me who you are?'

"Sir Rupert told her and was asked to dine. He was served upon golden dishes, and the thought would intrude that if he could have some of those dishes to turn into money he could pay his debts.

"These things he told to the lovely Queen Lurline, also telling her that he loved her. The queen gave him gold and pearls, and he ascended to the top of the stream and soon reached his castle.

"After paying his debts he promised to return to marry the queen.

"But he must have forgotten his promise to her since he wooed a land maiden who had caught his fancy.

"The day came for the wedding. It began to thunder and lightning, and the rain descended in torrents. The little bride was frightened, but Sir Rupert the Fearless told her not to be frightened; he would protect her.

"They reached the church, and the ceremony was about to be performed when into the church door rolled a great wave of water. Riding proudly on its crest, very beautiful in her anger, was Queen Lurline.

"Why, every one in that little church was drowned except a little old woman who opened the pews. She was borne away by the flood, but got stuck in a tree, and that is how the story was told to me," ended daddy in rime, and the children scampered away to bed.

WOMAN'S VIEW OF WAR IS EXPRESSED IN STRONG CARTOON

Miss Nina Allender and her cartoon: "War—the Woman Dies a Thousand Deaths."

War from the woman's point of view is expressed in a cartoon recently printed in an issue of "The Suffragist," the official organ of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage, of which Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont is one of the leaders, and which has headquarters in Washington.

Miss Nina Alexander is the artist and her work, which has never before appeared in the public prints, is attracting considerable favorable attention. The cartoon, which is one of a series which she has just completed, is entitled "War—the Woman Dies a Thousand Deaths." Miss Allender is a Washington woman and has been identified with the equal suffrage work of the Congressional Union since its inception about a year ago.

SAVING THE PLAY

Actors Are Often Called Upon to Exercise Quick Wit.

SOME CURIOUS EXPERIENCES.

Rose Eytinge Once Extemporized the Entire Part of Lady Isabel In "East Lynne"—How John Brougham Made a Hit Without His Leading Lady.

Quick wit has saved many an embarrassing situation, turned many a seemingly disastrous failure into success. Politics, literature, courtesy, all are served by quick tongue and ready word.

Actors, as well as business men, have special use for quick wit, so often do they need help out of a difficulty during the play. A college performance was saved from wreckage by one of the young actors.

One of the cast, a boy easily upset, had just given his line, "All I need is an advertisement," when half of his stage mustache fell off.

"Oh, no," said the ready youth beside him, seeing his embarrassment; "what you need is a hair restorer."

And under cover of the laughter the victim had a chance to recover himself.

It was surely the same readiness that enabled Rose Eytinge to go through one of the most extraordinary experiences any actress ever had. In San Francisco she was once asked to fill Mary Anderson's place at short notice, appearing with the local stock company. The play was to be "East Lynne." By singular chance, no prompt book could be found, nor could they secure a copy of the novel. Miss Eytinge protested that it would be impossible for her to play, as she had never so much as seen the piece. That fact they refused to believe. Moreover, to add to her difficulty, though all the company claimed to know the old drama backward, no one seemed to have an idea of the lines she, as Lady Isabel, would have to speak.

"Oh, that'll be all right," said John McCullough, the manager, to whom she appealed. "Just you sob and look sorry, and it will go."

So Miss Eytinge, rather than cause the loss of closing the theater, went on totally unprepared to act in an absolutely unfamiliar play.

Tom Keene, the Archibald Carlisle, instructed her in the proper emotion from scene to scene. "Now she's a jealous cat, a jealous cat," he would whisper. "Now she's kitteny." "Now she's sorry she was such a fool." "Now she wants her young ones." "Now she up and dies."

The performance seemed to cause entire satisfaction to the audience, and McCullough, as he generously handed over half the receipts to the heroine of the hour, declared, "Well, you may have had to vamp that part, but I've often seen it played with less soul."

The story of an experience demanding similar readiness of wit is told of John Brougham, the early American comedian and playwright. On one occasion, when his own clever burlesque, "Pocahontas," had been billed and the house sold out in advance, the leading actress left without warning to take another position in Baltimore. The audience had assembled before her absence was discovered by the manager and star. As it was that play or nothing, Brougham, who was famed for his witty impromptu speeches, went before the curtain and suggested giving the piece without Pocahontas. He recalled the old story of the actor who played Hamlet so execrably that on the following night the tragedy was given with that character omitted by request.

"Now, if 'Hamlet' can be acted without the hero," he remarked, "why not 'Pocahontas' without the heroine? Of course you are all aware of the fact that 'Pocahontas' is a much greater play than 'Hamlet.' Even if you do not know that, I do, and I ought to, for I wrote it myself. Are you willing to try it?"

"Go ahead!" came the cries from the audience, who settled themselves back to see the result.

The burlesque proceeded as usual until the entrance music was played for Pocahontas; then, turning toward the audience, Brougham, as Powhatan, sadly began: "Ladies and gentlemen, that sweet strain is supposed to bring my daughter Pocahontas on the stage. You are already aware that she is in the city of Baltimore, and the stern law of the land will not permit a Christian, much less a savage, to be in two places at once. Thus does the law protect that most useful instrument, the alibi. However, if Poky were here she would hasten to say"— Whereupon the comedian gave her lines in exact imitation of the missing actress, keeping up the dialogue in two persons all through the play. The delighted people who were fortunate enough to be present declared that Brougham was avenged.

G. P. Huntley tells of an incident that took place at an east side theater in London. The "gods" were booing the piece and throwing chunks of bread at the performers.

At last the star came forward and said: "Now, look here! We're trying our best to amuse you. Throw bread, if you like; but," he added as he stopped and picked up a chunk, "thank heaven I'm not too proud to eat it."

The gods were vanquished.—Anna Bird Stewart in New York Tribune.

Labor conquers all things. It is idleness that is the curse of man—not labor. Nothing is impossible to industry.—Motto of Periander.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally If You Eat Meat Regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or in the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

Overcoats That Look Well "In Action"

There are a lot of clothes that look fine when a man stands still and "poses"—but they're rather grotesque when a man is "in action."

That criticism could never be leveled at our overcoats—they look as stylish when they are going four miles an hour as when they're standing still.

CANDIDATES ON EXCISE QUESTION

Tell Federated Bible Classes How They Will Vote if Elected.

VIEWS ARE EXPRESSED

Answers of Councilmanic Nominees Are Published Without Comment Allowing Voters to Judge for Themselves.

The Federated Men's Bible Classes of Plainfield, at a meeting held September 10 last, called to discuss the question of saloon conditions in this city, drafted the following letter which was ordered to be addressed to the several Councilmanic candidates for nomination at the primaries on September 22:

No. 1—If elected to the office of Common Councilman, will you vote against any measure that may be proposed that would increase the area of the so-called "Tyler Zone" ordinance as it now stands?

No. —Do you favor an increase in the number of liquor saloons in the city?

No. 3—Do you favor an increase in the number of wholesale liquor licenses in the city?

Each nominee made a reply to the letter of inquiry, setting forth their views on the several questions. The letters of reply are given herewith without comment, the voters being permitted to judge for themselves how the candidates stand on the liquor question:

"Your inquiry of the 10th inst. reached me in due time; I have delayed answering the same pending the outcome of the primary election and since receiving the Democratic nomination for councilman of the Fourth ward, I do not hesitate to state:

"First—If I am elected to the office of Common Councilman, I hereby pledge myself to vote against any measure that may be proposed that would increase the area of the so-called 'Tyler Zone' ordinance as it now stands.

"Second—Under no circumstances do I favor an increase in the number of liquor saloons in this city.

"Third—Upon thorough investigation of the conditions existing in the wholesale liquor line as it is now conducted here I am of the firm opinion, there being two wholesalers in the city, with three others across the brook, that the people of Plainfield are liberally supplied without being subjected to conditions which usually accompany a monopoly, and I therefore, am unalterably and under

PLEDGES BUSINESS LIKE ADMINISTRATION

Leighton Calkins Makes a Strong Appeal to Voters of Second Ward.

The local Republican campaign forces turned their attention to the Second ward, last night, when a largely attended meeting was held at the Bryant School. The voters were addressed by C. P. Hamilton, the ward candidate for Council; President George S. Clay, of the Council; City Chairman J. J. Carroll and Leighton Calkins, candidate for Mayor. Both Mr. Clay and Mr. Hamilton made excellent speeches, urging the election of Mr. Calkins and the entire Republican ticket. Mr. Calkins again devoted his remarks to a further consideration of his policy of economy in the management of city affairs and spoke in part as follows:

"I am a candidate for the office of Mayor, and I am glad to meet the voters of the Second ward. People cannot vote intelligently unless they know all about the record of their candidates, so that they can compare the men and decide who are best qualified for the work to be done. Between two candidates, both standing for economy, and for cutting out unnecessary expense the voters must choose the man who is best fitted really to accomplish something. I am glad to meet you tonight and I hope you will question me fully on any matter of vital interest to you.

"It would be a silly thing for a candidate to promise a low tax rate. We have a well governed city, and there are no great extravagances to be corrected. Our people want good streets, good schools, good lights and libraries. They are willing to pay for these things and to pay liberally. But we face many new improvements, such as the joint sewer, and we must be very vigilant in our economy to carry these through with the least burden to the tax-payers.

"I make no vain promises to give

N. P. H. S. RECEPTION WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Hallowe'en Party in Kindergarten Enjoyed by Over 250 Persons.

Teachers, pupils and alumnae of the North Plainfield High School, enjoyed a Hallowe'en social in the new kindergarten rooms, last night. The guests were pulled from the street into a semi-dark room and there met by weird creatures who extended hands of greeting that were filled with sawdust soaked. After the party had entered and the doors were closed, Principal Albert Earley called the audience to order and started the program by a ghost story that caused some of the more timid grls to ask for lights. After the story the lights were turned on which revealed masked forms that acted as guides to the different games that were around the room. Miss Bertha Spencer, of the High School faculty, proved to be a popular fortune teller.

Dancing was enjoyed throughout the evening and refreshments were served by a committee in charge of Miss Ethel Barnard, and she was assisted by the Misses Lucy Douglas, Jubilee Rowley, Edna Green, Elsie Debele, Marjorie Burtis, Margaret Ewart, Ann Hull and Helen Schmidt. The refreshment committee consisted of the Misses Grace Townley, chairman; Emily Pleydell, Bertha Keller and Lillian Spencer. The chaperone committee, of the Parent-Teacher Association, of which Mrs. Warren Townley is chairman, was present.

Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Among those present were the Misses Helen MacDonald, Lillie MacDonald, Edna Titus, Agnes Griffith Stella MacDonald, Francis Spoor, of New York, and Roy Force, Elston Wakefield, Norman Conover, Almon Doty, Clifford Causbrook, Myrton Lunger, Kenneth Bennett and Ray MacDonald.

5,000 MAJORITY FOR CAPSTICK PREDICTED

County Chairman Newcorn Makes Statement on Eve of Election.

William Newcorn, chairman of the Union County Republican Committee, this morning, issued the following statement:

"The Republican party has every reason to feel assured of victory on Election Day. The large registration, showing the largest increase in Republican districts, the attendance and enthusiasm at the meetings we have held, the daily assurances and reports from friends, committeemen and voters from all parts of the country, the return to the Republican party of many of the Progressives who have been fighting for a principle and who have put self aside inspired by patriotic instinct on account of business depression created by Democratic legislation, and the realization that the Progressive candidates cannot be elected, and a vote for a Progressive means half a vote for a Democrat, all indicate a Republican year.

"We have tried to conduct an energtic, sharp and progressive gentlemenly campaign, presenting issues to the voters in an effort to impress them with the strength of the gentlemen who are on our ticket and the principles which they represent, this without ridicule or malice toward others.

"The ticket presented is the strongest that the people have had an opportunity to vote for in many years.

"John H. Capstick, a successful business man, standing for restoration of business confidence and prosperity.

"Senator Pierce, Mr. Morgan, Mr. Runyon, Mr. Pierson, candidates for the Legislature, pledged for a economic, efficient and progressive legislation in our State affairs.

"Mr. Calvert, Mr. Smith, Mr. Otto, a business administration, by business men for business offices.

"It Republicans will vote early in order to assist us in getting out the entire vote, and each one does his share along the lines laid out, we will carry the Congressional district for John H. Capstick by 5,000 majority and carry the county of Union for the county ticket by 3,000."

CHANCE FOR NINE MEN TO AID BELGIAN RELIEF FUND

Are there nine men in Plainfield willing to give $100 each to aid the suffering women and children of Belgium? That is the question which is interesting the women who have formed a committee to raise money, and gather together clothes to send to the needy ones in King Albert's little country. The movement was started yesterday, when a well-known Plainfielder, who will not permit his name to be used, called up one of the members of the woman's committee, and told her that he thought the fair sex had done all the work up to this time to aid the suffering ones, and it was about time for the men to do something. He said that he would be one of ten men to give $100 cash to the cause, and that he hoped there would be no difficulty in raising the balance.

So if there are any men in the city who want to aid in the worthiest cause that the world has ever known (for never before has there been such devastation in any one country) they can advise Mrs. Frederick W. Wallace, of Hillside avenue, or send their checks to the Daily Press, which will see that the amount is properly acknowledged, and reaches the committee promptly.

Another contribution of $2 for the cause was received by the Daily Press this morning, from a friend and $5 from Mme. Louise Chatel. A Plainfielder who has been abroad has also contributed some Belgium coins to be placed in children's clothes.

DEMOCRATS HEAR ALLEN B. WALSH

Congressman Thrills Democratic Audience in Saengerbund Hall.

MAYOR CLARK SCORED

Speaker Beekman Takes Advantage of Opportunity to Clear Himself—Currency and Immigration Bills Are Explained.

Somerset county Democrats, loyal to the local, State and national issues, gathered in Saenegerbund Hall, last night, where the leaders of that party held their final pre-election mass meeting and heard a thrilling address by Congressman Allen B. Walsh. The main floor of the spacious hall and a portion of the gallery was filled with ardent supporters of the Democratic cause, few of the followers of rival factions being present at the meeting. Considerable enthusiasm was evidenced during the speeches, each of those introduced by Chairman William A. Coddington being accorded a great ovation. A score or more of women were scattered about the audience and the gathering was probably one of the most successful held by any party in this city or North Plainfield this year.

Allen B. Walsh, who is the representative chosen from President Woodrow Wilson's home district, dwelt at length on the tariff and currency bills, saying in part:

"Wonderful things have been accomplished by the Democratic party during its one and one-half years of incumbancy and few voters are acquainted with the details of the work carried on. For ten years Presidents have promised to revise the tariff and six years ago they made a pledge to unequivocally revise the tariff downward. They failed to do it. Two years ago they asked for another chance, but the voters refused to grant it and elected Woodrow Wilson. Since the Democrats have come into power they have succeeded in putting through a downward revision on all necessities of life. The object of the Democratic party is to lift the burden of expense off the shoulders of the poorer class and to place it on those who are able to enjoy the luxuries of life. This has caused the much talked of deficit in the treasury and necessitated the levying of the income tax to make up for the $70,000,000 deficit. The income tax is paid by those who have large incomes and derive more benefits from life.

MISS VAN CLEEF DIES IN 36TH YEAR

Succumbs to Long Illness at Her Home in This City.

Miss Abbie VanCleef, aged 35 years, passed away at her home, 19 West End avenue, last night, following an illness of three years with complications which became more acute during the past week. Although at times she was a great sufferer she bore it with patience throughout and made a heroic effort to regain her health and strength. She had a genial and happy disposition which was especially marked during her long illness.

Miss VanCleef was the daughter of Tenadore VanCleef. She was born at East Millstone, where she lived until sixteen years ago. Since then she has resided in this city. For seven years she was employed in S. C. Peck's store on West Front street, but three years ago she was obliged to give up her position because of ill health. She was a member of Trinity Reformed church, being active in church, Sunday-school and Christian Endeavor work until taken ill. She was a devout Christian and possessed qualities which won her many friends. There survives a father, and two sisters, Mrs. Walter C. Dobbins and Miss Edna G. VanCleef, of this city, and a brother, P. Perlee VanCleef, of Newark.

The funeral services will be held at the late home Monday noon at 12 o'clock, and will be in charge of Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, of the First Baptist church. The interment will be in the family plot at East Millstone, where Rev. Henry Lockwood, pastor of the Reformed church, will have charge of the committal service.

It's Tough to be Out of Work but the unemployed may soon be able to procure something to do if they will leave their names at the Mayor's office, in the City Building, North Avenue. tf

J. P. OWENS MAKES PLEA FOR FULL PAY

Contends That He and Other Appointees Are Entitled to Compensation.

Elizabeth, Oct. 31.—John P. Owens, county attorney under the small Board of Freeholders, made a plea for full pay for the time he served, and for the other appointees, at a hearing given them by the large Board appropriation committee yesterday afternoon. He admitted receiving $150 for "services rendered," but insisted that he should be paid his salary from the time of his appointment until the date on which the Supreme Court declared the small Board unconstitutional. Employes had been paid in Mercer, he said, and the Court of Errors had ruled that such appointees should be paid. His bill was for $400.

Abe J. David, the small Board county collector, told of services he had rendered. Similar pleas were made by Michael Connell, courthouse custodian; Henry Kreh, Jr., engineer, estate of Robert D. Gibby, deceased, represented by LeRoy Gibby. Robert D. Gibby was auditor. James Dall, road supervisor; Henry J. Coughlin, sealer; George York and Oliver Conlon, constables. John P. McNamara, law librarian, submitted a claim for $135, but did not appear at the meeting.

Sums totalling $2,683.85 are asked. County Attorney William R. Codington gave it as his opinion that only services should be paid for.

Charles A. Smith, chairman of the committee, said the committee would consider the matter and report at the next meeting.

"HUMANE SUNDAY AND ANIMAL WEEK" OBSERVANCE

Mrs. Stephen G. VanHoesen, special agent of the local S. P. C. A., has been appointed a member of the "National Committee on Humane Sunday and Animal Week," recently formed by Dr. William O. Stillman, president of the National Humane Association, in an effort to have one Sunday and the following week observed throughout the country as a time to be especially humane in the treatment of children and animals.

The idea was brought out at the recent convention of the association held in Atlantic City and all of the States in the Union are represented on the committee, most of them being delegates at the convention.

One from each State on the com*mittee was appointed a chairman to* have charge of the arrangement in that State and Mrs. VanHoesen has been appointed in New Jersey with the power to appoint a committee in different sections of the State to assist her. Arrangements are being made to approach Governor Fielder in order to get his approval for such an observance, the date of which has not as yet been set.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE GIVE A MASQUERADE SOCIAL

The Women's League of St. Joseph's church held its annual masquerade in Debele Hall, last night. Over two hundred were present and there were many fine costumes. The hall was attractively decorated for the occasion and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

Prizes were given for the most unique costumes. The first award, a two dollar and a half gold piece, went to Robia S. Hamilton. The other five prizes went to Elizabeth Cordy, Rose Brady, Catherine Moris, Elsie Moulton and James Traynor. Mrs. Alfred was given the consolation prize, a live chicken. Music was furnished by Paroubek's orchestra. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

GERMANS FORCE THE ALLIES BACK

So Admits Official Statement Issued This Afternoon by War Office.

TURK VESSELS AT SUEZ

Scout Ships Seen at Entrance to Gulf—French Government to Return to Paris—American Property Probably Not Damaged at Odessa.

Paris, Oct. 31.—Notwithstanding the heavy losses, the Germans are making a sharp offensive movement along the battle front from the coast to Arras, according to the official statement issued at 3 o'clock this afternoon, by the French War Office. The Allies have had to give some ground south of Ypres, but have moved forward to the east of Ypres. The text of the statement says:

"Yesterday was marked by a general offensive movement on the part of the Germans, along the entire front from Nieuport to Arras and by violet attacks at other points on the line of battle from Nieuport to the canal of Lallassee. There were alternate advances and retreats. South of Nieuport, the Germans, who had taken Rampskapelle, have been driven back by a counter attack.

"To the south of Ypres we have lost some points of support at Hollebeck and Zandorde, and we have advanced to the east of Ypres to the Paschendaele forest. Between Le-Bassee and Arras, all the German attacks have been repulsed with heavy losses for them.

"In the region of Chaulnes we have advanced beyond Libons, and we have taken Quesnoy en Santerre. In the region of the Aisne we have also made progress on the right bank before Soissons, but we have withdrawn in the forest of Vailly. There has been an advance in the region of Souain. A violent conflict has taken place in the Argonne. In the Woevre region we have gained further ground in the forest of LePretre."

Unofficial announcement was made today that the government will return to Paris from Bordeaux on November 20, and that parliament will meet on December 15 to pass emergency laws.

Petrograd, Oct. 31 (Central News Cable).—Up to last night the Russian foreign office had not received any notice of a declaration of war from Turkey. The Russian ambassador at Constantinople and the Turkish representative in Petrograd had not at that time received passports. It is

JUDGE J. J. TRACY WILL SPEAK HERE

Democratic Mass Meeting in Columbus Club Tonight and Monday.

Democratic party leaders have completed arrangements for a rally to be held in the Columbus Club auditorium tonight, when Mayor Percy H. Stewart and other county and State candidates will be present as speakers.

The main address will be delivered by Judge Tracey, who will arrive here about 8:15 and will be escorted to the clubhouse by a committee appointed by the Democratic Club. Monday night, Governor Fielder will be the speaker at a meeting to be held in the Columbus Club. This gathering will convene at 7:15.

Democratic candidates addressed a large audience at the Plainfield Association Football Club, on South Second street, last night. Theodore Martin, David Coleman and John P. Owens were among the speakers. From that place the campaigners went to a colored mass meeting in Coleman's billiard parlor, where several short talks were given. Besides the big meeting in Columbus Hall, tonight, there will be speaking at Madison avenue and West Front street.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids.

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.—Adv.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.—Adv.

the result of the present uprising in Europe. We cannot help but get the export trade formerly taken care of by France and England. Some country will have to feed and clothe South Americans and as we are naturally in the best position to do this we will get the trade.

"The currency bill is one of the greatest pieces of legislation put through since the Civil War. I predict that the United States will never have a panic as long as the Class Currency Bill remains on the statutes in its present form. I voted against the Burnett Immigration Bill and have been criticised for it. Why? Because the laws on immigration in this country are as strict as they should be. No criminal or anyone having criminal inclinations can enter this country under the present laws. No one who cannot earn a living for himself and those dependant upon him is admitted. The literacy test is not a good one and I am against the measure. You can be a good citizen without having an education. I believe in education, but I do not believe in depriving anyone of the rights of citizenship simply because he has not had the money to secure an education. Abraham Lincoln's parents were illiterate, but he grew up to be a model American citizen. If the literacy test was in vogue at that time we would have had on President Lincoln. In the States Prisons there are geniuses, men with acute minds. There are also illiterates."

William A. Coddington, chairman of the meeting, in a short preliminary speech lauded President Wilson for his accomplishments while the head of the nation. He reviewed the work already acomplished and urged the Democratic party to support him in the two years that remain in his present regime. He spoke of the work done by Congressman Walsh and commended him to the voters as the man for the office.

Azariah Beekman, speaker of the Assembly during the last term, addressed the voters and took occasion to severely criticise Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., and William J. Buttfield for their attitude regarding the passage of a recent bill validating, ratifying and confirming North Plainfield as a borough in order to facilitate the progress of the joint sewerage work. According to Mr. Beekman he has been subjected to some false allegations made by Mayor Clark charging him with being responsible for certain delay entailed in putting the measure through. He classed this as direct ingratitude on the part of the borough executive, stating that the bill was brought in after March 4 in direct violation of the rules of the house. His closing remarks brought him a great ovation. They were as follows: "I'd rather lose with Wilson and Fielder than win in opposition to them."

Francis Bodin and other local and county candidates made short addresses during the evening.

TWO KILLED AND 17 HURT IN LACKAWANNA WRECK

Binghampton, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Two persons were killed and 17 injured, when Lackawanna train No. 32, composed of five cars, left the rails at Alfred, and went down an embankment at 6:30 this morning. The train struck a broken rail, and went into Morton's creek, near Alfred, and carried with it all the telegraph wires along the track so that it was some time before word was received in this city. Relief trains were started from here and Scranton at once, carrying all the available surgeons from both cities.

The train runs daily between Binghampton and Scranton, leaving here at 5:50 and being due at Scranton at 7:47. There were a large number of railroad employes aboard.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, OCTOBER 31, 1914.

On Saturdays the editorial columns of the Daily Press are conducted by citizens who are free to express their own views. The contributing editor for today is former Mayor George W. V. Moy, Progressive candidate for Congress. The Democratic and Republican viewpoints were published in these columns on the two preceding Saturdays, as the Press wishes to maintain an independent attitude politically, and the sentiments expressed represent the arguments of the writers and not the position of this newspaper.

SOME ONE HAS BLUNDERED.

Much has been said and written to show and prove that the Progressive Party is dead—absolutely dead—undeniably dead, and that's all there is to it. So say the Republican office-holders, so say the stand-patters, so say the special interests, so say the bosses, so say the white slavers, so say the invisible government. They say that Theodore Roosevelt is no longer to be reckoned with as a power in the land, and the proof of this is found in the fact that it is almost impossible to get into a hall where he is to speak—because so many other folks are so anxious to get in and see him and hear him tell in his own halting and lifeless way (the Roosevelt way) of the sad catastrophe.

Proof that the party is dead will also be found in the fact of having a full county ticket in the field, a full Congressional ticket in the State, an effective State committee hard at work, a county committee leaving no stone unturned, and a city committee full of vim and ginger. DEATH IS THE CESSATION OF LIFE. SOME ONE HAS BLUNDERED. THE PROGRESSIVE PARTY IS MORE ALIVE THAN EVER BEFORE. It is young and vigorous, fearless, cheerful and confident. It has behind it the force of the man who does his own thinking—the independent voter.

It will be the dominant party in nineteen sixteen with THEODORE ROOSEVELT as its its standard bearer.

WE'LL WIN WITH TEDDY.

The people of this country (not the Republican bosses) will right the wrong of 1912.

Our government is a government of men, with the strength of men and with the weakness of men. The fundamental principles of the Progressive party aim to develop a better and more stable government; to bring to the people a realizing sense of their duty to do their share in taking a part in the conduct of the public business—the business of the people.

The National Progressive Platform stands for Direct Primaries in State and Nation; Presidential Preference Primaries; Direct Election of United States Senators; expeditious method of amending the Federal Constitution (in order that the people of today may be governed by the laws of today and not of the dead and musty past); Equal Suffrage (using the intelligence in civic affairs of the community, of the girls we so carefully educate); Registration of Lobbyists (labelling them OFFICIAL BRIBERS); Prohibition of Child Labor (give the child a chance to be a child and know something of the joy of living); one day's rest in seven for all wage workers ("six days shalt thou labor," saith THE BOOK); Abolition of Convict Contract Labor System, substituting a system of prison production for governmental consumption only and applying the prisoner's earnings to the support of his family; a National Health Service; a Protective Tariff under a TARIFF COMMISSION OF EXPERTS (take the TARIFF out of politics); governmental supervision for the protection of the public from fraudulent stock issues (shut out fake mining stocks); an adequate NAVY; an AMERICAN MERCHANT MARINE, and equal justice to every man and woman and child—a better America.

The writer has been honored by his fellow Progressives with the nomination for Congress in the Fifth District. For State Senator the party has endorsed Hon. Carlton B. Pierce, the present efficient member of the upper house from this county who is also the Republican candidate. His excellent record is well known to his constituents, and he pledges himself, if re-elected to try to bring about the abolition of dangerous grade crossings, for which legislation he has made a fight for years and the equalization of tax assessments. He has taken particular interest in, and procured the passage of a law fixing a reasonable tax upon banks and trust companies, the substitution of the indeterminate franchise or tenure during good behavior, for the present fifty year franchise, and true jury reform, through the elimination of the subject from politics.

That Mr. Pierce's ability is recognized throughout the State is made evident by the following editorial from the Newark Evening News, the most influential newspaper in the State:

Union county voters will have the unusual privilege next Tuesday of voting for a candidate for Senator who is both a Republican and a supporter of the progressive policies of Governor Fielder. Carlton B. Pierce is not only running on the Republican and Progressive tickets, but he is also running on his record. He has served six years in the Legislature, three terms in the Assembly and one in the Senate. During that time he has been a leader in constructive legislation and thoroughly independent.

Mr. Pierce was one of the strongest advocates of giving ratemaking powers to the Public Utility Commisssion; he helped materially to bring about the revaluation of railroad property that resulted in a large increase in the taxes paid; he was chairman of the Tax Commission that did such excellent work in 1912, and he was the author of the bank tax law passed last winter.

These are just a few of the more important advance steps taken by New Jersey with his active assistance. He was a leader in the movement for the abolition of grade crossings, and he tried, though ineffectually, to secure the passage of an indeterminate franchise law. He still has a program that is uncompleted, and he can be depended upon to go ahead with it with conscientiousness and force if he is returned to Trenton.

It has been a long time since Union County has been sosstrongly represented in the Legislature as it has been during the incumbency of Mr. Pierce. Yet there is a quiet movement on the part of some of the bankers and railroads to organize opposition to his re-election because of his activities in taxation matters. There should, however, be enough people who appreciate faithful work for their benefit to more than offset such opposition.

The Progressive Assembly candidates stand for the same principles as those of Senator Pierce, and are ready to do their share to bring about legislation which may be needed to aid in the good which the Senatorial candidate has started in the past. They are James B. Furber, of Rahway; Theodore F. VanDyke, of Summit, and Benjamin H. Williams, of Elizabeth, all well known for their independence of character, and as men who can be depended upon to vote intelligently and in the interests of the whole people.

"Economy and efficiency" and a reduction of the cost of conducting county offices are the principal planks of the men seeking the offices of sheriff, county clerk, register of deeds and coroner. They have pledged themselves, if elected, to draw only $3,500 each per year for the work of their offices, as against $6,500 being paid the present incumbents, and will work for a law reducing their salaries to that figure if elected. In this they will be aided by the Assembly candidates. The pledged reductions will mean a saving to the county of $39,000 during the respective terms of office, in case they are chosen by the voters. They pledge themselves to a non-partisan and economical business administration, instead of regarding the offices as political sinecures, as the Progressives maintain is the present condition. Until they can get their salaries legally reduced they pledge themselves to give $3,000 a year each toward the expenses of their respective offices, in monthly payments. These candidates are William R. Richart, of Elizabeth, who seeks election as sheriff; Edward A. Leach, of Elizabeth, county clerk; Mayor Harwood Fish, of Roselle Park, register of deeds and mortgages; and Dr. J. B. Stevens, of Roselle, coroner.

GEORGE W. V. MOY.

WHERE THE PEOPLE WIN.

Every drummer now is drumming, for election time is coming,
And the candidates are handing out their promises galore,
All the voters are excited, while the half are much benighted,
When it comes to picking out the men to cast their ballots for,
In our modest little city, we've a contest, what a pity,
As two men of sterling merit, seek the mayoralty head:
One is known as Mr. Calkins (it's pronounced to rhyme with Hawkens), while the other, Mr. Martin, whom we better know as "Ted."

You can see them both at meetings, passing out glad hands and greetings,
Although pre-election giving fractures one of Geran's rules,
Each one strains his nerves and tissues, shedding light on campaign issues,
Which are once again the licenses and how to run the schools.
Martin says if he's elected, Plainfield's wrongs will be corrected,
And the foes of civic progress will be freighted mighty quick,
Says he too, "I'll keep things moving," a remark that helps improving,
He's inclined to be a kidder (he has vans to do the trick).

Mr. Calkins, who's a golfer, in his nomination offer,
Says if honored by the people, he'll surprise us, bless his soul:
But no tip he'll give, my laddies (for the joke just ask the caddies),
Though the swimming pool adherents, well, "he'll putt 'em" in a hole.
Many other things they promise to convince each doubting Thomas,
Who's been strung so very many times he thinks that all men lie.
But in Leighton and in Teddy, you will find that each is ready
To fulfill his campaign offers with a spirit, "do or die."

So you voters, arise, awaken, for you'll never be forsaken,
Whether G. O. P. or Democratic Mayor shall enter in,
Whether Calkins 'tis or Martin, you can bet your boots for sartin,
That the people dear old people are the ones who're bound to win.

THE FORUM

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press.

An open letter to the public:

We take pleasure in issuing this letter, endorsing Senator Pierce for re-election to Senate

We endorse him for his record. It has been a record of constant achievement in the cause of good government. It includes successful work for Civil Service, for a Public Utility Commission with rate making power, and for grade crossing elimination in the interest of protecting human life.

In tax matters, the Senator has accomplished much for the benefit of the general taxpayer. His railroad re-valuation acts have brought railroad assessments up-to-date, resulting in about $750,000 additional revenue coming yearly to the State, the greater part of which is divided among the school districts, reducing the local school tax by that amount. It is safe to say the reduction from this source is nearly or quite, two points in the tax rate.

The Pierce Bank Tax Act passed last winter, restores a tax that had become a dead letter, and brings this year $704,623 to the State, of which $29,407 comes to Union county, making the average tax rate through the county two points lower from this source, than it would otherwise be.

A vote for Senator Pierce is a vote sustaining this kind of work. If he is sustained, it will result in more such work being done in the future. A vote against him is a vote in effect to discourage such efforts in the future.

Believing voters, and particularly taxpayers, irrespective of party, should sustain the kind of work the Senator has accomplised, we issue this letter to the public.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

the city everything that everybody wants, at no cost to anybody. I can but pledge myself to work with your Council for as businesslike a management of all our city departments as can be had. It is for you to decide which candidates are most likely to give you a wise management, and which have the most experience behind them to back up their good motives. All candidates stand for economy, efficiency and a square deal for all. The voters decide who are best able to be of service to the public.

"There are two reasons why during this campaign I have hardly had a question asked me about anything except the schools; and why people are so interested in the school question. The first is that there is less chance for the public to see the School Board in action, than the Council. The Council holds public meetings. The School Board does not. Representatives of the press attend meetings of the Council, gather their own views and make their own comment. But the public knows nothing about the schools except what the Board chooses to give out. The School Board is its own press agent. Hence the public feels a good deal in the dark about the real reasons for many things that are done.

"The second reason why people are so much interested in the schools is that they cost so much. Everybody is cutting down on expenses these days. When a man has to economize, he looks first at his largest items of expenditure. He reduces on house rent before he takes to crackers and cheese for his meals. Our schools cost 38 per cent. of all our expense and the school cost is increasing each year more rapidly than our other city expenses, and so it is natural for the public, feeling the burden of taxation, to inquire seriously whether the schools are really managed as inexpensively as they can be. Schools cost 39 per cent. in Westfield, 40 per cent. in Passaic. On the other hand they cost much less than here, in many of our cities. In Summit the cost is 34 per cent. of all city expenses; 29 per cent. in Orange and New Brunswick; 26 per cent. in Jersey City and Asbury Park; 24 per cent. in Elizabeth, and 17 per cent. in East Orange. Our school bonded debt is $26 per capita of our population, against $12 per capita in Elizabeth; and our total bonded debt has increased over 150 per cent. since 1906.

"It is a question which confronts us. I do not subscribe to that theory of public education which maintains that we should provide at public expense for everything which tends to make a child better fitted to make the most of life. I do not want to be thought a mountebank, and I am sincerely interested in our having good schools. I went through the public schools myself before entering college. But I do think there are some things which can be left for the home, in fitting children for life. And I think the trend of things is such now-a-days, that some of our boys and girls are positively unfitted for the lives ahead of them, by their school environment. The public good demands that we offer to every boy and girl a good common school education, in order that we may have an intelligent citizenship, and I believe in all expenditures for good light, good air and modern sanitation. But beyond good, substantial schools, each community should decide for itself whether it wants more; whether it wants and is willing to pay for luxuries in education in addition to the necessaries."

C. P. Hamilton, candidate for the Council from the Second ward, spoke in part as follows:

"I wish to say but a few words to you tonight regarding my candidacy for Councilman for the Second ward.

"I have no public record to point to. Since 15 I have been working for one company or the men who have been or are running it—a record of 22 years in the various departments. This fact should, I think, receive due consideration in your judging of my fitness for the position. My one wish in standing for election is prompted by a desire to be of service to the people of Plainfield. As to my fitness for the work, you are to decide, but if elected, I take pleasure in stating I shall do my best to be efficient and to practice economy.

"What you want is a business administration. Mr. Calkins in his addresses has brought this point out very clearly, and much better than I could hope to do, and if he will allow it I would like to have a small corner of his platform reserved, so that I may stand on it too.

"By efficiency and economy I mean getting value received for every cent spent. We all want good schools; good roads, well lighted; good police and fire protection, and all these things cost money. I want to say that I consider Plainfield well governed and that we all have reason to be proud of the men who are giving their time and thoughts to its affairs I feel they have done and are doing good work and therefore I am somewhat doubtful whether taxes are out of proportion to the benefits we are enjoying. If they are not, extravagance and inefficiency canot be claimed.

"But this year there are particular and pressing reasons why we all should be very careful in our expenditures. We will have to cut out frills, but in doing so we do not want to be penny wise and pound foolish.

"A good deal has lately been said about the school system. If elected, it will be my duty to become better informed regarding the situation. Still, at this time, I can say I feel all money spent rightly on education is a fine investment. The schools of Plainfield are, I understand, ranked with the three best in the State—something to be proud of and thankful for. The schools should receive liberal treatment, because in supporting them we are making an investment which will in the future pay fine returns.

"If you think that I can be of service to you, please know that I shall take up the work gladly and that it will be my endeavor to be fair and just in deciding the questions which will come before me.

"If I am elected suggestions will be gladly received, and I hope you will feel at liberty at all times to make them. I am not going so far as to say I shall always agree with your views, but I should like to know them and discuss them with you, so that you can in that way get a better idea of the reasons which will guide me in the work."

GERMANS FORCE ALLIES BACK

stated that the German officers of the Goeben used threats and turned the guns upon the Sultan's palace, to the complete consternation and bewilderment of Constantinople.

The Turkish ministry is sitting continuously, referring frequently to the German ambassador. The secretary of the Turkish embassy in Petrograd expressed last night the hope that the painful misunderstanding will be cleared up. The spiritual head of the Mahommedans in Russia, numbering 25,000,000, has issued a statement in which he condemns what he terms Turkey's folly, and declares that there is no question as to the loyalty of the Mahommedans in Russia.

London, Oct. 31.—Confirmation of the report that the Germans have evacuated Ostend is received in a despatch from Flushing, which says that fugitives crossing the border there tell of the retirement of the Germans. The Germans are concentrating north of Bruges, with the apparent determination of making a stand there to retain a foothold on the Belgian coast. They have fortified Zeebrugge, fifteen miles northeast of Ostend, erecting big guns to protect the port from naval attack

Despatches from Rotterdam report that German troops are deserting in large numbers and crossing the Dutch frontier, declaring that the fighting has reached a point beyond endurance, and that exposure in the trenches and firing line for days has driven them to desert. Many were drowned when the dykes were cut by the Belgians.

Amsterdam, Oct. 31 (Central News Cable).—A despatch from Cairo, received in Vienna, states that strong Turkish cavalry divisions are approaching the gulf of Akabah. The Frankfurter Zeitung reports that the entire Turkish fleet left the Black Sea, Thursday. It is reported that scout vessels of the Turkish fleet have been observed at the entrance to the gulf of Suez. The vessels are equipped with wireless apparatus.

London, Oct. 31.—Turkish cavalry divisions are mobilizing on the eastern shore of the Red Sea. Demonstrations against England are occurring at Damascus.

Belgium is designated in a German official statement, says a despatch to the Times from Copenhagen, as a happy German reichsland, under the illustrious scepter of Kaiser Wilhelm von Belgium. The despatch asserts that a proclamation will be issued in a few days declaring Belgium part of Germany.

The British hospital ship Rohilla, which was wrecked in a storm yesterday in the North Sea near Whitby, bound from Queensberry to Belgium to bring back wounded, is reported a total wreck. Seven bodies have been washed ashore. Two boat loads of survivors have been landed. One of the survivors is a nurse who was saved from the Titanic.

Forty thousand German teachers are at the front fighting for the Kaiser, according to advices received here from Berlin and school curriculum must be shortened.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The extent of the damage to American property in Odessa, which was bombarded by a Turkish fleet, yesterday, is unknown here, as the counsel there, in reporting the bombardment, made no estimate. The loss of life in the city was not indicated, either, nor was there any indication that Americans had lost their lives during the bombardment of the Russian city. The State Department made inquiries through the American ambassador in Petrograd as to whether notice was given of an intention to bombard Odessa. Such notice, twenty-four hours in advance, must be given for the sake of non-combatants, otherwise, according to the State Department, any damage done to moveable property belonging to foreigners must be paid for, dollar for dollar, by the country attacking. The inquiry is very limited on account of officials here being ignorant of the nation attacking the city, although it is taken for granted that Turkey is the aggressor.

Paris, Oct. 31.—Shot by order of court martial was the legend written on a post card received by relatives in Vienna of an Austrian soldier fighting in Galicia, says a despatch from Venice. On the other side of the card was a message by the soldier which was apparently the cause for his court martial, in which he said that things were not going at all well with the Austrians, and that he would not be sorry to be taken prisoner by the Russians.

JERSEY CITY HAS RELINQUISHED PART OF ITS LAURELS TO NEWARK

Antlered Pinners Who Coveted All Honors Last Week Being Closely Pressed—Captain Nash Climbs From Fifteenth to Tenth Place—All Other Plainfield Representatives Closely Bunched—Harry Taylor, of the Silk City Tribe, Still Tops the Individual Average Race—Plainfield Fourth in Average and Last in Standing.

Plainfield Elk bowlers took a tumble into the cellar pit in the State League during the past week as evidenced by the records compiled from official scores and are now sharing that berth jointly with the New Brunswick alley enthusiasts. Notwithstanding the fact that the Plainfield and New Brunswick antlered athletes are underneath the pile they are well up in the average race. New Brunswick is third in this department and the Queen City representatives are fourth.

Harry Taylor, of Paterson, still holds the high individual record, heading the list with a 206.4. Through his good work in the series against New Brunswick, last night, Erler, of Newark, mounted to second position in the individual standing with a tally of 202.3. Taylor and Erler are the only two bowlers in the 200 class, but an even half dozen are doing the honors in the 190 department.

Captain Bill Nash, of the local tribe, continues to hover close to the top in the individual averages, rising from 186.5 to 189 during the week when his cohorts lost a trio to Rutherford. At the conclusion of the first week of the tourney Nash was fourth with a 196. He lost ground the second week but managed to gain considerable headway since last Saturday. During the past week the localite rose from fifteenth to tenth place. He is the only one of the local pinners above the twenty-fifth place, Chief Kiely occupying that berth and Johnny Campbell reigning in twenty-sixth place. Blatz is in twenty-eighth and Vail in thirtieth.

Jersey City still tops the league in standing, but has relinquished the average title to Newark, the bowlers from New Jersey's Metropolis having established a 935.3 as the result of their phenomenal work against New Brunswick last night. Jersey City's high team score remains unscathed, Elizabeth being second with a 1023 and Newark third with a 1016. Rutherford's triple verdict on the Watchung avenue alleys Thursday night sent it into third place in the standing.

MANY HIGH SCORES ROLLED LAST NIGHT

Eleven Marks Went Over the Two Hundred Line in K. of C. Tourney.

The pins were flying all over the alleys at Columbus Hall, last night, when four players in the Knights of Columbus one-man tournament bowled like fiends and totalled eleven two hundred scores for the night. The playing was close at times and Taylor scored the highest average with four marks over two hundred and won four games and lost two. Although he pinned much lower, McInerney tied Taylor and only dropped a pair of games while Shannon broke even and Hillman lowered his standing by coming out on the small end of five games.

McInerney started off with great speed and accuracy and had no trouble in taking the first game from Taylor, the scores being 217 to 191. But Taylor woke up and with scores of 206 and 214, could not be beaten in the last two. Shannon rolled a great match against Hillman, chalking up three two hundred scores for an average of 212.3, but he dropped the second game when Shannon scored 228 against his 212. This mark was high score of the night's play.

Taylor had a cinch in the first two games with Shannon and his high marks could not be touched, but Shannon took the third with a 223 score against his opponents' 176. After dropping two games in favor of Taylor, McInerney took out his revenge on Hillman and never gave him a chance at a game.

The scores:

F. McInerney	217	189	184
G. Taylor	191	206	214
F. Hillman	179	228	156

Westphal rolled 221 for New York, Charley Starr was there for 218, and Wessel had 205. Miller talled 226 for Hoboken, Hamblin rolled 211, and Branda 201.

POOR ATLANTIC LEAGUE.

Baseball fans around the Atlantic League circuit are wondering what kind of baseball is to be dished out to them next season. From Poughkeepsie comes a story that the Federal League is likely to buy the Atlantic League as a farm next year, and from another source comes a story that the Asbury Park franchise is to be transferred to Schenectady, N. Y.

MRS. STOCKTON TO PLAY MISS WILDEY

Survivors in Final Round of P. C. C. Handicap This Afternoon.

Mrs. H. R. Stockton will meet Miss Wildey in the final round of the women's handicap 18 hole golf tournament at the Plainfield Country Club, this afternoon. Both of these players came through the semi-final round yesterday, although Miss Wildey had a hard time and will have to play some wonderful golf today if she expects to win the prize. Mrs. Stockton easily defeated Mrs. Allan Cowperthwait, up and 4 to play, but Miss Wildey found Mrs. W. N. Avery a hard opponent, and it was only after they had played two extra holes that she came out a winner, 1 up.

In the play for the beaten eight, Miss Beatrice Hedges entered the final round without playing, as Miss Wharton gave her the match by defaulting. This afternoon she will meet Mrs. Brown, who defeated Mrs. W. B. Tyler yesterday, 5 up and 4 to play. The winner of this match will also get a prize.

The results of yesterday's play: First eight, Mrs. H. R. Stockton defeated Mrs. Allan Cowperthwait, 5 and 4; Miss Wildey defeated Mrs. W. N. Avery, 1 up (20 holes). Beaten eight, Miss Beatrice Hedges defeated Miss Wharton by default, and Mrs. Brown defeated Mrs. W. B. Tyler, 5 and 4.

DUNELLEN PINNERS TOOK MATCH AT SOMERVILLE

Arthur Voorhees, of Dunellen, defeated Russell Schenck, of Somerville, in a ten game bowling match at Somerville last Thursday night, taking six of the ten games played. Both players pinned well and several of the games were close. Voorhees started out by losing the first game and then took the second with a 214. The Dunellen player lost the third and annexed the fourth and then took the lead by coping the fifth roll.

After dropping the sixth game, which again tied the score, Voorhees made a great spurt and won the following three games, which gave him the match. His scores in the last three games were 200, 225 and 210. The tenth game was not played as the match was won. The scores of the games follow:

Schenck—191, 174, 165, 189, 191, 191, 190, 192, 201.

Voorhees—171, 214, 157, 192, 238, 55, 200, 225, 210.

RODMAN PARVIN IS NEW P. H. S. CHAMP

Wins Hard Fought Match From Roscoe Blanchard and Annexes Title.

Plainfield High School tennis enthusiasts were given a surprise yesterday, when Rodman Parvin defeated Roscoe Blanchard in the final match of the school singles championship and won the title for this year. Because of his great showing in the Princeton tournament several weeks ago, of which he was the winner, Blanchard was the favorite for the school title.

The first set easily went to the new champion by a score of 6-2. Blanchard found himself after that and took the second and third sets by scores of 6-4 and 6-3. Both players then settled down and it was only after hard work that Parvin tied the score by winning the fourth set 6-4. This made the match more interesting and when the last stroke of the match was played Parvin was the leader by the score of 6-4. He will receive a trophy.

FAST PLAINFIELD FIVE WINS OVER SPEED BOYS

Jack Hedgeman's Athenian basketball team won its first game of the season, last night, when the Elizabeth Speed Boys were defeated in a very close game at Elizabeth by the score of 21 to 16. Both teams played well and a great spurt by the Plainfielders in the last few minutes of play gave them the decision.

Vaughan and Daniels were the best scorers for the locals while Hedgeman and Clay displayed some fine guarding. The score:

News of Interest in Building World

SIX PERMITS ARE ISSUED THIS WEEK

Estimated Cost of New Work Now Completed is $1.170.

SEASON ON THE WANE

Operations This Month Far Below Those of Same Time Last Year—Description of New Buildings to Be Erected Soon.

Six permits constitute the movements of the local building world during the course of the past week, the permits being issued by Inspector T. O. Doane. They call for the construction of three barns, two dwellings and one garage, at an aggregate cost of $15,400. Permits for two garages and one barn, the estimated cost of which has been placed at $1,170, are still pending at the office of Inspector Doane, and will undoubtedly be issued the first of the week.

The permits for the past month are far below the permits of October of last year, when permits were granted calling for the expenditure of $46,150. Exclusive of permits which may be issued today, the estimate cost of buildings for which permits have been granted this month has been placed at $28,125.

The building conditions as found in this city appear to be identical to those found throughout the county, where the season is apparently on the wane, with no prospects in sight for any great amount of construction work during the next two or three months. The permits as issued here during the past week are as noted below:

First Ward.

Rose Lacosta has been granted a permit for the erection of a two and a half story frame dwelling on Jackson avenue, south of East Second street. The building will have a frontage of twenty-four feet, and a depth of twenty-eight feet. The dwelling will have a base course and foundation of concrete, hemlock frame-work, slate roof, while a hot-air heating system is to be installed. The cost has been estimated at $3,300. W. H. Clum is the architect. The mason and carpenter contracts have been awarded to Joseph Indaco. Mrs. Lacosta has also been granted a permit covering the erection of a frame one-story barn on the same property at a cost of $300. The structure will be 18 by 16 feet. The frame-work is to be of hemlock with a rubberoid roof. The architect and contractors are the same as for the house.

George W. Cole will have erected a 50x35 foot, one and a half story barn of hollow terra cotta block on East Front street, near Leland avenue. The foundation and base course will be of concrete, and the roof of shingles. The cost has been placed at $2,500. George H. Fisher, Jr., is the architect of this modern barn; John Conucci, the mason contractor, and J. Nathanson, the carpenter contractor.

Second Ward.

Mrs. A. V. D. Honeyman, of Third place, has been granted a permit for the construction of a two and a half story frame dwelling at 234 East Ninth street. The cost will approximate $7,500, and will be modern in every detail. The base course will be of concrete with a brick foundation, and a spruce and hemlock frame-work. A modern hot water heating system is to be installed. Howard Huff is the mason contractor, while the carpentry work will be cared for by Martinus Thompson, of North Plainfield. The dwelling will have a frontage of thirty feet, and a width of twenty feet in the rear, and a depth of forty-eight feet.

George C. Scott is to have a 13x24 foot frame garage on the rear of the property at 1236 Denmark road, the cost of which has been placed at $300. Charles T. MacDonald is the contractor.

Fourth Ward.

Alfonso Cioci is to erect a one-story hollow terra cotta block barn at 330 Bergen street at a cost of $1,500. The structure will be 16x16 feet. The owner will care for the masonry work, while Samuel Titus, of Dunellen, has been awarded the carpentry contract.

DEMAND FOR HOUSES REPORTED NORMAL

Considerable Activity Shown at Dunellen for Winter Season.

Building and real estate in Dunellen appear to be moving quietly. A number of rentals are being reported by various property owners, and the demand for dwellings appear to be normal.

Another new house is to be erected at once in this borough by Contractor J. Newton Apgar. It will be for John P. Fenner and will be built on his land on Third street, next to the house of Mrs. Sarah Curry.

The tinning contract for the addition to the residence of John P. Fenner on Washington avenue was secured by Contractor Frank Broshart, who completed the work this week.

Repairs in the carpentering line were made last week at the house of Mrs. Maria Hunt, on Front street, occupied by Arthur Vail and family.

The residence of John P. Fenner is to be repainted and the contract for the work has been awarded to Contractor John Renouf.

An improvement was made last week at the residence of John P. Fenner, an additional room being built on. The work was done by Contractor J. Newton Apgar.

Contractor George Allegair has secured the job to paint the new Walter Titus house on Culhane place.

The new house of Harry Boice on Culhane place has been rented to Russell E. Runyon.

Half of the large house located at the junction of New Market road and Walnut street, owned by C. M. Haight and known as the former J. M. B. Pyatt place, has been rented to John Biggs, who will move here from Westfield in a few days and take possession.

The house of the Watchung Investment Company on Walnut street, between Prospect and Whittier avenues, has been sold through the agency of John P. Fenner, to Emile J. Galichet, of Somerville, who will take possession about the middle of November.

F. Amos Johnson and family, who have been residing for some time in the house of the Watchung Investment Company, corner of Walnut street and Prospect avenue, have moved to the house recently purchased by Henry Wrage and situated at the corner of Whittier avenue and Walnut street.

The Baird house on Mountain View terrace has been rented to James Townley, of Elizabeth, who will take possession in a few days. The renting was done by Mrs. Forman G. Neighbour. Mr. Townley is an employe of the Central Railroad and is employed in the claim department in New York.

JUST NOTES

The Mayor and Council of the Borough of Garwood have awarded the contract for the erection of a town hall at South avenue and Center street, that place, to Schafer & Newman. The cost has been placed at $7,850.

Rahway has decided to buy the old Bittner & Fitzpatrick's coal dock, to be used as a site for the proposed sewerage disposal plant.

The title for the Harrison avenue property, the borough, where a new school is to be erected, will pass hands shortly. The school building will probably be erected next spring.

A few small jobs along building lines are being let in this city, but far from a sufficient number to keep any great number of men to work.

The following property sales have been reported by the New York Suburban Land Company, at Garwood, this county: Plot 40x100, in Locust avenue, to J. C. Casper; plot 40x100, in Myrtle avenue, to H. H. Cameron, and a plot 60x100, in Pine avenue, to Miss Anna Robinson; a plot, 40x100, in Willow avenue, to J. H. Sanford; a plot, 60x150, in Third avenue, to Gertrude Hecht, and at Westfield, a plot, 40x100, in Trenton avenue, to James Duffy.

NEW POSTOFFICE MAY AFFECT TRADE

Believed it Will Result in Boon in Vicinity of Chosen Site for Structure.

One of the questions that is today being discussed by realty holders, merchants and contractors is as to just what extent the erection of the new Federal postoffice building on Watchung avenue will effect trade in the business section of the city. Many opinions are expressed as men of different walks of life are approached on this question.

On many sides it is conceded that the postoffice of today does not hold the same relative position as it did when it was the one "meeting place" where the whole town was privileged to gather to discuss everything from town gossip to politics. For this reason, many are of the opinion that the shifting of the location of the office from Front street and Madison avenue to Watchung avenue will not make any great material difference in the centre of the trade.

Others, however, are of the opinion that the postoffice is still the centre of more activity than most people would give it credit for. It has been pointed out by those who hold this view of the matter, that there is hardly any time of the day during the usual shopping hours that you may approach the stamp window of the office without finding at least three or four persons ahead of you. This fact, in and of itself, indicates that the postoffice is still the centre of more or less activity.

In view of this last fact, it would appear to be highly probable that with the starting of work on the new Federal building, Watchung avenue, from East Front to East Fourth street, and East Second street, from Park avenue to Church street, will be developed beyond the fondest dreams of the most optimistic citizen of the city. Business houses of every description will undoubtedly line both sides of these streets, giving employment to many of our local craftsmen. This movement, if ultimately realized, will, in all probability, relieve the high rents which prevail today on Front street, from Madison to Watchung avenue, where realty values as well as rents have been soaring during the past decade. It is believed that the long established business houses will manage to hold their trade to the old stands, several of which have been doing business at the same place for many years.

The great majority of those who have been interviewed on this question are agreed that the erection of the new building will mean the shifting of more or less trade, and consequently the erection of a few buildings, at least, in the immediate vicinity of East Second street and Watchung avenue, but the extent of these improvements may only be known after actual work has been started, and possibly completed.

The value of real estate, as well as the building world, will undoubtedly be affected by the advent of the Federal building, thus bringing benefits to all those involved. Taking all things into consideration, the building will mean much to the city, aside from its own attractiveness to the section of the city in which it is to be erected.

TENEMENT HOUSE WORK DOUBLES THE PAST WEEK

Tenement house construction during the week ending last Saturday, more than doubled in value of the activities of the preceding week, according to the plans approved by the Board of Tenement House Supervision. Nine permits for construction work were granted, calling for the expenditure of $106,100, as against $54,500 of the preceding week. Six of the permits granted last week were for alterations, the estimated cost of which was placed at $7,100.

The past season has been an exceptionally good year for the construction of apartment and tenement houses in various parts of the State, and the State Board has been kept fairly busy in going over plans for new buildings and alterations.

BUILDING ACTIVITIES IN COUNTY SLOWING DOWN

Building activities throughout the county are gradually slowing down, all parts sharing alike in the downward trend. During the week ending last Saturday, but seven contracts were filed with the county clerk at Elizabeth, the estimated cost of the new buildings and improvements amounting to $24,405, as against $16,268 for the preceding week. While it is to be noticed that there is an improvement to the extent of approximately $8,000, it is far from sufficient to justify any great amount of optimism on the part of either contractors or building mechanics.

But one contract was filed from this end of the county, that being Godfrey J. Weinman with Mulford B. Culver for repairs to a structure on Sandford avenue. The contract cost of the improvements is placed at $475.

ANTI-SURFFAGE

Conducted by Plainfield Branch New Jersey Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

"MOTHERING THE COMMUNITY."
(From The Remonstrance, Oct., 1914.)

It is a favorite argument with suffragists that women, by keener insight, higher standards, steadier devotion to duty, and superior practical ability, would effect civic reforms which have been neglected by men. We hear over and over again that "woman is an adept at house-cleanin" and that "city government is nothing but municipal house-cleaning;" that "the community is only a larger home," and that it needs mothering."

It would be pleasant to share this confidence in the present achievement of our sex, and to feel that it was ready for more worlds to conquer. But the facts do not point that way. One after another, social experts, the country over, are voicing the conviction that the individual home is not being "mothered" as it should be, and that faults there are responsible for much of the evil of the community.

Speaking of wife-desertion—one of the evils which suffragists hope to check by women's votes—Mrs. Catherine Van Wyack, president of the Wisconsin State Conference on Charities and Corrections—said, last fall: "Some of the homes I have seen almost justify the husband in running away from them. The wife who does not know her job must take her share of the blame for many cases of wife-desertion." Upon this same point, Miss Lucy Wheelock, the well-known educator, has said: 'No business is so poorly and inefficiently conducted as that of housekeeping. To the luxury and inefficiency of the modern household, many economists charge the high cost of living. They are not far wrong. At least they are right enough to make it imperative that we give our girls good and thorough training in all the craft of home-making and housekeeping."

Juvenile courts, the suffragists claim, would be re-enforced in their work if women could vote. But Mrs. Fred T. Dubois, president of the Big Brothers and Sister movement, though in close sympathy with these courts, writes to the Washington Times of June 1, to emphasize the need of urgent measures of prevention, before boys and girls reach the stage of juvenile crime. "Can you make human nature good through law?" asks Mrs. Dubois. "Is the old-fashioned home disappearing? I tremble at the thought. But when we watch the crowds upon the streets, day and night, the crowded cafes and restaurants, the dance-halls, moving-picture shows and theatres, this thought is uppermost: To what are we trending? The social centre is gradually going to take the place of the home, if we are not watchful. For we are trending toward the community life in this country. Can we become as strong a nation built of large units as of small ones well modelled? The community must grow out of the home."

The public teaching of sex-hygiene is another subject in which the suffragists believe women voters would take keen interest. But here, again experts are announcing women unequal to the opportunities they already have. Graves Moore, of the Juvenile Protective Association of Chicago, reporting last March on the work of the association in classifying causes in the cases of 500 unmarried mothers, said: "We find that more than half of them come from homes where there is no financial pressure but that they never had presented to them the essential facts of life." Dr. Charles H. Keene, of Minneapolis, a supervisor of hygiene and physical training, said at the recent meeting of the National Educational Association: "We would have but the strongest contempt for the wealthy, club-going woman who has not time to teach her child the fundamental truths of life, and would throw the responsibility upon a teacher or a football coach. Such shiftlessness is outrageous." Dr. E. P. Colby, professor of nervous diseases in Boston University, said before a Ford Hall audience, last winter: "The proper place for such teaching is the home. But how many mothers are capable of instructing their daughters in such matters? Probably not one half."

Speaking of the abnormal nervous conditions which, in his opinion, lead many girls to go wrong, Dr. Colby said: "The remedy lies in the early education a good mother can give." Looking at the same pitiful question from another standpoint, Miss Mary Bartelme, head of Chicago's Court for Delinquent Girls, told a reporter from the Boston Herald, last year, that the majority of the girls who were brought before her were between fourteen and sixteen. "Almost invariably," said Miss Bartelme, "I find that the home environment of these children has been bad. When the home is bad, it must be a girl of sterling principle who remains good. There has been a great hue and cry raised recently that must girls go wrong because of inadequate wages. I do not believe this is true. Low wages, I think, drive comparatively few girls to the street."

It is startling to realize that the heedlessness, vanity, and social ambition of women are actually pandering to vice. But no thoughtful observer can doubt the fact. Speaking on "Commercialized Prostitution" in Brooklyn, last March, George J. Kneeland, of the Department of Investigation of the American Social Hygiene Association, enumerating the causes which swell the number of women in the profession each year, laid special emphasis on "the increasing tendency toward immoral and suggestive amusements as a serious problem in American life." For this tendency, surely, the mothers rather than the fathers of the community are to blame. At the theatre, too, and at the fiction-counter, the lack of delicacy shown by women patrons is notorious.

That woman's vote would break up the "white-slave traffic," and go far toward curing the social evell, has been the strongest argument of the suffragists. And yet, at that very Tremont Temple meeting, last year, when their leader, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, exploited the unsavory subject so sensationally, Frederic H. Whitin, of the New York Committee of Fourteen, declared that "a happy home is the greatest preventive of the white slave traffic," and added, "The great problem, however, is to educate young women not to arouse men."

Last spring, before a fashionably attired New York audience of nearly one thousand, with an admission price of $2, the same subject was again discussed by experts. "The attitude of women toward libertines, rakes and dissipants," says the reporter, "was handled without gloves by the speakers, and it was the opinion of those dealing with the subject that women themselves are largely to blame for the present situation. Clifford G. Roe, president of the American Bureau of Moral Education of Chicago, unhesitatingly told his audience (mostly women) that this was so."

Plain speaking, this is. The fact that many of the sociologists whose opinions have been quoted are themselves suffragists only makes their admissions more striking. The need of the day seems to be, not more "mothering" of the community, but better "mothering" of the individual child. This conclusion will be a welcome one to the multitudes of mothers who believe that they can serve the community better through the home than through the ballot-box.

The regular meeting of the Plainfield branch of the New Jersey Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage will be held at the library next Wednesday morning, at 10.30 a. m.

These cushions are pretty used in parlors, in the living room and in dainty colors, like pink and blue, for the boudoir. Cross stitch is very easy to learn, only the work must be very accurate to be effective.

Some Cookery Suggestions

DELICIOUS CUSTARDS.

THOSE who are troubled with indigestion usually find these harmless desserts. They are quite nutritious, owing to the milk and eggs used, and they are suitable delicacies for invalids.

Wholesome Desserts.

Chocolate Custard.—Take a pint of milk, one-half cup of sugar and three tablespoonfuls of grated chocolate and heat in a double boiler. When it boils add a tablespoonful of cornstarch wet up in a little cold milk and the beaten yolks of two eggs. Cook until thick, remove from the fire and add one-half cupful of finely broken walnut meats. Mix thoroughly, let it get cold, then pile in glasses and put a spoonful of whipped cream on each.

Tapioca Custard.—Into a double boiler put two tablespoonfuls of fine tapioca and one pint of milk, cook, stirring till the tapioca is transparent. Add the yolks of two eggs beaten with three tablespoonfuls of sugar and a pinch of salt. Stir till thickened. Add the whites whipped to a stiff froth, stir lightly three minutes, take from the fire and add the flavoring when cooled. If pearl or lump tapioca is used it must be soaked in cold water for several hours before cooking.

Cooling and Nutritious.

Frozen Custard.—Moisten two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch with a little cold milk, pour it into one quart of scalding milk, stir until it thickens, then cover and cook for ten minutes. Beat four eggs until light, add one cup of sugar, add to the thickened milk and cook and stir one minute longer. Remove from the fire, flavor with one tablespoonful of vanilla, chill and freeze in the usual manner.

Frozen Pineapple Custard.—Separate three eggs and beat the yolks with a small cupful of sugar and stir into a pint of milk. Heat to nearly the boiling point, stirring all the time, then let it get cold and add a cupful of sweet cream and the whites of the eggs beaten up stiff and white. Turn into a freezer and turn until almost solid, then stir in a small pineapple which has been chopped and allowed to stand for three hours mixed with a cupful of sugar. This is a delicious and not expensive dessert for company.

Anna Thompson.

"What a noise the wind makes tonight," said Evelyn.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Story the Wind Tells The Children.

"WHAT a noise the wind makes tonight!" said Evelyn, with a funny little shiver, as she and Jack came to daddy for the bedtime story. "I don't like it. It sounds as if it were crying."

"Oh," said Jack, "it's always that way in the autumn: It's like a wolf or a dog howling."

"Well," smiled daddy, "it would have to be a pretty big dog or wolf to howl as loudly as the wind does. But really, children, the wind has a message for you if you wish to hear it correctly. Would you like to hear it?"

"Oh, yes, daddy!" they cried. "Tell it to us, will you?"

"Well," said daddy, "I will admit that the wind sounds rather mournful sometimes, as if it had lost something it couldn't find, and sometimes when I was a little boy about Jack's size and used to sleep in a little room that was finished off in the attic it used to make me sad to hear it. But later, when I grew bigger and understood things better, I felt different, for I saw that the wind was feeling bad without any real cause.

"You see, children, the reason the wind cries in the fall is because it begins to feel old and rheumatic and chilly, and it has caught a cold, and it sees its children, the leaves, all withering and falling off the boughs of the trees, and the green grass that it has loved getting brown, and so it grieves. But there isn't any real reason for it to grieve, as I shall show you.

"The months roll on, and the wind is still cold, and all the green has changed to white. But when the snow is on the ground there's something about the world that makes the wind glad and tingling in spite of itself, and it sings its wolf song, as Jack calls it, with real gladness. And then by and by, what do you think?

"Why, the sun gets higher again in the blue sky, and the little white clouds drift by like ships, and the sun warms the wind, and it is so happy over the change that it coos like a playing baby and is glad it's alive, and the little baby leaves come out, just as they did the year before, and the grass springs up, and it is summer all over again.

"So you see, children, the wind didn't really need to grieve. There wasn't the end of the summer—just the end of one summer, don't you see? And there have always been summers and always winters, and both the children and the wind can have lots of fun in each season. And that's the story the wind tells."

"Then let's laugh when the wind blows," said Evelyn.

"That is the thing to do," replied daddy.

all circumstances opposed to an increase in the number of wholesale liquor licenses in the city.

"If under these conditions I merit the support of your organization, I shall feel grateful for it.

"D. L. COLEMAN."

"I am in receipt of your favor of the 10th instant, relative to the way I would vote on certain questions should I be elected to the office of Common Councilman at the coming election.

"I have not investigated very deeply these questions as yet, and without going into the matter further at this time, my position is as follows:

"Under conditions as they are at present in Plainfield, the so-called 'Tyler Zone' seems to meet the requirements very well, and unless they materially change during my term of office, I would feel that the zone should not be enlarged.

"I understand that an ordinance has lately passed the Common Council by which the number of saloons is to remain as at present, but may be increased at the discretion of the Council with an increase in population. I have not read this ordinance, but think that some policy along these lines would be to the best interests of the city.

"Relative to an increase of wholesale liquor licenses, I can see no reason why an additional license should not be granted should conditions, after investigation, warrant the increase.

"ROBERT H. COX."

"Replying to your letter of the 10th instant, my answer to your first question is in the affirmative; to your second question, is in the negative, but as to your third question, if on investigation it were found that to grant no further wholesale liquor licenses would create or maintain a monoply for one house, I now feel that granting another wholesale license might be the proper position to take.

"In the event of the hotel in Netherwood being opened and applying for a license, under proper management and restrictions, the sentiment in Netherwood would, I believe, be to grant it, and I should be governed by the wishes of the persons who are directly interested in this neighborhood.

"C. P. HAMILTON."

"Having reference to the several questions propounded in your letter of September 10, I am not in favor of increasing the area of the so-called 'Tyler Zone.' I am in favor of the ordinance introduced by Mr. Calkins several months ago. This I believe takes care of your other two questions.

"A. D. EDGAR."

"In reply to yours of the 10th insit., permit me to say that I think the position I have taken in the Council the last two years pertaining to the liquor traffic in the city of Plainfield is very clear. Some few months ago an ordinance was introduced by Mr. Calkins and passed, regulating the number of wholesale and retail licenses to be granted in the city of Plainfield. I voted for this ordinance, and will be governed thereby, if reelected. I do not think that there is any agitation on the part of any member of the Common Council to change the lines of the 'Tyler Zone.' Mr. Graves has introduced an ordinance changing the latter part of the Tyler ordinance, so as to read 'place' instead of 'person.' If this ordinance should be adopted, it would not increase the number of retail licenses. There have been facts presented to me both in favor and against the proposed ordinance of Mr. Graves, both sides having merit; and I am not in a position at the present time to say just how I would vote upon this ordinance, if it was presented to the Council for adoption, but I can assure you that I would use my best judgment in the matter.

"F. J. BLATZ."

"I acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 10th inst., and in reply to your first question, which is as follows:

" 'If elected to the office of Common Council, will you vote against any measure that may be proposed that would increase the area of the so-called 'Tyler Zone' ordinance as it now stands?'

"My answer is, that if elected to the office of Common Councilman, I pledge myself to vote against any measure that may be proposed that would increase the area of the so-called 'Tyler Zone' ordinance as it now stands.

"In reply to your second question which is:

" 'Do your favor an increase in the number of saloons in the city?'

"My answer is that I certainly do not favor an increase in the number of liquor saloons in the city.

"In reply to your third question which is:

" 'Do you favor an increase in the number of wholesale liquor licenses in the city?'

"My answer is that I certainly do not favor an increase in the number of wholesale liquor licenses in the city.

"Thanking you for the opportunity you have given me to state my position in this matter, and authorizing you to publish this letter, should you so desire, I am,

I Stand for Economy and Efficiency in Public Affairs

Not by Mere Pre-Election Promises, but by a Definite Plan of How it can Be Done.

BY ABOLISHING COUNTY TAX BOARDS.

BY CONSOLIDATING 25 STATE COMMISSIONS INTO 7 DEPARTMENTS, AS RECOMMENDED BY THE ECONOMY AND EFFICIENCY COMMISSION.

BY HAVING A REGULAR SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE EVERY TWO YEARS.

Saving the State $288,000.00 Yearly

I Also Favor--

A legislative vacation and the codification of our laws.

The election of county and local officials by a non-partisan election ballot without the use of a primary.

More home rule in school affairs.

State inspection of gas, electric and water meters.

Standard of quality of gas should be fixed by law.

As United States Senators are now elected by a direct vote of the people and as the election of State Senators has therefore no bearing on National Parties or Policies, will you allow an appeal of STICK by the PARTY or SUPPORT the PRESIDENT to influence you against a proposition based on COMMON SENSE and saving you DOLLARS AND CENTS? If elected I cannot promise this will be done, but I can guarantee to do all in my power to have it done.

Yours truly,

CHARLES C. KENYON

Progressive Candidate for State Senator
